AN ACT to provide for the approval of the manner of compilation and publication, and for the certification of a compilation of the laws of the State of Washington.
Approved March 1, 1917. L. '17, p.107.

Committee to Approve Plan, Etc. §1. That a joint committee consisting of three members of the Senate and three members of the House be appointed by the presiding officers thereof, with powers and duties as follows:

Said committee shall have authority to prescribe or approve an editorial plan of a complete annotated compilation of the laws in force in the State of Washington, including the laws of 1919, to be made and published by Mr. Frank Pierce; said committee shall prescribe or approve the manner and kind of mechanical execution of said compilation, including also kind and style of binding, paper, type and general make-up of the compilation.

The said committee shall undertake said work as soon as practicable and upon its acceptance by said publisher, said plan and acceptance shall be filed with the secretary of state.

After the filing of said acceptance with the secretary of state, the secretary of state is hereby authorized and directed to compare the laws in said compilation with the original rolls and when completed certify the same without fee as session laws are certified which certificate shall be published in said compilation. L '19 ch 104.

Code as Evidence. §2. Said code when so certified shall be received as evidence of the laws published therein, to the same effect as session laws are received in evidence. L '19 ch 104.

Inclusion of Law 1919. §3. This act is a continuation of said Chapter 34, Session Laws of 1917, and the work heretofore done on said code is to be continued to include the Session Laws of 1919. L '19 ch 104.

APPROVAL OF COMMITTEE

We, the Joint Committee appointed by authority of Chapter 34, Laws of Washington, 1917, do hereby prescribe and approve the following editorial plan and mechanical execution of Pierce's Code 1917:

The editorial plan shall be cyclopedic, with sections numbered consecutively and each followed by the author's annotations.

In mechanical execution the code shall be set in ten point and the notes in eight point type, printed on 28 by 42 paper, 50 pounds to the ream, with the best quality black, book ink. The compilation shall be bound in the best quality law buckram.

The compilation may be bound in either one or two volumes. If bound in two volumes, Volume II shall contain the constitutions of the United States and the State of Washington, and laws for courts, full court procedure, the full criminal code and a general index of both volumes, Volume II to be approximately one-half the size of Volume I.

Volume I shall contain all the statutes not included in Volume II.

Senator E. E. BONER,
Chairman of Joint Committee.
Senator E. V. KUYKENDALL,
Senator E. B. PALMER.

Representative A. E. GRAHAM,
Representative FRED A. ADAMS,
Representative ROBERT GRASS,
Secretary.

CERTIFICATE OF SECRETARY OF STATE TO EDITION OF 1921

I, J. GRANT HINKLE, hereby certify that I am the duly elected, qualified and acting Secretary of State of the State of Washington.

I further certify that I am the legal official in whose custody is placed all of the original laws passed by the various legislatures of the State of Washington.

I further certify that in relation to the laws passed by the session of 1921 that I have carefully compared the printed copy of Pierce's Code with these laws and have made corrections on the same so that the printed copy of Pierce's Code contains a correct and accurate copy of the 1921 Session Laws of the State of Washington.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto attached my hand and the official seal of the State of Washington this 31st day of May, 1921.

J. GRANT HINKLE,

Secretary of State.

CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES—1787.

WE THE PEOPLE of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this CONSTITUTION for the United States of America. 8 F. S. A. 273.

ARTICLE I.

SECTION 1. All legislative Powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives 8 F. S. A. 290.

In May, 1785, a committee of Congress made a report recommending an alteration in the Articles of Confederation, but no action was taken on it, and it was left to the State Legislatures to proceed in the matter. In January, 1786, the Legislature of Virginia passed a resolution providing for the appointment of five commissioners, who, or any three of them, should meet such commissioners as might be appointed in the other States of the Union, at a time and place to be agreed upon, to take into consideration the trade of the United States; to consider how far a uniform system in their commercial regulations may be necessary to their common interest and their permanent harmony; and to report to the several States such an act, relative to this great object, as, when ratified by them, will enable the United States in Congress effectually to provide for the same. The Virginia commissioners, after some correspondence, fixed the first Monday in September as the time, and the city of Annapolis as the place for the meeting, but only four other States were represented, viz: Delaware, New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania; the commissioners appointed by Massachusetts, New Hampshire, North Carolina, and Rhode Island failed to attend. Under the circumstances of so partial a representation, the commissioners present agreed upon a report, (drawn by Mr. Hamilton, of New York,) expressing their unanimous conviction that it might essentially tend to advance the interests of the Union if the States by which they were respectively delegated would concur, and use their endeavors to procure the concurrence of the other States, in the appointment of commissioners to meet at Philadelphia on the second Monday of May following, to take into consideration the situation of the United States; to devise such further provisions as should appear to them necessary to render the Constitution of the Federal Government adequate to the exigencies of the Union; and to report such an act for that purpose to the United States in Congress assembled as, when agreed to by them and afterwards confirmed by the Legislatures of every State, would effectually provide for the same.

Congress, on the 21st of February, 1787, adopted a resolution in favor of a convention, and the Legislatures of those States which had not already done so (with the exception of Rhode Island) promptly appointed delegates. On the 25th of May, seven States having convened, George Washington, of Virginia, was unanimously elected President, and the consideration of the proposed constitution was commenced. On the 17th of September, 1787, the Constitution as engrossed and agreed upon was signed by all the members present, except Mr. Gerry, of Massachusetts, and Messrs. Mason and Randolph, of Virginia. The president of the convention transmitted it to Congress, with a resolution stating how the proposed Federal Government should be put in operation, and an explanatory letter. Congress, on the 28th of September, 1787, directed the Constitution so framed, with the resolutions and letter concerning the same, to "be transmitted to the several Legislatures in order to be submitted to a convention of delegates chosen in each State by the people thereof, in conformity to the resolves of the convention."

On the 4th of March, 1789, the day which had been fixed for commencing the operations of Government under the new Constitution, it had been ratified by the conventions chosen in each State to consider it, as follows: Delaware, December 7, 1787; Pennsylvania, December 12, 1787; New Jersey, December 18, 1787; Georgia, January 2, 1788; Connecticut, January 9, 1788; Massachusetts, February 6, 1788; Maryland, April 28, 1788; South Carolina, May 23, 1788; New Hampshire, June 21, 1788; Virginia, June 26, 1788; and New York, July 26, 1788.

The President informed Congress, on the 28th of January, 1790, that North Carolina had ratified the Constitution November 21, 1789; and he informed Congress on the 1st of June, 1790, that Rhode Island had ratified the Constitution May 29, 1789. Vermont, in convention, ratified the Constitution January 10, 1789, and was, by an act of Congress approved February 19, 1791, "received and admitted into this Union as a new and entire member of the United States."

SECTION 2. The House of Representatives shall be composed of Members chosen every second Year by the People of the several States, and the Electors in each State shall have the Qualifications requisite for Electors of the most numerous Branch of the State Legislature.

No Persons shall be a Representative who shall not have attained to the Age of twenty-five Years, and been seven Years a Citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

*[Representatives and direct Taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective Numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole Number of free Persons, including those bound to Service for a Term of Years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three fifths of all other Persons.] The actual Enumeration shall be made within three Years after the first Meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent Term of ten Years, in such Manner as they shall by Law direct. The Number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty Thousand, but each State shall have at Least one Representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to chuse three, Massachusetts eight, Rhode-Island and Providence Plantations one, Connecticut five, New-York six, New Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, South Carolina five, and Georgia three.

When vacancies happen in the Representation from any State, the Executive Authority thereof shall issue Writs of Election to fill such Vacancies.

The House of Representatives shall chuse their Speaker and other Officers; and shall have the sole Power of Impeachment. 8 F.S.A. 297.

SECTION 3. The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, chosen by the Legislature thereof, for six Years; and each Senator shall have one Vote.

Immediately after they shall be assembled in Consequence of the first Election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three Classes. The Seats of the Senators of the first Class shall be vacated at the Expiration of the second year, of the second Class at the Expiration of the fourth Year, and of the third Class at the Expiration of the sixth Year, so that one-third may be chosen every second Year; and if Vacancies happen by Resignation, or otherwise, during the Recess of the Legislature of any State, the Executive thereof may make temporary Appointments until the next Meeting of the Legislature, which shall then fill such Vacancies.

No Person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty Years, and been nine Years a Citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.

The Vice President of the United States shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no Vote, unless they be equally divided.

The Senate shall chuse their other Officers, and also a President pro tempore, in the Absence of the Vice President, or when he shall exercise the Office of President of the United States.

The Senate shall have the sole Power to try all Impeachments. When sitting for that Purpose, they shall be on Oath or Affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside: And no Person shall be convicted without the Concurrence of two thirds of the Members present.

Judgment in Cases of Impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from Office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any Office of honor, Trust or Profit under the United States: but the Party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to Indictment, Trial, Judgment and Punishment, according to Law. 8 F. S. A. 311.

SECTION 4. The Times, Places and Manner of holding Elections for Senators and Representatives, shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by Law make or alter such Regulations, except as to the Places of chusing Senators.

The Congress shall assemble at least once in every Year, and such Meeting

*The clause included in brackets is amended by the 14th amendment, 2d section, shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by Law appoint a different Day. 8 F. S. A. 317.

SECTION 5. Each House shall be the Judge of the Elections, Returns and Qualifications of its own Members, and a Majority of each shall constitute a Quorum to do Business; but a smaller Number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the Attendance of absent Members, in such Manner, and under such Penalties as each House may provide.

Each House may determine the Rules of its Proceedings, punish its Members for disorderly Behavior, and, with the Concurrence of two thirds, expel a Member.

Each House shall keep a Journal of its Proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such Parts as may in their Judgment require Secrecy; and the Yeas and Nays of the Members of either House on any question shall, at the Desire of one fifth of those present, be entered on the Journal.

Neither House, during the Session of Congress, shall, without the Consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other Place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting. 8 F. S. A. 322.

SECTION 6. The Senators and Representatives shall receive a Compensation for their Services, to be ascertained by Law, and paid out of the Treasury of the United States. They shall in all Cases, except Treason, Felony and Breach of the Peace, be privileged from Arrest during their Attendance at the Session of their respective Houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any Speech or Debate in either House, they shall not be questioned in any other Place.

No Senator or Representative shall, during the Time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil Office under the Authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the Emoluments whereof shall have been encreased during such time; and no Person holding any Office under the United States, shall be a Member of either House during his Continuance in Office. 8 F.S.A. 331.

SECTION 7. All Bills for raising Revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose or concur with Amendments as on other Bills.

Every Bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate, shall, before it become a Law, be presented to the President of the United States; If he approve he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it, with his Objections to that House in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the Objections at large on their Journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such Reconsideration two thirds of that House shall agree to pass the Bill, it shall be sent, together with the Objections, to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two thirds of that House, it shall become a Law. But in all such Cases the Votes of both Houses shall be determined by Yeas and Nays, and the Names of the Persons voting for and against the Bill shall be entered on the Journal of each House respectively. If any Bill shall not be returned by the President within ten Days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the Same shall be a Law, in like Manner as if he had signed it, unless the Congress by their Adjournment prevent its Return, in which Case it shall not be a Law.

Every Order, Resolution, or Vote to which the Concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary (except on a question of Adjournment) shall be presented to the President of the United States; and before the Same shall take Effect, shall be approved by him, or being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, according to the Rules and Limitations prescribed in the Case of a Bill. 8 F. S. A. 337.

SECTION 8. The Congress shall have Power To lay and collect Taxes, Duties, Imposts and Excises, to pay the Debts and provide for the common Defence and general Welfare of the United States; but all Duties, Imposts and Excises shall be uniform throughout the United States;

To borrow Money on the credit of the United States;

To regulate Commerce with foreign Nations, and among the several States, and with the Indian Tribes;

To establish an uniform Rule of Naturalization, and uniform Laws on the subject of Bankruptcies throughout the United States;

To coin Money, regulate the Value thereof, and of foreign Coin, and fix the Standard of Weights and Measures;

To provide for the Punishment of counterfeiting the Securities and current Coin of the United States;

To establish Post Offices and post Roads;

To promote the Progress of Science and useful Arts, by securing for limited Times to Authors and Inventors the exclusive Right to their respective Writings and Discoveries;

To constitute Tribunals inferior to the supreme Court;

To define and punish Piracies and Felonies committed on the high Seas, and Offences against the Law of Nations;

To declare War, grant Letters of Marque and Reprisal, and make Rules concerning Captures on Land and Water;

To raise and support Armies, but no Appropriation of Money to that Use shall be for a longer Term than two Years;

To provide and maintain a Navy;

To make Rules for the Government and Regulation of the land and naval Forces;

To provide for calling forth the Militia to execute the Laws of the Union, suppress Insurrections and repel Invasions;

To provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining, the Militia, and for governing such Part of them as may be employed in the Service of the United States, reserving to the States respectively, the Appointment of the Officers, and the Authority of training the Militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress;

To exercise exclusive Legislation in all Cases whatsoever, over such District (not exceeding ten Miles square) as may, by Cession of particular States, and the Acceptance of Congress, become the Seat of the Government of the United States, and to exercise like Authority over all Places purchased by the Consent of the Legislature of the State in which the Same shall be, for the Erection of Forts, Magazines, Aresnals, dock-Yards, and other needful Buildings;—And

To make all Laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into Execution the foregoing Powers, and all other Powers vested by this Constitution in the Government of the United States, or in any Department or Officer thereof. 8 F. S. A. 347.

SECTION 9. The Migration or Importation of such Persons as any of the States now existing shall think proper to admit, shall not be prohibited by the Congress prior to the Year one thousand eight hundred and eight, but a Tax or duty may be imposed on such Importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each Person.

The Privilege of the Writ of Habeas Corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in Cases of Rebellion or Invasion the public Safety may require it.

No Bill of Attainder or ex post facto Law shall be passed.

No Capitation, or other direct, tax shall be laid, unless in Proportion to the Census or Enumeration herein before directed to be taken.

No Tax or Duty shall be laid on Articles exported from any State.

No Preference shall be given by any Regulation of Commerce or Revenue to the Ports of one State over those of another: nor shall Vessels bound to, or from, one State, be obliged to enter, clear, or pay Duties in another.

No Money shall be drawn from the Treasury, but in Consequence of Appropriations made by Law; and a regular Statement and Account of the Receipts and Expenditures of all public Money shall be published from time to time.

No Title of Nobility shall be granted by the United States: And no Person holding any Office of Profit or Trust under them, shall, without the Consent of the Congress, accept of any present, Emolument, Office, or Title, of any kind whatever, from any King, Prince, or foreign State. 8 F. S. A. 690.

SECTION 10. No State shall enter into any Treaty, Alliance, or Confederation; grant Letters of Marque and Reprisal; coin Money; emit Bills of Credit; make any Thing but gold and silver Coin a Tender in Payment of Debts; pass any Bill of Attainder, ex post facto Law, or Law impairing the Obligation of Contracts, or grant any Title of Nobility.

No State shall, without the Consent of the Congress, lay any Imposts or Duties on Imports or Exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing it's inspection Laws: and the net Produce of all Duties and Imposts, laid by any State on Imports or Exports, shall be for the Use of the Treasury of the United States; and all such Laws shall be subject to the Revision and Controul of the Congress.

No State shall, without the Consent of Congress, lay any Duty of Tonnage, keep Troops, or Ships of War in time of Peace, enter into any Agreement or Compact with another State, or with a foreign Power, or engage in War, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent Danger as will not admit of delay. 8 F. S. A. 715.

ARTICLE II.

SECTION 1. The executive Power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his Office during the Term of four Years, and, together with the Vice President, chosen for the same Term, be elected, as follows:

Each State shall appoint, in such Manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a Number of Electors, equal to the whole Number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress: but no Senator or Representative, or Person holding an Office of Trust or Profit under the United States, shall be appointed an Elector.

["The electors shall meet in their respective States, and vote by ballot for two persons, of whom one at least shall not be an Inhabitant of the same State with themselves. And they shall make a List of all the Persons voted for, and of the Number of Votes for each; which List they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the Seat of the Government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall, in the Presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the Certificates, and the Votes shall then be counted. The Person having the greatest Number of Votes shall be the President, if such Number be a Majority of the whole Number of Electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such Majority, and have an equal Number of Votes, then the House of Representatives shall immediately chuse by Ballot one of them for President; and if no Person have a Majority, then from the five highest on the List the said House shall in like Manner chuse the President. But in chusing the President, the Votes shall be taken by States, the Representation from each State having one Vote; A quorum for this Purpose shall consist of a Member or Members from two-thirds of the States, and a Majority of all the States shall be necessary to a Choice. In every Case, after the Choice of the President, the Person having the greatest Number of Votes of the Electors shall be the Vice President. But if there should remain two or more who have equal Votes, the Senate shall chuse from them by Ballot the Vice-President."]

This clause has been superseded by the twelfth amendment.

The Congress may determine the Time of chusing the Electors, and the Day on which they shall give their Votes; which Day shall be the same throughout the United States.

No Person except a natural born Citizen, or a Citizen of the United States, at the time of the Adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the Office of President; neither shall any Person be eligible to that Office who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty five Years, and been fourteen Years a Resident within the United States.

In Case of the Removal of the President from Office, or of his Death, Resignation, or Inability to discharge the Powers and Duties of the said Office, the same shall devolve on the Vice President, and the Congress may by Law provide for the Case of Removal, Death, Resignation, or Inability, both of the President and Vice President, declaring what Officer shall then act as President, and such Officer shall act accordingly, until the Disability be removed, or a President shall be elected.

The President shall, at stated Times, receive for his Services, a Compensation, which shall neither be encreased nor diminished during the Period for which he shall have been elected, and he shall not receive within that Period any other Emolument from the United States, or any of them.

Before he enter on the Execution of his Office, he shall take the following Oath or Affirmation:—"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the Office of President of the United States, and will to the best of my Ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States. 9 F. S. A. 1.

SECTION 2. The President shall be Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, and of the Militia of the several States, when called into the actual Service of the United States; he may require the Opinion, in writing, of the principal Officer in each of the executive Departments, upon any Subject relating to the Duties of their respective Offices, and he shall have Power to grant Reprieves and Pardons for Offences against the United States, except in Cases of Impeachment.

He shall have Power, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, to make Treaties, provided two thirds of the Senators present concur; and he shall nominate, and by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, shall appoint Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls, Judges of the supreme Court, and all other Officers of the United States, whose Appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by Law: but the Congress may by Law vest the Appointment of such inferior Officers, as they think proper, in the President alone, in the Courts of Law, or in the Heads of Departments.

The President shall have Power to fill up all Vacancies that may happen during the Recess of the Senate, by granting Commissions which shall expire at the End of their next Session. 9 F. S. A. 7.

SECTION 3. He shall from time to time give to the Congress Information of the State of the Union, and recommend to their Consideration such Measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient; he may, on extraordinary Occasions, convene both Houses, or either of them, and in Case of Disagreement between them, with Respect to the Time of Adjournment, he may adjourn them to such Time as he shall think proper; he shall receive Ambassadors and other public Ministers; he shall take Care that the Laws be faithfully executed, and shall Commission all the Officers of the United States. 9 F. S. A. 53.

SECTION 4. The President, Vice President and all civil Officers of the United States, shall be removed from Office on Impeachment for, and Conviction of, Treason, Bribery, or other high Crimes and Misdemeanors. 9 F. S. A. 56.

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1. The judicial Power of the United States, shall be vested in one supreme Court, and in such inferior Courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The Judges, both of the supreme and inferior Courts, shall hold their Offices during good Behaviour, and shall, at stated Times, receive for their Services, a Compensation, which shall not be diminished during their Continuance in Office. 9 F. S. A. 57.

SECTION 2. The judicial Power shall extend to all Cases, in Law and Equity, arising under this Constitution, the Laws of the United States, and Treaties made, or which shall be made, under their Authority;—to all Cases affecting Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls;—to all Cases of admiralty and maritime Jurisdiction;—to Controversies to which the United States shall be a Party;—to Controversies between two or more States;—between a State and Citizens of another State;—between Citizens of different States,—between Citizens of the same State claiming Lands under grants of different States, and between a State, or the Citizen thereof, and foreign States, Citizens or Subjects.

In all Cases affecting Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls, and those in which a State shall be Party, the supreme Court shall have original Jurisdiction. In all the other Cases before mentioned, the supreme Court shall have appellate Jurisdiction, both as to Law and Fact, with such Exceptions, and under such Regulations as the Congress shall make.

The Trial of all Crimes, except in Cases of Impeachment, shall be by Jury; and such Trial shall be held in the State where the said Crimes shall have been committed; but when not committed within any State, the Trial shall be at such Place or Places as the Congress may by Law have directed. 9 F. S. A. 74.

SECTION 3. Treason against the United States, shall consist only in levying War against them, or in adhering to their Enemies, giving them Aid and Comfort. No Person shall be convicted of Treason unless on the Testimony of two Witnesses to the same overt Act, or on Confession in open Court.

The Congress shall have Power to declare the Punishment of Treason, but no Attainder of Treason shall work Corruption of Blood, or Forfeiture except during the Life of the Person attainted. 9 F. S. A. 133.

ARTICLE IV.

SECTION 1. Full Faith and Credit shall be given in each State to the public Acts, Records, and judicial Proceedings of every other State. And the Congress may by general Laws prescribe the Manner in which such Acts, Records and Proceedings shall be proved, and the Effect thereof. 9 F. S. A. 141.

SECTION 2. The Citizens of each State shall be entitled to all Privileges and Immunities of Citizens in the several States.

A person charged in any State with Treason, Felony, or other Crime, who shall flee from Justice, and be found in another State, shall on Demand of the executive Authority of the State from which he fled, be delivered up to be removed to the State having Jurisdiction of the Crime.

No Person held to Service or Labour in one State, under the Laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in Consequence of any Law or Regulation therein, be discharged from such Service or Labour, but shall be delivered up on Claim of the Party to whom such Service or Labour may be due. 9 S. F. A. 158.

Section 3. New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new State shall be formed or erected within the Jurisdiction of any other State; nor any State be formed by the Junction of two or more States, or Parts of States, without the Consent of the Legislatures of the States concerned as well as of the Congress.

The Congress shall have Power to dispose of and make all needful Rules and Regulations respecting the Territory or other Property belonging to the United States; and nothing in this Constitution shall be so construed as to Prejudice any Claims of the United States, or of any particular State. 9 S. F. A. 193.

SECTION 4. The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a Republican Form of Government and shall protect each of them against Invasion; and on Application of the Legislature, or of the Executive (when the Legislature cannot be convened) against domestic Violence. 9 F. S. A. 214.

ARTICLE V.

The Congress, whenever two thirds of both Houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose Amendments to this Constitution, or, on the Application of the Legislatures of two thirds of the several States, shall call a Convention for proposing Amendments, which, in either Case, shall be valid to all Intents and Purposes, as Part of this Constitution, when ratified by the Legislatures of three fourths of the several States, or by Conventions in three fourths thereof, as the one or the other Mode of Ratification may be proposed by the Congress; Provided that no Amendment which may be made prior to the Year One thousand eight hundred and eight shall in any Manner affect the first and fourth Clauses in the Ninth Section of the first Article; and that no State, without its Consent, shall be deprived of its equal Suffrage in the Senate. 9 F. S. A. 217.

ARTICLE VI.

All Debts contracted and Engagements entered into, before the Adoption of this Constitution, shall be as valid against the United States under this Constitution, as under the Confederation.

This Constitution, and the Laws of the United States which shall be made in Pursuance thereof; and all Treaties made, or which shall be made, under the Authority of the United States, shall be the supreme Law of the Land; and the Judges in every State shall be bound thereby, any Thing in the Constitution or Laws of any State to the Contrary notwithstanding.

The Senators and Representatives before mentioned, and the Members of the several State Legislatures, and all executive and judicial Officers, both of the United States and of the several States, shall be bound by Oath or Affirmation, to support this Constitution; but no religious Test shall ever be required as a Qualification to any Office or public Trust under the United States. 9 F. S. A. 218.

ARTICLE VII.

The Ratification of the Conventions of nine States, shall be sufficient for the Establishment of this Constitution between the States so ratifying the Same. 9 F. S. A. 240.

ARTICLES IN ADDITION TO, AND AMENDMENT OF, THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, PROPOSED BY CONGRESS, AND RATIFIED BY THE LEGISLATURES OF THE SEVERAL STATES PURSUANT TO THE FIFTH ARTICLE OF THE ORIGINAL CONSTITUTION.

[ARTICLE I.]

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances. 9 F. S. A. 241.

[ARTICLE II.]

A well regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed. 9 F. S. A. 247.

[ARTICLE III.]

No soldier shall, in time of peace be quartered in any house, without the consent of the Owner, nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law. 9 F. S. A. 249.

The first ten amendments to the Constitution of the United States were proposed to the legislatures of the several States by the First Congress, on the 25th of September, 1789. They were ratified by the following States, and the notifications of ratification by the governors thereof were successively communicated by the President to Congress: New Jersey, November 20, 1789; Maryland, December 19, 1789; North Carolina, December 22, 1789; South Carolina, January 19, 1790; New Hampshire, January 25, 1790; Delaware, January 28, 1790; Pennsylvania, March 10, 1790; New York, March 27, 1790; Rhode Island, June 15, 1790; Vermont, November 3, 1791; and Virginia, December 15, 1791. There is no evidence on the journals of Congress that the legislatures of Connecticut, Georgia, and Massachusetts ratified them.

[ARTICLE IV.]

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no Warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by Oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized. 9 F. S. A. 249.

[ARTICLE V.]

No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a Grand Jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the Militia, when in actual service in time of War or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offence to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any Criminal Case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation. 9 F. S. A. 256.

[ARTICLE VI.]

In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining Witnesses in his favor, and to have the Assistance of Counsel for his defence. 9 F. S. A. 324.

[ARTICLE VII.]

In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of a trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact tried by a jury shall be otherwise re-examined in any Court of the United States, than according to the rules of the common law. 9 F. S. A. 335.

[ARTICLE VIII.]

Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted. 9 S. F. A. 352.

[ARTICLE IX.]

The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people. 9 S. F. A. 355.

[ARTICLE X.]

The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people. 9 F. S. A. 356.

[ARTICLE XI.]

The Judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or equity, commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States by Citizens of another State, or by Citizens or Subjects of any Foreign State. 9 F. S. A. 362.

The eleventh amendment to the Constitution of the United States was proposed to the legislatures of the several States by the Third Congress, on the 5th September, 1794; and was declared in a message from the President to Congress, dated the 8th of January, 1798, to have been ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the States.

[ARTICLE XII.]

The Electors shall meet in their respective states, and vote by ballot for President and Vice-President, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves; they shall name in their ballots the person voted for as President, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as Vice-President, and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as President, and of all persons voted for as Vice-President, and of the number of votes for each, which lists they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate;—The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates and the votes shall then be counted;—The person having the greatest number of votes for President, shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of Electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers not exceeding three on the list of those voted for as President, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by states, the representation from each state having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the states, and a majority of all the state shall be necessary to a choice. And if the House of Representatives shall not choose a President whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the Vice-President shall act as President, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the President. The person having the greatest number of votes as Vice-President, shall be the Vice-President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of Electors appointed, and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list, the Senate shall choose the Vice-President; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of Senators, and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice. But no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of President shall be eligible to that of Vice-President of the United States. 9 F. S. A. 375.

The twelfth amendment to the Constitution of the United States was proposed to the legislatures of the several States by the Eighth Congress, on the 12th of December, 1803, in lieu of the original third paragraph of the first section of the second article; and was declared in a proclamation of the Secretary of State, dated the 25th of September, 1804, to have been ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the States.

ARTICLE XIII.

SECTION 1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction. 9 F. S. A. 376.

SECTION 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation. 9 F. S. A. 381.

The thirteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States was proposed to the legislatures of the several States by the Thirty-eighth Congress, on the 1st of February, 1865, and was declared, in a proclamation of the Secretary of State, dated the 18th of December, 1865, to have been ratified by the legislatures of twenty-seven of the thirty-six States, viz: Illinois, Rhode Island, Michigan, Maryland, New York, West Virginia, Maine, Kansas, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Ohio, Missouri, Nevada, Indiana, Louisiana, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Vermont, Tennessee, Arkansas, Connecticut, New Hampshire, South Carolina, Alabama, North Carolina, and Georgia.

ARTICLE XIV.

SECTION 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws. 9 F. S. A. 384.

SECTION 2. Representatives shall be appointed among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice President of the United States, Representatives in Congress, the Executive and Judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion, or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State. 9 F. S. A. 625.

SECTION 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath, as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability. 9 F. S. A. 627.

SECTION 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void. 9 F. S. A. 630.

SECTION 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article. 9 F. S. A. 631.

The fourteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States was proposed to the legislatures of the several States by the Thirty-ninth Congress, on the 16th of June, 1866. On the 21st of July, 1868, Congress adopted and transmitted to the Department of State a concurrent resolution, declaring that "the legislatures of the States of Connecticut, Tennessee, New Jersey, Oregon, Vermont, New York, Ohio, Illinois, West Virginia, Kansas, Maine, Nevada, Missouri, Indiana, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Nebraska, Iowa, Arkansas, Florida, North Carolina, Alabama, South Carolina, and Louisiana, being three-fourths and more of the several States of the Union, have ratified the fourteenth article of amendment to the Constitution of the United States, duly proposed by two-thirds of each House of the Thirty-ninth Congress: Therefore, Resolved, That said fourteenth article is hereby declared to be a part of the Constitution of the United States, and it shall be duly promulgated as such by the Secretary of State." The Secretary of State accordingly issued a proclamation, dated the 28th of July, 1868, declaring that the proposed fourteenth amendment had been ratified, in the manner hereafter mentioned, by the legislatures of thirty of the thirty-six States, viz: Connecticut, June 30, 1866; New Hampshire, July 7, 1866; Tennessee, July 19, 1866; New Jersey, September 11, 1866, (and the legislature of the same State passed a resolution in April, 1868, to withdraw its consent to it;) Oregon, September 19, 1866; Vermont, November 9, 1866; Georgia rejected it November 13, 1866, and ratified it July 21, 1868; North Carolina rejected it December 4, 1866, and ratified it July 4, 1868; South Carolina rejected it December 20, 1866, and ratified it July 9, 1868; New York ratified it January 10, 1867; Ohio ratified it January 11, 1867, (and the legislature of the same State passed a resolution in January, 1868, to withdraw its consent to it;) Illinois ratified it January 15, 1867; West Virginia, January 16, 1867; Kansas, January 18, 1867; Maine, January 19, 1867; Nevada, January 22, 1867; Missouri, January 26, 1867; Indiana, January 29, 1867; Minnesota, February 1, 1867; Rhode Island, February 7, 1867; Wisconsin, February 13, 1867; Pennsylvania, February 13, 1867; Michigan, February 15, 1867; Massachusetts, March 20, 1867; Nebraska, June 15, 1867; Iowa, April 3, 1868; Arkansas, April 6, 1868; Florida, June 9, 1868; Louisiana, July 9, 1868; and Alabama, July 13, 1868. Georgia again ratified the amendment February 2, 1870. Texas rejected it November 1, 1866, and ratified it February 18, 1870. Virginia rejected it January 19, 1867, and ratified October 8, 1869. The amendment was rejected by Kentucky January 10, 1867; by Delaware February 8, 1867; by Maryland March 23, 1867; and was not afterward ratified by either State.

ARTICLE XV.

SECTION 1. The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude. 9 F. S. A. 636.

SECTION 2. The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

The fifteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States was proposed to the legislatures of the several States by the Fortieth Congress, on the 27th of February, 1869, and was declared, in a proclamation of the Secretary of State, dated March 30, 1870, to have been ratified by the legislatures of twenty-nine of the thirty-seven States. The dates of these ratifications (arranged in the order of their reception at the Department of State) were: from North Carolina, March 5, 1869; West Virginia, March 3, 1869; Massachusetts, March 9-12, 1869; Wisconsin, March 9, 1869; Maine, March 12, 1869; Louisiana, March 5, 1869; Michigan, March 8, 1869; South Carolina, March 16, 1869; Pennsylvania, March 26, 1869; Arkansas, March 30, 1869; Connecticut, May 19, 1869; Florida, June 15, 1869; Illinois, March 5, 1869; Indiana, May 13-14, 1869; New York, March 17-April 14, 1869, (and the legislature of the same State passed a resolution January 5, 1870, to withdraw its consent to it;) New Hampshire, July 7, 1869; Nevada, March 1, 1869; Vermont, October 21, 1869; Virginia, October 8, 1869; Missouri, January 10, 1870;

Procedure. §34. The legislature shall pass the necessary laws to carry out the provisions of section thirty-three (33) of this article, and to facilitate its operation and effect without delay: Provided, That the authority hereby conferred upon the legislature shall not be construed to grant to the legislature any exclusive power of law-making nor in any way limit the initiative and referendum powers reserved by the people. The percentages required shall be; state officers, other than judges, senators and representatives, city officers of cities of the first class, school district boards in cities of the first class; county officers of counties of the first, second and third classes, twenty-five per cent. Officers of all other political subdivisions, cities, towns, townships, precincts and school districts not herein mentioned, and state senators and representatives, thirty-five per cent. (Adopted, November, 1912.)

ARTICLE II

Legislative Department.

That article II be amended by striking all of sections 1 and 31 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Legislature—Reserved Powers. §1. The legislative authority of the State of Washington shall be vested in the legislature, consisting of a senate and house of representatives, which shall be called the legislature of the State of Washington, but the people reserve to themselves the power to propose bills, laws, and to enact or reject the same at the polls, independent of the legislature, and also reserve power, at their own option, to approve or reject at the polls any act, item, section or part of any bill, act or law passed by the legislature.

Initiative: (a) The first power reserved by the people is the initiative. Ten per centum, but in no case more than fifty thousand, of the legal voters shall be required to propose any measure by such petition, and every such petition shall include the full text of the measure so proposed. Initiative petitions shall be filed with the secretary of state not less than four months before the election at which they are to be voted upon, or not less than ten days before any regular session of the legislature. If filed at least four months before the election at which they are to be voted upon, he shall submit the same to the vote of the people at the said election. If such petitions are filed not less than ten days before any regular session of the legislature, he shall transmit the same to the legislature as soon as it convenes and organizes. Such initiative measure shall take precedence over all other measures in the legislature except appropriation bills and shall be either enacted or rejected without change or amendment by the legislature before the end of such regular session. If any such initiative measure shall be enacted by the legislature it shall be subject to the referendum petition, or it may be enacted and referred by the legislature to the people for approval or rejection at the next regular election. If it is rejected or if no action is taken upon it by the legislature before the end of such regular session, the secretary of state shall submit it to the people for approval or rejection at the next ensuing regular general election. The legislature may reject any measure so proposed by initiative petition and propose a different one dealing with the same subject, and in such event both measures shall be submitted by the secretary of state to the people for approval or rejection at the next ensuing regular general election. When conflicting measures are submitted to the people the ballots shall be so printed that a voter can express separately by making one cross (X) for each, two preferences, first, as between either measure and neither, and secondly, as between one and the other. If the majority of those voting on the first issue is for neither, both fail, but in that case the votes on the second issue shall nevertheless be carefully counted and made public. If a majority voting on the first issue is for either, then the measure receiving a majority of the votes on the second issue shall be law.

Referendum: (b) The second power reserved by the people is the referendum, and it may be ordered on any act, bill, law, or any part thereof passed by the legislature, except such laws as may be necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety, support of the state government and its existing public institutions, either by petition signed by the required percentage of the legal voters, or by the legislature as other bills are enacted. Six per centum, but in no case more than thirty thousand, of the legal voters shall be required to sign and make a valid referendum petition.

When Laws Take Effect. (c) No act, law, or bill subject to referendum shall take effect until ninety days after the adjournment of the session at which it was enacted. No act, law, or bill approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon shall be amended or repealed by the legislature within a period of two years following such enactment. But such enactment may be amended or repealed at any general regular or special election by direct vote of the people thereon.

Petition—Vote—Publicity. (d) The filing of a referendum petition against one or more items, sections or parts of any act, law or bill shall not delay the remainder of the measure from becoming operative. Referendum petitions against measures passed by the legislature shall be filed with the secretary of state not later than ninety days after the final adjournment of the session of the legislature which passed the measure on which the referendum is demanded. The veto power of the governor shall not extend to measures initiated by or referred to the people. All elections on measures referred to the people of the state shall be had at the biennial regular elections, except when the legislature shall order a special election. Any measure initiated by the people or referred to the people as herein provided shall take effect and become the law if it is approved by a majority of the votes cast thereon: Provided, That the vote cast upon such question or measure shall equal one-third of the total votes cast at such election and not otherwise. Such measure shall be in operation on and after the thirtieth day after the election at which it is approved. The style of all bills proposed by initiative petition shall be: "Be it enacted by the people of the State of Washington." This section shall not be construed to deprive any member of the legislature of the right to introduce any measure. The whole number of electors who voted for governor at the regular gubernatorial election last preceding the filing of any petition for the initiative or for the referendum shall be the basis on which the number of legal voters necessary to sign such petition shall be counted. All such petitions shall be filed with the secretary of state, who shall be guided by the general laws in submitting the same to the people until additional legislation shall especially provide therefor. This section is self-executing, but legislation may be enacted especially to facilitate its operation. The legislature shall provide methods of publicity of all laws or parts of laws, and amendments to the constitution referred to the people with arguments for and against the laws and amendments so referred, so that each voter of the state shall receive the publication at least fifty days before the election at which they are to be voted upon. House of Representatives. §2. The House of Representatives shall be composed of not less than 63 nor more than 99 members. The number of senators shall not be more than one-half nor less than one-third of the number of members of the House of Representatives. The first legislature shall be composed of 70 members of the House of Representatives, and 35 senators.

Census—Reapportionment. §3. The legislature shall provide by law for an enumeration of the inhabitants of the State in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five and every ten years thereafter; and at the first session after such enumeration, and also after each enumeration made by the authority of the United States, the legislature shall apportion and district anew the members of the Senate and House of Representatives, according to the number of inhabitants, excluding Indians not taxed, soldiers, sailors and officers of the United States army and navy in active service.

Courts may receive testimony as to population to determine salary of justice of the peace, Anderson v. Whatcom County 15 W. 47.

Representatives—Election and Term of. §4. Members of the House of Representatives shall be elected in the year eighteen hundred and eighty-nine at the time and in the manner provided by this constitution, and shall hold their offices for the term of one year and until their successors shall be elected.

First Election—Subsequent Elections. §5. The next election of the members of the House of Representatives after the adoption of this constitution shall be on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, eighteen hundred and ninety, and thereafter, members of the House of Representatives shall be elected biennially and their term of office shall be two years; and each election shall be on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, unless otherwise changed by law.

Senators—Election and Term of. §6. After the first election the senators shall be elected by single districts of convenient and contiguous territory, at the same time and in the same manner as members of the house of representatives are required to be elected; and no representative district shall be divided in the formation of a senatorial district. They shall be elected for the term of four years, one-half their number retiring every two years. The senatorial districts shall be numbered consecutively, and the senators chosen at the first election had by virtue of this constitution, in odd numbered districts, shall go out of office at the end of the first year; and the senators elected in the even numbered districts, shall go out of office at the end of the third year.

Eligibility. §7. No person shall be eligible to the legislature who shall not be a citizen of the United States and a qualified voter in the district for which he is chosen.

Each House a Judge of Its Members—Quorum—Attendance. §8. Each house shall be the judge of the election, returns and qualifications of its own members, and a majority of each house shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day and may compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as each house may provide.

Does not prevent judicial primary contest, State ex rel. McAvoy v. Gilliam 60 W. 420.

Power to Make Rules—Expulsion of Members. §9. Each house may determine the rules of its own proceedings, punish for contempt and disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected, expel a member, but no member shall be expelled a second time for the same offense.

Officers of Each House—Lieutenant Governor. §10. Each house shall elect its own officers; and when the lieutenant governor shall not attend as president, or shall act as governor, the senate shall choose a temporary president. When presiding, the lieutenant governor shall have the deciding vote in case of an equal division of the senate.

Journal—Adjournment. §11. Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings and publish the same, except such parts as require secrecy. The doors of each house shall be kept open, except when the public welfare shall require secrecy. Neither house shall adjourn for more than three days, nor to any place other than that in which they may be sitting, without the consent of the other.

Biennial Sessions—Length of Sessions. §12. The first legislature shall meet on the first Wednesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1889. The second legislature shall meet on the first Wednesday after the first Monday in January, A. D. 1891, and sessions of the legislature shall be held biennially thereafter, unless specially convened by the governor, but the times of meeting of subsequent sessions may be changed by the legislature. After the first legislature the sessions shall not be more than sixty days.

Extra session, Const., art. 3, §7.

Member Can Not Accept Other Office. §13. No member of the legislature during the term for which he is elected, shall be appointed or elected to any civil office in the State, which shall have been created, or the emoluments of which shall have been increased during the term for which he was elected.

Federal Officer Can Not Be Member. §14. No person, being a member of Congress, or holding any civil or military office under the United States or any other power, shall be eligible to be a member of the legislature; and if any person after his election as a member of the legislature, shall be elected to Congress or be appointed to any other office, civil or military, under the government of the United States, or any other power, his acceptance thereof shall vacate his seat: Provided, That officers in the militia of the State who receive no annual salary, local officers and postmasters, whose compensation does not exceed three hundred dollars per annum, shall not be ineligible.

Vacancies. §15. The governor shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies as may occur in either house of the legislature.

Exemption From Civil and Criminal Process. §16. Members of the legislature shall be privileged from arrest in all cases except treason, felony and breach of the peace; they shall not be subject to any civil process during the session of the legislature, nor for fifteen days next before the commencement of each session.

Freedom of Debate. §17. No member of the legislature shall be liable in any civil action or criminal prosecution whatever for words spoken in debate.

Form of Enacting Clause. §18. The style of the laws of the state shall be: "Be it enacted by the legislature of the State of Washington." And no law shall be enacted except by bill.

Bill Shall Embrace But One Subject, Title. §19. No bill shall embrace more than one subject, and that shall be expressed in the title.

Terms of Other Officers. §3. The lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, auditor, attorney general, superintendent of public instruction and commissioner of public lands, shall hold their offices for four years respectively, and until their successors are elected and qualified.

Returns and Canvass of Elections—Contests—When Term Commences. §4. The returns of every election for the officers named in the first section of this article shall be sealed up and transmitted to the seat of government by the returning officers, directed to the secretary of state, who shall deliver the same to the speaker of the house of representatives at the first meeting of the house thereafter, who shall open, publish and declare the result thereof in the presence of a majority of the members of both houses. The person having the highest number of votes shall be declared duly elected, and a certificate thereof shall be given to such person, signed by the presiding officers of both houses; but if any two or more shall be highest and equal in votes for the same office, one of them shall be chosen by the joint vote of both houses. Contested elections for such officers shall be decided by the legislature in such manner as shall be decided by law. The terms of all officers named in section one of this article shall commence on the second Monday in January after their election, until otherwise provided by law.

Officers' Written Opinion to Governor. §5. The governor may require information in writing from the officers of the state upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices, and shall see that the laws are faithfully executed.

Governor has no authority to employ expert assistance to examine books and accounts of the State Penitentiary, Young v. State 19 W. 634.

Governor is the only State officer with authority to direct quo warranto proceedings, State ex rel. Atty. Gen. v. Seattle Gas Co. 28 W. 498.

Governor's Message. §6. He shall communicate at every session by message to the legislature the condition of the affairs of the state, and recommend such measures as he shall deem expedient for their action.

Extra Session of Legislature. §7. He may, on extraordinary occasions, convene the legislature by proclamation, in which shall be stated the purposes for which the legislature is convened.

Legislative action not restricted to purpose declared in proclamation, State v. Fair 35 W. 127.

Governor is Commander in Chief of Militia. §8. He shall be commander in chief of the military in the state except when they shall be called into the service of the United States.

Pardoning Power. §9. The pardoning power shall be vested in the governor under such regulations and restrictions as may be prescribed by law.

Succession in Office of Governor. §10. In case of the removal, resignation, death or disability of the Governor, the duties of the office shall devolve upon the Lieutenant Governor; and in case of a vacancy in both the offices of Governor and Lieutenant Governor, the duties of the Governor shall devolve upon the Secretary of State. In addition to the line of succession to the office and duties of Governor as hereinabove indicated, if the necessity shall arise, in order to fill the vacancy in the office of Governor, the following state officers shall succeed to the duties of Governor and in the order named, viz.: Treasurer, Auditor, Attorney General, Superintendent of Public Instruction and Commissioner of Public Lands. In case of the death, disability, failure or refusal of the person regularly elected to the office of Governor to qualify at the time provided by law, the duties of the office shall devolve upon the person regularly elected to and qualified for the office of Lieutenant Governor, who shall act as Governor until the disability be removed, or a Governor elected; and in case of the death, disability, failure or refusal of both the Governor and the Lieutenant Governor elect to qualify, the duties of the Governor shall devolve upon the Secretary of State; and in addition to the line of succession to the office and duties of Governor as hereinabove indicated, if there shall be the failure or refusal of any officer named above to qualify, and if the necessity shall arise by reason thereof, then in that event in order to fill the vacancy in the office of Governor, the following state officers shall succeed to the duties of Governor in the order named, viz: Treasurer, Auditor, Attorney General, Superintendent of Public Instruction and Commissioner of Public Lands. Any person succeeding to the office of Governor as in this section provided, shall perform the duties of such office only until the disability be removed, or a Governor be elected and qualified; and if a vacancy occur more than thirty days before the next general election occurring within two years after the commencement of the term, a person shall be elected at such election to fill the office of Governor for the remainder of the unexpired term. (Adopted November 1910).

Remission of Fines—Report of Pardons, Etc. §11. The governor shall have power to remit fines and forfeitures, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, and shall report to the legislature at its next meeting each case of reprieve, commutation or pardon granted, and the reasons for granting the same, and also the names of all persons in whose favor remission of fines and forfeitures shall have been made, and the several amounts remitted and the reasons for the remission.

Veto. §12. Every act which shall have passed the legislature shall be, before it becomes a law, presented to the governor. If he approves, he shall sign it; but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to that house in which it shall have originated, which house shall enter the objections at large upon the journal and proceed to reconsider. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of the members present shall agree to pass the bill it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of the members present, it shall become a law; but in all such cases the vote of both houses shall be determined by the yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for or against the bill shall be entered upon the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within five days, Sundays excepted, after it shall be presented to him, it shall become a law without his signature, unless the general adjournment shall prevent its return, in which case it shall become a law unless the governor, within ten days next after the adjournment, Sundays excepted, shall file such bill with his objections thereto, in the office of secretary of state, who shall lay the same before the legislature at its next session in like manner as if it had been returned by the governor. If any bill presented to the governor contain several sections or items, he may object to one or more sections or items while approving other portions of the bill. In such case he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the section or sections; item or items to which he objects and the reasons therefor, and the section or sections, item or items so objected to, shall not take effect unless passed over the governor's objections, as heretofore provided.

Governor to Fill Vacancies. §13. When, during a recess of the legislature, a vacancy shall happen in any office, the appointment to which is vested in the legislature, or when at any time a vacancy shall have occurred in any other state office, for the filling of which vacancy no provision is made elsewhere in this constitution, the governor shall fill such vacancy by appointment, which shall expire when a successor shall have been elected and qualified.

The number of judges may be temporary ly increased and the provision of the following sections relating to term does not apply, State ex rel. Murphy v. McBride 29 W. 335.

Supreme Court, Election and Term of Judges—Sessions at Capital. §3. The judges of the supreme court shall be elected by the qualified electors of the state at large at the general state election at the times and places at which state officers are elected, unless some other time be provided by the legislature. The first election of judges of the supreme court shall be at the election which shall be held upon the adoption of this constitution and the judges elected thereat shall be classified by lot, so that two shall hold their office for the term of three years, two for the term of five years, and one for the term of seven years. The lot shall be drawn by the judges who shall for that purpose assemble at the seat of government, and they shall cause the result thereof to be certified to the secretary of state, and filed in his office. The judge having the shortest term to serve not holding his office by appointment or election to fill a vacancy, shall be the chief justice, and shall preside at all sessions of the supreme court, and in case there shall be two judges having in like manner the same short term, the other judges of the supreme court shall determine which of them shall be chief justice. In case of the absence of the chief justice, the judge having in like manner the shortest or next shortest term to serve shall preside. After the first election the terms of judges elected shall be six years from and after the second Monday in January next succeeding their election. If a vacancy occur in the office of a judge of the supreme court the governor shall appoint a person to hold the office until the election and qualification of a judge to fill the vacancy, which election shall take place at the next succeeding general election, and the judge so elected shall hold the office for the remainder of the unexpired term. The term of office of the judges of the supreme court, first elected, shall commence as soon as the State shall have been admitted into the Union, and continue for the term herein provided, and until their successors are elected and qualified. The sessions of the supreme court shall be held at the seat of government until otherwise provided by law.

Supreme Court Jurisdiction. §4. The supreme court shall have original jurisdiction in habeas corpus, and quo warranto and mandamus as to all state officers, and appellate jurisdiction in all actions and proceedings, excepting that its appellate jurisdiction shall not extend to civil actions at law for the recovery of money or personal property when the original amount in controversy, or the value of the property does not exceed the sum of two hundred dollars ($200) unless the action involves the legality of a tax, impost, assessment, toll, municipal fine, or the validity of a statute. The supreme court shall also have power to issue writs of mandamus review, prohibition, habeas corpus, certiorari and all other writs necessary and proper to the complete exercise of its appellate and revisory jurisdiction. Each of the judges shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus to any part of the State upon petition by or on behalf of any person held in actual custody, and may make such writs returnable before himself, or before the supreme court, or before any superior court of the state, or any judge thereof.

Superior Courts—Election of Judges—Sessions—Vacancies. §5.

There shall be in each of the organized counties of this state a superior court for which at least one judge shall be elected by the qualified electors of the county at the general state election: Provided, That until otherwise directed by the legislature one judge only shall be elected for the counties of Spokane and Stevens; one judge for the county of Whitman; one judge for the counties of Lincoln, Okanogan, Douglas and Adams; one judge for the counties of Walla Walla and Franklin; one judge for the counties of Columbia, Garfield and Asotin; one judge for the counties of Kittitas, Yakima and Klickitat; one judge for the counties of Clarke, Skamania, Pacific, Cowlitz and Wahkiakum; one judge for the counties of Thurston, Chehalis, Mason and Lewis; one judge for the county of Pierce; one judge for the county of King; one judge for the counties of Jefferson, Island, Kitsap, San Juan and Clallam; and one judge for the counties of Whatcom, Skagit and Snohomish. In any county where there shall be more than one superior judge, there may be as many sessions of the superior court at the same time as there are judges thereof, and whenever the governor shall direct a superior judge to hold court in any county other than that for which he has been elected, there may be as many sessions of the superior court in said county at the same time as there are judges therein or assigned to duty therein by the governor, and the business of the court shall be so distributed and assigned by law or in the absence of legislation therefor, by such rules and orders of court as shall best promote and secure the convenient and expeditious transaction thereof. The judgments, decrees, orders and proceedings of any session of the superior court held by any one or more of the judges of such court shall be equally effectual as if all the judges of said court presided at such session. The first superior judges elected under this constitution shall hold their offices for the period of three years, and until their successors shall be elected and qualified, and thereafter the term of office of all superior judges in this State shall be for four years from the second Monday in January next succeeding their election and until their successors are elected and qualified. The first election of judges of the superior court shall be at the election held for the adoption of this constitution. If a vacancy occurs in the office of judge of the superior court, the governor shall appoint a person to hold the office until the election and qualification of a judge to fill the vacancy, which election shall be at the next succeeding general election, and the judge so elected shall hold office for the remainder of the unexpired term.

Superior Court Jurisdiction. §6. The superior court shall have original jurisdiction in all cases in equity, and in all cases at law which involve the title or possession of real property, or the legality of any tax, impost, assessment, toll or municipal fine, and in all other cases in which the demand, or the value of the property in controversy amounts to one hundred dollars, and in all criminal cases amounting to felony, and in all cases of misdemeanor not otherwise provided for by law; of actions of forcible entry and detainer; of proceedings in insolvency; of actions to prevent or abate a nuisance; of all matters of probate, of divorce, and for annulment of marriage; and for such special cases and proceedings as are not otherwise provided for. The superior court shall also have original jurisdiction in all cases and of all proceedings in which jurisdiction shall not have been by law vested exclusively in some other court; and said court shall have the power of naturalization, and to issue papers therefor. They shall have such appellate jurisdiction in cases arising in justices and other inferior courts in their respective counties as may be prescribed by law. They shall be always open except on non-judicial days, and their process shall extend to all parts of the state. Said courts and their judges shall have power to issue writs of mandamus, quo warranto, review, certiorari, prohibition, and writs of habeas corpus on petition by or on behalf of any person in actual custody in their respective counties. Injunctions and writs of prohibition and of habeas corpus may be issued and served on legal holidays and non-judicial days.

Superior Court—Judge May Hold Sessions in Other Counties—Judge Pro Tempore. §7. The judge of any superior court may hold a superior court in any county at the request of the judge of the superior court thereof, and upon the request of the governor it shall be his duty to do so. A case in the superior court may be tried by a judge, pro tempore, who must be a member of the bar, agreed upon in writing by the parties litigant, or their attorneys of record, approved by the court and sworn to try the case.

Resident judge may request visiting judge in addition to all resident judges, Holmes 12 W. 169. This section is self-executing, State v. Hindman v. Boyd 42 W. 17.

When Absence of Judicial Officer Forfeits Office. §8. Any judicial officer who shall absent himself from the state for more than sixty consecutive days shall be deemed to have forfeited his office; Provided, That in cases of extreme necessity the governor may extend the leave of absence such time as the necessity therefor shall exist.

Removal of Judges, Attorney General and Prosecuting Attorneys. §9. Any judge of any court of record, the attorney general, or any prosecuting attorney may be removed from office by joint resolution of the legislature, in which three-fourths of the members elected to each house shall concur, for incompetency, corruption, malfeasance, or delinquency in office, or other sufficient cause stated in such resolution. But no removal shall be made unless the officer complained of shall have been served with a copy of the charges against him as the ground of removal, and shall have an opportunity of being heard in his defense. Such resolution shall be entered at length on the journal of both houses and on the question of removal the ayes and nays shall also be entered on the journal.

Justices' Courts—Jurisdiction. §10. The legislature shall determine the number of justices of the peace to be elected in incorporated cities or towns and in precincts, and shall prescribe by law the powers, duties and jurisdiction of justices of the peace: Provided, That such jurisdiction granted by the legislature shall not trench upon the jurisdiction of superior or other courts of record, except that justices of the peace may be made police justices of incorporated cities and towns. In incorporated cities or towns having more than five thousand inhabitants the justices of the peace shall receive such salary as may be provided by law, and shall receive no fees for their own use.

Incorporation of Cities and Towns. §10. Corporations for municipal purposes shall not be created by special laws; but the legislature, by general laws, shall provide for the incorporation, organization and classification in proportion to population, of cities and towns, which laws may be altered, amended or repealed. Cities and towns heretofore organized, or incorporated may become organized under such general laws whenever a majority of the electors voting at a general election, shall so determine, and shall organize in conformity therewith; and cities or towns heretofore or hereafter organized, and all charters thereof framed or adopted by authority of this constitution shall be subject to, and controlled by general laws. Any city containing a population of twenty thousand inhabitants, or more, shall be permitted to frame a charter for its own government, consistent with and subject to the constitution and laws of this state, and for such purpose the legislative authority of such city may cause an election to be had at which election there shall be chosen by the qualified electors of said city, fifteen freeholders thereof, who shall have been residents of said city for a period of at least two years preceding their election and qualified electors, whose duty it shall be to convene within ten days after their election and prepare and propose a charter for such city. Such proposed charter shall be submitted to the qualified electors of said city, and if a majority of such qualified electors voting thereon ratify the same, it shall become the charter of said city, and shall become the organic law thereof, and supersede any existing charter including amendments thereto, and all special laws inconsistent with such charter. Said proposed charter shall be published in two daily newspapers published in said city, for at least thirty days prior to the day of submitting the same to the electors for their approval, as above provided. All elections in this section authorized shall only be had upon notice, which notice shall specify the object of calling such election, and shall be given for at least ten days before the day of election, in all election districts of said city. Said elections may be general or special elections, and except as herein provided shall be governed by the law regulating and controlling general or special elections in said city. Such charter may be amended by proposals therefor submitted by the legislative authority of such city to the electors thereof at any general election after notice of said submission published as above specified, and ratified by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon. In submitting any such charter, or amendment thereto, any alternate article or proposition may be presented for the choice of the voters, and may be voted on separately without prejudice to others.

ARTICLE XII.

CORPORATIONS OTHER THAN MUNICIPAL.

Private Corporations—Laws May Be Changed. §1. Corporations may be formed under general laws, but shall not be created by special acts. All laws relating to corporations may be altered, amended or repealed by the legislature at any time, and all corporations doing business in this state may, as to such business, be regulated, limited or restrained by law.
Powers by special act prohibited, Const., art. 2, §28; irrevocable franchises, Const., art. 1, §8.

Existing Charters Not Acted Upon of No Force. §2. All existing charters, franchises, special or exclusive privileges, under which an actual and bona fide organization shall not have taken place, and business been commenced in good faith, at the time of the adoption of this constitution shall thereafter have no validity.

Charters Shall Not Be Extended. §3. The legislature shall not extend any franchise or charter, nor remit the forfeiture of any franchise or charter of any corporation now existing, or which shall hereafter exist under the laws of this state.

Act, §4652, providing for reinstatement by payment of fees etc. is valid, State ex Preston Mill Co. v. Howell, 67 W. 377.

Liability of Stockholders. §4. Each stockholder in all incorporated companies, except corporations organized for banking or insurance purposes, shall be liable for the debts of the corporation to the amount of his unpaid stock and no more; and one or more stockholders may be joined as parties defendant in suits to recover upon this liability.

—Officers, How Supplied. §1. Educational, reformatory and penal institutions; those for the benefit of blind, deaf, dumb, or otherwise defective youth; for the insane and idiotic; and such other institutions as the public good may require, shall be fostered and supported by the state, subject to such regulations as may be provided by law. The regents, trustees, or commissioners of all such institutions existing at the time of the adoption of this constitution, and of such as shall thereafter be established by law, shall be appointed by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate; and upon all nominations made by the governor, the question shall be taken by the ayes and noes, and entered upon the journal.

Appointed and not confirmed board have board, State ex rel. Stearns v. Smith 9 W. superior right to appointed and rejected 195.

ARTICLE XIV. SEAT OF GOVERNMENT.

State Capital. §1. The legislature shall have no power to change, or to locate the seat of government of this state; but the question of the permanent location of the seat of government of the state shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the territory, at the election to be held for the adoption of this constitution. A majority of all the votes cast at said election, upon said question, shall be necessary to determine the permanent location of the seat of government for the state; and no place shall ever be the seat of government which shall not receive a majority of the votes cast on that matter. In case there shall be no choice of location at said first election, the legislature shall, at its first regular session after the adoption of this constitution, provide for submitting to the qualified electors of the state, at the next succeeding general election thereafter, the question of choice of location between the three places for which the highest number of votes shall have been cast at the said first election. Said legislature shall provide further, that in case there shall be no choice of location at said second election, the question of choice between the two places for which the highest number of votes shall have been cast, shall be submitted in like manner to the qualified electors of the state at the next ensuing general election; Provided, That until the seat of government shall have been permanently located as herein provided, the temporary location shall remain at the city of Olympia.

Changed by Two-Thirds Vote. §2. When the seat of government shall have been located as herein provided, the location thereof shall not thereafter be changed except by a vote of two-thirds of all the qualified electors of the state voting on that question, at a general election, at which the question of location of the seat of government shall have been submitted by the legislature.

When Appropriations for Buildings to Be Made. §3. The legislature shall make no appropriations or expenditures for capitol buildings or grounds, except to keep the territorial capitol buildings and grounds in repair, and for making all necessary additions thereto, until the seat of government shall have been permanently located, and the public buildings are erected at the permanent capital in pursuance of law.

ARTICLE XV.

HARBORS AND TIDE WATERS.

Harbor Lines and Areas. §1. The legislature shall provide for the appointment of a commission, whose duty it shall be to locate and establish harbor lines in the navigable waters of all harbors, estuaries, bays and inlets of this state, wherever such navigable waters lie within or in front of the corporate limits of any city or within one mile thereof upon either side. The state shall never give, sell or lease to any private person, corporation or association any rights whatever in the waters beyond such harbor lines, nor shall any of the area lying between any harbor line and the line of ordinary high tide, and within not less than fifty feet nor more than six hundred feet of such harbor line (as the commission shall determine) be sold or granted by the state, nor its rights to control the same relinquished, but such area shall be forever reserved for landings, wharves, streets and other conveniences of navigation and commerce.

Legislature cannot authorize assessment on harbor areas of a lake, State ex Seattle v. Savidge 95 W. 240.

Leases on harbor areas cannot be assessed for local improvements, North Am. Lum. Co. v. Blaine 81 W. 13.

Shore land harbor lines by commissioner public lands valid, Puget Mill Co. v. State 93 W. 128.

Lessee has no rights between outer harbor line and U. S. pier head line, Wilson v. Oregon-Washington R. & N. Co. 71 W. 102.

City limits at high tide streets may be extended beyond limits—condemnation, Tacoma v. Titlow 53 W. 217.

Lease of harbor area for railroad—condemnation, State ex rel. Hulme v. Grays Harbor etc. R. Co. 54 W. 530.

"State lands" do not include "tide lands," Seattle & Montana R. Co. v. State

7 W. 150.

Tidelands belong to the state—no riparian rights—licenses revocable, Eisenbach v. Hatfield 2 W. 236.

Harbor lines cannot be changed, Wilson v. State Land Comr's 13 W. 65.

Lines once established shall not be changed, hence Laws '95 p 406 invalid, Wilson v. State Land Commissioners 13 W. 65.

"Navigation and commerce" means "Navigation" and aids thereto, State ex rel. Denny v. Bridges 19 W. 44.

"City" includes "town," State ex rel. Stimson Mill Co. v. Harbor Line Commissioners 4 W. 6.

Discretion of improving harbor areas can not be granted to individuals, hence Laws '99 p 225 §53 invalid, State ex rel. Trimble v. Bridges 22 W. 98.

Cited 76 W. 158.

Lease of Areas. §2. The legislature shall provide general laws for the leasing of the right to build and maintain wharves, docks and other structures, upon the areas mentioned in section 1 of this article, but no lease shall be made for any term longer than thirty years, or the legislature may provide by general laws for the building and maintaining upon such area wharves, docks, and other structures.

Leasing will not be controlled by prohibition, State ex rel. White v. State Land Comr's 23 W. 700.

Streets Extended Over Tide Lands. §3. Municipal corporations shall have the right to extend their streets over intervening tide lands to and across the area reserved as herein provided.

City acquiescing for 20 years in lease by state loses right to streets, In re Percival Application 91 W. 470.

Art. 15 §3, city streets may be extended across harbor area. L '90 p. 731 §5 has no application—gridiron in street allowed, Chlopeck Fish Co. v. Seattle, 64 W. 315.

Extension of streets, State v. Forrest 11 W. 227; vacated by legislature, Henry v. Seattle 42 W. 420.

Streets extended are superior to private boom location, Globe Mill Co. v. Bellingham Bay Imp. Co. 10 W. 458.

The right to extend streets over tide lands is superior to "Improver's" right, Columbia Etc. R. R. v. Seattle 6 W. 332.

City granted franchise on street without right and afterward acquired right to street held the city was estopped, Seattle v. Columbia Etc. R. R. Co. 6 W. 379.

Right must be exercised at time of platting, State ex rel. Land Co. v. Bridges 19 W. 428.

Extension of street must be straight out and of same width, Ilwaco v. Ilwaco Co. 17 W. 652.

Streets must be existing streets, Seattle & Mont. Ry. Co. v. State 7 W. 150.

SCHOOL AND GRANTED LANDS

Public Lands Held in Trust—Price at Sale. §1. All the public lands granted to the state are held in trust for all the people and none of such lands, nor any estate or interest therein, shall ever be disposed of unless the full market value of the estate or interests disposed of, to be ascertained in such manner as may be provided by law, be paid or safely secured to the state; nor shall any lands which the state holds by grant from the United States (in any case in which the manner of disposal and minimum price are so prescribed) be disposed of except in the manner and for at least the price prescribed in the grant thereof, without the consent of the United States. /

Waters on lands cannot be appropriated, Colburn v. Winchell 97 W. 27.

Power of disposal including university lands in state land commission—more than 160 acres in one sale not void—review of legislation as to power of disposal, State v. Hewitt Land Co. 74 W. 573.

Limitation statute does not run against states title, O'Brien v. Wilson 51 W. 52. Does not prohibit condemnation of lands, Roberts v. Seattle, 63 W. 573. Grant of sections 16 and 36 is compact with state and not affected by later act, State v. Whitney, 66 W. 473.

State's disclaimer to certain lands. Const., art. 26.

Appraisalment and Sale of Lands for Educational Purposes. §2.

None of the lands granted to the state for educational purposes shall be sold otherwise than at public auction to the highest bidder, and the value thereof, less the improvements shall, before any sale, be appraised by a board of appraisers to be provided by law, the terms of payment also to be prescribed by law, and no sale shall be valid unless the sum bid be equal to the appraised value of said land. In estimating the value of such lands for disposal, the value of the improvements thereon shall be excluded: Provided, That the sale of all school and university land heretofore made by the commissioners of any county or the university commissioners when the purchase price has been paid in good faith, may be confirmed by the legislature.

Requirements of enabling act as to price and manner of sale modified by proviso, Romaine v. State 7 W. 215.

When Lands to Be Sold. §3. No more than one-fourth of the land granted to the state for educational purposes shall be sold prior to January 1, 1895, and not more than one-half prior to January 1, 1905: Provided, That nothing herein shall be construed as to prevent the state from selling the timber or stone off of any of the state lands in such manner and on such terms as may be prescribed by law: And provided, further, That no sale of timber lands shall be valid unless the full value of such lands is paid or secured to the state.

Quantity Sold in Each Parcel—Platting Lands. §4. No more than one hundred and sixty (160) acres of any granted lands of the state shall be offered for sale in one parcel, and all lands within the limits of any incorporated city or within two miles of the boundary of any incorporated city where the valuation of such lands shall be found by appraisalment to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) per acre shall, before the same be sold, be platted into lots and blocks of not more than five acres in a block, and not more than one block shall be offered for sale in one parcel.

Quantity applies to lands for public institutions—excess not void—applies only to federal grant, State v. Hewitt Land Co. 74 W. 573.

Investment of the Permanent School Fund. §5. None of the permanent school fund of this State shall ever be loaned to private persons or corporations, but it may be invested in national, state, county, municipal or school district bonds. (Adopted November, 1894.)

Fund cannot be invested in capitol building bonds, State Capitol Com'n v. Board, 74 W. 74.

Losses to be repaid, Const., art. 9, §5.

Special waterworks bonds of a city are not proper instruments. State ex rel. Port Townsend v. Clausen 40 W. 95.

Issuance of state bonds to permanent school fund proceeds to be applied to pay- ing general fund warrants is valid, State ex rel. Winston v. Rogers 21 W. 206.

Permanent school fund can not be invested in state warrants, State ex rel. Helmar v. Young 21 W. 391.

Fund may be invested in school district bonds, State ex rel. School District v. Grimes 7 W. 270.

ARTICLE XVII.

TIDE LANDS.

State Asserts Title to All Tide and Shore Lands and Beds of Navigable Streams. §1. The State of Washington asserts its ownership to the beds and shores of all navigable waters in the state up to and including the line of ordinary high tide, in waters where the tide ebbs and flows, and up to and including the line of ordinary high water within the banks of all navigable rivers and lakes: Provided, That this section shall not be construed so as to debar any person from asserting his claim to vested rights in the courts of the state.

Legislature cannot authorize assessments on harbor areas of a lake, State ex rel. Seattle v. Savidge 95 W. 240.

Lake about 5 feet deep in winter and about 1½ feet in summer held not navigable. Neterer v. State 98 W. 635.

Occasional use at high tide does not determine navigability—grant to railroad—fisherman ousted, Wilson v. Prickett 79 W. 89.

Riparian rights in tide and shore lands destroyed by above section, State v. Sturtevant 76 W. 158, 86 W. 1.

No title to gravel in bed of navigable stream, Com'rs Com. W. Dist. v. Seattle Factory Sites Co. 76 W. 181.

State may divert stream without damage to riparian owner, Newell v. Loeb 77 W. 182.

Title to beds of unnavigable lakes is not in the state, but in riparian owners—irrigation, Bernot v. Morrison 81 W. 538.

Title to bed of stream that will float only logs and shingle bolts is in adjacent owner—right to flow—description in deed—defense as riparian owner, State ex rel Davis v. Superior Court 84 W. 252.

Grant to county for ferry, etc., landings is limited grant and is not public, Anderson Steamboat Co. v. King County 84 W. 375.

Riparian owners have no rights in bed of stream abandoned or granted by the state, Hill v. Newell 86 W. 227.

"Pothole" and channel never bare are not conveyed by state's deed, State v. Scott 89 W. 63.

Irrigator may dam lake to level of high water, though shore lands purchased by others, Kalez v. Spokane Valley L. & W. Co. 89 W. 514.

Title to bed of navigable unmeandered slough is in the state, Washington Boom Co. v. Chehalis Boom Co. 90 W. 350.

Waters of stream not navigable may be diverted by power company, Sumner Lum- ber Co. v. Pacific Coast P. Co. 72 W. 631.

Grantee of U. S. has no riparian rights—Lake Washington shore owners, Bilger v. State, 63 W. 457.

Owner of upland on inland lake has no rights to water for irrigation superior to the right of appropriation of non-adjacent owners, State ex rel. Ham v. Court, 70 W. 442.

Land above high tide up to meander line passes to patentee, Nassa v. Seaborg, 64 W. 164.

Ownership by state does not deprive riparian owners without due process of law, McGillvra v. Ross 164 Fed. 604.

Title asserted below low tide, State ex rel. McKenzie v. Forrest 11 W. 227; to small inland lake, Madson v. Spokane etc. Co. 42 W. 414.

"Navigable" in natural condition, East Hoquiam etc. Co. v. Neeson 20 W. 142.

Limitation does not run against state, nor is state estopped by possession, Brace & Hergert Mill Co. v. State 49 W. 326.

The right of a riparian proprietor in water can not be divested by a city without condemnation, New Whatcom v. Fairhaven Land Co. 24 W. 493.

State asserts title to beds of waters only that are navigable for general commercial purposes and not to mere highways for floating logs, Watkins v. Dorris 24 W. 636.

Lands below high water mark in fresh water lakes belong to the state, McCue v. Bellingham Bay Water Co. 5 W. 156.

Right asserted against proposed easements, wharves, etc., Eisenbach v. Hatfield 2 W. 236; Harbor Line Com'rs v. State ex rel. Yesler 2 W. 530.

Does Not Include Patented Lands. §2. The state of Washington disclaims all title in and claim to all tide, swamp and overflowed lands, patented by the United States: Provided, that same is not impeached for fraud.

A patent prior to the adoption of the state constitution passed title to tide lands included within the government meander line, and the owner of such lands is entitled to the preference right to purchase abutting tide lands abutting thereon, under §6410. Bleakley v. Lake Washington Mill Co. 65 W. 215.

This section confirms patents issued after statehood to parties entitled, Kneeland v. Korter 40 W. 359.

Includes lands in front of Indian reservation—lands reserved by President's proclamation, Jones v. Callvert 32 W. 610.

Grant of tide lands once patented binds grantor, Denny v. N. P. Ry. Co. 32 W. 298.

State can not assert title to patented tide lands, Cogswell v. Forrest 14 W. 1; Scurry v. Jones 4 W. 468.

Patents convey to high water mark although meander line above the same, Washougal Tr. Co. v. Dalles Nav. Co. 27 W. 490.

Grant of tide lands in front of a lot does not convey above meander line, Shelton Logging Co. v. Gosser 26 W. 126.

Whether patent conveys below high water mark is federal question, Kenyon v. Squire 1 W. 9, 11, 12.

STATE SEAL.

Seal of the State. §1. The seal of the state of Washington shall be, a seal encircled with the words: "The seal of the state of Washington," with the vignette of Gen. George Washington as the central figure, and beneath the vignette the figures "1889."

Secretary State is custodian, Const., art. 3, §18.

EXEMPTIONS.

Exemptions From Execution. §1. The legislature shall protect by law from forced sale a certain portion of the homestead and other property of all heads of families.

Statute providing no exemption for wages, etc., valid, In re Vonhee 238 Fed. 422.

Statute providing for forced sale for mechanic's liens, etc., valid, Brace & Hergert Mill Co. v. Burbank 87 W. 356.

Constitutional Convention. §2. Whenever two-thirds of the members elected to each branch of the legislature shall deem it necessary to call a convention to revise or amend this constitution, they shall recommend to the electors to vote at the next general election, for or against a convention, and if a majority of all the electors voting at said election shall have voted for a convention, the legislature shall at the next session, provide by law for calling the same; and such convention shall consist of a number of members, not less than that of the most numerous branch of the legislature.

Proposed Constitution Shall Be Submitted. §3. Any constitution adopted by such convention shall have no validity until it has been submitted to and adopted by the people.

ARTICLE XXIV.

BOUNDARIES.

Boundaries of the State. §1. The boundaries of the State of Washington shall be as follows: Beginning at a point in the Pacific Ocean one marine league due west of and opposite the middle of the mouth of the north ship channel of the Columbia river thence running easterly to and up the middle channel of said river and where it is divided by islands up the middle of the widest channel thereof to where the forty-sixth parallel of north latitude crosses said river near the mouth of the Walla Walla river; thence east on said forty-sixth parallel of latitude to the middle of the main channel of the Shoshone or Snake river, thence follow down the middle of the main channel of Snake river to a point opposite the mouth of the Kooskooskia or Clear Water river, thence due north to the forty-ninth parallel of north latitude, thence west along said forty-ninth parallel of north latitude to the middle of the channel which separates Vancouver's island from the continent, that is to say to a point in longitude 123 degrees, 19 minutes and fifteen seconds west, thence following the boundary line between the United States and British possessions through the channel which separates Vancouver's island from the continent to the termination of the boundary line between the United States and British possessions at a point in the Pacific Ocean equidistant between Bonilla point on Vancouver's island and Tatoosh island lighthouse, thence running in a southerly course and parallel with the coast line, keeping one marine league off shore to place of beginning.

ARTICLE XXV.

JURISDICTION.

Jurisdiction of the United States—State's Process. §1. The consent of the State of Washington is hereby given to the exercise, by the Congress of the United States, of exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever over such tracts or parcels of land as are now held or reserved by the government of the United States for the purpose of erecting or maintaining thereon forts, magazines, arsenals, dock yards, lighthouses and other needful buildings, in accordance with the provisions of the seventeenth paragraph of the eighth section of the first article of the constitution of the United States, so long as the same shall be so held and reserved by the United States. Provided: That a sufficient description by metes and bounds, and an accurate plat or map of each such tract or parcel of land be filed in the proper office of record in the county in which the same is situated, together with copies of the orders, deeds, patents or other evidences in writing of the title of the United States: And provided, That all civil process issued from the courts of this state and such criminal process as may issue under the authority of this state against any person charged with crime in cases arising outside of such reservations, may be served and executed thereon in the same mode and manner, and by the same officers, as if the consent herein given had not been made.

COMPACT WITH THE UNITED STATES.

The following ordinance shall be irrevocable without the consent of the United States and the people of this state:

Religious Toleration. First. That perfect toleration of religious sentiment shall be secured and that no inhabitant of this state shall ever be molested in person or property on account of his or her mode of religious worship.

Right to Public Lands and Indian Reservations Disclaimed—Taxation of Non-Residents and Indians. Second. That the people inhabiting this state do agree and declare that they forever disclaim all right and title to the unappropriated public lands lying within the boundaries of this state, and to all lands lying within said limits owned or held by any Indian or Indian tribes; and that until the title thereto shall have been extinguished by the United States, the same shall be and remain subject to the disposition of the United States, and said Indian lands shall remain under the absolute jurisdiction and control of the congress of the United States and that the lands belonging to citizens of the United States residing without the limits of this state shall never be taxed at a higher rate than the lands belonging to residents thereof; and that no taxes shall be imposed by the state on lands or property therein, belonging to or which may be hereafter purchased by the United States or reserved for use: Provided, That nothing in this ordinance shall preclude the state from taxing as other lands are taxed any lands owned or held by any Indian who has severed his tribal relations, and has obtained from the United States or from any person a title thereto by patent or other grant, save and except such lands as have been or may be granted to any Indian or Indians under any act of congress containing a provision exempting the lands thus granted from taxation, which exemption shall continue so long and to such an extent as such act of congress may prescribe.

Territorial Debt Assumed. Third. The debts and liabilities of the Territory of Washington and payment of the same are hereby assumed by this state.

Public School System. Fourth. Provision shall be made for the establishment and maintenance of systems of public schools free from sectarian control which shall be open to all the children of said state.

ARTICLE XXVII.

SCHEDULE.

In order that no inconvenience may arise by reason of a change from territorial to a state government, it is hereby declared and ordained as follows:

Existing Rights and Proceedings Saved. §1. No existing rights, actions, suits, proceedings, contracts or claims shall be affected by a change in the form of government, but all shall continue as if no such change had taken place; and all process which may have been issued under the authority of the Territory of Washington previous to its admission into the Union shall be as valid as if issued in the name of the state.

Cited, Cunnius v. Reading School District, 198 U. S. 473.

Territorial Laws Continued—Grant of Tide Lands Excepted.

§2. All laws now in force in the Territory of Washington, which are not repugnant to this constitution, shall remain in force until they expire by their own limitation, or are altered or repealed by the legislature; Provided, That this section shall not be so construed as to validate any act of the legislature of Washington Territory granting shore or tide lands to any person, company or any municipal or private corporation.

Act 1869 authorizing indorsement of warrants continued in force, State ex rel. Capital Nat. Bank v. Young 22 W. 547; attorney general's duties, State ex rel. Att'y Gen. v. Seattle Gas Co. 28 W. 488.

Cannot be construed as re-enacting statute, State v. Ellis 22 W. 129.

Laws declared to be not in force by the courts were not continued, State v. Halbert 14 W. 310.

Federal courts will hold invalid territorial laws valid if state has recognized them as valid, as in the case of the statute defining rape, In re Moore 81 Fed. Rep. 356.

Township liable for statutory tort. Orrock v. South Moran Twp. 97 W. 144.

Debts, etc., Due Territory Enure to State. §3. All debts, fines, penalties and forfeitures, which have accrued, or may hereafter accrue, to the Territory of Washington, shall enure to the state of Washington.

Rights Under Recognizances, etc., Enure to State. §4. All recognizances heretofore taken, or which may be taken before the change from a territorial to a state government shall remain valid, and shall pass to, and may be prosecuted in the name of the state, and all bonds executed to the territory of Washington or to any county or municipal corporation, or to any officer or court in his or its official capacity, shall pass to the state authorities and their successors in office, for the uses therein expressed, and may be sued for and recovered accordingly, and all the estate, real, personal and mixed, and all judgments decrees, bonds, specialties, choses in action, and claims or debts, of whatever description, belonging to the territory of Washington, shall enure to and vest in the state of Washington, and may be sued for and recovered in the same manner, and to the same extent, by the state of Washington, as the same could have been by the territory of Washington.

Criminal Actions Saved. §5. All criminal prosecutions and penal actions which may have arisen, or which may arise, before the change from a territorial to a state government, and which shall then be pending, shall be prosecuted to judgment, and execution in the name of the state. All offenses committed against the laws of the territory of Washington, before the change from a territorial to a state government, and which shall not be prosecuted before such change, may be prosecuted in the name and by the authority of the state of Washington, with like effect as though such change had not taken place; and all penalties incurred shall remain the same as if this constitution had not been adopted. All actions at law and suits in equity which may be pending in any of the courts of the territory of Washington, at the time of the change from a territorial to a state government, shall be continued, and transferred to the court of the state having jurisdiction of the subject matter thereof.

Section construed, Moore v. Perrot 2 W. 1; Way v. Woolery 6 W. 157.

Public Officers Shall Continue Until Superseded. §6. All officers now holding their offices under the authority of the United States, or of the territory of Washington, shall continue to hold and exercise their respective offices until they shall be superseded by the authority of the state.

Section construed, Garneau v. Mill Co. 8 W. 467; Smalley v. Snell 6 W. 161.

Time of Election of Officers Not Provided For. §7. All officers provided for in this constitution including a county clerk for each county when no other time is fixed for their election, shall be elected at the election to be held for the adoption of this constitution on the first Tuesday of October, 1889.

Transfer of Causes in the Courts. §8. Whenever the judge of the superior court of any county, elected or appointed under the provisions of this constitution shall have qualified, the several causes then pending in the district court of the territory except such causes as would have been within the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States district court had such court existed at the time of the commencement of such causes, within such county, and the records, papers and proceedings of said district court, and the seal and other property pertaining thereto, shall pass into the jurisdiction and possession of the superior court for such county. And where the same judge is elected for two or more counties, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the district court having custody of such papers and records to transmit to the clerk of such county, or counties, other than that in which such records are kept the original papers in all cases pending in such district court and belonging to the jurisdiction of such county or counties together with transcript of so much of the records of said district court as relate to the same; and until the district courts of the territory shall be superseded in manner aforesaid, the said district courts and the judges thereof, shall continue with the same jurisdiction and powers, to be exercised in the same judicial districts respectively, as heretofore constituted under the laws of the territory. Whenever a quorum of the judges of the supreme court of the state shall have been elected and qualified, the causes then pending in the supreme court of the territory, except such causes as would have been within the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States circuit court had such court existed at the time of the commencement of such causes, and the papers, records and proceedings of said court and the seal and other property pertaining thereto, shall pass into the jurisdiction and possession of the supreme court of the state, and until so superseded, the supreme court of the territory and the judges thereof, shall continue with like powers and jurisdiction as if this constitution had not been adopted.

Seals of the Courts. §9. Until otherwise provided by law, the seal now in use in the supreme court of the territory shall be the seal of the supreme court of the state. The seals of the superior courts of the several counties of the state shall be, until otherwise provided by law, the vignette of General George Washington with the words: "Seal of the Superior Court of _____ County" surrounding the vignette. The seal of municipalities, and of all county officers of the territory, shall be the seals of such municipalities, and county officers respectively under the state, until otherwise provided by law.

Transfer of Probate Causes. §10. When the state is admitted into the Union, and the superior courts in the respective counties organized, the books, records, papers and proceedings of the probate court in each county, and all causes and matters of administration pending therein, shall, upon the expiration of the term of office of the probate judges, on the second Monday in January, 1891, pass into the jurisdiction and possession of the superior court of the same county created by this constitution, and the said court shall proceed to final judgment or decree, order or other determination in the several matters and causes, as the territorial probate court might have done, if this constitution had not been adopted. And until the expiration of the term of office of the probate judges, such probate judges shall perform the duties now imposed upon them by the laws of the territory. The superior courts shall have appellate and revisory jurisdiction over the decisions of the probate courts, as now provided by law, until such latter courts expire by limitation.

Review of former judgment by superior court. Ball v. Clothier 34 W. 299.

Legislature Shall Provide for Election and Term of Officers Not Provided For. §11. The legislature, at its first session, shall provide for the election of all officers whose election is not provided for elsewhere in §7290. What Decisions Appealable. §1. Any party aggrieved may appeal to the supreme court in the mode prescribed in this title from any or every of the following determinations, and no others, made by the superior court, or a judge thereof, in any action or proceeding.

(1) From the final judgment entered in any action or proceeding, and an appeal from any such final judgment shall also bring up for review any order made in the same action or proceeding either before or after the judgment, in case the record sent up on the appeal, or any supplementary record sent up before the hearing thereof, shall show such order sufficiently for the purposes of a review thereof;

(2) From any order refusing to vacate an order of arrest in a civil action;

(3) From an order granting or denying a motion for a temporary injunction, heard upon notice to the adverse party, and from any order vacating or refusing to vacate a temporary injunction; Provided, That no appeal shall be allowed from any order denying a motion for a temporary injunction, or vacating a temporary injunction, unless the judge of the superior court shall have found upon the hearing, that the party against whom the injunction was sought was insolvent;

(4) From any order discharging or refusing to discharge an attachment;

(5) From any order appointing or removing, or refusing to appoint or remove, a receiver;

(6) From any order affecting a substantial right in a civil action or proceeding, which either, (1) in effect determines the action or proceeding and prevents a final judgment therein; or (2) discontinues the action; or (3) grants a new trial; or (4) sets aside or refuses to affirm an award of arbitrators, or refers the cause back to them;

(7) From any final order made after judgment, which affects a substantial right; and an appeal from any such order shall also bring up for review any previous order in the same action or proceeding which involves the merits and necessarily affects the order appealed from, in case the record sent up on the appeal, or any supplementary record sent up before the hearing thereof, shall show such previous order sufficiently for the purposes of a review thereof. But an appeal shall not be allowed to the state in any criminal action, except when the error complained of is in setting aside the indictment or information, or in arresting the judgment on the ground that the facts stated in the indictment or information do not constitute a crime, or is some other material error in law not affecting the acquittal of a prisoner on the merits.

§7293. Notice of Appeal—Bond. §4. A party desiring to appeal to the supreme court under the provisions of this act may, by himself or his attorney, give notice in open court, or before the judge, if the judgment or order appealed from is rendered or made at chambers, at the time when such judgment or order is rendered or made, that he appeals from such judgment or order to the supreme court, and thereupon the court or judge shall direct the clerk to make an entry of such notice in the journal of the court. If the appeal be not taken at the time when the judgment or order appealed from is rendered or made, then the party desiring to appeal may, by himself or his attorney, within the time prescribed in section three of this act, serve written notice on the prevailing party or his attorney that he appeals from such judgment or order to the supreme court, and within five days after the service of such notice he shall file with the clerk of the superior court the original or a copy of such notice, with proof or the written admission of the service thereof, and thereupon the clerk shall enter such notice, with the proof or admission of service thereof, in the journal of the court. The giving or service of a notice of appeal as prescribed in this section shall effect the appeal, but the same shall become ineffectual if an appeal bond for costs and damages be not given as required by section six of this act. Two or more appealable orders, with or without the judgment, may be embraced in one appeal, provided, the time allowed in this act for appealing from each of such orders has not expired. The appellant in his notice of appeal shall designate with reasonable certainty from what judgment or orders, whether one or more, the appeal is taken, and if from part of any judgment or order, from what particular part.

§7296. Bond—Cost and Cost and Stay. §7. The appeal bond must be executed in behalf of the appellant by one or more sufficient sureties, and shall be in a penalty of not less than two hundred dollars in any case; and in order to effect a stay of proceedings as in this section provided, the bond, where the appeal is from a final judgment for the recovery of money, shall be in a penalty double the amount of the damages and costs recovered in such judgment, and in other cases shall be in such penalty, not less than two hundred dollars, and sufficient to save the respondent harmless from damages by reason of the appeal, as a judge of the superior court shall prescribe. It shall be conditioned that the appellant will pay all costs and damages that may be awarded against him on the appeal, or on the dismissal thereof, not exceeding two hundred dollars. An appeal shall not stay proceedings on the judgment or order appealed from, or on any part thereof, unless the original or a subsequent appeal bond be further conditioned that the appellant will satisfy and perform the judgment or order appealed from in case it shall be affirmed, and any judgment or order which the supreme court may render or make, or order to be rendered or made by the superior court, and (where such condition is applicable) shall pay all rents of or damages to property, accruing during the pendency of the appeal, out of the possession of which any respondent shall be kept by reason of the appeal. If the bond is intended to stay proceedings on only a part of the judgment or order, it shall be varied so as to secure the part stayed alone. When such bond, further conditioned as hereinabove prescribed, has been filed, the appeal shall operate, so long as it shall remain effectual under the provisions of this act, to stay proceedings upon the judgment or order appealed from; but in case of an appeal from an order other than an order granting a new trial, no appeal or appeal bond shall operate to stay proceedings in the cause except proceedings upon the order appealed from; and no appeal or stay shall vacate or affect any part of a judgment or order not appealed from and where an appeal is taken from an order vacating a temporary injunction, the appellant can not proceed further in the cause in the superior court during the pendency of the appeal, except so far as may be rendered necessary by proceedings of an adverse party.

But not where surety is a guarantee company, De Roberts v. Stiles, 24 W. 611.

§7302. Justification of Sureties—New Bond. §11. Any respondent may except to the sufficiency of the surety or sureties in an appeal bond, within ten days after the service on him of the notice of appeal or within five days after the service on him of the bond or written notice of the filing thereof, by serving on the appellant a notice stating that he so excepts, and specifying a place, at the county seat, and a time, not less than three nor more than ten days distant, at which the surety or sureties are required to attend before the superior court in which the judgment or order appealed from was rendered or made, or before a judge thereof, and to justify their sufficiency as sureties. At the time and place named in such notice, or to which the proceeding may be thence adjourned by the court or judge, the surety or sureties must attend before the court or judge, and may be then and there examined in detail, under oath, as to their property and other qualifications as sureties, by any respondent or by the judge, or by both. If the judge, upon such examination, is satisfied that the surety or sureties are qualified as such, to the extent to which they are required by section eight of this act to make affidavit, then he shall make a certificate to that effect, indorsed upon or attached to the bond, which shall thereupon stand as a sufficient appeal bond to the effect expressed in the condition thereof; but if he is not so satisfied, or if the sureties fail to attend and justify, then the judge shall in like manner certify to that effect, and thereupon the bond shall become void: Provided, That in such case the appellant may, within five days after the making of such certificate, file a new appeal bond, in conformity with the requirements of this act, and subject to the requirements of justification of the sureties therein, as hereinabove provided, but in case such new appeal bond be found insufficient, no new bond can thereafter be filed in lieu thereof. In case the original or new appeal bond be not conditioned so as to effect a stay of proceedings, nowever, an additional appeal bond may be filed at any time thereafter when the appellant desires to effect a stay as provided in this act, during the pendency of the appeal. The examination of the sureties taken upon their justification shall be reduced to writing and subscribed by the sureties, if either party so requires, and attached to the certificate made thereon.

§7303. Bond for Stay—Execution Recalled. §12. When an appeal bond is conditioned so as to effect a stay of proceedings, if execution has issued the clerk shall, on demand of the appellant, issue to the sheriff a certificate that proceedings have been stayed, which shall countermand the execution; and thereupon the sheriff shall release any property levied on and not already sold, and return the execution into court.

Restitution in forcible entry and detainer, §7991.

§7304. New Bond Required at Any Time. §13. If any respondent shall have cause to believe, after any appeal bond shall have been filed and the sureties therein have justified or the time for requiring their justification has expired, that the sureties have since become disqualified as such, so that the bond is no longer an adequate security, he may apply by motion to the supreme court to require a new or additional bond; and upon the hearing of such motion the court may receive evidence in support of and in opposition to the motion in such manner, and may make such order thereon, as it shall deem proper.

§7305. Transcript on Appeal—Supplementary Record. §14. Within ninety days after an appeal shall have been taken by notice as provided in this title, the clerk of the superior court shall prepare, certify and file in his office, at the expense of the appellant (except in criminal appeals prosecuted in forma pauperis, and in such cases at the expense of the county), a transcript containing a copy of so much of the record and files as the appellant shall deem material to the review of the matters embraced within the appeal, said transcript to be so prepared, certified, and filed, in the office of the clerk, at or before the time when the appellant shall serve and file his opening brief, as hereinafter provided. Within four months after said appeal shall have been taken by notice as aforesaid, the clerk of the superior court shall, at the expense of appellant, send up to the supreme court said transcript together with the original briefs on appeal filed in his office. The papers and copies so sent up together with any thereafter sent up as hereinbelow provided, shall constitute the record on appeal. Any bill of exceptions or statement of facts on file when the record is so sent up shall be sent up as a part thereof, unless the superior court or a judge thereof has not yet passed on an application for the settlement and certifying of such bill or statement. In case any bill of exceptions or statement of facts shall be filed or certified, or any other addition to the records or file shall be made after the record on appeal shall have been sent up, a supplementary record on appeal embracing so much thereof as the appellant deems material, or a copy thereof may be prepared, certified and sent up at any time prior to the hearing of the appeal. And in case the respondent deems any part of the files or record not already sent up to be material to the review of the matters embraced within the appeal, he may cause the clerk, in like manner, at his expense, to prepare, certify and send up a supplementary record on appeal embracing such omitted files or records, or copies thereof, at any time prior to the hearing of the appeal. Any such supplementary record or records, if filed in the supreme court prior to the hearing of the appeal, shall be considered by the court as part of the record on appeal, so far as the same may be material to a review of the matters embraced within the appeal. When the review of an original paper in the cause may be important to a correct decision of the appeal, the court or judge may order the clerk to transmit the same to the clerk of the supreme court and the same shall be transmitted accordingly, and shall be under the control of the supreme court.

§7307. Abstract of Record by Appellant—Supplemental Abstract by Respondent—Costs. §1. That the appellant shall, at or before the time when he is required by rule or statute to serve his opening brief, cause to be typewritten and served upon the opposite party an abstract of so much of the record and statement of facts as he may deem necessary to the proper hearing of his assignments of error: Provided, That in all cases in which no testimony is sent up with the record, or in which the statement of facts does not exceed one hundred (100) pages of double space, typewritten evidence, no abstract of record shall be required. Said abstract, in so far as it sets out testimony, shall be condensed into narrative form, without the questions and answers except when necessary for the discussion of evidence. It shall be prepared without notice or hearing thereon, and if the opposite party be not satisfied with it, he may cause to be typewritten and served, without notice, either before or at the time of serving his answering brief, so much of the record and statement of facts, condensed as above, as he for his part may deem proper for the correction or supplementing of his opponent's abstract. Each party shall pay the cost of typewriting his abstract, and the prevailing party shall be entitled to recover his disbursements therefor as other costs. For any abuse in typewriting excessive or unnecessary matter in the abstract, the supreme court, without regard to which party may prevail, may impose the costs thereof upon the party committing such abuse. The supreme court shall also provide by rule the form of abstracts, the number thereof to be typewritten, and for other particulars thereof, including the time and place of filing the same.

§7308. Statements of Fact and Bills of Exceptions. §2. Nothing in this act contained shall alter in any respect the present manner of settling and certifying statements of fact and bills of exceptions, and such statements and bills shall be transmitted to the supreme court to be referred to in any controversy concerning the accuracy of the abstracts, as well as for reference to exhibits, and for such other uses as the supreme court may find proper in consideration of all matters on appeal.

Does not dispense with statement of facts, Michaelson v. Overmeyer 77 W. 110.

§7309. Time of Appeal. §3. Amends §7292.

§7310. Extension of Time for Opening Brief. §4. In all cases in which the abstract of record which, by the terms of this act, is to be served upon the opposite party by the appellant is served within the time limited by existing law, or by any law hereafter passed, for the service of appellant's opening brief, the time for serving appellant's opening brief shall be, by such service of such abstract of record, extended for and until ten days after the service of such abstract of record, providing that the time for serving such opening brief would otherwise have expired within said ten days, and this section shall not be construed to shorten the time for serving of appellant's opening brief.

§7311. Extension of Time for Respondent's Brief. §5. In all cases in which the opposite party is not satisfied with the abstract of record as furnished by the appellant, and in which such opposite party shall serve so much of a record and statement of facts as he shall deem proper for correcting or supplementing of his opponent's abstract, the service thereof shall extend the time as limited by existing law, or by any law hereafter passed for the service of the opposite party's brief for a period of ten days from and after the service of said correcting and supplementing abstract by the opponent, but this section shall not be construed to shorten the time for the serving of the opponent's brief.

§7312. Insufficient Abstract — Amendment — Dismissal on Failure to Amend. §6. In case the appellant serves an abstract of record and statement of facts within the time limited by this act, and it is found that the same is insufficient and defective under the terms of this act or the rules of the supreme court, the appeal shall not be dismissed by reason thereof, but the appellant may be allowed to file an amended or supplementary abstract as may be required by the facts of the case within such time and upon such terms as may be fixed by the order of the supreme court, and if the appellant fails to comply with the order of the court in regard thereto, then the appeal may be dismissed by reason and because of such failure to comply with the order of the supreme court in regard thereto.

Abstract amended on terms, Kranzusch v. Trustee Co. 93 W. 629.

Abstract not conforming with court rules not ground for dismissal if abstract amendable, Singer v. Metz Co. 101 W. 67.

Affirmed Wishkah Boom Co. v. Greenwood Timber Co. 100 W. 472.

§7313. Order of Filing and Serving Immaterial. §7. Whenever any statute heretofore or hereafter enacted requires a motion for a new trial, statement of facts, bill of exceptions, notice of appeal or other documents concerning appeals or constituting a part of the record of appeals to the supreme court, or to any other tribunal having appellate jurisdiction, to be filed and served or served and filed, the serving and filing shall be equally valid and effectual whether the document shall be filed or served first and no appeal shall be dismissed because of the order of the filing and serving.

§7314. Grant of Time to Supply Abstract or Statement. §8. In case of a failure of the appellant to serve an abstract of record and statement of facts, or the one served is insufficient, the supreme court shall, if such failure is found to be excusable, allow the appellant a reasonable time, upon such terms as the court may impose, in which to supply such abstract of record and statement of facts.

§7315. Filing and Service of Briefs—Additional Authorities. §15.

Within ninety days after an appeal shall have been taken by notice, as provided in this title, the appellant shall serve on the respondent three copies and shall file with the clerk of the superior court fifteen copies, together with proof or written admission of service, as aforesaid, of a printed brief on the appeal upon his part, which brief shall clearly point out each error that the appellant relies on for a reversal, and shall conform to such regulations of its contents in other respects, and its form and size, as the supreme court by its rules may have prescribed. Within thirty days after the service of the appellant's brief, the respondent shall likewise serve and file with the clerk of the superior court, with like proof of service, the like numbers of copies of a printed brief on the appeal upon his part which shall likewise conform to the rules of the supreme court. Not less than ten days prior to the hearing the appellant may also serve and file either with the clerk of the superior court or in the supreme court like printed brief or briefs, strictly in reply to respondent's brief. The time for service and filing of briefs, as in this section prescribed, may be extended by order of the superior court for good cause shown, or by stipulation of the parties concerned; and if the time for filing any statement of facts shall be extended by order or stipulation, the time herein prescribed for serving and filing the appellant's opening brief shall thereby be correspondingly extended. Either party may after the filing of his briefs and not less than one day prior to the hearing of the appeal submit to the supreme court and to the adverse party a written or printed statement of any additional authorities, with suitable comment thereon strictly in support of the position taken in his brief hereinabove required to be filed. But the appellant shall not be permitted to urge in any such reply brief or statement of additional authorities, or on the hearing, any grounds for reversal not clearly pointed out in his original brief. By....., Deputy.

2. Supplemental records shall be certified by the Clerk of the Superior Court substantially in the same manner.

Statement not indexed, will be stricken, Davidson v. King 103 W. 379.

§7338d. Abstracts—Amendment—Rule VI. It is ordered that Rule VI of the Supreme Court of the State of Washington, pertaining to the number of abstracts, be so amended as to provide that, in every case in which an appeal has heretofore been taken or shall hereafter be taken, six copies of a legible typewritten abstract of the record, or thirteen copies of a printed abstract, where the same is printed, shall be filed with the Clerk of the Supreme Court along with the briefs of the party preparing the same. The abstracts to be as now provided by Rule VI. (Adopted December 30, 1914.)

Rule Before Amended. In every case in which an appeal shall be taken after June 12, 1913, thirteen copies of a legible typewritten abstract of the record shall be filed with the Clerk of the Supreme Court along with the briefs of the party preparing the same. The typewritten abstract shall be in the same form as the transcript in the cause, shall be indexed, and shall contain appropriate references by pages to the transcript or statement of facts. Printed abstracts, bound separately from the printed briefs, but of the same size, type and form as the printed briefs, will be given the same effect by the court as typewritten abstracts. The abstract shall be substantially in the following form:

(The form outline suggested covers only a trial by jury in a civil action. In causes tried by the court, in criminal causes, and all special proceedings, the same general outline should be followed. In all cases, follow the events of the trial in their chronological order. Do not omit the appropriate captions or headings. Use the abbreviations Tr. for transcript, St. for statement of facts, p. for page. Append to the abstract in all instances appropriate references to the transcript or statement of facts, showing the page on which the paper abstracted will be found. Do not in any instance abstract more of the proceeding than is necessary to show the error involved. The cardinal rule to be observed is, present everything necessary to an understanding of the questions raised on the appeal in a brief and concise manner, and omit everything else.)

INDEX.

COMPLAINT.

On the ..... day of ....., 19....., the plaintiff served upon the defendant a complaint stating his cause of action as follows:

(Set out all of the complaint necessary to show the nature of the action and to an understanding of the questions presented on the appeal, and no more. Omit all formal parts, unless error is based thereon. In setting out exhibits attached to the complaint, omit all formal or irrelevant parts. Usually a general description of the exhibit will be sufficient.)

SUMMONS.

The summons and the return thereon are as follows:

(Insert so much of summons and return as may be necessary to show the error based thereon. If no error is claimed with reference to either the summons or return, omit entirely any reference thereto.)

MOTIONS.

On the ..... day of ....., 19....., the defendant appeared (generally or specially) in the action and moved (to quash the service, or to make the complaint more definite and certain, etc.) basing his motion on the following grounds.

(Here state the grounds of the motion.)

Thereafter, and on the ..... day of ....., 19....., the same was submitted to the court and the following ruling was made thereon:

(Set out the ruling of the court, giving only the substance unless the entire entry is necessary to show the error claimed. If no error is predicated on the motion, omit all reference thereto.)

DEMURRER.

On the ..... day of ....., 19....., the defendant demurred to the complaint on the following grounds:

(Set out only the ground of demurrer on which the error is predicated.)

On the ..... day of ....., 19....., the same was submitted to the court and the following ruling made thereon:

(Set out the substance of the journal entry containing the ruling. Omit all formal parts unless necessary to show the error claimed. If no error is based on the ruling on the demurrer, omit any reference thereto.)

ANSWER.

On the ..... day of ....., 19....., the defendant answered the complaint as follows:

(Set out so much of the answer as may be necessary to make clear the issues and present the questions raised on the appeal. If affirmative defenses are pleaded, set out only the substance of them, unless a literal copy is necessary to show the error claimed. If motions or demurrers were made to the answer, and error is predicated on the rulings made thereon, set out the same under the caption, "MOTION TO ANSWER," "DEMURRER TO ANSWER," as the case may be, following the form suggested for motions and demurrers directed against the complaint.)

REPLY.

On the ..... day of ....., 19.....; the plaintiffs replied to the answer as follows:

(Here set out the substance of the reply. If motions or demurrers were directed against the reply, and error is based on the rulings thereon, set out the same under the caption, "Motion to Reply," "Demurrer to Reply," as the case may be, following the form suggested for motions and demurrers directed against the complaint.)

TRIAL—EXAMINATION OF THE JURY.

On the ..... day of ....., 19....., the cause was tried by a jury where the following proceedings were had:

JOHN STYLES being called as a juror and duly sworn to make true answers touching his qualifications to sit as a juror, answered the interrogatories propounded to him as follows:

(Set out his answers in narrative form, unless the questions propounded are necessary to an understanding of the objections made to his qualifications. If no question is made on the appeal as to the qualification of any juror, omit all reference to the method by which the jury was impaneled; state simply that a jury was impaneled and sworn.)

STATEMENT OF COUNSEL.

After which A. B., of the attorneys for the plaintiff, made the following statement to the jury:

(Set out the statement if necessary to an understanding of any question raised on the appeal. If not, omit all reference to the statement. Proceed in the same manner through all of the preliminary proceedings had prior to the commencement of the introduction of testimony, in so far as the same is necessary to an understanding of some question raised on the appeal.)

EVIDENCE.

TITUS OATES was called and sworn as a witness on behalf of the plaintiff and in answer to interrogatories propounded to him by A. B., of the attorneys for the plaintiff, testified as follows:

(Set out his direct testimony in narrative, unless the question and answer is necessary to an understanding of the error claimed. If the witness identifies an exhibit, and the exhibit is introduced in evidence, insert a description of the same.)

On CROSS-EXAMINATION by C. D., of the attorneys for the defendant, he further testified as follows:

(Set out his cross-examination, following the form suggested for his direct testimony.)

On RE-DIRECT EXAMINATION, he further testified as follows:

(Set out the same. Continue in the same manner with respect to each witness sworn on behalf of the plaintiff. In all cases abstract only so much of the evidence as may be necessary to show the error involved; it is necessary to abstract the evidence in full only in those cases where the entire evidence is required to show the error.)

MOTION FOR A NONSUIT.

At the conclusion of the testimony of the witness Titus Oates, the plaintiff rested, whereupon the defendant moved for (a nonsuit, or a directed verdict, challenged the legal sufficiency of the evidence, as the case may be) on the grounds that (state the grounds of the motion). The court overruled (or sustained) the motion, stating the reason for the ruling as follows:

(Set out the reasons given.)

DEFENDANT'S EVIDENCE.

MILTON GILES was called and sworn as a witness on behalf of the defendant, and in answer to interrogatories propounded to him by E. F., of the attorneys for the defendant, testified as follows:

(Set out his testimony in the manner given for abstracting the evidence of the plaintiff's witnesses.)

REBUTTAL EVIDENCE (PLAINTIFF'S).

At the conclusion of the testimony of the witness Milton Giles, the defendant rested, whereupon the plaintiff introduced the following testimony in rebuttal:

(Abstract the evidence in the manner given for abstracting evidence of the plaintiff's witnesses in chief. If the defendant offers evidence in rebuttal of that offered by the plaintiff, set the same forth with the caption, "REBUTTAL EVIDENCE (Defendant's).")

REQUESTED INSTRUCTIONS.

At the conclusion of the evidence the (plaintiff or defendant, as the case may be) requested the court to give to the jury the following instructions, namely:

(Set forth the instructions requested and refused on which the claim of error is predicated. Show in the appropriate place the exceptions taken to the refusal to give each requested instruction.)

INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN BY THE COURT.

The court instructed the jury (orally or in writing, as the case may be) as follows:

(Set out the substance of each instruction given, and the instructions in full to which exceptions are taken and on which error is predicated. Show in the appropriate place the exceptions taken to the instructions.)

ARGUMENT.

The cause was argued to the jury by the respective attorneys for the plaintiff and defendant, during which A. B., of the attorneys for the plaintiff, used the following language:

(Set out the argument to which objection is made.)

To the argument of the attorney the defendant's counsel objected for the reason (set out the reason). The court ruled thereon as follows: (Set out the ruling).

(If no error is predicated on the argument of counsel, omit any reference to the argument.)

VERDICT.

The jury retired to consider of their verdict, and thereafter on the..... day of....., 19....., returned the same into court as follows:

(Set out the body of the verdict, omitting all formal parts.)

JUDGMENT.

Upon the return of the verdict the clerk entered a judgment thereon as follows:

(Set out sufficient of the entry to show the nature of the judgment entered. If error is predicated thereon, set forth all that is necessary to show the error. Omit all formal parts.)

MOTION FOR A NEW TRIAL.

On the.....day of....., 19....., plaintiff moved (for a new trial, in arrest of judgment, for a judgment non obstante veredicto, as the case may be) basing his motion upon the following grounds: (Set out the substance of the motion.) The motion was submitted to the court on the.....day of....., 19..... The court (granted or denied) the same on the..... day of....., 19....., on the following grounds:

(If the motion is granted and a claim of error is made thereon on the appeal, set out sufficient of the entry to show the claim of error. In cases tried by jury in which the clerk does not enter judgment on the return of the verdict, recite in chronological order the proceedings leading up to and including final judgment. The nature of the judgment should be shown in every instance, but set forth the matters succeeding the verdict and preceding the judgment only when some claim of error is based thereon.)

APPEAL.

On the .....day of....., 19....., the (plaintiff or defendant) appealed from the judgment by (giving notice in open court, or by serving a written notice) and on the.....day of....., 19....., filed his bond on appeal, conditioned (as a cost bond or supersedeas bond, as the case may be) with the following named persons as sureties. (Set out the names of the sureties). The transcript on appeal was prepared and filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court on the.....day of.....

....., 19.....; the statement of facts was filed on the.....day of.....
 ....., 19....., and served on the.....day of....., 19.....; amendments to the statement of facts were proposed by the respondent on the .....day of....., 19.....; and the statement was settled and certified by the trial judge on the.....day of....., 19.....

Supplemental Abstracts—Rule VII. 1. If the respondent is not satisfied with the appellant's abstract, he may cause to be typewritten, or printed, a supplemental abstract of the matter omitted which he deems essential to an understanding of the questions presented on the appeal. The supplemental abstract shall follow the form of the original abstract, shall refer to the page of the original abstract where the omitted matter is to be inserted, and shall contain appropriate references to the transcript, bill of exceptions, or statement of facts; Provided, however, That if, in the opinion of the Supreme Court upon the consideration of the case, the respondent's supplemental abstract was necessary to the consideration of the questions presented, and was made thus necessary by reason of the fact that the appellant's abstract did not fairly state the record or the evidence, the costs of such supplemental abstract shall be charged to the appellant regardless of the termination of the case.

2. The appellant may supplement his original abstract without leave of court at any time before the cause is assigned for argument. The supplemental abstract shall follow the form of the original abstract, shall contain appropriate references to the pages of the transcript or statement of facts where the matter abstracted can be found, and shall show at what pages of the original abstract the new matter is to be inserted. The supplemental abstract shall be served on the adverse party. After a cause has been assigned for hearing, supplemental abstracts may be filed therein only by leave of the Chief Justice.

§7338e. Contents and Style of Briefs—Rule VIII. 1. Briefs shall be printed throughout in plain, clear type, not smaller in size than pica, on unglazed white paper, and shall contain a clear statement of the case so far as deemed material by the party, with reference to the pages of the abstract for verification.

2. Each error relied on shall be clearly pointed out and separately discussed under appropriate designated headings: Provided, That several assignments presenting the same general questions may be discussed together.

3. In citing authorities, the titles of cases and the names and numbers of volumes must be clearly set out in each place in the brief where the case is mentioned; and in citing text books the number of the edition must be specified.

4. Briefs must be of the following dimensions, to wit: 8½ inches from top to bottom; 6½ inches from edge to edge, inclusive of the margin, which must be 1½ inches at the top, bottom and outer edge of each printed page. The cover shall be gray in color, or some color that will readily show the print. The title of the case, the designation, Brief of Appellant, Brief of Respondent, Appellant's Reply Brief, as the case may be, and the names of the attorneys appearing on the side upon which the brief is filed, with their respective addresses, shall be printed on the front cover.

5. Twenty-five copies of all printed briefs shall be filed with the clerk.

6. In case either party, after filing briefs, desires to submit additional authorities, the same shall be submitted not less than one day prior to the hearing of the appeal. Said authorities so submitted shall be typewritten or printed, and twelve copies thereof shall be filed with the Clerk of the Supreme Court, and not less than one copy served upon the adverse party.

§7338f. Assignment of Causes—Rule IX. 1. For the purpose of hearings in the Supreme Court, causes from the several counties will be assigned as follows: 1. Thurston. 2. Mason. 3. Lewis. 4. Chehalis. 5. Pierce. 6. King. 7. Kitsap. 8. Pacific. 9. Wahkiakum. 10. Cowlitz. 11. Clarke. 12. Skamania. 13. Snohomish. 14. Skagit. 15. Whatcom. 16. Island. 17. San Juan. 18. Jefferson. 19. Clallam. 20. Kittitas. 21. Yakima. 22. Benton. 23. Klickitat. 24. Chelan. 25. Okanogan. 26. Douglas. 27. Grant. 28. Adams. 29. Lincoln. 30. Franklin. 31. Walla Walla. 32. Columbia. 33. Asotin. 34.

Garfield. 35. Whitman. 36. Spokane. 37. Stevens. 38. Ferry.

2. Exceptions to this order may be made when public interests so require.

3. Ten days before the beginning of each session of the court the clerk shall assign for hearing in the order named in subdivision 1 of this rule any cause on the docket ready for hearing to that department of the court to which it has been apportioned by the Chief Justice. A cause on the docket of the court shall be deemed ready for hearing when it appears that the transcript is on file; and—

(a) That the appellant's opening brief, the respondent's brief, and the appellant's reply brief are on file;

(b) That the appellant's brief and respondent's brief are on file;

(c) That the appellant's brief is on file, and has been served upon the respondent for a period of thirty days or more;

(d) That the appellant's brief is on file, and all parties to the appeal have stipulated that the cause may be assigned for hearing at such session.

4. Reply briefs in any case must be filed with the clerk of the Supreme Court not later than Thursday of the week preceding the date the case is assigned for hearing. Costs for briefs filed later than such date will not be allowed by the clerk.

5. Cases ready for hearing may be submitted on briefs by stipulation, at any time.

§7338g. Calendar—Rule X. As soon as the cases shall have been assigned for a regular session of the court, the clerk shall print a calendar thereof, indicating at the head of each page of such calendar the department of the court to which the case has been apportioned, and shall mail a copy of the calendar to each attorney or firm having any cause thereon.

§7338h. Arguments—Rule XI. No more than two counsel on a side will be heard upon the argument of any question, unless the court shall direct otherwise: Provided, That each party who has appeared separately and by different counsel in the Superior Court shall, if he so desire, be heard through his own counsel. The counsel for the appellant shall be entitled to open and close the argument upon the merits in all cases. In argument of motions and all preliminary or collateral matters, the counsel for the party having the affirmative of the issue shall open and close. Arguments upon the merits shall be limited to one-half hour upon a side, and all other arguments to one-quarter of an hour upon a side, unless an extension of time be obtained from the court before the argument is commenced.

§7338i. Errors Considered—Rule XII. No alleged error of the Superior Court will be considered by the Supreme Court unless the same be clearly pointed out in the appellant's brief: Provided, That the objection that this court has no jurisdiction of the appeal may be taken at any time.

§7338j. Rehearings and Hearings En Banc—Rule XIII. 1. Every petition for rehearing or hearing en banc must be filed within thirty days after the opinion shall have been rendered, and no more than one petition for a rehearing or hearing en banc shall be filed: Provided, That the court may, in its discretion, allow any petition to be amended. The filing of a petition for rehearing or hearing en banc shall suspend the decision of the court until a ruling thereon.

2. One typewritten copy of the petition for rehearing or hearing en banc, filed with the clerk, shall be sufficient.

3. When a decision is rendered upon a petition for rehearing or hearing en banc, the clerk shall promptly notify counsel for the respective parties.

§7338k. Cost Bills—Rule XIV. 1. The prevailing party shall, within ten days after the filing of the opinion in a case, file with the clerk a cost bill, and serve upon the adverse party a copy thereof. If any adverse party objects to any item or items thereof, he shall serve upon the prevailing party exceptions to such cost bill, together with affidavits in support of his exceptions, if desired, and file the original, with proof of service, with the clerk of the court within ten days after service of the cost bill upon him. Whereupon the clerk shall tax the costs to which the prevailing party is entitled, and shall notify the parties of such taxation. Either party may except to the taxing of any item or items, or failure to tax the same, and shall serve such exceptions on the adverse party and file the same with the clerk within ten days after such taxation. Said exceptions shall be heard by the court on the first motion day after the expiration of five days from the date of service of such exceptions. If the party fail to appear at such time, the court will consider such exceptions upon the affidavits on file and the records in the cause, and determine the same.

2. If no cost bill is filed and served, the clerk will tax as costs only the clerk's costs, printing of briefs at one dollar per page for the first twenty-four pages, eighty-five cents per page for the second twenty-four pages, and seventy-five cents per page for the remaining pages, the statutory attorney fee, and the cost of the transcript, statement of facts and abstracts at the rate of five cents a folio. (Adopted February 18, 1915.)

3. Where a cost bill has been served and filed in time, and no exceptions are filed, objection thereto will be deemed to have been waived.

§7338m. Submission on Failure to Appear—Rule XV. Where a party does not appear when the cause is called for hearing, and the appeal has been perfected, and the brief of such party shall be on file, the cause, as regards such party, shall be deemed submitted. This rule shall not preclude oral argument by the opposite party.

Respondent Filing No Brief—Rule XVI. Where the respondent fails to file a brief in the cause, the court will take the submission of the same by the appellant, and decide upon the merits of the appeal, if it shall appear to have acquired jurisdiction of the cause.

§7338n. Taking Papers from Clerk's Office—Rule XVII. No paper filed with the Clerk of the Supreme Court shall be taken from the court room or clerk's office except by permission of the court or one of the judges, and when so taken a receipt in writing therefor must be left with the clerk. Permission to take papers will not be granted except to a party, or his attorney, who shall have entered an appearance in the Supreme Court in the cause in which such paper is filed.

§7338o. Motions—How Made and Heard—Rule XVIII. 1. Motions to strike out any portion of the transcript, the statement of facts, or to dismiss or affirm upon the record, and all technical motions tending to prevent the hearing of a cause upon its merits, may be made in writing and noticed for some Friday of the session, or the last Friday of any month of the year excepting the months of July and August, or the same may be made and plainly stated in the respondent's brief and heard at the time the cause is assigned upon the calendar.

2. All other motions in appealed causes must be made in writing, and noticed for some Friday of the session or for the last Friday of any month excepting the months of July and August at the opening of court on that day. The motions referred to in this and the first clause of the preceding paragraph will be known as noticed motions.

3. At least two days before the day set for the hearing of such a motion, the motion and notice, with proof of service thereof, must be filed with the clerk. The clerk will prepare a calendar of noticed motions for each Friday, in the order of their filing, and they will be given precedence of other hearings on that day.

4. The Fridays of the weeks during the regular hearing of cases and the last Friday in each month excepting the months of July and August, are hereby designated as motion days.

5. The moving party shall file with the clerk at or before the hearing of any motion twelve copies of a printed or typewritten list of the authorities relied upon to sustain the motion, and the opposing party shall at or before the hearing file a like number of copies of a printed or typewritten list of authorities relied upon to oppose the motion.

Notices of Motions—Rule XIX. 1. All notices of motions not given in the briefs must be in writing; and the necessary time of notice shall be not less than ten days, unless a different time is fixed by statute or the special order of this court. But where the service of a notice is made by mail between different places, the time of notice above mentioned shall be thirteen days.

2. Service of papers must in all cases be made upon the attorney of record of a party, if he have one, unless the place of business or residence of such attorney is unknown, when it may be made upon the party.

§7338p. Service of Papers—Rule XX. Service of papers may be made as follows:

1. If upon an attorney, by delivering to him personally, or at his office by delivery to his clerk or to the person having charge thereof; or if his office be not open, or there be no one in charge thereof, at his residence by delivery to some person of suitable age and discretion; or, if neither of the foregoing methods can be followed, by deposit in the post-office to his address, with postage prepaid; Provided, That in capital cases a motion to dismiss an appeal shall be served upon the defendant personally, as well as upon the attorney of record.

2. If upon a party, by delivery to him personally, or at his residence, by delivery to some person of suitable age and discretion, between the hours of 9 o'clock in the forenoon and 9 o'clock in the evening.

Service—Residence Unknown—Rule XXI. Where the residence of a party and of his attorney of record, if he have one, is not known, the service may be made upon the Clerk of the Superior Court in which the cause was tried, for the party or attorney.

Service by Mail—Rule XXII. 1. Service may be made by mail when the person making the service and the person on whom such service is to be made reside in different places, between which there is regular communication by mail; postage must in such cases be prepaid.

2. Time shall begin to run from the date of deposit in the postoffice.

§7338r. Habeas Corpus—Rule XXIII. 1. A Judge of the Supreme Court, when applied to for writs of habeas corpus, may make the same, if granted, returnable before himself or before the Supreme Court, or before any Superior Court of the state, or any judge thereof.

2. Upon such an application, however, the judge applied to may make an order to show cause why the writ should not issue returnable before the Supreme Court.

3. Unless there be special reasons to the contrary, writs of habeas corpus will be issued by the Supreme Court only after a hearing upon an order to show cause.

4. In all cases where the person whose release is sought to be obtained by original habeas corpus from this court is imprisoned in the penitentiary, or in a county jail, upon a charge or conviction of felony, service of the order to show cause and petition must be made upon the superintendent or sheriff, as the case may be, the prosecuting attorney of the county from whence the prisoner was committed, or in which he is confined, and the Attorney General at his office in Olympia.

5. Where the imprisonment is in a county jail upon a charge or conviction of misdemeanor, the service must be upon the prosecuting attorney and sheriff of that county.

§7338s. Other Original Writs—Rule XXIV. 1. In all other cases of applications to the Supreme Court for original writs, under either its original or its appellate jurisdiction, the applicant shall show that he has given notice to the opposite party or his attorney of record of his intention to apply for such writ and the time thereof, or furnish satisfactory reasons by affidavit for his failure to give such notice.

2. The notice above required shall not be less than four nor more than fourteen days. Applications under this rule must be made on a regular motion day, unless there be some special emergency requiring earlier action.

3. The opposing party shall be at liberty to make any objections he sees fit upon the face of the papers presented with the application.

4. Upon the final hearing of any application under this rule, each side shall furnish for the use of the court, twelve written or printed copies of their points and authorities.

ARBITRATION.

Facts agreed on, case submitted to court §8127.

§7339. All Differences May Be Arbitrated Except Those Relating to Real Property. §264.—264. All persons desirous to end, by arbitration, any controversy, suit or quarrel, except such as respect the title to real estate, may submit their difference to the award or umpirage of any person or persons mutually selected.

Objections to arbitration proceedings must be made by exceptions in the proceedings, not by action to annul, Dickie Mfg. Co. v. Sound Constr. & Eng. Co. 92 W. 316.

§7341. Oath and Award—Filing and Service of Award—Exceptions. §266. The said arbitrators shall be duly sworn to try and determine the cause referred to them, and a just award make out, under the hands and seals of a majority of them, agreeably to the terms of the submission. Said award, together with the written agreement to submit, shall be sealed up by the arbitrators and delivered to the party in whose favor it shall be made, who shall deliver the same, without breaking the seal, to the clerk of the superior court of the district including the county wherein said arbitration is held who shall enter the same on record in his office. A copy of the award, signed by said arbitrators or a majority of them, shall also be delivered to the party in whose favor it is rendered, who shall, if the matter be not settled, serve a copy of the same on the adverse party, and if no exceptions be filed against the same within twenty days after such service, judgment shall be entered as upon the verdict of a jury, and execution may issue thereon, and the same proceedings upon said award, with like effect as though said award were a verdict in a civil action. §7342. Appearance of Arbitrators and Parties—Fees and Costs. §267.—267. The arbitrators chosen under the provisions of this chapter shall each be allowed three dollars per day, to be taxed with other costs of suit; but if either party fail to appear on the day agreed upon for the arbitrators to meet, said party shall be liable for all costs accruing that day, unless his absence was unavoidable, and shall be so established to the satisfaction of said arbitrators. And any arbitrator failing to attend on the day appointed, unless delayed by sickness or unavoidable accident, shall forfeit and pay the sum of five dollars to the school fund of the county, to be recovered by action before a justice of the peace, in the name of the county commissioners of the county.

§7343. Grounds of Exception to Award. §268.—268. The party against whom an award may be made, may except in writing thereto for either of the following causes:

1. That the arbitrators or umpire misbehaved themselves in the case.
2. That they committed an error in fact or law.
3. That the award was procured by corruption or other undue means.

Refusal to hear case fully is ground for of an arbitrator discovered during trial, setting award aside, McDonald v. Lewis 18 Glover v. Rochester-German Ins. Co. 11 W. 300. 143.

OF ARREST AND BAIL.

§7350. Arrest Only On Order of Superior Court or Supreme Judge.
 §115.—115. No person shall be arrested or held to bail in any civil action, except upon the order of the court where the action is brought, or a judge of the supreme court.

Constitution prohibits imprisonment for debt, Const., Art. 1, §17; excessive bail, Const., Art. 1, §14.

Constitution providing no imprisonment for debt abates arrest under this statute, Hamilton v. Pacific Drug Co. 78 W. 689.

Officer executing warrant may take bail §§7369, 9182.

The foregoing and following sections are inoperative, Burrichter v. Cline 3 W. 135.

Arrest and bail in justices' courts, §9410.

§7351. Grounds of Arrest. §116.—116. The defendant may be arrested in the following cases:

1. In an action for the recovery of damages, on a cause of action not arising out of contract, where the defendant is a non-resident of the state, or is about to remove therefrom, or where the action is for an injury to person or character, or for injuring, or for wrongfully taking, detaining, or converting property.

2. In an action for a fine or penalty, or on a promise to marry, or for money received, or property embezzled, or fraudulently misapplied, or converted to his own use, by a public officer, or by an attorney, or by an officer or agent of a corporation in the course of his employment as such, or by any factor, agent, broker, or other person in a fiduciary capacity, or for any misconduct or neglect in office, or in a professional employment.

3. In an action to recover the possession of personal property unjustly detained, when the property, or any part thereof, has been concealed, removed, or disposed of, so that it cannot be found or taken by the sheriff, and with intent that it should not be so found or taken, or with the intent to deprive the plaintiff of the benefit thereof.

4. When the defendant has been guilty of a fraud in contracting the debt, or incurring the obligation for which the action is brought, or in concealing or disposing of the property, for the taking, detention, or conversion of which, the action is brought.

5. When the defendant has removed or disposed of his property, or is about to do so, with intent to defraud his creditors.

6. When the action is to prevent threatened injury to, or destruction of property, in which the party bringing the action has some right, interest, or title, which will be impaired or destroyed by such injury or destruction, and the danger is imminent that such property will be destroyed, or its value impaired, to the injury of the plaintiff.

7. On the final judgment or order of any court in this state, while the same remains in force, when the defendant, having no property subject to execution, or not sufficient to satisfy such judgment, has money which he ought to apply in payment upon such judgment, which he refuses to apply, with intent to defraud the plaintiff, or when he refuses to comply with a legal order of the court, with intent to defraud the plaintiff; or, when any one or more of the causes exist for which an arrest is allowed, in the first class of cases mentioned in this section.

§7352. Proof Required and Filing Thereof. §117. The court or judge making the order of arrest, shall first be satisfied by the affidavit of the party, or his agent, or attorney, and other proof, under oath, exclusive of the complaint, that the case is one in which an arrest is provided for in section, 116 [§7973] and that one or more of the prescribed causes exist, which proof shall be in writing, and, together with the order, be filed with the clerk, before he shall issue any warrant for the arrest. L. '88 31.

§7353. Court Shall Fix Bail and it Shall Be Indorsed. §118.—118. The court or judge making the order shall, in all cases, specify therein the amount in which the defendant shall be held to bail, which shall, in no case, exceed the demand of the plaintiff, and one hundred dollars in addition thereto, which amount the clerk shall endorse upon the writ, and the court shall also, in the order, fix the amount of the bond to be given by the plaintiff, as provided in the next succeeding section, which amount shall in no case be less than one hundred dollars.

§7354. Order and Bond to Be Filed Before Writ Shall Issue. §119.—119. Before any clerk shall issue a warrant for the arrest of the defendant, he shall require the plaintiff to place on file in his office, a copy of the order granting the warrant, unless the same was made in open court and appears in the minutes; the original affidavit and proofs, upon which the order was made, and a bond on behalf of the plaintiff, in such an amount as the court or judge may have fixed in the order, with sureties to the satisfaction of the clerk, conditioned to pay to the defendant all damages which he shall suffer, and all expenses he shall incur by reason of such arrest or imprisonment, if the order shall be vacated in the manner provided for in the next succeeding section, or if the plaintiff fail to recover in his action.

§7355. Defendant May Vacate Order—Procedure. §120.—120. The defendant may, on motion, apply to the court to vacate the order of arrest, on the ground of insufficiency of the proof, or he may show that the facts alleged, upon which the order issued, are untrue, or he may apply to have the amount of bail reduced. If the court, upon any such motion, shall vacate the order, the defendant shall be discharged from the arrest, and any bond he may have given shall be canceled, but the action, unless dismissed for other cause, shall be conducted in the same manner as in cases where complaint and notice were duly served and filed.

§7356. Complaint Shall Be Filed Before Writ Shall Issue. §121.—121. When an order of arrest is granted prior to the filing of the complaint, the warrant shall not issue until the complaint is filed with the clerk, and a copy of said complaint shall be served on the defendant with the warrant; but an order of arrest may be granted at any time after the action is commenced and before judgment is satisfied, when the party seeking the order shall comply with the preceding provisions in regard to arrests.

§7357. Sheriff Shall Execute Writ and Serve By Copy. §122.—122. The warrant must be delivered to the sheriff, who, upon arresting the defendant, must deliver to him a copy thereof.

§7358. Arrest of Defendant—Costs to Be Advanced By Plaintiff or Defendant Discharged. §123.—123. The sheriff shall execute the warrant by arresting the defendant, and keeping him in custody until discharged by law. And the plaintiff, in the first instance, shall be liable for the sheriff's fees, for the food and maintenance of any person, under arrest, which, if required by the sheriff, shall be paid weekly in advance. And such fees, so paid, shall be added to the costs taxed or accruing in the case, and be collected as other costs. And if the plaintiff shall neglect to pay such fees, for three days after a demand, in writing, upon the plaintiff or his attorney, for payment, the sheriff may discharge defendant out of custody.

§7359. Defendant May Give Bail—Conditions of Bond. §124.—124. The defendant may give bail by causing a bond to be executed by two or more sufficient sureties, stating their places of residence and occupations, conditioned that the defendant shall at all times render himself amenable to the process of the court during the pendency of the action, and to such as may be issued to enforce the judgment rendered therein; or, if he be arrested for the cause mentioned in the third subdivision of section one hundred and sixteen it shall be further conditioned that the specific article of property, or instrument of writing which is the subject matter of the writ, shall be forthcoming, to abide any order which shall be made therein; or, if he be arrested for the cause mentioned in the sixth subdivision of said section it shall be further conditioned that he will not commit the injury or destruction alleged to be threatened in the affidavit or proofs on which the arrest is ordered.

§7360. Contents of Warrant of Arrest. §125.—125. The warrant shall, in all cases, contain a short statement of the alleged causes for which the order was granted, and also the amount for which bail is required.

§7361. Sureties May Surrender Principal—Procedure. §126.—126. At any time before a failure to comply with their bonds, the bail may surrender the defendant in their exoneration, or he may surrender himself to the sheriff of the county where he was arrested, in the following manner:

1. A certified copy of the bail bond shall be delivered to the sheriff, who shall retain the defendant in his custody thereon as upon an order of arrest, and by a certificate in writing, acknowledge the surrender.

2. Upon the production of a copy of the bail bond and sheriff's certificate, a judge of the superior court may, upon a notice to the plaintiff of eight days, with a copy of the certificate, order that the bail be exonerated, and on filing the order and the papers used on such application, they shall be exonerated accordingly. But this section does not apply to an arrest for the cause mentioned in the sixth subdivision of section one hundred and sixteen.

§7362. Sureties May Arrest Principal. §127.—127. For the purpose of surrendering the defendant, the bail, at any time or place before they are finally discharged, may themselves arrest him, or, by written authority, indorsed upon a certified copy of the bond, may empower any person of suitable age and discretion to do so.

§7363. Recovery Against Sureties Only By Action. §128.—128. In case of failure to comply with the condition of the bond, the bail can be proceeded against by action only.

§7364. Exoneration of Sureties. §129.—129. The bail may be exonerated, either by the death of the defendant, or his imprisonment in the penitentiary, or by his legal discharge from the obligation to render himself amenable to the process, or by his surrender to the sheriff of the county where he was arrested, in exoneration thereof, within twenty days after commencement of the action against the bail, or within such further time as may be granted by the court.

§7365. Return of Writ—Justification of Sureties. §130.—130. Within the time limited for that purpose, the sheriff must deliver the order of arrest to the clerk, with his return endorsed thereon, and the bond of the bail, or a copy thereof. The plaintiff, within ten days thereafter, may serve upon the sheriff a notice that he does not accept the bail, or he must be deemed to have accepted it, and the sheriff shall be exonerated from liability.

§7366. Notice of Justification to Plaintiff. §131.—131. On the receipt of notice, the sheriff or defendant may, within ten days thereafter, give to the plaintiff or his attorney notice of the justification of the same, or their bail, (specifying the places of residence and occupations of the latter), before judgment of the court or justice of the peace, at a specified time and place, the time to be not less than five days nor more than ten thereafter. In case other bail be given, there must be a new bond in the form prescribed in section one hundred and twenty-four.

Court or officer taking bond may qualify surety, §7369; officer executing warrant may take bail, §9182. Bond shall not fail, §7431.

§7367. Qualification of Sureties. §132.—132. The qualifications of the bail shall be as follows:

1. Each of them shall be a resident of the state; but no counsellor or attorney at law, sheriff, clerk of the superior court, or other officer of such court, shall be permitted to become bail in any action.

2. Each of the bail shall be worth the amount specified in the order of arrest, or the amount to which the order may be reduced, as provided in this chapter, over and above all debts and liabilities, and exclusive of property exempt from execution; but the judge or justice, on justification, may allow more than two sureties to justify, severally, in amounts less than that expressed in the order, if the whole justification be equivalent to that of two sufficient bail.

quired to justify as to separate property

§7368. Manner of Justification. §133.—133. For the purpose of justification, each of the bail must attend before the judge or justice of the peace at the time and place mentioned in the notice, and may be examined on oath on the part of the plaintiff touching his sufficiency, in such manner as the judge or justice of the peace, in his discretion, may think proper. The examination must be reduced to writing and subscribed by the bail, if required by the plaintiff.

§7369. Officer Taking Bail May Examine Sureties. §748.—748. Every court and officer authorized to take any bail or surety shall have power to examine on oath the person offering to become such bail or surety, concerning his property and sufficiency as such bail or surety.

§7370. Approval of Bond. §134.—134. If the judge or justice find the bail sufficient, he shall endorse his allowance thereof on the bond and cause it to be filed with the clerk, and the sheriff shall thereupon be exonerated from liability.

§7371. Money Bail. §135.—135. The defendant may at the time of his arrest, instead of giving bail, deposit with the sheriff the amount mentioned in the order. The sheriff must thereupon give the defendant a certificate of deposit, and the defendant shall be discharged from custody.

§7372. Money Bail. §750.—750. Any person required to give bail, may deposit with the clerk the amount of money for which he is required to give bail and thereupon be discharged from arrest.

§7373. Money to Be Deposited.—Certificate to Plaintiff. §136.—136. The sheriff shall within ten days after the deposit, pay the same into court, and take from the officer receiving the same two certificates of such payment, the one of which he must deliver to the plaintiff and the other to the defendant. For any default in making such payment, the same proceeding may be had on the official bond of the sheriff to collect the sum deposited, as in cases of delinquency.

§7374. Bond May Be Substituted for Money Bail. §137.—137. If the money be deposited, as provided in the last two sections, bail may be given and justified, upon notice as hereinbefore provided, at any time before judgment; and thereupon the judge before whom justification is had, shall direct in the order of allowance that the money deposited be refunded by the sheriff or clerk to the defendant, and it shall be refunded accordingly.

§7375. Bail Money May Be Applied on Judgment. §138.—138. When money shall have been so deposited, if it remain on deposit at the time of an order or judgment for the payment of money to the plaintiff, the clerk shall, under the direction of the court, apply the same in the satisfaction thereof, and, after satisfying judgment, refund the surplus, if any, to the defendant. If the judgment be in favor of the defendant, the clerk shall refund to him the whole sum deposited and remaining unapplied.

§7376. Sheriff Liable for Escape. §139.—139. If, after being arrested, the defendant escapes or be rescued, the sheriff himself shall be liable as bail; but he may discharge himself from such liability, by giving bail at any time before judgment.

§7377. Collection of Judgment Against Sheriff as Bail. §140.—140. If the judgment be recovered against the sheriff upon his liability as bail, and an execution thereon be returned unsatisfied, the same proceedings may be had on the official bond of the sheriff to collect the deficiency, as in other cases of delinquency.

§7378. Liability of Sureties to Sheriff if They do not Justify. §141.—141. The bail taken on arrest shall, unless they justify, or other bail be given or justified, be liable to the sheriff, by action, for the damages which he may sustain by reason of such omission.

§7381. Attachment Before Claim Is Due. §3. An action may be commenced and the property of a debtor may be attached previous to the time when the debt becomes due, when nothing but time is wanting to fix an absolute indebtedness, and when the affidavit in addition to that fact, states:

1. That the defendant is about to dispose of his property with intent to defraud his creditors; or
2. That the defendant is about to remove from the state and refuses to make any arrangements for securing the payment of the debt when it falls due, and which contemplated removal was not known to the plaintiff at the time the debt was contracted; or
3. That the defendant has disposed of his property in whole or in part with intent to defraud his creditors; or
4. That the debt was incurred for property obtained under false pretences.

§7382. Defendant Not Required to Plead Until Claim Is Due. §4. If the debt or demand for which the attachment is sued out is not due at the time of the commencement of the action, the defendant is not required to file any pleadings until the maturity of such debt or demand, but he may, in his discretion, do so, and go to trial as early as the cause is reached.

§7383. No Judgment Until Claim Is Due—Sale of Property. §5. No final judgment shall be rendered in such action, unless the party consents as in the last section, until the debt or demand upon which it is based becomes due. But property of a perishable nature may be sold as in other cases of attachment.

§7384. Bond—Without Bond—Liability on Bond. §6. Before the writ of attachment shall issue the plaintiff, or some one in his behalf, shall execute and file with the clerk a bond or undertaking, with two or more sureties, in the sum in no case less than three hundred dollars, in the Superior Court, nor less than fifty dollars in a justice court, and double the amount for which plaintiff demands judgment, conditional that the plaintiff will prosecute his action without delay and will pay all costs that may be adjudged to the defendant, and all damages which he may sustain by reason of the attachment, not exceeding the amount specified in such bond or undertaking, as the penalty thereof, should the same be wrongfully, oppressively or maliciously sued out. With said bond or undertaking there shall also be filed the affidavit of the sureties, from which it must appear that such sureties are qualified and that they are, taken together, worth the sum specified in the bond or undertaking, over and above all debts and liabilities, and property exempt from execution. No person not qualified to become bail upon arrest shall be qualified to become surety upon a bond or undertaking for an attachment: Provided, That when it is desired to attach real estate only, and such fact is stated in the affidavit for attachment and the ground of attachment is that the defendant is a foreign corporation, or is not a resident of the state, or conceals himself so that the ordinary process of law cannot be served upon him, or has absconded or absented himself from his usual place of abode, so that the ordinary process of law cannot be served upon him, the writ of attachment shall issue without bond or undertaking by or on behalf of the plaintiff: And Provided further: That when the claim, debt or obligation, whether in contract or tort, upon which plaintiff's cause of action is based, shall have been assigned to him, and his immediate or any other assignor thereof retains or has any interest therein, then the plaintiff and every assignor of said claim, debt or obligation who retains or has any interest therein, shall be jointly and severally liable to the defendant for all costs that may be adjudged to him and for all damages which he may sustain by reason of the attachment, should the same be wrongfully, oppressively or maliciously sued out. An action on an attachment bond in which the principal was a non-resident. Questions raised as to notice by sureties to sue principal—allegation of signing by sureties when copy of bond sets out their names—sureties liable for damages without demand on principal—sureties on bond of corporation esopped from denying corporate liability, reasonable cause for attachment as a defense for sureties—plaintiff may show want of reasonable cause for levy—malice of agent is chargeable to principal—injury to commercial credit is not an element of damages, Seattle Crockery Co. v. Haley et al, 6 W. 302.

In an action on an attachment bond, held: that the costs of the principal action cannot be recovered; that damages for detention of property must be actual; no actual damage shown exemplary damages cannot be recovered on malicious attachment; failure of plaintiff to prove principal case is not evidence of malice, Hilfrich v. Meyer 11 W. 186.

Sureties not liable for wrongs prior to levy unless they are a party, Dawson v. Baum 3 W. T. 464.

Failure to justify does not defeat bond. Baxter v. Smith 2 W. T. 97.

§7385. Additional Bond or Attachment Vacated. §7. The defendant may at any time before judgment move the court or judge for additional security on the part of the plaintiff, and if on such motion the court or judge is satisfied that the surety in the plaintiff's bond has removed from this state or is not sufficient the attachment may be vacated and restitution directed of any property taken under it unless in a reasonable time, to be fixed by the court or judge, further security is given by the plaintiff, in form as provided in section six of this act.

§7386. Recovery on Bond—Exemplary Damages and Attorneys' Fees. §8. In an action on such bond the plaintiff therein may recover, if he shows that the attachment was wrongfully sued out, and that there was no reasonable cause to believe the ground upon which the same was issued to be true, the actual damages sustained and reasonable attorney's fees to be fixed by the court; and if it be shown that such attachment was sued out maliciously, he may recover exemplary damages, nor need he wait until the principal suit is determined before suing on the bond.

Advice of counsel no defense—cause for attachment is question for court—actual loss not excessive damages, Wild Rose Orchard Co. v. Critzer 79 W. 462.

All damages of whatever nature may be recovered in action on bond—probable cause on advice of attorney is question of fact, Voss v. Bender 32 W. 566.

"Exemplary damages" defined—attorney's advice as reasonable cause—no actual damage shown no exemplary damages recoverable, Levy v. Fleischner, Mayer & Co. 12 W. 15; Hilfrick v. Meyer 11 W. 186.

Damages may be recovered in one suit for injury to joint and individual property—exemplary damages recoverable—belief of defendant and attorney's advice as a defense—dissolution prima facie evidence of rightful dissolution, Sloane v. Langert 6 W. 26.

§7387. Writ to Sheriff—Levy and Costs. §9. The writ of attachment shall be directed to the sheriff of any county in which property of the defendant may be, and shall require him to attach and safely keep the property of such defendant within his county, to the requisite amount which shall be stated in conformity with the affidavit. The sheriff shall, in all cases attach the amount of property directed if sufficient not exempt from execution, be found in his county giving that in which the defendant has a legal and unquestionable title, a preference over that in which his title is doubtful or only equitable and he shall as nearly as the circumstances of the case will permit levy upon property fifty per cent. greater in value than the amount which plaintiff in his affidavit claims to be due. When property is seized on attachment the court may allow to the officer having charge thereof, such compensation for his trouble and expenses in keeping the same as shall be reasonable and just.

§7388. Writs to Different Counties and Alias Writs. §10. Writs of attachment may be issued from the superior court to different counties and several may at the option of the plaintiff, be issued at the same time, or in succession and subsequently until sufficient property has been attached; but only those executed shall be taxed in the costs, unless otherwise ordered by the court, and if more property is attached in the aggregate than the plaintiff is entitled to have held, the surplus must be abandoned and the plaintiff pay all costs incurred in relation to such surplus. After the first writ shall have issued, it shall not be necessary for the plaintiff to file any further affidavit or bond, but he shall be entitled to as many writs as may be necessary to secure the amount claimed.

§7389. Order of Levy of Several Writs. §11. Where there are several attachments against the same defendant, they shall be executed in the order in which they were received by the sheriff.

Writs must be levied in order received— sheriff liable—measure of damages, Continental Distrib. Co. v. Hays 86 W. 300. uty's hands subsequent to execution in the hands of the sheriff gives attachment priority over execution. Wallace & Sons, Etc. v. Sharick 15 W. 643.

§7390. Sheriff May Pursue Property Into Another County. §12. If after an attachment has been placed in the hands of the sheriff, any property of the defendant is moved from the county, the sheriff may pursue and attach the same in an adjoining county within twenty-four hours after removal.

§7391. Manner of Levy. §13. The sheriff to whom the writ is directed and delivered must execute the same without delay as follows:

1. Real property shall be attached by filing a copy of the writ, together with a description of the property attached, with the county auditor of the county in which the attached real estate is situated.

2. Personal property, capable of manual delivery, shall be attached by taking into custody.

3. Stock or shares, or interest in stock or shares, of any corporation, association or company, shall be attached by leaving with the president or other head of the same, or the secretary, cashier or managing agent thereof, a copy of the writ, and a notice stating that the stock or interest of the defendant is attached in pursuance of such writ.

4. Debts and credits and other personal property, not capable of manual delivery, shall be attached by leaving with the person owing such debts, or having in his possession or under his control such credits or other personal property, a copy of the writ and a notice in writing that the debts owing by him to the defendant, or the credits and other personal property in his possession or under his control, are attached in pursuance of such writ.

§7392. Defendant Required to Make Discovery of Property. §14. Whenever it appears by the affidavit of the plaintiff or by the return of the attachment that no property is known to the plaintiff or officer on which the attachment can be executed, or not enough to satisfy the plaintiff's claim, and it being shown to the court or judge by affidavit that the defendant has property within the state not exempt, the defendant may be required by such court or judge to attend before the court or judge or referee appointed by the court or judge and give information on oath respecting the same.

§7393. Receiver May Be Appointed. §15. The court before whom the action is pending or the judge thereof in vacation may at any time appoint a receiver to take possession of the property attached under the provisions of this act and to collect, manage and control the same and pay over the proceeds according to the nature of the property and the exigency of the case.

Sales of Property Before Judgment. §16. If any of the property attached be perishable or in danger of serious and immediate waste or decay, the sheriff shall sell the same in the manner in which such property is sold on execution. Whenever it shall be made to appear satisfactorily to the court or judge that the interest of the parties to the action will be subserved by a sale of any attached property, the court or judge may order such property to be sold in the same manner as like property is sold under execution. Such order shall be made only upon notice to the adverse party or his attorney in case such party shall have been personally served with a summons in the action. Debts and credits attached may be collected by the sheriff, if the same can be done without suit, and the sheriff's receipt shall be a sufficient discharge for the amount paid.

§7398. Sheriff's Return. §21. The sheriff shall make a full inventory of the property attached and return the same with the writ. To enable him to make such return as to debts and credits attached, he shall request at the time of service the party owing the debt or having the credit to give him a memorandum in writing, stating the amount and description of each, and if such memorandum be refused he shall return the fact of the refusal with the writ. The party refusing to give the memorandum may be required to attend before the court or judge or a referee appointed by the court or judge, and answer under oath respecting such debts or credits or other property. If when duly summoned, he fail to appear and answer the interrogatories propounded to him without sufficient excuse for his delinquency, he shall be presumed to be indebted to the defendant to the full amount of the plaintiff's demand. But for a mere failure to appear he is not liable to pay the amount of plaintiff's judgment until he has had an opportunity to show cause against the issuing of the execution.

§7399. Application of Attached Property. §25. If judgment be recovered by the plaintiff, the sheriff shall satisfy the same out of the property attached by him which has not been delivered to the defendant or claimant as in this act provided, or subjected to execution on another judgment recovered previous to the issuing of the attachment, if it be sufficient for that purpose

1. By applying on the execution issued on said judgment the proceeds of all sales of perishable or other property sold by him, or of any debts or credits collected by him, or so much as shall be necessary to satisfy the judgment.

2. If any balance remain due he shall sell under the execution so much of the property, real or personal, as may be necessary to satisfy the balance, if enough for that purpose remain in his hands.

Notice of the sale shall be given and the sales conducted as in other cases of sales on execution.

§7400. Execution Over—Release if Judgment Is Paid. §26. If after selling all the property attached by him remaining in his hands and applying the proceeds together with the proceeds of any debts or credits collected by him, deducting his fees, to the payment of the judgment, any balance shall remain due, the sheriff shall proceed to collect such balance as upon an execution in other cases. Whenever the judgment shall have been paid the sheriff upon reasonable demand shall deliver over to the defendant the attached property remaining in his hands and any proceeds of the property attached, unapplied on the judgment.

Applies only to such judgments as may be satisfied by a general execution. Clifford v. Pateros Transfer Co. 71 W. 665.

§7401. The Usual Remedies on Execution. §27. If the execution be returned unsatisfied, in whole or in part, the plaintiff may proceed as in other cases upon the return of an execution.

§7402. Judgment for Defendant—Procedure. §28. If the defendant recover judgment against the plaintiff, all the proceeds of sales and money collected by the sheriff, and all the property attached remaining in the sheriff's hands, shall be delivered to the defendant or his agent. The order of attachment shall be discharged and the property released therefrom.

§7403. Counter Bond—Counter Bond Is Appearance in Action. §29. If the defendant at any time before judgment cause a bond to be executed to the plaintiff with sufficient sureties, to be approved by the officer having the attachment, or after the return thereof, by the clerk, to the effect that he will perform the judgment of the court, the attachment shall be discharged and restitution made of property taken or proceeds thereof. The word "sheriff", as used in this act, is meant to apply to constables, when the proceedings are in a justice's court; and when the proceedings are in a justice's court, the justice is to be regarded as the clerk of the court for all purposes herein contemplated; Provided, That nothing contained in this act shall be construed to confer upon a justice of the peace power to issue a writ of attachment to be served out of the county in which such justice shall have his office; or to confer upon a sheriff, constable or other officer, power or authority to serve a writ of attachment issued out of justice's court beyond the limits of the county in which such justice shall have his office, except in cases provided for in section twelve of this act [§7390]; And Provided further, That nothing contained in this act shall be construed or held to authorize the attachment of real estate or of any interest therein, under a writ of attachment issued out of any justice's court.

Constables may require indemnity bond as provided by §9527, Brotton v. Lunkley 11 W. 581.

BASTARDY.

AN ACT relating to filiation proceedings, providing for the institution, trial, procedure, and judgment and enforcement thereof, in actions to determine the paternity of a child of an unmarried mother and providing for the maintenance of such child and certain expenses of the mother thereof, and providing for the prosecution and punishment of such person. Approved March 25, 1919. L. '19 ch 203.

§7411-1. Bastardy—Complaint Against Father. §1. When an unmarried woman shall be pregnant or delivered of a child which shall not be the issue of lawful wedlock, complaint may be made in writing by said unmarried woman, her father, mother or guardian, to any justice of the peace in the county of which she has been a resident for thirty days last past and where she may be so pregnant or delivered, or where the person accused may be found, accusing, under oath, a person with being the father of such child, and it shall be the duty of such justice forthwith to issue a warrant against the person so accused and cause him to be brought forthwith before such justice.

§7411-2. Preliminary Examination — Commitment — Bond — Action on Bond. §2. Upon the appearance of the accused, it shall be the duty of such justice to examine the woman, if then present, under oath, in the presence of the man alleged to be the father of the child, touching the charge against him, or, if the woman be not then present, to fix a date for such examination not more than ten days thereafter and to require the accused to give a bond with sufficient surety conditioned that he will appear to answer such charge upon such date, or upon any other date to which such examination may be continued; and in default of the giving of such bond such justice shall cause the accused to be committed to the county jail. The accused shall have the right to controvert such charge and evidence may be heard as in the case of trial of civil actions before such justice. If such justice shall be of the opinion that sufficient cause appears, it shall be his duty to bind the person so accused in bond with sufficient surety payable to the state of Washington and conditioned that he will appear in the superior court of such county, at such time or times as the judge thereof may fix or order, to answer such complaint, and abide the judgment and orders of the court; or failing therein, that he will pay such sums of money and to such person as may be adjudged by such court; and the justice shall transmit such bond, together with the transcript of his proceedings, the complaint and the other papers in the case, without delay to the clerk of the superior court of such county. And if the accused shall fail to give a bond as required, such justice shall commit him to jail until discharged by law. Such bond, or any bond given by said accused on any continuance or arrest, may be put in suit by any person in whose favor the court may adjudge any sum of money in such proceeding.

§7411-3. State a Party—Prosecuting Attorney's Duties—Dismissal. §3. Such proceeding shall be entitled in the name of the state of Washington, and shall be prosecuted in both justice court and the superior court by the prosecuting attorney of the county where brought, and shall not be dismissed except by such prosecuting attorney upon a showing to the court that the provisions herein contemplated to be made for the maintenance, care, education and support of the child have been made.

§7411-4. Discharge on Giving Bond. §4. Any person committed to jail for failure to give such bond may be discharged from custody by filing at any time after his commitment, with the clerk of the superior court such bond, to the satisfaction of the said clerk; and a certificate of the clerk to the sheriff shall be sufficient to authorize him to discharge the accused from custody.

§7411-5. Testimony Reduced to Writing. §5. The testimony of the mother, or mother to be, shall be by such justice reduced to writing, read carefully to such witness and be by her signed, and shall, by such justice, be returned to the superior court with the other papers in the proceeding, to be used by either party thereto.

§7411-6. Docketing in Superior Court—Civil Case. §6. Upon the filing of the transcript, complaint and other papers in the superior court, the clerk thereof shall docket the same, and said complaint shall stand as the complaint therein, and issue shall be joined thereon as now provided in civil actions.

§7411-7. Tried by Court or Jury. §7. If the accused in the superior court denies the charge, the issue may be tried by the court or by jury if demanded by either party.

§7411-8. Judgment of Discharge—Costs Not Required. §8. If on the trial of the issue joined, the finding or verdict shall be that the child is not the child of the accused, then the judgment of the court shall be that he be discharged: Provided, however, that no court costs shall be required of the complainant for the proceeding before such justice or the superior court.

§7411-9. Judgment Against Defendant—Bond. §9. In the event the issue be found against the accused, or whenever he shall, in open court, have confessed the truth of the accusation against him, he shall be charged by the order and judgment of the court to pay a sum to be therein specified, during each year of the life of such child, until such child shall have reached the age of sixteen years, for the care, education and support of such child, and shall also be charged thereby to pay the expenses of the mother incurred during her sickness and confinement, together with all costs of the suit, for which costs execution shall issue as in other cases. And the accused shall be required by said court to give bond, with sufficient surety, to be approved by the judge of said court, for the payment of such sums of money as shall be so ordered by said court. Said bond shall be made payable to the people of the state of Washington, and conditioned for the true and faithful payment of such yearly sums, in equal quarterly installments, to the clerk of said court, which said bond shall be filed and preserved by the clerk of said court.

§7411-10. Criminal Action Saved. §10. In addition to the proceedings for enforcing the support of the child heretofore provided for, the accused may be prosecuted in any criminal proceeding now or hereafter to be provided for by the laws of the State of Washington, relating to the support of minor children by parents or other persons upon whom such children may be dependent for care, education or support.

§7411-11. Judgment for Payments—Execution. §11. If the accused shall fail or refuse to give such a bond as may be required by such superior court by virtue of the provisions of section nine, such court shall at any time thereafter, upon application of the mother or guardian, render judgment against the accused for any sum or sums then due and unpaid under the terms of such order and judgment, and execution thereon shall issue from said court; Provided, That the rendition and collection of judgment as aforesaid shall not be construed to bar or hinder the taking of similar proceedings for the collection of judgment for the nonpayment of any sum or sums becoming due and unpaid thereafter.

§7411-12. Inability to Pay—Discharge. §12. If the accused shall refuse and neglect to give such security as may be ordered by the court, under the provisions of section nine, he shall be committed to the county jail for contempt of court, there to remain until he shall comply with such order, or until otherwise discharged by due course of law. Any person so committed may at any time petition the court for a hearing as to his inability to comply with the order of the court and the court shall thereupon fix a time for the hearing of such petition which hearing shall be not less than ten days after the date of service of said petition on the prosecuting attorney. The prosecuting attorney may however waive the said ten day period in whole or in part. At the hearing the defendant shall be examined on oath in reference to the facts set forth in such petition and his ability to comply with such judgment and order, and any other legal evidence in reference to such matters may be produced by any of the parties interested. If it appears that the defendant is unable to comply with such judgment and order, the court may direct his discharge from custody, upon his making affidavit that he has not in his own name any property, real or personal, and has no such property conveyed or concealed, or in any manner disposed of with design to secure the same to his use or to avoid in any manner compliance with such judgment and order. If upon such hearing it appears that the defendant has property, but not sufficient to comply with such judgment and order, the court may make such order concerning the same, in connection with such discharge, as justice may require.

§7411-13. Money Paid to Mother—How Expended. §13. The judgment money, when received by said clerk either by payment by the accused or by execution against the accused or against the sureties, shall be paid to the mother or guardian of such child, if a guardian therefor be appointed, and shall be laid out for the support, care and education of such child in such manner as shall be directed by the court.

§7411-14. Citation to Sureties—Judgment—Execution. §14. Whenever default shall be made in the payment of the quarterly installments, or any part thereof, specified in the bond provided for in section nine, the superior court of the county wherein such bond is filed shall, at the request of the mother, guardian, or any person interested in the support of such child, issue a citation to the principal or sureties in such bond requiring them to appear on some day in said citation mentioned and show cause, if any there be, why execution should not issue against them for the amount of the installment or installments due and unpaid on said bond. And if the amount due on such installment or installments shall not be paid at or before the time mentioned for showing cause, as aforesaid, such court shall render judgment in favor of the people of the state of Washington, and the complainant or guardian, against the principal and sureties who have been served with such citation for the amount unpaid of the installment or installments on the bond, and the cost of such proceeding, and execution shall issue in due form from said court upon said judgment.

§7411-15. Contempt—Execution—Modification. §15. Such court shall also have the power, in case the accused does not obey the order thereof, and in case of default in the payment when due, of any installment or installments, or any part thereof, in the conditions of the said bond mentioned, to adjudge the accused guilty of contempt of court by reason of the nonpayment as aforesaid, and order him to be committed to the county jail in such county until the amount of said installment or installments so due shall be fully paid, together with all the costs of such commitment, but the commitment of the accused shall not operate to stay or defeat the obtaining of judgment and collection thereof by execution: Provided, that the rendition and collection of judgment, as aforesaid, shall not be construed to bar or hinder the taking of similar proceedings for the collection of subsequent installments on said bond as they shall become due or remain unpaid. Provided further, that any judgment entered herein may be modified at any time upon proper showing to the court.

§7411-16. Limitation of Action. §16. No prosecution under this act shall be brought after two years from the birth of the child: Provided, the time during which any person accused shall be absent from the state shall not be computed.

§7411-17. Abatement for Death of Mother Denied—Evidence. §17. The death of the mother shall not abate the proceeding, if the child be living; but a suggestion of record of the fact shall be made, and the testimony of the mother taken in writing before aforesaid justice may be read in evidence by either party, and shall have the same force as though she were living and had testified to same in court.

§7411-18. Abatement for Death of Child Denied—Judgment. §18. The death of such child shall not cause the abatement or bar to any prosecution hereunder; but the court trying the same, on conviction, shall give judgment for such sum as shall be deemed just.

§7411-19. Custody and Name of Child. §19. If the mother be a suitable person she shall be awarded the custody and control of said child; if she be not a suitable person, the court may deliver the care and custody of said child to any reputable person, including the accused, charitable or state institution. Such order and judgment may further provide, in the discretion of the court, that the surname of the accused shall henceforth be the lawful surname of such child.

§7426. Questions to Be Determined—Remittitur. §12. The questions involving the merits to be determined by the court upon the hearing are:

1. Whether the body or officer had jurisdiction of the subject matter of the determination under review.

2. Whether the authority, conferred upon the body or officer in relation to that subject matter, has been pursued in the mode required by law, in order to authorize it or him to make the determination.

3. Whether in making the determination any rule of law affecting the rights of the parties thereto has been violated to the prejudice of the relator.

4. Whether there was any competent proof of all the facts necessary to be proved, in order to authorize the making of the determination.

5. If there was such proof, whether there was, upon all the evidence, such a preponderance of proof, against the existence thereof, rendered in an action in a court, triable by a jury, would be set aside by the court, as against the weight of evidence.

§7446. Contempt by Person in Custody. §729.—729. If the party charged be in custody of an officer by virtue of a legal order or process, civil or criminal, except upon a sentence for a felony, an order may be made for the production of such person by the officer having him in custody that he may answer, and he shall thereupon be produced and held until an order be made for his disposal.

Damages may be awarded without right to jury trial, State v. North Shore Co. 67 W. 317.

§7447. State Must Be Made a Party. §730.—730. In the proceeding for a contempt the state is the plaintiff. In all cases of public interest the proceeding may be prosecuted by the prosecuting attorney on behalf of the state, and in all cases where the proceeding is commenced upon the relation of a private party, such party shall be deemed a co-plaintiff with the state.

Does not limit power of equity court to enforce decrees, McGill v. McGill, 67 W. 303. Poland 63 W. 597; applied, Wright v. Suydam 79 W. 556.

Contempt for failure to pay alimony properly brought in original case, Poland v. Poland, 63 W. 597. Judge is not proper party to contempt proceedings in his own court, State ex rel. Martin v. Pendergast 39 W. 132.

§7448. Warrant—Bail—Custody. §731.—731. Whenever a warrant of arrest is issued pursuant to this chapter, the court or judicial officer shall direct therein whether the person charged may be let to bail for his appearance upon the warrant, or detained in custody without bail, and if he may be bailed, the amount in which he may be let to bail. Upon executing the warrant of arrest, the sheriff must keep the person in actual custody, bring him before the court or judicial officer and detain him until an order be made in the premises unless the person arrested execute and deliver to the sheriff at any time before the return day of the warrant a bond with two sufficient sureties to the effect, that he will appear on such return day and abide the order or judgment of the court or officer thereupon.

§7449. Sheriff's Return—Trial. §732.—732. The sheriff shall return the warrant of arrest and the bond if any, given him by the defendant by the return day therein specified. When the defendant has been brought up or appeared the court or judicial officer shall proceed to investigate the charge by examining such defendant, and witnesses for or against him, for which an adjournment may be had from time to time if necessary.

§7450. Judgment and Sentence. §733.—733. Upon the evidence so taken, the court or judicial officer shall determine whether or not the defendant is guilty of the contempt charged; and if it be determined that he is so guilty, shall sentence him to be punished as provided in this chapter.

§7451. Damages and Costs. §734.—734. If any loss or injury to a party in an action, suit or proceeding prejudicial to his rights therein, have been caused by the contempt, the court or judicial officer, in addition to the punishment imposed for the contempt, may give judgment that the party aggrieved recover of the defendant a sum of money sufficient to indemnify him, and to satisfy his costs and disbursements, which judgment and the acceptance of the amount thereof, is a bar to any action suit or proceeding by the aggrieved party for such loss or injury.

Dismissal of contempt without prejudice, action for damages sustained, Matzger v. Arcade B. & R. Co., 102 W. 423. Court should award damages in contempt proceeding, State ex rel. Nicomen Boom Co. v. North Shore etc. Co. 55 W. 1.

§7452. Contempt for Refusal to Perform. §735.—735. When the contempt consists in the omission or refusal to perform an act which is yet in the power of the defendant to perform, he may be imprisoned until he shall have performed it, and in such case the act must be specified in the warrant of commitment.

Service of summons, §8432.

If defendant present in court he may be ordered to pay without citation and may be held for refusal. In re Cave 26 W. 212.

§7453. Indictment Cumulative Remedy. §736.—736. Persons proceeded against according to the provisions of this chapter are also liable to indictment for the same misconduct, if it be an indictable offense but the court before which a conviction is had on the indictment in passing sentence shall take into consideration the punishment before inflicted.

Criminal contempt §8756.

§7454. Failure to Appear—Warrant—Action on Bond. §737.—737. When the warrant of arrest has been returned served, if the defendant do not appear on the return day, the court or judicial officer may issue another warrant of arrest or may order the bond to be prosecuted, or both. If the bond be prosecuted and the aggrieved party join in the action, and the sum specified therein be recovered [so] much thereof [as] will compensate such party for the loss or injury sustained by reason of the misconduct for which the warrant was issued, shall be deemed to be recovered for such party exclusively.

§7455. Appeal Without Stay—Justices' Courts. §738.—738. Either party to a judgment in a proceeding for a contempt, may appeal therefrom in a like manner and with like effect as from judgment in an action, but such appeal shall not have the effect to stay the proceedings in any other action, suit or proceeding or upon any judgment, decree or order therein, concerning which or wherein such contempt was committed. Contempts of justices' courts are punishable in the manner specially provided for in the "act relating to justices of the peace and to their practice and jurisdiction."

§7475. Retaxation of Costs. §526.—526. Any party aggrieved by the taxation of costs by the clerk of the court may, upon application, have the same retaxed by the court in which the action or proceeding is had.

Costs—retaxation (court rules) §8431t.

Cannot be retaxed in appellate court unless motion therefor in trial court, Burrichter v. Cline, 3 W. 135; Jenkins v. Powe, 19 W. 113; Bringgold v. Spokane, id. 333; see Port Townsend v. Lewis, 34 W. 413.

Where only error in magistrate's criminal judgment is in taxation of costs, superior court should retax costs and affirm judgment, State v. White, 8 W. 230.

To retax costs in refusing to vacate judgment is error, Tacoma, etc., Co. v. Wolff, 7 W. 478.

§7476. Plaintiff Outside of County Must Give Security. §527.—527. When a plaintiff in an action resides out of the county, or is a foreign corporation, security for the costs and charges which may be awarded against such plaintiff may be required by the defendant. When required, all proceedings in the actions shall be stayed until a bond, executed by two or more persons, be filed with the clerk, conditioned that they will pay such costs and charges as may be awarded against the plaintiff by judgment or in the progress of the action, not exceeding the sum of two hundred dollars. A new or additional bond may be ordered by the court or judge; upon proof that the original bond is insufficient security, and proceedings in the action stayed until such new or additional bond be executed and filed. The plaintiff may deposit with the clerk the sum of two hundred dollars in lieu of a bond.

Surety on cost bond must be served with notice of appeal, Shippen v. Shippen 91 W. 610. Residence in county is not required if surety on cost bond—need not justify as to separate property in first instance, Brooks v. James 16 W. 335.

§7521. Finding of Verdict. §540.—540. The jury by their verdict shall find as follows:

1. If the verdict be for the plaintiff, that he is entitled to the possession of the property described in the complaint, or some part thereof, or some undivided share or interest in either, and the nature and duration of his estate in such property, part thereof, or undivided share or interest in either, as the case may be.

2. If the verdict be for the defendant, that the plaintiff is not entitled to the possession of the property described in the complaint, or to such part thereof as the defendant defends for, and the estate in such property or part thereof, or license, or right to the possession of either established on the trial by the defendant, if any, in effect as the same is required to be pleaded.

Verdict must find all facts. Weidlich v. Independent Asphalt Pav. Co. 94 W. 395. Verdict not following statute sustained, Simmons v. Jamieson 32 W. 619.

§7522. Damages—Improvements as Set Off. §541.—541. The plaintiff shall only be entitled to recover damages for withholding the property for the term of six years next preceding the commencement of the action, and for any period that may elapse from such commencement, to the time of giving a verdict therein, exclusive of the use of permanent improvements made by the defendant. When permanent improvements have been made upon the property by the defendant, or those under whom he claims holding under color of title adversely to the claim of the plaintiff, in good faith, the value thereof at the time of trial shall be allowed as a set-off against such damages.

Statute has no retroactive effect, Investment Co. v. Hambach 37 W. 629; Barton v. Wicklizer 41 W. 293.

§7524. Pleadings—Issues. §2. The counter claim shall set forth the value of the land apart from the improvements, and the nature and value of the improvements apart from the land and the amount of said taxes and assessments so paid and the date of payment. Issues shall be joined and tried as in other actions, and the value of the land and the amount of said taxes and assessments apart from the improvements, and the value of the improvements apart from the land must be specifically found by the verdict of the jury, report of the referee, or findings of the court as the case may be.

§7525. Judgment. §3. If the judgment be in favor of the plaintiff for the recovery of the realty, and of the defendant upon the counter claim, the plaintiff shall be entitled to recover such damages as he may be found to have suffered through the withholding of the premises and waste committed thereupon by the defendant or those under whom he claims, but against this recovery shall be offset pro tanto the value of the permanent improvements and the amount of said taxes and assessments with interest found as above provided. Should the value of improvements or taxes or assessments with interest exceed the recovery for damages, the plaintiff shall, within two months, pay to the defendant the difference between the two sums and upon proof, after notice, to the defendant, that this has been done, the court shall make an order declaring that fact, and that title to the improvements is vested in him. Should the plaintiff fail to make such payment, the defendant may at any time within two months after the time limited for such payment to be made, pay to the plaintiff the value of the land apart from the improvements, and the amount of the damages awarded against him, and he thereupon shall be vested with title to the land, and, after notice to the plaintiff, the court shall make an order reciting the fact and adjudging title to be in him. Should neither party make the payment above provided, within the specified time they shall be deemed to be tenants in common of the premises, including the improvements, each holding an interest proportionate to the value of his property determined in the manner specified in section ~~two~~ hereof: Provided, That the interest of the owner of the improvements shall be the difference between the value of the improvements and the amount of damages recovered against him by the plaintiff.

§7526. Plaintiff Must Recover Before His Right Expires—Damages. §542.—542. If the right of the plaintiff to the possession of the property expire after the commencement of the action and before the trial, the verdict shall be given according to the fact, and judgment shall be given only for the damages.

§7527. Order to Allow Examination of Property. §543.—543. The court or judge thereof, on motion, and after notice to the adverse party, may, for cause shown grant, an order allowing the party applying therefor to enter upon the property in controversy and make survey and admeasurement thereof, for the purposes of the action.

§7528. Service of Order and Entry on Premises. §544.—544. The order shall describe the property, and a copy thereof shall be served upon the defendant, and thereupon the party may enter upon the property and make such survey and admeasurement; but if any unnecessary injury be done to the premises he shall be liable therefor.

Tenant in Common Must Show His Rights Where Denied. §547.—547. In an action by a tenant in common, or a joint tenant of real property against his co-tenant, the plaintiff must show, in addition to his evidence of right, that the defendant either denied the plaintiff's right or did some act amounting to such denial.

§7532. Judgment Conclusive. §549. In an action to recover possession of real property, the judgment rendered therein shall be conclusive as to the estate in such property and the right of possession thereof, so far as the same is thereby determined, upon all persons claiming by, through, or under the party against whom the judgment is rendered, by title or interest passing after the commencement of the action, if the party in whose favor the judgment is rendered shall have filed a notice of the pendency of the action as required by [§8452.] section 4887, 2 Ballinger's Annotated Codes and Statutes of Washington. When service of the notice is made by publication, and judgment is given for failure to answer, at any time within two years from the entry thereof, the defendant or his successor in interest as to the whole or any part of the property, shall, upon application to the court or judge thereof, be entitled to an order, vacating the judgment and granting him a new trial, upon the payment of the costs of the action. §7533. Restitution of Defendant on Recovery After New Trial. §550.—550. If the plaintiff has taken possession of the property before the judgment is set aside and a new trial granted, as provided in the preceding section, such possession shall not be thereby affected in any way, and if judgment be given for defendant in the new trial, he shall be entitled to restitution by execution in the same manner as if he were plaintiff.

§7534. Donation Titles Indefeasible—Actions on Patents of the United States—Consolidation of Actions. §551.—551. In an action at law, for the recovery of the possession of real property, if either party claim the property as a donee of the United States and under the act of congress approved September 27th 1850, commonly called the "Donation Law," or the acts amendatory thereof, such party, from the date of his settlement thereon, as provided in said act, shall be deemed to have a legal estate in fee, in such property, to continue upon condition that he perform the conditions required by such acts, which estate is unconditional and indefeasible after the performance of such conditions. In such action, if both plaintiff and defendant claim title to the same real property by virtue of settlement under such acts, such settlement and performance of the subsequent condition shall be prima facie presumed in favor of the party having or claiming under the elder certificate, or patent, as the case may be, unless it appears upon the face of such certificate or patent that the same is absolutely void. Any person in possession, by himself or his tenant, of real property, and any private or municipal corporation in possession by itself or its tenant of any real property, or when such real property is not in the actual possession of any one, any person or private or municipal corporation claiming title to any real property under a patent from the United States, or during his or its claim of title to such real property under a patent from the United States for such real estate, may maintain a civil action against any person or persons, corporations or associations claiming an interest in said real property or any part thereof, or any right thereto adverse to him, them, or it, for the purpose of determining such claim, estate, or interest; and where several persons, or private or municipal corporations are in possession of, or claim as aforesaid, separate parcels of real property, and an adverse interest is claimed or claim made in or to any such parcels, by any other person, persons, corporations or associations, arising out of a question, conveyance, statute, grant, or other matter common to all such parcels of real estate, all or any portion of such persons or corporations so in possession, or claiming such parcel of real property may unite as plaintiffs in such suit to determine such adverse claim or interest against all persons, corporations or associations claiming such adverse interest.

§7547. Petition. §3. Whenever any such ordinance shall be passed by the legislative authority of any such city for the making of any improvement authorized by this act or any other improvement that such city is authorized to make, the making of which will require that property be taken or damaged for public use, such city shall file a petition in the superior court of the county in which such land is situated, in the name of the city, praying that just compensation, to be made for the property to be taken or damaged for the improvement or purpose specified in such ordinance, be ascertained by a jury or by the court in case a jury be waived. Service upon other parties defendant shall be made in the same manner as is or shall be provided by law for service of summons in other civil actions.

§7551. Jury Trial. §7. Upon the return of said summons, or as soon thereafter as the business of court will permit, the said court shall proceed to the hearing of such petition and shall impanel a jury to ascertain the just compensation to be paid for the property taken or damaged, but if any defendant or party in interest shall demand, and the court shall deem it proper, separate juries may be impaneled as to the compensation or damages to be paid to any one or more of such defendants or parties in interest.

§7553. View by Jury. §9. The court may upon the motion of such city or of any defendant direct that said jury (under the charge of an officer of the court and accompanied by such person or persons as may be appointed by the court to point out the property sought to be taken or damaged) shall view the lands and property affected by said improvement.

View by jury—person to conduct jury—separate findings on buildings, In re Jackson Street 47 W. 243.

§7554. Damage to Buildings. §10. If there be any building standing, in whole or in part, upon any land to be taken, the jury shall add to their finding of the value of the land taken the damages to said building. If the entire building is taken, or if the building is damaged, so that it cannot be readjusted to the premises, then the measure of damages shall be the fair market value of the building. If part of the building is taken or damaged and the building can be readjusted or replaced on the part of the land remaining, then the measure of damages shall be the cost of readjusting or moving the building, or the part thereof left, together with the depreciation in the market value of said building by reason of said readjustment or moving.

§7555. Separate Findings. §11. If the land and buildings belong to different parties, or if the title to the property be divided into different interests by lease or otherwise, the damages done to each of such interests may be separately found by the jury on the request of any party. In making such findings, the jury shall first find and set forth in their verdict the total amount of the damage to said land and buildings and all premises therein, estimating the same as an entire estate and as if the same were the sole property of one owner in fee simple; and they shall then apportion the damages so found among the several parties entitled to the same, in proportion to their several interests and claims and the damages sustained by them, respectively, and set forth such apportionment in their verdict. No delay in ascertaining the amount of compensation shall be occasioned by any doubt or contest which may arise as to the ownership of the property, or any part thereof, or as to the extent of the interest of any defendant in the property to be taken or damaged, but in such case, the jury shall ascertain the entire compensation or damage that should be paid for the property and the entire interests of all the parties therein, and the court may thereafter require adverse claimants to interplead, so as to fully determine their rights and interests in the compensation so ascertained. And the court may make such order as may be necessary in regard to the deposit or payment of such compensation.

§7556. Verdict—New Parties. §12. Upon the return of the verdict the proceedings of the court regarding new trial and the entry of judgment thereon shall be the same as in other civil actions, and the judgment shall be such as the nature of the case shall require. The court shall continue or adjourn the case from time to time as to all occupants and owners named in such petition who shall not have been served with process or brought in by publication, and new summons may issue or new publication may be made at any time; and upon such occupants or owners being brought in, the court may impanel a jury to ascertain the compensation so to be made to such defendant or defendants for private property taken or damaged, and like proceedings shall be had for such purpose as herein provided.

division, In re Western Avenue Seattle 57 Cited 75 W. 116.

§7557. Cases Not All Tried. §13. The court shall have power at any time, upon proof that any such owner or owners named in such petition who has not been served with process has ceased to be such owner or owners since the filing of such petition, to impanel a jury and ascertain the just compensation to be made for the property (or the damage thereto) which has been owned by the person or persons so ceasing to own the same, and the court may upon any finding or findings of any jury or juries, or at any time during the course of such proceedings enter such order, rule, judgment or decree as the nature of the case may require.

§7558. Infants or Insane Persons. §14. When it shall appear from said petition or otherwise, at any time during the proceedings upon such petition, that any infant or insane or distracted person is interested in any property that is to be taken or damaged, the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem for such infant or insane or distracted person to appear and defend for him, her or them, and the court shall make such order or decree as it shall deem proper to protect and secure the interest of such infant or insane or distracted person in such property or the compensation which shall be awarded therefor.

§7559. Findings—Benefits—Damages—Taxes. §15. When the ordinance providing for any such improvement provides that compensation therefor shall be paid in whole or in part by special assessment upon property benefited, the jury or court, as the case may be, shall find separately:

1. The value of land taken at date of trial;
2. The damages which will accrue to the part remaining because of its severance from the part taken, over and above any local or special benefits arising from the proposed improvement. No lot, block, tract or parcel of land found by the court or jury to be so damaged shall be assessed for any benefits arising from such taking only;
3. The gross damages to any land or property not taken (other than damages to a remainder, by reason of its severance from the part taken), and in computing such gross damages shall not deduct any benefits from the proposed improvement. Such finding by the court or jury shall leave any lot, block, parcel or tract of land, or other property subject to assessment for its proportion of any and all local and special benefits accruing thereto by reason of said improvement.

When such ordinance does not provide for any assessment in whole or in part on property specially benefited, the compensation found for land or property taken or damaged shall be ascertained over and above any local or special benefits from the proposed improvement.

Such city or town may offset against any award of the jury or court for the taking or damaging of any lot, block, tract or parcel of land or other property, any general taxes or local assessments unpaid at the time such award is made. Such offset shall be made by deducting the amount of such unpaid taxes and assessments at the time of payment of the judgment or issuance of a warrant in payment of such judgment. L '09 723.

§7560. Final Judgment—Appeal. §16. Any final judgment or judgments rendered by said court upon any finding or findings of any jury or juries, or upon any finding or findings of the court in case a jury be waived, shall be lawful and sufficient condemnation of the land or property to be taken, or of the right to damage the same in the manner proposed, upon the payment of the amount of such findings and all costs which shall be taxed as in other civil cases, provided that in case any defendant recovers no damages, no costs shall be taxed. Such judgment or judgments shall be final and conclusive as to the damages caused by such improvement unless appealed from, and no appeal from the same shall delay proceedings under said ordinance, if such city shall pay into court for the owners and parties interested, as directed by the court, the amount of the judgment and costs, and such city, after making such payment into court, shall be liable to such owner or owners or parties interested for the payment of any further compensation which may at any time be finally awarded to such parties so appealing in said proceeding, and his or her costs, and shall pay the same on the rendition of judgment therefor, and abide any rule or order of the court in relation to the matter in controversy. In case of an appeal to the Supreme Court of the State by any party to the proceedings the money so paid into the superior court by such city, as aforesaid, shall remain in the custody of said superior court until the final determination of the proceedings. If the owner of the land, real estate, premises, or other property accepts the sum awarded by the jury or the court, he shall be deemed thereby to have waived conclusively an appeal to the Supreme Court and final judgment may be rendered in the superior court as in other cases.

§7565. Commissioners, Appointment. §21. At any time after the taking effect of this act, any such city may petition the superior court of the county in which said city is situated, that a board of eminent domain commissioners be appointed to make assessments in all condemnation proceedings instituted by such city. Said superior court shall thereupon, by order duly entered in its records, appoint three competent persons as commissioners who shall be known as and who shall constitute the "board of eminent domain commissioners of the city of....." and who shall thereafter make assessments in all condemnation proceedings instituted by such city. The order of the court shall provide that one of the members of such board shall serve for one year, one for two years and one for three years, from the date of their appointment and until their successors are appointed and qualified. Annually thereafter, said superior court shall appoint one such person as such commissioner, whose term shall begin on the same day of the month on which the first order of appointment was made and continue for three years thereafter and until his successor is appointed and qualified. If any commissioner shall be disqualified in any proceeding by reason of interest, or for any other reason, said superior court shall appoint some other competent person to act in his place in such proceeding.

§7566. Commissioners—Oath—Pay. §22. All commissioners before entering upon their duties shall take and subscribe an oath that they will faithfully perform the duties of the office to which they are appointed, and will to the best of their abilities make true and impartial assessments according to the law. Every commissioner shall receive compensation at the rate of five dollars per day for each day actually spent in making the assessment herein provided for: Provided, That in any city of the first class the superior court of the county in which said city is situated may, by order duly entered in its records, fix the compensation of each commissioner in an amount in no case to exceed seven and one-half ($7.50) dollars per day for each day actually spent in making the assessment herein provided for. Each commissioner shall file in the proceeding in which he has made such assessment his account, stating the number of days he has actually spent in said proceeding, and upon the approval of said account by the judge before whom the proceeding is pending, the comptroller or city clerk of such city shall issue a warrant in the amount approved by the judge upon the special fund created to pay the awards and costs of said proceeding, and the fees of such commissioner so paid shall be included in the cost and expenses of such proceedings. In case such commissioners are, during the same period, or parts thereof, engaged in making assessments in different proceedings, in rendering their accounts they shall apportion on them to the different proceedings in proportion to the amount of time actually spent by them on the assessment in each proceeding. §7567. Special Benefits—Apportionment—Assessment Districts—Leaseholds of Harbor Area Assessable. §23. It shall be the duty of such commissioners to examine the locality where the improvement is proposed to be made and the property which will be especially benefited thereby, and to estimate what proportion, if any, of the total cost of such improvement will be a benefit to the public, and what proportion thereof will be a benefit to the property to be benefited, and apportion the same between the city and such property so that each shall bear its relative equitable proportion, and having found said amounts, to apportion and assess the amount so found to be a benefit to the property upon the several lots, blocks, tracts and parcels of land, or other property in the proportion in which they will be severally benefited by such improvement: Provided, That the legislative body of the city may in the ordinance initiating any such improvement establish an assessment district and said district when so established shall be deemed to include all the lands or other property especially benefited by the proposed improvement, and the limits of said district when so fixed shall be binding and conclusive on the said commissioners: And provided further, That no property shall be assessed a greater amount than it will be actually benefited. That all leasehold rights and interests of private persons, firms or corporations in or to harbor areas located within the corporate limits of any incorporated city or town are for the purpose of assessment for the payment of the awards, interest and costs of any improvement authorized by this act, declared to be real property, and all such leasehold rights and interests may be assessed and re-assessed in accordance with the special benefits received for the purpose of paying the cost of any such improvement heretofore made or which may hereafter be made in accordance with law. 7568. Assessment Roll §24. Such commissioners in each proceeding shall also make or cause to be made an assessment roll in which shall appear the names of the owners, so far as known, the description of each lot, block, tract or parcel of land or other property and the amounts assessed as special benefits thereto, and in which they shall set down as against the city the amount they shall have found as public benefit, if any, and certify such assessment roll to the court before which said proceeding is pending, within sixty days after their appointment or after the date of the order referring said proceeding to them, or within such extension of said period as shall be allowed by the court.

§7569. Hearing on Assessment. §25. After the return of such assessment roll, the court shall make an order setting a time for the hearing thereof before the court, which day shall be at least twenty days after return of such roll. It shall be the duty of such commissioners to give notice of such assessment and of the day fixed by the court for the hearing thereof in the following manner:

1. They shall at least twenty days prior to the date fixed for the hearing on said roll, mail to each owner of the property assessed, whose name and address is known to them, a notice substantially in the following form:

"Title of Cause. To.....: Pursuant to an order of the superior court of the State of Washington, in and for the county of....., there will be a hearing in the above entitled cause on ..... at ..... upon the assessment roll prepared by the commissioners heretofore appointed by said court to assess the property specially benefited by the (here describe nature of improvement); and you are hereby required if you desire to make any objections to said assessment roll, to file your objections to the same before the date herein fixed for the hearing upon said roll, a description of your property and the amount assessed against it for the aforesaid improvement is as follows: (Description of property and amount assessed against it.)

Commissioners."

2. They shall cause at least twenty days' notice to be given by posting notice of the hearing on such assessment roll in at least three public places in such city, one of which shall be in the neighborhood of such proposed improvement, and when a daily newspaper is published in such city, by publishing the same in at least five successive issues of said paper, or if no daily newspaper is published in such city and a weekly newspaper is published therein, then in at least each issue of such weekly newspaper for two successive weeks or if no daily or weekly newspaper is published in such city, then in a newspaper published in the county in which such city is situated. Such notice so required to be posted and published, may be substantially as follows:

"Title of Cause. Special assessment notice. Notice is hereby given to all persons interested, that an assessment roll has been filed in the above entitled cause providing for the assessment upon the property benefited of the cost of (here insert brief description of improvement) and that said roll has been set down for hearing on the.....day of.....at..... The boundaries of said assessment district are substantially as follows: (here insert an approximate description of the assessment district.) All persons desiring to object to said assessment roll are required to file their objections before said date fixed for the hearing upon said roll, and appear on the day fixed for hearing before said court.

§7570. Proof of Service. §26. On or before the final hearing, the affidavit of one or more of the commissioners shall be filed in said court, stating that they have sent, or caused to be sent, by mail, to the owners whose property has been assessed and whose names and addresses are known to them, the notice hereinbefore required to be sent by mail to the owners of the property assessed. They shall also cause to be filed the affidavit of the person who shall have posted the notice required by this act to be posted, setting forth when and in what manner the same was posted. Such affidavits shall be received as prima facie evidence of a compliance with this act in regard to giving such notices. They shall also file an affidavit of publication of such notice in like manner as is required in other cases of affidavits of publication of notice of summons.

§7571. Continuance. §27. If twenty days shall not have elapsed between the first publication or the posting of such notices and the day set for hearing, the hearing shall be continued until such time as the court shall order. The court shall retain full jurisdiction of the matter, until final judgment on the assessments, and if the notice given shall prove invalid or insufficient the court shall order new notice to be given.

§7572. Objections. §28. Any person interested in any property assessed may file objections to such report at any time before the day set for hearing said roll. As to all property to the assessment of which objections are not filed as herein provided, default may be entered and the assessment confirmed by the court. On the hearing, the report of such commissioners shall be competent evidence and either party may introduce such other evidence as may tend to establish the right of the matter. The hearing shall be conducted as in other cases at law, tried by the court without a jury, and if it shall appear that the property of the objector is assessed more or less than it will be benefited, or more or less than its proportionate share of the costs of the improvement, the court shall so find, and also find the amount in which said property ought to be assessed, and the judgment shall be entered accordingly.

§7574. Effect and Lien of Judgment. §30. The judgment of the court shall have the effect of a separate judgment as to each tract or parcel of land or other property assessed, and any appeal from such judgment shall not invalidate or delay the judgment except as to the property concerning which the appeal is taken. Such judgment shall be a lien upon the property assessed from the date thereof until payment shall be made, and said lien shall be paramount and superior to any other lien or incumbrance whatsoever, theretofore or thereafter created, except a lien for assessments for general taxes. §7575. Certifying Judgment and Assessment Roll—Acceptance by City Council of Jury Awards. §31. The clerk of the court in which such judgment is rendered shall certify a copy of the assessment roll and judgment to the treasurer of the city, or if there has been an appeal taken from any part of such judgment, then he shall certify such part of the roll and judgment as is not included in such appeal, and the remainder when final judgment is rendered: Provided, That if upon such appeal, the judgment of the superior court shall be affirmed, the assessments on such property as to which appeal has been taken shall bear interest at the same rate and from the same date which other assessments not paid within the time hereafter provided shall bear. Such copy of the assessment roll shall describe the lots, blocks, tracts, parcels of land or other property assessed, and the respective amounts assessed on each, and shall be sufficient warrant to the city treasurer to collect the assessment therein specified. In no case, however, shall a copy of such assessment roll and judgment be certified to the city treasurer unless and until the awards of the jury shall have first been accepted by the city council or other legislative body as provided by law, or the time for rejecting the same shall have expired. L. '15 446, R.&B. §7798.

§7576. Payment of Assessments—Notice by City Treasurer. §32. Whenever the assessment for any such improvement shall be immediately payable, the owner of any such lot, tract or parcel of land or other property so assessed may pay such entire assessment, or any part thereof, without interest, within thirty (30) days after the notice of such assessment. The city treasurer shall, as soon as the certified copy of the assessment roll has been placed in his hands for collection, publish a notice in the official newspaper of the city for two (2) consecutive daily, or two (2) consecutive weekly issues, and then by posting four notices thereof in public places along the line of the proposed improvement, that the said roll is in his hands for collection, and that any assessment thereon, or any part thereof, may be paid within thirty (30) days from the date of the first publication or posting of said notice, without penalty, interest or costs, and if not so paid, the same shall thereupon become delinquent. L. '15 446, R.&B. §7799.

§7577. Notice by Mail. §33. It shall be the duty of the city treasurer into whose hands such judgment and assessment roll shall come, to mail notices of such assessment to the persons whose names appear on the assessment roll, so far as the addresses of such persons are known to him. Any such treasurer omitting so to do, shall be liable to a penalty of five dollars for every such omission; but the validity of the special assessment shall not be affected by such omission. When any assessment or assessments are paid, it shall be the duty of the treasurer to write the word "paid" opposite the same, together with the name and postoffice address of the person making the payment and the date of payment. The owner may annually notify the treasurer of his address and it shall be the duty of the treasurer to mail the notice above provided for to such address.

§7578. Enforcement of Assessments. §34. Whenever any assessment payable immediately shall become delinquent and whenever any instalment shall become delinquent, the city treasurer shall forthwith proceed to enforce the collection of such delinquent and unpaid assessment or instalment as in this act provided.

Return of Assessment Roll—Warrant to Treasurer to Sell—Interest on Delinquencies. Within fifteen days from the expiration of the time limited for the payment of any such assessments or instalments, the treasurer shall return the assessment roll to the comptroller, if there be such officer of the city or town; otherwise, to the city or town clerk, designating thereon the assessments or instalments paid and those unpaid. The comptroller or clerk, as the case may be, shall, upon receipt of said roll, credit the treasurer with the amount of assessments or instalments collected thereon, and thereupon issue and annex to said roll a warrant directing the treasurer to sell all the property described in said roll upon which assessments are levied, whether in the name of a designated owner or in the name of an unknown owner, to satisfy all delinquent and unpaid assessments or instalments upon said roll, with costs, interest and charges. All assessments or instalments unpaid at the expiration of the time fixed herein for the payment of the same, shall bear interest at the rate of ten per cent. per annum from said date until paid. L. '15 446, R.&B. §7801.

§7579. Law Governing Enforcement of Assessments. §8. The collection and enforcement of such delinquent instalments shall be governed by and conform to the provisions of [[§7545] chapter 153, Session Laws of 1907, of the State of Washington, relating to the collection and enforcement of delinquent assessments, except as otherwise provided in this act.

Whenever the word "assessment" or the word "assessments" is used in said chapter 153, the same shall be held and construed to include the word "instalment" or the word "instalments." L. '15 446.

§7580. Sale of Delinquent Property. §35. Such warrant issued for the purpose of making sale of said delinquent property shall be deemed and taken as an execution against said property for the amount of said assessments or instalments with interest and costs, and the treasurer shall, within sixty days from the receipt thereof by him, commence the sale of said property and continue such sale from day to day thereafter, except on Sundays and legal holidays, until all the property described in said assessment roll on which any such assessment or instalment is delinquent and unpaid is sold. Such sale shall take place at the front door of the building in which the city council holds its sessions. The treasurer shall give notice of such sales by publishing a notice thereof once each week for three consecutive weeks in the official newspaper of the city, or if there be no such newspaper, then by publishing the same for said period in some newspaper published in the same county in which the city is situated, or if no such newspaper is published in such county, then in some newspaper published in the state of daily circulation in such county. Such notice shall contain a list of all property upon which such assessments or instalments are delinquent with the amount of the assessment or instalment, interest and costs to date of sale, including the cost of advertising such sale, together with the names of the owners of such property, or the words "unknown owners," as the same may appear upon said assessment roll, and shall specify the time and place of sale, and that the property therein described will be sold to satisfy the assessment or instalment, interest and costs due upon the same. All of such sales shall be made between the hours of ten o'clock a. m. and four o'clock p. m. Each lot or parcel of land or other property shall be sold separately and in the order in which the same appears on the assessment roll, commencing at the head thereof. If there be no bidder for any lot or parcel of land or other property for a sum sufficient to pay the delinquent assessment or instalment thereon, with interest and costs, the treasurer shall strike the same off to the city for the whole amount which he is required to collect by such sale. L. '15 446, R.&B. §7802.

§7581. Part Sold From East Side of Lot. §36. All lots and parcels of land sold for delinquent improvement assessments, shall be sold to the person at such sale offering to pay the amount due on each tract or lot for the least quantity thereof to be taken from the east side of such tract or lot, and the remainder thereof shall be discharged from the lien. After receiving the amount of the assessment, penalty, cost and charges, the treasurer shall make out a certificate, dated on the day of sale, stating (when known) the name of the owner as given on the assessment roll, a description of the land sold, the amount paid therefor, the name of the purchaser, that it was sold for the assessment, giving the name of the street or other brief designation of the improvement for which the assessment was made, and specifying that the purchaser will be entitled to a deed in two years from the date of sale unless redemption thereof be made. Such certificate shall be signed by the treasurer, and shall be delivered to the purchaser, and shall be by such purchaser recorded in the office of the county auditor of the county in which the lands are situated within three months from the date thereof. If not recorded within said time, the lien thereof shall be postponed to claims of subsequent purchasers and incumbrances for value and in good faith who become such while the same is unrecorded.

§7582. Sale to City. §37. If any bidder to whom any property is stricken off at such sale does not pay the assessment, interest and costs before ten o'clock A. M. of the day following the day of such sale, such property must then be resold, or if the assessment sale is closed, be deemed to have been sold to the city or town, and a certificate of purchase shall be issued to the city therefor.

§7583. Custodian of Certificates. §38. The city comptroller, if there be such officer, and if not then the city or town clerk, shall be the custodian of all certificates for property sold to the city, and shall at any time within two years from the date of such certificate, and before redemption of the property therein described, sell and transfer any such certificate to any person who will pay to him the amount for which the property therein described was stricken off to the city with interest subsequently accrued, thereon, and the treasurer may, if so authorized by the council, sell and transfer any such certificate in like manner after the expiration of such two years from the date of the certificate.

§7584. Return of Sale. §39. Within ten days after the completion of the sale of all property described in such assessment rolls, and authorized to be sold as aforesaid, the treasurer must make return to the comptroller, or other officer by whom the warrant was issued, of said assessment roll, with a statement of his doings thereon, showing all property sold by him, to whom sold and the sum paid therefor. The city treasurer shall also within ten days after the completion of the sale of all property described in such assessment rolls transmit to the treasurer of the county in which said city is located, a statement showing all property sold by him, when sold, to whom sold and the sums paid therefor and the description of the improvement under which said sale was made. The county treasurer shall thereupon note upon the general tax rolls of said county the date of said sale, and the improvement for which the same was sold, and thereafter whenever the county treasurer shall furnish a statement of taxes to any property owner, he shall include therein a statement of such sale and the improvement for which the same was sold.

§7585. Purchaser's Lien. §40. The purchaser at such sale acquires a lien on the property so bid in by him for the amount paid by him at such sale as well as for all taxes and special assessments and all interest, penalties, costs and charges thereon, whether levied previously or subsequently to such sale, and whether for State, county, city, or town purposes subsequently paid by him on such property, and shall be entitled to interest at the rate of fifteen per cent. per annum on the original amount paid by him from the date of said sale and on such subsequent payments from the date of the respective payments.

Holder of certificate must pay subsequent taxes—must make personal service 44 W. 132.

If possible—Inquiry of county treasurer—

§7586. Redemption—Deed. §41. Every piece of property sold for an assessment shall be subject to redemption by the former owner, or his grantee, mortgagee, heir or other representative at any time within two years from the date of the sale upon payment to the treasurer for the purchaser of the amount for which the same was sold, with interest at the rate of fifteen per cent. per annum, together with all taxes and special assessments, interest, penalties and charges thereon paid by the purchaser of such piece of property since such sale, with like interest thereon. Unless written notice of taxes and assessments subsequently paid, and the amount thereof shall be deposited with the treasurer, redemption may be made without including the same. On any such redemption being made, the treasurer shall give to the redemptioner a certificate of redemption therefor, and pay over the amount received from such redemption to the purchaser or his assigns. Should no redemption be made within said period of two years, the treasurer shall, on demand of the purchaser or his assigns, and the surrender to him of the certificate of purchase, execute to such purchaser or his assigns, a deed for the piece of property therein described: Provided, That no such deed shall be executed until the holder of such certificate of purchase shall have notified the owner of such piece of property that he holds such certificate, and that he will demand a deed therefor; and if, notwithstanding such notice, no redemption is made within sixty days from the date of the service or first publication of such notice, said holder shall be entitled to said deed. Said notice shall be given by personal service upon said persons: Provided, That in case said parties are nonresidents of the State or they cannot be found therein after diligent search, then such notice may be given by publication in a weekly newspaper published in said city once each week for three successive weeks or if no newspaper be published in said city, then publication shall be made as provided in section 25 of this act. Such notice and return thereto, with the affidavit of the person claiming such deed showing that such service was made, shall be filed with the treasurer. Such deed shall be executed only for the piece of property described in the certificate, and after payment of all subsequent taxes and special assessments thereon. The deed shall be executed in the name of the city by which the improvement is made; shall recite in substance the matters contained in the certificate, the notice to the owner, and that no redemption has been made of the property within the time allowed by law. Such deed shall be signed and acknowledged by the city treasurer as such. The deed shall be prima facie evidence that the property was assessed as required by law; that the assessment was not paid; that the property was sold as required by law; that it was not redeemed; that notice had been given, and that the person executing the deed was the proper officer; and the deed shall be conclusive evidence of the regularity of all other proceedings from the assessment, inclusive, up to the execution of the deed.

Redemption must be made within two years and within two months from date—notice by publication, Smith v. Crandall for deed, State ex rel Abrashin v. Terry 74 W. 208. Owner means real owner, not record title—ver 89 W. 243.

§7587. Redemption Fund. §42. All moneys collected by the treasurer upon assessments under this act shall be kept as a separate fund and shall be used for no other purpose than the redemption of warrants or bonds drawn or issued against the fund.

§7588. Records Shall Be Satisfied. §43. Whenever before the sale of any property the amount of any assessment thereon, with interest and costs accrued thereon, shall be paid to the treasurer, he shall thereupon mark the same paid, with the date of payment thereof on the assessment roll, and whenever after sale of any property for any assessments, the same shall be redeemed, he shall thereupon enter the same redeemed with the date of such redemption on such record. Such entry shall be made on the margin of the record opposite the description of such property.

§7589. Liability of Treasurer. §44. If the treasurer shall receive any moneys for assessments, giving a receipt therefor, for any property and afterwards return the same as unpaid, or shall receive the same after making such return, and the same be sold for assessment which has been so paid and receipted for by himself or his clerk or assistant, he and his bond shall be liable to the holder of the certificate given to the purchaser at the sale for the amount of the face of the certificate, and a penalty of fifteen per cent. additional thereto besides legal interest, to be demanded within two years from the date of the sale and recovered in any court having jurisdiction of the amount, and the city shall in no case be liable to the holder of such certificate.

§7590. Reassessment. §45. If any assessment be annulled or set aside by any court, or be invalid for any cause, a new assessment may be made, and return and like notice given and proceedings had as herein required in relation to the first; and all parties in interest shall have the like rights, and the city council or other legislative body, and the superior court, shall perform the like duties and have like power in relation to any subsequent assessment as are hereby given in relation to the first assessment.

Assessment annulled in part, reassessment over valid part—future use as benefit, In re West Wheeler Street, 97 W. 669.

§7590a. Lien. §46. All the assessments levied by any city under this act shall, from the date of the judgment confirming the assessment, be a lien upon the real estate upon which the same may be imposed, and such lien shall continue until such assessments are paid; if any proceedings taken for the enforcement thereof, shall be held void or invalid, such city shall provide by ordinance for new proceedings and a new sale for the enforcement thereof in like manner as hereinbefore provided; and in addition to the remedy hereinbefore provided, any city may enforce such lien by civil action in any court of competent jurisdiction in like manner and with like effect as actions for the foreclosure of mortgage.

§7591. Issuance of Bonds. §47. The city council or other legislative body of any city may, in their discretion, provide by ordinance for the payment of the whole or any portion of the cost and expense of any local improvement authorized by law, by bonds of the improvement district, which bonds shall be issued and sold as herein provided. L. '15 446, R.&B. §7814.

§7592. Date of Maturity—Interest Coupons—Denominations—Signatures of Officers—Amount of Issue. §11. Such bonds shall be issued only in pursuance of ordinances of the city directing the issuance of the same, and by their terms shall be made payable on or before a date not to exceed twelve years from and after their date, which latter date may be fixed by resolution or ordinance by council or other legislative body of said city and shall bear interest not exceeding eight per centum per annum, which interest shall be payable annually, or semi-annually, as may be provided by resolution or ordinance, and each bond shall have attached thereto interest coupons for each interest payment. Such bonds shall be in such denominations as shall be provided in the resolution or ordinance authorizing their issue and shall be numbered from one upwards, consecutively, and each bond and coupon shall be signed by the mayor and attested by the clerk or comptroller of such city: Provided, however, That said coupons may in lieu of being so signed have printed thereon a fac-simile of the signature of said officers and each bond shall have the seal of such city affixed thereto and shall refer to the improvement to pay for which the same shall be issued and to the ordinance authorizing the same. Each bond shall provide that the principal sum therein named, and the interest thereon, shall be payable out of the local improvement fund created for the payment of the cost and expense of such improvement, and not otherwise. Such bonds shall not be issued in any amount in excess of the cost and expense of the improvement. L. '15 446.

§7593. Sale of Bonds. §12. The bonds issued under the provisions of this act or any portion thereof may be sold by any authorized officer or officers of the city at not less than their par value and accrued interest, and the proceeds thereof shall be applied in payment of the awards, interest and costs of the improvement. L. '15 446.

§7594. Payment of Assessment in Instalments—Proceedings Already Initiated. §13. In all cases where any city shall issue bonds as provided for in this act, the whole or any portion of the separate assessments for any such improvement, may be paid during the thirty (30) day period provided for in section 14 of this act, and thereafter the sum remaining unpaid may be paid in equal annual instalments; the number of which instalments shall be less by two than the number of years which the bonds issued to pay for the improvements may run, with interest upon the whole unpaid sum at the bond rate, and each year thereafter one of such instalments, together with the interest due thereon and on all instalments thereafter to become due, shall be collected in the same manner as shall be provided by law and the resolutions and ordinances of such city for the collection of assessments for such improvements in cases where no bonds are issued.

In all cases of improvements authorized in this act, where, at the time this act shall become effective, the notice by the city treasurer of the assessments for such improvement shall not have been published, the city council or other legislative body of such city may by ordinance or resolution provide for the issuance and sale of bonds for such improvement and for the payment of such assessments in instalments. L. 15 446.

§7595. Notice of Roll—Payments—Delinquency. §14. Whenever the assessment for any such improvement shall be payable in instalments, the owner of any lot, tract or parcel of land or other property charged with any such assessment may pay such assessment or any portion thereof, without interest, within thirty (30) days after such notice of such assessment. The city treasurer shall, as soon as the certified copy of the assessment roll has been placed in his hands for collection, publish a notice in the official newspaper of the city for two consecutive daily or two consecutive weekly issues, that the said roll is in his hands for collection and that any assessment thereon or any portion of any such assessment may be paid at any time within thirty (30) days from the date of the first publication of said notice without penalty, interest or costs, and the unpaid balance, if any, may be paid in equal annual instalments, or any such assessment may be paid at any time after the first thirty (30) days following the date of the first publication of such notice by paying the entire unpaid portion thereof with all penalties and costs attached, together with all interest thereon to the date of delinquency of the first instalment thereof next falling due. Such notice shall further state that the first instalment of such assessment shall become due and payable during the thirty (30) day period succeeding a date one (1) year after the date of first publication of such notice, and annually thereafter each succeeding instalment shall become due and payable in like manner. If the whole or any portion of any assessment remains unpaid after the first thirty (30) day period herein provided for, interest upon the whole unpaid sum shall be charged at the bond rate, and each year thereafter one (1) of said instalments, together with interest due upon the whole of the unpaid balance shall be collected. Any instalment not paid prior to the expiration of the thirty (30) day period during which such instalment is due and payable, shall thereupon become delinquent. All delinquent instalments shall, until paid, be subject to a charge for interest at the bond rate, and to an additional charge of five per cent (5%) penalty levied upon both principal and interest due on such instalment or instalments.

Time of Issuance of Bonds—Application of Payments—Selection of Newspaper for Publication of Notice. The bonds herein provided for shall not be issued prior to twenty (20) days after the expiration of the thirty (30) days first above mentioned, but may be issued at any time thereafter. In all cases where any sum is paid as herein provided, the same shall be paid to the city treasurer, or to the officer whose duty it is to collect said assessments, and all sums so paid shall be applied solely to the payment of the awards, interest and costs of such improvements or the redemption of the bonds issued therefor. In case any city has no official newspaper, any publication required under the provisions of this act may be made in any newspaper of general circulation published therein, or in case there be no such newspaper, then in a newspaper published in the county in which such city is located and of general circulation in such city. L. '15 446.

§7596. Right of Bondholders. §15. If the city shall fail, neglect or refuse to pay said bonds or to promptly collect any such assessments when due, the owner of any such bonds may proceed in his own name to collect such assessment and foreclose the lien thereof in any court of competent jurisdiction, and shall in addition to the principal of such bonds and interest thereon, recover five per centum of such sum, together with the costs of such suit. Any number of holders of such bonds for any single improvement may join as plaintiffs and any number of owners of the property on which the same are a lien may be joined as defendants in such suit. L. '15 446.

§7597. Remedy of Bondholder Confined to Assessments. §16. Neither the holder nor owner of any bond issued under the authority of this act shall have any claim therefor against the city by which the same is issued, except from the special assessment made for the improvement for which such bond was issued, but his remedy in case of non-payment, shall be confined to the enforcement of such assessments. A copy of this section shall be plainly written, printed or engraved on each bond so issued. L. '15 446.

§7598. Exchange of Bonds. §17. Whenever any city has heretofore issued bonds for the purpose of paying the awards, interest and costs of local improvements herein authorized, such city may, with the consent of the holders of such bonds, exchange for them bonds authorized by this act. L. '15 446.

§7599. Payment of Bond Interest—Calling in Bonds. §18. The city treasurer shall pay the interest on the bonds authorized to be issued by this act out of the respective local improvement funds from which they are payable. Whenever there shall be sufficient money in any local improvement fund against which bonds have been issued under the provisions of this act, over and above sufficient for the payment of interest on all unpaid bonds, to pay the principal of one or more bonds, the treasurer shall call in and pay such bonds. Such bonds shall be called in and paid in their numerical order, commencing with number one. Such call shall be made by publication in the city official newspaper in its first publication following the delinquency of the instalment of the assessment or as soon thereafter as is practicable, and shall state that bonds No. .... §7605. Waiver of Jury—Procedure. §51. In any proceedings under this act wherein a trial by jury is provided for, the jury may be waived as in other civil cases in courts of record in the manner prescribed by law, and the matter may be heard and determined without the intervention of a jury. Whenever an attempt is made to take private property, for a use alleged to be public under authority of this act, the question whether the contemplated use be really public shall be a judicial question and shall be determined as such by the court before inquiry is had into the question of compensation to be made. When a jury is required for the determination of any matter under this act, such jury may be the same jury summoned for the trial of ordinary civil actions before the court, or the court may, in its discretion, issue a venire to the sheriff to summon as jurors such number of qualified persons as the court shall deem sufficient. Except as herein otherwise provided, the practice and procedure under this act in the superior court and in relation to the taking of appeals and prosecution thereof, shall be the same as in other civil actions, but all appeals must be taken within thirty days from the date of rendition of the judgment appealed from. Proceedings under this act shall have precedence of all cases in court except criminal cases.

In so far as this act relates to cities of the second class, this act shall not be deemed to be exclusive or as repealing or superseding any existing law relative to such cities, covering any subject covered by this act, but as to such cities, this act shall be construed as conferring additional powers and additional remedies, to those now provided by law.

EMINENT DOMAIN—BY COUNTIES.

Roads, condemnation for §7646.

Wharves authorized §7274.

AN ACT to grant to and prescribe powers of counties relative to public works undertaken or proposed by the State of Washington or the United States, and declaring an emergency. Approved February 12, 1895. General Repeal. Laws '95 p 3.

§7609. Counties May Condemn for Public Works. §1. Every county in this state is hereby, for the purposes of this act declared to be a body corporate and is authorized and empowered by and through its board of county commissioners whenever said board shall judge it to be clearly for the general welfare and benefit of the people of the county and so far as shall be in harmony with the constitution of this state and the provisions of this act, to condemn and appropriate as hereinafter in this act provided and to dispose of for public use such lands, properties, rights and interests as are hereinafter in this act mentioned whenever the government of the United States or of this state is intending or proposing the construction, operation or maintenance of any public work situated or to be situated wholly or partly within such county, or the expenditure of money or labor for the construction, operation or maintenance of any such work and such condemnation or appropriation will enable the county to aid, promote, facilitate or prepare for any such construction, operation, maintenance or expenditure by either or both such governments or to fulfill or dispose of any condition upon which such construction, operation, maintenance or expenditure is by law or from any cause contingent, and no property shall be exempt from such condemnation, appropriation or disposition by reason of the same having been or being dedicated, appropriated or otherwise reduced or held to public use.

§7610. Tax to Pay Damages. §2. The board of county commissioners is hereby authorized and empowered in aid of the powers granted or prescribed in the foregoing section to levy, annually a tax as large as may be necessary, but not exceeding the rate of one mill on the dollar upon all the taxable property in the county, such tax to be assessed, levied and collected at the same time and in the same manner as taxes for general county purposes, but the proceeds of said taxes, when collected, shall constitute and be a special fund applicable solely to the cost of such condemnation, appropriation or disposition as is mentioned in the foregoing section and the expenses incident thereto.

§7611. Eminent Domain Extended to Counties. §3. The right of eminent domain for the purposes intended in this act is hereby extended to all counties in this state and every such county for any purpose of condemnation, appropriation or disposition such as is mentioned in the first section of this act is hereby authorized and empowered to condemn and appropriate all necessary lands and all rights, properties and interests in or appurtenant to land under the same procedure as is or shall be provided by the laws of this state for the case of any similar condemnation or appropriation by other corporations.

§7612. Is General Debt. §4. Any county purpose mentioned in this act shall be deemed and held to be a general county purpose and any indebtedness contracted or to be contracted therefor shall be deemed and held to be an indebtedness for general county purposes and all the provisions of law of this state relative to indebtedness for general county purposes or the contracting of such indebtedness or the bonds for funding the same shall be deemed applicable to any indebtedness contracted or to be contracted or any bonds issued by any county under this act but the accounts of the county with respect to the receipts and disbursements of all moneys received or disbursed by the county under the provisions of this act shall for each condemnation, appropriation and disposition be so kept as to clearly and fully exhibit such accounts separate and apart from the other accounts of the county.

§7613. Use Declared to Be a County Use. §5. Any condemnation, appropriation or disposition intended in this act shall be deemed and held to be for a county purpose and public use within the meaning of this act when it is directly or indirectly, approximately or remotely for the general benefit or welfare of the county or of the inhabitants thereof or when it is otherwise within the meaning of the phrase "for a county purpose" as occurring in the constitution of this state.

EMINENT DOMAIN—BY ELECTRIC COMPANIES.

Franchises of electric companies §4635.

Supplementary—AN ACT to extend the right of eminent domain to electric power companies, and declaring an emergency. Approved March 11, 1895. Laws '95 p 80.

§7614. Electric Power Companies May Condemn. §1. The right of eminent domain is hereby extended to all corporations incorporated or that may hereafter be incorporated under the laws of this state or any state or territory of the United States and doing business in this state, for the purpose of transmitting electric power by wire, cable or by any other means: Provided, however, That said right of eminent domain shall not be exercised in respect to any residence or business structure or structures.

§7615. Preliminary Survey. §2. Every corporation incorporated or that may hereafter be incorporated under the laws of this state or any state or territory of the United States and doing business in this state, for the purpose of transmitting electric power by wire, cable or any other means, shall have the right to enter upon any land between the termini of the proposed lines for the purpose of examining, locating and surveying such lines, doing no unnecessary damage thereby.

Court may determine whether the specific land sought is necessary. Spokane Portland Cement Co. v. Larson, State ex 71 W.

§7616. The Usual Procedure. §3. Every such corporation shall have the right, subject to the proviso contained in section one hereof, to appropriate real estate or other property for right-of-way or for any corporate purposes in the same manner and under the same procedure as now is or may be hereafter provided by law in the case of other corporations authorized by the laws of this state to exercise the right of eminent domain.

AN ACT relating to the exercise of the power of eminent domain by corporations generating and transmitting electricity and using and selling the same for light and power. Approved March 13 1907... L. '07 p 349.

§7617. Electric Companies, Disposal of Product. §1. Any corporation authorized to do business in this State, which, under the present laws of the State, is authorized to condemn property for the purpose of generating and transmitting electrical power for the operation of railroads or railways, or for municipal lighting, and which by its charter or articles of incorporation, assumes the additional right to sell electric power and electric light to private consumers outside the limits of a municipality and to sell electric power to private consumers within the limits of a municipality, which shall provide in its articles that in respect of the purposes mentioned in this section it will assume and undertake to the State and to the inhabitants thereof the duties and obligations of a public service corporation, shall be deemed to be in respect of such purposes a public service corporation, and shall be held to all the duties, obligations and control, which by law are or may be imposed upon public service corporations. Any such corporation shall have the right to sell electric light outside the limits of a municipality and electric power both inside and outside such limits to private consumers from the electricity generated and transmitted by it for public purposes and not needed by it therefor: Provided, That such corporation shall furnish such excess power at equal rates, quantity and conditions considered, to all consumers alike, and shall supply it to the first applicants therefor until the amount available shall be exhausted: Provided, further, That no such corporation shall be obliged to furnish such excess power to any one consumer to an amount exceeding twenty-five per cent of the total amount of such excess power generated or transmitted by it. In exercising the power of eminent domain for public purposes it shall not be an objection thereto that a portion of the electric current generated will be applied to private purposes, provided the principal uses intended are public: Provided, That all public service or quasi-public service corporations shall at no time sell, deliver and dispose of electrical power in bulk to manufacturing concerns at the expense of its public service functions, and any person, firm or corporation that is a patron of such corporation as to such public function, shall have the right to apply to any court of competent jurisdiction to correct any violation of the provisions of this act.

§7631. Route Across County Property. §2458.—38. When it shall be necessary or convenient in the location of any road herein mentioned to appropriate any part of any public road, street or alley, or public grounds, the county court of the county wherein such road, street, alley or public grounds may be, unless the same be within the corporate limits of a municipal corporation, is authorized to agree with the corporation constructing the road, upon the extent, terms and conditions upon which the same may be appropriated or used, and occupied by such corporation, and if such parties shall be unable to agree thereon, such corporation may appropriate so much thereof as may be necessary and convenient in the location and construction of said road.

Street cannot be but road company State ex rel. Atkinson v. Dunlap 49 W. 385.
franchise may be condemned—power of Collusion to establish road for purpose of disposal to railroad not shown, State ex rel. Murhard Estate Co. v. Superior Court Brg. Co. v. Superior Court 62 W. 96. County commissioners may sell road, 49 W. 392.

§7632. Town May Designate Route. §2459.—39. Whenever a private corporation is authorized to appropriate any public highway or grounds, as mentioned in the last section, if the same be within the limits of any town, whether incorporated or not, such corporation shall not locate their road upon such particular road, street or alley or public grounds, within such town, as the local authorities mentioned in the last section and having charge thereof, shall designate; but if such local authorities shall fail or refuse to make such designation within a reasonable time, when requested, such corporation may make such appropriation without reference thereto.

City may grant perpetual franchise or that it did not have authority as territorial one defeasible if it enforces default, but it city to grant it Seattle v. Columbia etc. can not change grade to destroy it nor say R. R. Co. 6 W. 379.

§7633. Toll Gates By Agreement. §2460.—40. Whenever such public highway or grounds is taken by a private corporation by agreement with the local authorities mentioned in section four [§2458], such corporation may place such gates thereon, and charge and receive such tolls thereat as such local authorities may consent to by such agreement, and none other; but when the same is appropriated without such agreement, as provided in said section five, such corporation shall not place any gate or other obstruction upon the public highway, or grounds appropriated, nor charge or receive any toll from any person passing over or along the same.

§7635. Bridges and Ferries Over Streams. §2462.—42. All streams or other waters upon the line of such roads, shall be safely and securely bridged, except where the county court of the county wherein the line of such road may cross such streams or other waters; or if such stream or other water form the boundary between two counties, then the county court of either of said counties may authorize the corporation to place a ferry boat upon such stream or other water, to be kept and run for such toll as the county court may prescribe, and in the manner required of ferries established under the general statutes in relation to ferries; or except where such county court may authorize such corporation to connect their road with a ferry now or hereafter established over such stream or other water under the general statute in relation to ferries.

§7636. Notice of Opening Toll Road. §2463.—43. Whenever a road of any kind herein mentioned, other than a railroad, is completed, or any particular section of it, fit for public travel, the corporation shall give notice thereof, by publication in some newspaper of general circulation, along the line of such road or section, or by posting notices along such line in some conspicuous places, not less than five miles apart; and thereafter such road or section thereof is a common highway, so that every person with his stock and vehicles of every description may travel thereon upon the payment of the tolls prescribed by the corporation, subject to the power of the corporation, by giving notice thereof in like manner, to suspend such right of travel upon all or any portion of such road, for a reasonable time, to enable it to make any necessary repairs or improvements thereon.

§7637. Tolls to Be Posted. §2464.—44. A corporation other than railroad shall only collect and receive toll on its road at a gate established thereon, and such shall be plainly and specifically printed or written upon a signboard, posted at such gate, in plain view of the travel on the road; but such corporation shall not establish any gate within the limits of any town, whether incorporated or not, or within one-half mile of the limits of such town, except as specially provided in section 2460; but no person, traveling on foot, or going in any manner or within any property, from one part of his farm to another part, or going to or from church, funerals or elections, is liable to pay for traveling upon such roads.

§7638. Fraud on Keeper. §2465.—45. Any person traveling upon any road herein mentioned, who shall pass through a gate thereon without paying the toll legally chargeable thereat, or who shall go around such gate with the intent to avoid the payment of such toll, shall be liable to the corporation for three times the amount thereof, and any corporation, which by its agents or servants, or in any manner, shall illegally collect any toll from any person traveling on such roads, shall be liable to such person for three times the amount thereof.

§7639. Notice of Opening Bridge. §2466.—46. Any bridge constructed by a corporation formed under this act, when completed and fit for public travel, and notice thereof is posted in some conspicuous place on such bridge or by publication in some newspaper, as in the case of a road, is a common highway, within the meaning and subject to the conditions specified in section nine [§2463], as to roads, and subject to the further power of the corporation to prescribe, by advertisement in some conspicuous place on such bridge, the rate of speed any one may travel on such bridge.

$7640. Tolls to Be Posted. §2467.—47. A corporation may collect and receive such tolls for crossing its bridge, as may be plainly written or printed upon a signboard, posted in some conspicuous place on such bridge, but no person not liable to pay toll on a road, as provided in section ten [§2464], is liable to pay toll for crossing such bridge; and any person who shall pass over such bridge without paying the toll legally chargeable thereat, or any corporation which shall illegally collect any toll from any persons crossing such bridge, shall be respectively liable to each other for three times the amount of such toll, as provided in section eleven [§2465], in case of roads.

$7641. Railroad Rates. §2468.—48. Every corporation formed under this act for the construction of railroads, as to such roads shall be deemed common carriers, and shall have power to collect and receive such tolls or freights for transportation of persons or property thereon as it may prescribe.

$7642. Toll Road Shall Keep Construction Account. §2469.—49. It shall be the duty of every incorporation organized for the construction of any macadamized road, plank road, clay road, or bridge, to keep an accurate statement on account of the moneys expended by said corporation, in the construction of any such road or bridge and keeping the same in repair, including any sums paid for lands, appropriated as necessary for said corporation, which statement or account shall be verified at the time of the annual meeting held for the election of directors, by the president of the said corporation, or one of the directors thereof, to the effect that he believes the said account to be just and correct, and a copy of such verified account shall, within ten days after such annual election, be deposited with the auditor of the county with whom the articles of incorporation are filed. Said incorporation shall also keep an accurate account of the tolls received for traveling upon said road or bridge, or of other profits accruing to said corporation, which accounts shall be verified in like manner, and a copy thereof deposited with said county auditor within ten days after such annual election.

$7643. County May Purchase. §2470.—50. At any time after the expiration of ten years from the time of taking tolls on any macadamized road, plank road, clay road, or bridge, it shall be lawful for the county court of any county through which any such road, or part thereof, shall pass or in which said bridge may be situated, to pay to such corporation the amount of money expended by it in the construction of such road or bridge, and keeping the same in repair, and all other necessary expenses, including any sums paid for lands appropriated by such corporation together with interest on said account, and sums of money, at the rate of twenty per centum per annum, after deducting from said amount the tolls and other profits annually received by said corporation, and after the payment of the amounts expended in constructing and keeping in repairs said road or bridge, and other necessary expenses incurred in and about the same and interest thereon, less the amount received by such corporation, the said road or bridge shall become free for public travel.

$7644. — At Any Time. §2471.—51. The foregoing section shall not be construed so as to prohibit said county court, at any time before the expiration of said period of ten years, from purchasing said road or bridge, for any sum that may be agreed upon by said county court and corporation.

$7645. Canal Companies May Condemn. §2472.—52. All corporations, authorized to do business in the state, and who have been, or may hereafter be organized, for the purpose of erecting and maintaining flumes or aqueducts to convey water for consumption or for mining, irrigation, milling or other industrial purposes, shall have the same right to appropriate lands for necessary corporate purposes, and under the same regulations and instructions as are provided for other corporations; and such corporations organized for such purposes, in order to carry out the object of their incorporation, are authorized to take and use any water not otherwise legally appropriated.

§7647. Service of Summons. §2. A notice stating briefly the objects of the petition, and containing a description of the land, real estate, premises or property sought to be appropriated and stating the time and place, when and where the same will be presented to the court, or the judge thereof, shall be served on each and every person named therein, as owner, incumbrancer, tenant or otherwise interested therein, at least ten days previous to the time designated in such notice, for the presentation of such petition. Such service shall be made by delivering a copy of such notice to each of the persons or parties so named therein, if a resident of the state, or in case of the absence of such person or party from his or her usual place of abode, by leaving a copy of such notice at his or her usual place of abode, or in case of a foreign corporation at its principal place of business in this state with some person of more than sixteen years of age. In case of domestic corporations such service shall be made upon the president, secretary or other director or trustee of such corporation. In case of minors, on their guardians, or in case no guardian shall have been appointed, then on the person who has the care and custody of such minor; in case of idiots, lunatics or distracted persons, on their guardian, or in case no guardian shall have been appointed, then on the person in whose care or charge they are found. In case the land, real estate, premises, or other property sought to be appropriated is state, school or county land, the notice shall be served on the auditor of the county in which the land, real estate, premises or other property sought to be appropriated is situated. In all cases where the owner or person claiming an interest in such real or other property is a non-resident of this state, or where the residence of such owner or person is unknown, and an affidavit of the agent or attorney of the corporation shall be filed that such owner or person is a non-resident of this state, or that after diligent inquiry, his residence is unknown or can not be ascertained by such deponent, service may be made by publication thereof in any newspaper published in the county where such land is situated, once a week for two successive weeks; and in case no newspaper is published in said county, then such publication may be had in a newspaper published in the county nearest to the county in which lies the land sought to be appropriated. And such publication shall be deemed service upon each of such non-resident person or persons whose residence is unknown. Such notice shall be signed by the president, manager, secretary or attorney of the corporation; and in case the proceedings provided for in this act are instituted by the owner or any other person or party interested in the land, real estate, or other property sought to be appropriated, then such notice shall be signed by such owner, person or party interested, or his, her or its attorney. Such notice may be served by any competent person over twenty-one years of age. Due proof of the service of such notice by affidavit of the person serving the same, or by the printer's affidavit of publication, shall be filed with the clerk of such superior court before or at the time of the presentation of such petition. Want of service of such notice shall render the subsequent proceedings void as to the person not served, but all persons or parties having been served with notice as herein provided, either by publication or otherwise, shall be bound by the subsequent proceedings. In all other cases not otherwise provided for, service of notices, orders and other papers in the proceedings authorized by this act, may be made as the superior court or the judge thereof may direct.

§7651. Assessment of Damages—Judgment. §5. A judge of the superior court shall preside at the trial which shall be held at such time as the court, or the judge thereof, may direct, at the court house in the county where the land, real estate, premises or other property sought to be appropriated is situated, and the jurors at such trial, shall make in each case a separate assessment of damages which shall result to any person, corporation or company, or to the state, or to any county by reason of the appropriation and use of such land, real estate, premises or other property by such corporation as aforesaid for any and all corporate purposes, and shall ascertain, determine and award the amount of damages to be paid to said owner or owners respectively, and to all tenants, incumbrancers and others interested, for the taking or injuriously affecting such land, real estate, premises or other property for the purpose of such enterprise, irrespective of any benefit from any improvement proposed by such corporation. Upon the trial witnesses may be examined in behalf of either party to the proceedings as in civil actions, and a witness served with a subpoena in such proceedings shall be punished for failure to appear at such trial, or for perjury as upon a trial of a civil action. Upon the verdict of the jury, judgment shall be entered for the amount of the damages awarded to such owner or owners respectively, and to all tenants, incumbrancers and others interested, for the taking or injuriously affecting such land, real estate, premises or other property. In case a jury is waived as in civil cases in courts of record in the manner prescribed by law, the compensation to be paid for the property sought to be appropriated shall be ascertained and determined by the court, or the judge thereof, and the proceedings shall be the same as in trials of an issue of fact by the court.

Costs cannot be taxed against owner in lower court but may on appeal, Kitsap County v. Melker 52 W. 49.

$7654. — Claim for. §8. Any person, corporation, state or county claiming to be entitled to any money paid into court, as provided in this act, may apply to the court therefor, and upon furnishing evidence satisfactory to the court that he or it is entitled to the same, the court shall make an order directing the payment to such claimant the portion of such money as he or it shall be found entitled to; but if, upon application the court, or judge thereof, shall decide that the title to the land, real estate, premises or other property specified in the application of such claimant was in such condition as to require that an action be commenced to determine the conflicting claims thereto, he shall refuse such order until such action is commenced, and the conflicting claims to such land, real estate, premises or other property be determined according to law.

$7655. Appeal. §9. Either party may appeal from the judgment for damages entered in the superior court to the supreme court of the state within thirty days after the entry of judgment as aforesaid, and such appeal shall bring before the supreme court the propriety and justness of the amount of damages in respect to the parties to the appeal: Provided however, That no bond shall be required of any person interested in the property sought to be appropriated by such corporation, but in case the corporation appropriating such land, real estate, premises or other property is appellant, it shall give a bond like that prescribed in the next following section, to be executed, filed and approved in the same manner: And provided further, That if the owner of the land, real estate, premises or other property accepts the sum awarded by the jury, the court, or the judge thereof, he shall be deemed thereby to have waived conclusively an appeal to the supreme court, and final judgment by default may be rendered in the superior court as in other cases. §7662. Service of Notice. §2. A notice, stating briefly the objects of the petition, and containing a description of the land, real estate, premises or property sought to be acquired and appropriated, and stating the time and place, when and where the same will be presented to the court, or the judge thereof, shall be served on each and every person named therein as owner, incumbrancer, tenant or otherwise interested therein, at least ten days previous to the time designated in such notice for the presentation of such petition. Such service shall be made by delivering a copy of such notice to each of the persons or parties so named therein, if a resident of the state; or, in case of the absence of such person or party from his or her usual place of abode, by leaving a copy of such notice at his or her usual place of abode; or, in case of a foreign corporation, at its principal place of business in this state, with some person of more than sixteen years of age. In case of domestic corporations, such service shall be made upon the president, secretary or other director or trustee of such corporation. In case of minors, on their guardians, or in case no guardian shall have been appointed then on the person who has the care and custody of such minor; in case of idiots, lunatics or distracted persons, on their guardians, or in case no guardian shall have been appointed, then on the person in whose care or charge they are found. In case the land, real estate, premises or other property sought to be appropriated is school or county land, the notice shall be served on the auditor of the county in which the land, real estate, premises or other property sought to be acquired and appropriated is situated. In all cases where the owner or person claiming an interest in such real estate or other property, is a non-resident of this state, or where the residence of such owner or person is unknown, and an affidavit of the attorney general shall be filed that such owner or person is a non-resident of this state, or that after diligent inquiry his residence is unknown or cannot be ascertained, service may be made by publication thereof in any newspaper published in the county where such lands are situated once a week for two successive weeks; and in case no newspaper is published in said county, then such publication may be had in a newspaper published in the county nearest the county in which lies the land sought to be acquired and appropriated. And such publication shall be deemed service upon each of such non-resident person or persons whose residence is unknown. Such notice shall be signed by the attorney general of the State of Washington. Such notice may be served by any competent person over twenty-one years of age. Due proof of the service of such notice by affidavit of the person serving the same, or by the printer's affidavit of publication, shall be filed with the clerk of such superior court before or at the time of the presentation of such petition. Want of service of such notice shall render the subsequent proceedings void as to the person not served, but all persons or parties having been served with notice as herein provided, either by publication or otherwise shall be bound by the subsequent proceedings. In all other cases not otherwise provided for, service of notices, order and other papers in the proceedings authorized by this act may be made as the superior court or judge thereof may direct.

§7663. Continuance. §3. The court or judge may, upon application of the said attorney general, or any owner or party interested, for reasonable cause, adjourn the proceedings from time to time, and may order new or further notice to be given to any party whose interest may be affected.

§7664. Hearing. §4. At the time and place appointed for hearing said petition, or to which the same may have been adjourned, if the court or judge thereof shall have satisfactory proof that all parties interested in the land, real estate, premises or other property, described in said petition, have been duly served with said notice as above prescribed, and shall be further satisfied by competent proof that the contemplated use for which the land, real estate, premises or other property sought to be appropriated is really necessary for the public use of the State of Washington, the court or judge thereof may make an order, to be recorded in the minutes of said court, directing the sheriff to summon from the citizens of the county in which such land, real estate, premises or other property sought to be acquired or appropriated shall be situated, as many qualified persons as may be necessary in order to form a jury of twelve persons, unless the parties to the proceedings consent to a less number (such number to be not less than three), and such consent shall be entered by the clerk in the minutes of the trial. If necessary to complete the jury, the sheriff, under the direction of the court or judge thereof, shall summon as many qualified persons as may be required to complete the jury from the bystanders, citizens of the county where the land, real estate, premises or other property is situated.

§7665. Assessment of Damages—Conduct of Trial. §5. A judge of the superior court shall preside at the trial which shall be held at such time as the court, or the judge thereof may direct, at the court house in the county where the land, real estate, premises or other property sought to be appropriated or acquired is situated, and the jurors at such trial shall make in each case a separate assessment of damages which shall result to any person, corporation or company, or to any county by reason of the appropriation and use of such land, real estate, premises or other property, and shall ascertain, determine and award the amount of damage to be paid said owner or owners respectively, and to all tenants, incumbrancers and others interested for taking such land, real estate, premises or other property so taken. Upon the trial, witnesses may be examined in behalf of either party to the proceedings as in civil actions; and a witness served with a subpoena in such proceedings shall be punished for failure to appear at such trial or for perjury as upon a trial of a civil action. Upon the verdict of the jury, judgment shall be entered for the amount of the damages awarded to such owner or owners, respectively, and to all tenants, incumbrancers and others interested for taking such land, real estate or premises. In case a jury is waived as in civil cases in courts of record in the manner prescribed by law, the compensation to be paid for the property sought to be appropriated shall be ascertained and determined by the court, or the judge thereof, and the proceedings shall be the same as in trials of an issue of fact by the court.

directing them when unintentionally done

§7666. Judgment. §6. At the time of rendering judgment for damages whether upon default or trial, the court, or judge thereof, shall also enter a judgment or decree of appropriation of the land, real estate or premises sought to be appropriated, thereby vesting the legal title to the same in the State of Washington. Whenever said judgment or decree of appropriation is made, a certified copy of such judgment or decree of appropriation may be filed for record in the office of the auditor of the county where the said land, real estate or other premises are situated, and shall be recorded by said auditor like a deed of real estate, and with like effect.

Award paid by warrants when no appropriation or fund exhausted, State ex rel Peel v. Clausen 94 W. 166.

§7667. Damages; How Paid. §7. Upon the entry of judgment upon the verdict of the jury or the decision of the court, or judge thereof, awarding damages as hereinbefore prescribed, the State of Washington may make payment of the damages assessed to the parties entitled to the same, and of the costs of the proceedings, by depositing the same with the clerk of said superior court, to be paid out under the direction of the court, or the judge thereof; and upon making such payment into the court of the damages assessed and allowed, and of the costs to any land, real estate, premises or other property mentioned in said petition, said State of Washington shall be released and discharged from any and all further liability therefor, unless upon appeal the owner or party interested shall recover a greater amount of damages: and in that case only for the amount in excess of the sum paid into said court, and the costs of appeal: Provided, That in case of an appeal to the supreme court of the state by any party to the proceedings, the money so paid into the superior court by the state as aforesaid, shall remain in the custody of said court until the final determination of the proceedings by the said supreme court.

§7668. Payment of Damages Jointly. §8. Any person, corporation or county, claiming to be entitled to any money paid into court, as provided in this act, may apply to the court therefor, and upon furnishing evidence satisfactory to the court that he or it is entitled to the same, the court shall make an order directing the payment to such claimant the portion of such money as he or it shall be found entitled to; but if, upon application, the court or judge thereof should decide that the title to the land, real estate, or premises, specified in the application of such claimant was in such condition as to require that an action be commenced to determine the conflicting claims thereto, he shall refuse such order until such action is commenced and the conflicting claims to such land, real estate or premises be determined according to law.

Procedure not exclusive if fund has been paid into court, State ex Smith v. Court, 71 W. 354.

§7669. Appeal. §9. Either party may appeal from the judgment for damages entered in the superior court, to the supreme court of the state, within thirty days after the entry of judgment as aforesaid, and such appeal shall bring before the supreme court the propriety and justness of the amount of damages in respect to the parties to the appeal: Provided, however That upon such appeal no bond shall be required: And provided further, That if the owner of the land, the real estate, or premises, accepts the sum awarded by the jury, the court or the judge thereof, he shall be deemed thereby to have waived conclusively an appeal to the supreme court, and final judgment by default may be rendered in the superior court as in other cases: Provided further, That no appeal shall operate so as to prevent the said State of Washington from taking possession of such property pending such appeal after the amount of said award shall have been paid into court.

§7670. State Auditor Shall Draw Warrant. §10. Whenever the attorney general shall file with the auditor of this state a certificate setting forth the amount of any award found against the State of Washington under the provisions of this act, together with the costs of said proceeding, and a description of the lands and premises sought to be appropriated and acquired, and the title of the action or proceeding in which said award is rendered it shall be the duty of the state auditor to forthwith issue a warrant upon the state treasury to the order of the attorney general in a sum sufficient to make payment in money of said award, and the costs of said proceeding, and thereupon it shall be the duty of said attorney general to forthwith pay to the clerk of said court in money the amount of said award and costs.

AN ACT relating to the exercise of the power of eminent domain for military purposes, by the state, by counties and by cities. Approved March 15, 1917. Laws '17 p 620.

§7671. Military Purposes—Certificate of Necessity. §1. Whenever the governor, as commander-in-chief of the military of this state, shall deem it necessary to acquire any lands, real estate, premises or other property for any military purpose or purposes of this state, either to add to, enlarge, increase or otherwise improve state military facilities now or hereafter existing or to establish new facilities, the acquisition of which shall have been provided for by the state, by a county or by a city, or by either, all or any thereof, upon certificate by the governor of such necessity, proceedings for the condemnation, appropriation and taking of the lands, real estate, premises or other property so certified to be necessary shall be taken as follows:

Proceedings by State. Where the state is to pay the purchase price it shall be the duty of the attorney general, upon receipt by him of said certificate of the governor, to file a petition in the superior court for the county in which such lands, real estate, premises or other property may be situate praying such condemnation, appropriating and taking, which petition shall be prosecuted to a final determination in the manner by law provided for other condemnation suits brought by or on behalf of the state;

By County. Where a county is to pay the purchase price it shall be the duty of the prosecuting attorney of said county, upon receipt by him of said certificate of the governor, to file a petition in the superior court for said county praying such condemnation, appropriation and taking, which petition shall be prosecuted to a final determination in the manner by law provided for other condemnation suits brought by or on behalf of a county;

By City—Joinder of State, County and City. Where a city is to pay the purchase price it shall be the duty of the corporation counsel, city attorney or other head of the legal department of said city, upon receipt by him of said certificate of the governor, to file a petition in the superior court for the county in which said city is situate, praying such condemnation, appropriation and taking, which petition shall be prosecuted to a final determination in the manner by law provided for other condemnation suits brought by or on behalf of such city;

Where the purchase price is to be paid by the state, a county and a city or by the state and a county, or by the state and a city, or by a county and a city, the condemnation shall be prosecuted to a final determination in the manner by law provided for either or any thereof, as the governor may determine, which determination shall be final and conclusive.

§7672. Condemnation for Federal Purposes. §2. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as in any manner applying to condemnation by any county for the purpose of acquiring title to any site for a mobilization, training and supply station, to be donated by any county to the United States.

§7674. Classification and Appraisal. §2. That all lands of this state over which a right-of-way of any railroad company may now or hereafter be located shall be classified and appraised as hereinafter provided, and the State Board of Land Commissioners shall constitute and serve as the board of appraisers mentioned in section 2 of article XVI of the constitution of this state.

§7675. Price Per Acre. §3. That upon the filing of said list or maps by said company as herein provided, said Board of State Land Commissioners are hereby authorized and directed to ascertain and classify the lands affected by, to be used for and included within the aforesaid right-of-way, and shall thereupon fix the price per acre for each lot or block, quarter section and subdivision thereof, less the improvements, if any, so affected by, used for and included within said right-of-way, which price shall be the full market value thereof but not to be less than ten dollars per acre.

§7676. Separate Appraisal of Improvements on Rights of Way—Deposit with Land Commissioner—Award to Claimant—Settlement for Damages to Other Parties. §4. Should any improvements made as of right and with license from the State of Washington be upon any of such lands at the time of said appraisalment, the board of state land commissioners shall separately appraise the same together with the damage and waste done to said lands by the use and occupancy of the same or to adjacent lands and after deducting from the amount of appraisalment for improvements the amount of such damage and waste the balance shall be determined and regarded as the value of said improvements, and the railroad company if not the owner of such improvements shall deposit with the commissioner of public lands the value of the same as shown by said appraisalment within thirty days next following the date thereof. The commissioner of public lands shall hold such moneys for the period of three months, and unless a demand and proof of the ownership of such improvements shall be made to the commissioner of public lands within said period of three months the same shall be deemed forfeited to the state and deposited with the state treasurer and paid into the general fund of the state. If two or more persons shall, within said period of three months, file claims of the ownership of the said improvements with the commissioner of public lands, the commissioner shall hold such moneys until a certified copy of a judgment decreeing the ownership of said improvements shall be filed with him. When a certified copy of a judgment has been so filed with the commissioner of public lands, he shall pay to the owner thereof, as decreed by said judgment, the appraised value of said improvements. Where said right of way affects the improvements of any person other than the person owning improvements on said right of way or entitled thereto under existing law the applicant for said right of way shall file with the commissioner of public lands a valid release of damages duly executed by such owner or owners, or a certified copy of a judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction showing that the damages resulting to such owner or owners, ascertained in accordance with existing law, has been made or paid into the registry of such court. L. '15 405, R.&B. §6836.

§7677. Record of Appraisalment—Notice to County Commissioners. §5. When said appraisalment is made it shall be recorded in the proceedings of said Board of State Land Commissioners and the evidence or report upon which the same is based shall be preserved of record in the office of the Board of State Land Commissioners and the Commissioner of Public Lands shall prepare a certificate of said appraisalment in duplicate, one of which he shall file in his office and the other transmit to the auditor of the county in which the lands affected by said rights-of-way are located; and shall send a notice to the railroad company availing itself of the provisions of this act that such appraisalment has been made. The board of county commissioners of any county where the said right-of-way is situate shall be forthwith served with notice of appraisalment. A copy of said appraisalment shall be forthwith filed with the board of county commissioners of any county in which the land is situated.

§7678. Appeal. §6. Within thirty days after the appraisalment of said lands, as aforesaid, the board of county commissioners of any county in which the right-of-way is situate, or any person, company or corporation may appeal from the same to the Superior Court of the county in which the right-of-way affected by the appeal is situate; but if the applicant is the party appealing, he or it must deposit the amount of the appraisalment in the registry of the court to which the appeal is taken. All apocals shall be heard and determined by the court de novo. The taking of an appeal shall not prevent the use of the land affected thereby for right-of-way purposes during the prosecution of the appeal. All costs on appeal shall be paid by the applicant.

Appeals from state land commissioners generally, 477 §159.

§7679. Future Grants Subject to Easement—Right of Way Certificate. §7. Upon full payment of the value of such easement ascertained as aforesaid, any future grant or lease by the state of the lands affected by said right of way shall be subject to the easements obtained under the provisions of this act: Provided, however, That before any such easement shall become effective a right of way certificate shall be issued to said railway company by the commissioner of public lands, in which the terms and conditions of such easement shall be set forth and the lands covered thereby described. Such certificate shall be in such form as the commissioner of public lands may prescribe. L. 15 405, R.&B. §6839.

§7680. Other Laws Saved. §8. Nothing contained in this act shall be deemed to in any way conflict with any existing law of this state relating to the method by which railroad companies may acquire rights-of-way. No pending condemnation proceeding nor right claimed therein shall be affected in any way by the provisions of this act.

Approved March 17, 1911. Laws '11 p 506.

§7681. Logging Etc. Companies. §1. That all state lands hereafter granted, sold or leased containing timber, stone, mineral or other products or when other state lands contiguous or in proximity thereto contain valuable timber, stone, mineral or other products, shall be subject to the right of the state, or any grantee or lessee thereof hereafter acquiring such other lands, or acquiring the timber, stone, mineral or other products thereon, to acquire the right of way over such lands so granted, for private railroads, skid roads, flumes, canals, watercourses or other easements for the purpose of and to be used in the transporting and moving of such timber, stone, mineral or other product from such other lands, over and across the lands so granted or leased, upon the state or its grantee paying to the owner of the lands so granted, sold or leased reasonable compensation therefor. In case the parties interested cannot agree upon the damages incurred, the same shall be ascertained and assessed in the same manner as damages are ascertained and assessed against a railroad seeking to condemn private property.

§7682. All Rights-of-Way Servient—Rates. §2. Every grant, deed, conveyance, lease or contract hereafter made to any person, firm or corporation over and across any state lands for the purpose of right of way for any private railroad, skid road, flume, canal, water-course or other easement to be used in the hauling of timber, stone, mineral or other products of the land, shall be subject to the right of the state or any grantee thereof or other person owning or hereafter acquiring any lands containing valuable timber, stone, mineral or other products contiguous to or in proximity thereto, or hereafter acquiring the timber, stone, mineral or other product situate upon state lands so contiguous or in close proximity to the said lands, over which said right of way or easement is acquired having such timber, stone, mineral or other product transported or moved over such railroad, skid road, flume, canal, watercourse or other easement after the same is or has been put in operation upon paying therefor just and reasonable rates for transportation or for the use of such railroad, skid road, flume, canal, watercourse or other easement and upon complying with just, reasonable and proper rules affecting such transportation, which rates, rules and regulations shall be under the supervision and control of the railroad commission of Washington.

§7683. Common Carrier. §3. Any person, firm or corporation hereafter acquiring the right of way or other easement over state lands or over any tide or shore land belonging to the state or over or across any navigable water or stream for the purpose of transporting or moving timber, stone, mineral or other products, and engaged in such business thereon, shall accord to the state or any grantee thereof hereafter acquiring lands containing valuable timber, stone, mineral or other products contiguous and in proximity thereto, or any person, firm or corporation hereafter acquiring the timber, stone, mineral or other products situate upon state lands so contiguous and in proximity to the lands over which said right of way or easement is operated, proper and reasonable facilities and service for the transportation and moving of such timber, stone, mineral and other products under reasonable rules and regulations and upon payment of just and reasonable charges therefor, or, if such right of way or other easement is not then in use to have the right to use such right of way or easement for transporting and moving such products under such reasonable rules and regulations and upon payment of just and reasonable charges therefor

§7684. Appeal on Rates. §4. Should the owner or operator of any private line of railroad, skid road, flume, canal, watercourse or other easement operating over lands hereafter acquired from the state, as in this act set out, fail to agree with the state or with any subsequent grantee thereof as to the reasonable and proper rules regulations and charges concerning the transportation of timber, stone, mineral or other products, from lands contiguous or in proximity of the lands over which the right of way or easement is granted, for carrying and transporting such products or for the use of the railroad, skid road, flume, canal, watercourse or other easement in transporting such product, the state or such person, firm or corporation owning and desiring to ship such products may apply to the railroad commission and have the reasonableness of the rules, regulations and charges inquired into and it shall be the duty of the railroad commission to inquire into the same in the same manner and it is hereby given the same power and authority to investigate the same as it is now authorized to investigate and inquire into the rules and regulations and charges made by railroads and is authorized and empowered to make such order as it would make in an inquiry against a railroad, and in case such railroad, skid road, flume, canal, watercourse or other easement is not then in use, may make such reasonable, proper and just rules and regulations concerning the use thereof for the purposes aforesaid as may be just and proper and such order shall have the same force and effect and be binding upon the parties to such hearing as though such hearing and order was made affecting a railroad.

§7685. Failure to Comply—Penalty. §5. In case any person, firm or corporation owning and operating any private railroad, skid road, flume, canal, watercourse or other easement over and across lands hereafter acquired from the state obtained subject to the provisions of this act shall fail to comply with any rule, regulation or order made by the railroad commission after an inquiry as provided for in the preceding section, such person, firm or corporation shall be subject to a penalty not exceeding one thousand dollars for each and every violation thereof, and in addition thereto such right of way, railroad, skid road, flume, canal, watercourse or other easement and all improvements and structures on such right of way and connected therewith, shall revert to the State of Washington and may be recovered by it in an action instituted in any court of competent jurisdiction.

§7687. Land Commissioner Notified—Width. §2. In order to obtain the benefits of this grant the municipal corporation, company, association or individuals constructing or proposing to construct such ditch, flume, pipe line, telephone line or transmission line, for the purpose of generating or transmitting electricity, shall file with the board of state land commissioners a map, accompanied by the field notes of the survey and location of the proposed ditch, flume, pipe line, transmission line, or telephone line, and shall pay to the state as hereinafter provided the amount of the appraised value of said lands and improvements, if any, used for or included within said right of way. The land within said right of way shall be limited to an amount necessary for the construction of said ditch, flume, pipe line, transmission line or telephone line sufficient for the purpose required, together with sufficient land on either side thereof for ingress and egress to maintain and repair the same, and shall include the right to cut all standing timber within a radius of 200 feet on either side of said ditch, flume, pipe line, transmission line, or telephone line, which shall be dangerous to the operation and maintenance of the same. L '19 ch 97; R&B, §6849.

§7688. Valuation. §3. Upon the filing of the plat and field notes as herein provided, said Board of State Land Commissioners are hereby authorized and directed to ascertain the value of the land and improvements, if any to be used for or included in said right-of-way and the value of all merchantable timber so cut, or to be cut all of which shall be the full value thereof.

§7689. Reversion. §4. Upon full payment of the value of such easement ascertained as aforesaid, any future grant or lease by the state of the lands affected by such right-of-way shall be subject to the easement obtained under the provisions of this act: Provided, however, That should the company, association or individual securing said easement ever abandon same for the purposes contemplated in this act the said right-of-way shall revert to the state.

§7690. Act Concurrent. §5. Nothing contained in the four preceding sections shall be deemed to in any way conflict with any existing laws of this state relating to the methods of acquiring rights of way for ditches, flumes, pipe lines, transmission lines or telephone lines for the purposes therein specified. L '19 ch 97; R&B, §6852.

AN ACT providing for and giving and granting the right, privilege and authority to perpetually back water upon, overflow and inundate with water, lands belonging to the State of Washington, in the erection, construction, maintenance or operation of water power plants, reservoirs, or works for impounding water, for power purposes, irrigation, mining, or other public use. Approved March 11 1907. Laws '07 p 233.

§7691. Right to Overflow State Lands. §1. The board of state land commissioners is authorized to grant any person or corporation the right, privilege, power and authority to perpetually back and hold water upon and over any land belonging to the State of Washington, and to overflow any such land and inundate the same, if said board deems it necessary for the purpose of erecting, constructing, maintaining or operating any water power plant, reservoir or works for impounding water for power purposes, irrigation, mining or other public use. §7702. Rights of Riparian Proprietors. §2. All persons who claim, own or hold possessory right or title to any land, or parcel of land or mining claim within the boundaries of the State of Washington, when such lands, mining claims or any part of the same are on the banks of any natural stream of water, shall be entitled to the use of any water of said stream not otherwise appropriated for the purposes of mining and irrigation to the full extent of the soil for agricultural purposes.

Act valid—semi-arid lands—gravity and pumping—speculative purposes, State ex rel. Galbraith v. Superior Court 59 W. 621.

§7703. Rights of Non-Riparian Proprietors. §3. When any person owning claims, lands or mining claims as specified in the foregoing section, is not a riparian proprietor or being such has not sufficient frontage on said stream, lake, artificial stream, ditch or reservoir, to obtain a sufficient flow of water to irrigate his land or use on his mining claim, he shall be entitled to the right of way through the farms or tracts of lands or other mining claims which lie between him and said stream, lake, artificial stream, ditch or reservoir, or the farms tracts of lands or mining claims which lie above and below him on said stream, lake, artificial stream, ditch or reservoir.

Lower riparian owner may not divert water appropriated by upper riparian owner, Miller v. Baker, 68 W. 19.

§7704. Extent of Right-of-Way. §4. Such right-of-way shall extend only to a ditch sufficient for the purpose required, together with the right of ingress and egress to construct, maintain and repair the same; and whenever any person or persons find it necessary to convey water for the purposes of irrigation or mining through the improved or occupied lands of another, he or they shall select for the line of such ditch through such property the shortest and most direct route practicable upon which can be constructed with uniform or nearly uniform grade, and discharging the water at a point where it can be conveyed to and used upon the land or lands or mining claim of the person or persons constructing such ditch canal or works.

§7705. Condemnation on Refusal of Owner. §5. Upon the refusal of the owner of the lands, lessees or those in possession, through which it is proposed to run said canal ditch or works to permit the passage of the same through their property, the person or persons desiring the right-of-way for such ditch canal or works may proceed to condemn and take the right-of-way therefor, as hereinafter provided.

§7706. Complaint—Summons—Trial—Judgment. §6. In case of the refusal of the owners or claimants of any lands or mining claims through which such ditch, canal or other works are proposed to be made or constructed, to allow the right-of-way or the passage thereof, the persons, company or corporation desiring the right-of-way shall file in the superior court of the county, a complaint describing the land or mining claim to be crossed, the size of the ditch, canal or works, the quantity of land required to be taken and the value of the land and damages to the property, setting forth the names of the owners or reputed owners or parties interested in the lands to be crossed, and praying that the right-of-way be granted. A summons shall issue and be served on all parties interested, as in all other cases of civil nature. In case the defendant fails to appear the court shall when the cause shall come on to be heard impanel a jury in the cause, and they shall determine the value of the land occupied by said ditch, canal or works and the damages, and, upon the return of the verdict, the court shall enter a decree, directing that the right-of-way for the ditch, canal or works be established according to the description in the complaint, and that the plaintiff shall pay to the clerk of the court the full amount of the value of the land and damages found by the jury, before the plaintiff shall begin work on said ditch, canal or works.

Acts looking to an appropriation of water will not make a belated posting of the required notice relate back so as to give a back—rights under, Kendall v. Joyce 48 W. 489.

§7712. — Improvements Must Be Commenced. §3. If said use is by storage, the appropriator must within three months after the notice is posted, commence the construction of the works by which it is intended to store the same. If said use is by diversion, the appropriator must within six months after the notice is posted, commence the excavation or construction of the works by which it is intended to divert the same; it being herein expressly provided, that such works must be diligently and continuously prosecuted to completion, unless temporarily interrupted by the elements.

Time necessary for condemnations ac- Locator failed to do necessary work, counted diligence, Grant Realty Co. v. Spokane Portland Cement Co. v. Larson Hamm, Yeardsley & Ryrle 96 W. 616. 71 W. 301.

§7713. When Right Commences With Notice. §4. By a strict compliance with the above rules the appropriator's rights to the use of the water actually stored or diverted, relates back to the time the notice was posted; but a failure to comply therewith deprives the appropriator of the right to the use of the water as against a subsequent appropriator who faithfully complies with the same.

§7714. Present Claimants Must Proceed With Work. §5. Persons who have heretofore appropriated water and have not constructed works or have not diverted the water and applied it to some purpose as herein stated, must within thirty days after this act takes effect, proceed as in this act provided, or their right ceases.

§7715. Assignment of Right. §6. The right to the use of water acquired by appropriation may be transferred like other property by deed. The county auditor of each county in this state, must keep a book in which he must record the notices provided for in this act.

§7716. Vested Rights Saved. §7. Appropriations of water heretofore made for any of the purposes in this act provided are hereby recognized, but this act shall not be construed to interfere with vested rights.

§7717. How Act Shall Apply. §8. The provisions of sections 2, 3, 4, and 5 shall only apply to appropriations of water made for irrigation, and shall not apply to appropriations for irrigation made prior to the passage of this act, nor to water rights existing at the date of the passage of this act: Provided That in appropriations for irrigation begun but not completed prior to the passage of this act, the appropriator shall comply with the provisions of said sections 2, 3, 4 and 5: And further provided That said sections shall not interfere with the vested rights of any irrigation district now organized.

§7718. Use of Water May Be Changed. §9. Water appropriated for any of the purposes in this act mentioned may be changed to any other purpose herein specified or to any other beneficial use, and the right to such use shall relate back to the original appropriation.

Electric power plant is beneficial use, Thompson v. Pennebaker 173 Fed. 848.

Supplementary—AN ACT for the encouragement and support of mining and manufacturing. Approved November 14, 1879. General Repeal. Laws '79 p 124.

§7719. Certain Companies May appropriate Water. §1. That any person or persons, or any company now incorporated, or that may hereafter become incorporated under the laws of this state for the purpose of mining or manufacturing, shall have the right to purchase, or appropriate and take possession of, and divert from its natural channel and use, and hold the waters of any river, creek or stream in this state that may be required for the mining and manufacturing purposes of any such person or persons, corporation or corporations, and to construct all dams canals, reservoirs, ditches, pipes, flumes and aqueducts, suitable and necessary for the controlling, directing and running such waters to their mines or manufacturing establishments, of any such person or persons, corporation or corporations, where the same may be intended to be utilized for such purposes: Provided, That no such appropriation or diversion of the waters of any such river, creek, or stream, from its natural channel, nor shall any such dam, canal, reservoir, ditch, pipe, flume, or aqueduct be constructed to the detriment of any person or persons, corporation or corporations occupying the lands or being located below the point or place of such appropriation or diversion on any such stream or its tributaries, or above or below such dam, canal, reservoir, ditch, pipe, flume, or aqueduct, or of the owners of the lands, through which the waters run in the natural course for the deprivation of the same, or the owners of the land through or upon which such dam, canal, reservoirs, ditch, pipe, flume, or aqueduct may pass through or over or be situated upon, unless just and adequate compensation be previously ascertained and paid therefor.

§7720. The Usual Procedure. §2. That the mode of proceeding to appropriate, take possession of and divert such waters and to build such dam, canal, ditch, reservoir, pipe, flume or aqueduct as prescribed in section one of this act, when the parties cannot agree upon the purchase thereof, shall be the same as prescribed in chapter four of an act to provide for the formation of corporations, approved, November thirteenth, eighteen hundred and seventy-three, [§7646] except that the amount of the benefits accruing to the residue of the property of the same individual or corporation, by reason of the use made of that taken, to be estimated by the parties assessing the damages, shall be deducted from the value of the property taken.

AN ACT authorizing the location, appropriation, diversion and delivery of water for domestic, manufacturing and irrigation purposes and in interstate transportation to be used at or by incorporated and unincorporated cities, towns, villages and hamlets situated partly within and partly without the State of Washington and requiring reciprocal rights from adjoining states receiving the benefits of this act. Approved February 20, 1919. L '19 ch 41.

§7720a. Cities Across State Line. §1. That whenever the use of water shall be necessary for domestic, manufacturing, irrigation, or in interstate transportation at or for any incorporated or unincorporated city, town, village or hamlet situated partly in Washington and partly in an adjoining state or where any city, town, village or hamlet is incorporated on one side of the state line and there are inhabitants living in adjacent and contiguous territory on the other side, it shall be lawful for any person, association or corporation to locate, appropriate, divert and deliver any of the unappropriated public waters of this state necessary for the use of such city, town, village or hamlet and the inhabitants thereof and those residing in and embracing such contiguous territory both within this state and such adjoining state; and locations may be made and authority is hereby granted for such purpose the same as for any other appropriation within the state and a diversion and delivery for such purpose shall have the same force and effect as if made for use wholly within this state and any appropriation, diversion or use heretofore made for such purpose shall be deemed as valid and legal as if made for a use wholly within this state and the priority thereof shall date from the appropriation and diversion the same as if it had been made for use wholly within this state.

§7720b. Reciprocity Required. §2. The provisions of this act shall not apply to any territory or the inhabitants thereof situated or located in any adjoining state which does not by its laws, usages or legal regulations grant similar or reciprocal rights, privileges and opportunities to this state and its inhabitants and adjacent and contiguous territory whether incorporated or unincorporated as in this act specified.

cation of defendant supported by affidavits showing evidence would not change result, O'Callaghan v. O'Brien 116 Fed. Rep. 934.

§7729. Use of Depositions—Objections at Taking—Amendments By Witness. §418.—418. Such deposition may be used by either party upon the trial or other proceeding, against any party giving or receiving the notice, subject to all legal exceptions, to the competency or credibility of the witness, or the manner of taking the deposition. But if the parties attend at the examination, no objection to the form of an interrogatory shall be made at the trial, unless the same was taken at the time of the examination. It shall be the duty of the person taking the deposition, to propound to the witness every question proposed by either party, and to note all objections to the form of any interrogatory, and when any interrogatory is objected to on account of form, unless the form is amended and the objection waived, he shall write after the question and before the answer, the words "objected to," and when any witness declines to answer a question on the ground that it will tend to criminate himself, that fact shall also be noted after the question, if written down. The deposition may be taken in the form of a narrative, or by question and answer, or partly in either form, as either party present at the examination shall require. When taken by question and answer, the officer shall first write down the question and then the answer, as nearly as may be in the language of the witness; but when the deposition is read to the witness, previous to signing it, he shall be permitted to amend his answer to any question, or any part of his deposition; such amendment however, unless both parties shall otherwise agree, shall not be made by way of interlining or erasing, but shall be added at the end of the deposition under the title "amendment by the witness," and such amendment shall intelligibly refer to the part so amended. 2285

§7730. Sufficient Cause Shown Deposition May Be Used. §419.—419. No deposition shall be used if it appear that the reason for taking it no longer exists: Provided, however, That if the party producing the deposition in such case shall show any sufficient cause then existing for using such deposition, it may be admitted.

Causes that may be shown, §7739; re-use of trial evidence, §7770.

§7731. Deposition May Be Used in Subsequent Action. §420.—420. When the plaintiff in any action shall discontinue it, or when it shall be dismissed for any cause, and another action shall afterwards be commenced for the same cause, between the same parties, or their respective representatives, all depositions lawfully taken in the first action may be used in the other, in the same manner and subject to the same conditions and objections as if originally taken for such other action: Provided, That the deposition shall have been duly filed in the court where the first action was pending, and shall have remained in the custody of the court, from the termination of the first action until the commencement of the other.

Amendatory—AN ACT in relation to evidence in actions and judicial proceedings, and amending Sections 390, 393, 406, 407, 408, 423 and 425, of the Code of Washington, of 1881. Approved February 24, 1891. Laws '91 p 33.

§7732. Depositions in the State on Notice. §7. Either party may have the deposition of a witness taken in this state before any judge of the superior court, justice of the peace, clerk of the supreme or superior court, mayor of a city, or notary public, by serving on the adverse party or his attorney previous notice of the time and place of examination. The notice shall be served such time before the time when the deposition is to be taken as to allow the adverse party sufficient time by the usual route of travel to attend, and three days for preparation, exclusive of the day of service, and the examination may, if so stated in the notice, be adjourned from day to day. The notice shall specify the action or proceeding, the name of the court or tribunal in which the deposition is to be used, and the time and place of taking the deposition. It shall be served upon the adverse party, his agent, or attorney of record, or be left at his usual place of abode.

§7735. Commissions, Open and by Interrogatories. §10. Any superior court in this state, or any judge thereof, is authorized to grant a commission to take depositions within or without this state. The commission must be issued to a person or persons therein named, by the clerk, under the seal of the court granting the same, and depositions under it may be taken upon written interrogatories or upon oral questions or partly upon oral and partly upon written interrogatories. Before any such commission shall be granted, the person intending to apply therefor shall serve upon the adverse party a notice of his intention to make such application, stating the time when and the place where, such application will be made, which notice shall be served in the same manner and for the same time as provided in section 1668 [§7732], unless the court or judge, for sufficient cause shown by affidavit, prescribe a shorter time. At the time the application is presented, the court or judge shall settle the interrogatories, if any have been served and the parties have not settled the same. The clerk, upon issuing the commission, shall attach the interrogatories thereto, if any have been agreed upon or settled by the court, and immediately forward the same to the commissioner. At least five days' notice must be given to the party or witness to be examined out of the state, in case such examination shall be had upon oral interrogatories, and the person, before whom the deposition of the witness shall be taken, shall have the same power to compel the attendance of such parties or witnesses as any person authorized to take such deposition, within this state. #### EVIDENCE—OATHS AND AFFIRMATIONS.

AN ACT in relation to oaths and affirmations. Approved December 2, 1869. Laws '69 p 378.

§7753. Who May Take Testimony and Administer Oaths. §1. That every court, judge, clerk of a court, justice of the peace or notary public, is authorized to take testimony in any action, suit or proceeding, and such other persons in particular cases, as authorized by law. Every such court or officer is authorized to administer oaths and affirmations generally, and every such other persons in such particular case as authorized.

§7754. Form Generally. §2. An oath may be administered as follows: The person who swears, holds up his hand, while the person administering the oath thus addresses him: "You do solemnly swear that the evidence you shall give in the issue (or matter) now pending between ——— and ——— shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God." If the oath be administered to any other than a witness giving testimony the form may be changed to: "You do solemnly swear you will true answers make to such questions as you may be asked," etc.

§7755. Form Most Obligatory to Be Adopted. §3. Whenever the court or officer before which a person is offered as a witness, is satisfied that he has a peculiar mode of swearing, connected with or in addition to the usual form of administration, which, in witness's opinion, is more solemn or obligatory, the court or officer may, in its discretion, adopt that mode.

§7756. Oath According to Ceremonies of Religion. §4. When a person is sworn who believes in any other than the Christian religion, he may be sworn according to the peculiar ceremonies of his religion, if there be any such.

§7757. Person May Affirm. §5. Any person who has conscientious scruples against taking an oath, may make his solemn affirmation, by assenting, when addressed, in the following manner: "You do solemnly affirm that," etc., as in section two.

§7758. Affirmation Equivalent to Oath. §6. Whenever, an oath is required, an affirmation, as prescribed in the last section, is to be deemed equivalent thereto, and a false affirmation is to be deemed perjury equally with a false oath.

Crime of perjury, §9032.

EVIDENCE—PARTIES, EXAMINATION OF.

Parties to action may testify §7722.

§7759. Parties to Action as Witnesses. §403.—403. A party to an action or proceeding may be examined as a witness, at the instance of the adverse party, or of one of several adverse parties, and for that purpose, may be compelled in the same manner, and subject to the same rules of examination as any other witness to testify at the trial, or he may be examined on a commission.

Right to introduce evidence, on cross examination, Eyers v. Burbank Co. 97 W. 220.

Production of books, etc., §7771.

The calling of the adverse party as a witness and his rebuttal expressly authorized, Thomas v. Fox 51 W. 250.

Discovery supplanted by these provisions and defendant may be compelled to answer, Le May v. Baxter 11 W. 649.

10 W. 428; Island County v. Rabcock 20 W. 238; Allend v. Spokane Falls & N. Ry. Co. 21 W. 324.

Party answering can not put interrogatories in evidence, Moore v. Palmer 14 W. 134.

Practice applies to Federal courts, Smith v. Northern Pacific Ry. 110 Fed. Rep. 341.

Interrogatories grouped and answered, Pearce v. Greek Boys Min. Co. 48 W. 38.

§7760. Interrogatories Before Trial. §404.—404. Instead of the examination being had at the trial, as provided by the last section, the plaintiff, at the time of filing his complaint or afterwards, and the defendant at the time of filing his answer or afterwards, may file in the clerk's office interrogatories for the discovery of facts and documents material to the support or defense of the action, to be answered on oath by the adverse party.

Continuance and new trial refused if interrogatories could have obtained information, Potts v. Potts 81 W. 27.

Interrogatories refused when answers immaterial or knowledge in party making, Brooke v. Boyd 80 W. 213.

Interrogatory requiring confidential evidence stricken, Cully v. Northern Pac. Ry. 35 W. 241.

Defendant may file interrogatories—plaintiffs stricken when all are covered by answer and defendant is witness at trial, Du Clos v. Batcheller 17 W. 389.

§7761. Interrogatories—Service and Answer—Private Corporation. §405. Such interrogatories shall be served in the manner provided by law for the service of summons, or by service upon the attorney of the party to be interrogated, and the answers thereto shall be served and filed within twenty days after such service unless for cause shown a further time be allowed by the court. A private corporation may be interrogated in the same manner as individuals, and it shall not be excused for a failure to answer any proper interrogatory unless it shall show that no one in its employ or connected with, or interested in it, can give the desired answer or information. L. '97 288.

Service of summons, §8438.

§7762. Interrogatories Not a Bar to Examination at Trial. §406. A party to an action or proceeding, having filed interrogatories to be answered by the adverse party, as prescribed by the last two sections, shall not thereby be precluded from examining such adverse party as a witness at the trial, nor from taking his deposition to be read at the trial. L. '91 33.

§7763. Party's Testimony May Be Rebutted. §407. The testimony of a party upon examination at the trial, or by deposition, or upon interrogatories filed, may be rebutted by adverse testimony. L. '91 33.

Answers may be put in evidence and are subject to contradiction, Denny v. Sayward 10 W. 422.

in evidence and may give evidence in rebuttal, Sawdey v. Spokane Falls & N. Ry. 30 W. 349.

Party may put answers of adverse party Cited, 75 W. 383.

§7764. Party Refusing—Remedy—Contempt. §408. If a party refuse to attend and testify at the trial, or to give his deposition, or to answer any interrogatories filed, his complaint, answer or reply may be stricken out, and judgment taken against him, and he may also, in the discretion of the court, be proceeded against as in other cases for a contempt: Provided, That the preceding sections shall not be construed so as to compel any person to answer any question where such answer may tend to criminate himself. L. '91 33. .

Section is "due process of law," failure of answer being construed an admission of facts—facts required held not material—documents not required—further answer—default, Lawson v. Black Diamond Coal Mining Co. 44 W. 26.

Judgment sustained for failure to bring up record. Interrogatories will be presumed to reach facts at issue, Capps v. Frederick 44 W. 38.

Answer stricken and time refused, held not error, Fidelity National Bank v. Adams 38 W. 75.

Answers not made in time nor explicit not fatal, Knapp v. Order of Pendo 36 W. 601.

Judgment may be given, Livesley v. O'Brien 6 W. 553; Walte v. Wingate 4 W. 324.

Grouping interrogatories with one answer covering all sufficient, Pearce v. Greek B. M. Co. 48 W. 38.

Pleadings must be stricken, after refusal to answer interrogatories, before judgment can be taken, Haas v. Washington W. P. Co. 93 W. 291.

AN ACT providing for a physical examination of plaintiffs in actions to recover damages for injuries to the person. Approved March 15, 1915. Laws '15 p 236.

§7765. Physical Examination in Personal Injury Cases. §1. On or before the trial of any action brought to recover damages for injury to the person, the court before whom such action is pending may from time to time, on application of any party therein, order and direct an examination of the person injured as to the injury complained of by a competent physician or physicians, surgeon or surgeons, in order to qualify the person or persons making such examination to testify in the said cause as to the nature, extent and probable duration of the injury complained of; and the court may in such order direct and determine the time and place of such examination: Provided, This section shall not be construed to prevent any other person or physician from being called and examined as a witness as heretofore. Cited, 94 W. 526.

EVIDENCE—PERPETUATING TESTIMONY.

Depositions §7726.

§7766. Procedure to Perpetuate Testimony. §423 When any person shall be desirous to perpetuate the testimony of any witness, he shall make a statement in writing, setting forth briefly and substantially his title, claim, or interest in or to the subject concerning which he desires to perpetuate the evidence, and the names of all the persons interested or supposed to be interested therein, and also the name of the witness proposed to be examined, which statement shall be under oath, and filed in the superior court. If the subject of the proposed deposition relate to real property within this state, the statement shall be filed in the county where the lands, or any part thereof, lie; in other cases, in the county where the parties interested, or some of them, reside. Upon such statement, an application may be made to such court, or judge thereof, to allow the examination of such witness.

Testimony perpetuated if parties and issues the same, §7770. Puget Sound Nat. Bank 37 W. 76.

False chose in action evidenced by writing should be reached directly and not by perpetuation of testimony, Ritterhoff v. This act does not limit, §§7799, 7734. but makes them effective, In re Bolster 59 W. 655.

§7766a. Notice—Notice by Publication. §424.—424. The court or judge shall appoint a time and place for hearing such application, and shall order notice thereof and of the statement, to be served on all persons mentioned therein as adversely interested in the matter. The notice shall be served personally on all those living in the state at least twenty days before the time of hearing the application. Upon those who are not residents of the state, it shall be served by publication or otherwise, in the same manner as a notice is served upon a non-resident.

§7767. Order Allowing Deposition. §425. If upon hearing of the parties, or of the applicant alone, should no adverse party appear, the court or judge shall be satisfied that there is sufficient cause for taking the deposition, an order shall be made allowing the examination of the witness; and such court or judge may direct a commission to issue therefor, in like manner as a commission to take the testimony of witnesses in actions or proceedings pending in such court.

§7769. Filing and Use of Deposition—Objections. §427.—427. The deposition when returned shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the court by whom the commission was issued, and if a trial be had between the person at whose request the deposition was taken, and the person named in the statement, or any of them, or their successors in interest, upon proof of the death or insanity of the witness, or his inability to attend the trial by reason of age, sickness or settled infirmity, the deposition, or a certified copy thereof, may be used by either party, subject to all legal objections. But if the parties attend at the examination, no objections to the form of the interrogatory shall be made at the trial, unless the same were taken at the time of examination.

AN ACT providing for the introduction of testimony given in a former trial, action or proceeding. Approved February 23, 1905. Laws '05 p 50.

§7770. Testimony. §1. The testimony of any witness, deceased, or out of the State, or for any other sufficient cause unable to appear and testify, given in a former action or proceeding, or in a former trial of the same cause or proceeding when reported by a stenographer, or reduced to writing, and certified by the trial judge, upon three days' notice to the opposite party or parties, together with service of a copy of the testimony proposed to be used may be given in evidence in the trial of any civil action or proceeding, where it is between the same parties and relates to the same matter.

Deposition of deceased witness admitted, W. 134.

Scribner v. Palmer 90 W. 595.

Copy of testimony given at a former trial and certified for appeal, may be introduced on a subsequent trial without recertification, Knutson v. Moe Bros. 72 W. 290.

§7782. Action to Restore—Effect of New Record. §3. Whenever the record required by law or any part thereof, of the proceedings or judgment or decree in any action or other proceeding of any court in this state, in which the final judgment has been rendered, is lost or destroyed by fire or otherwise and such loss cannot be supplied or replaced as provided in section two of this act, any person or party interested therein may make a written application to the court to which said record belongs, setting forth the substance of the record so lost or destroyed, which application shall be verified in the manner provided for the verification of pleadings in a civil action, and thereupon summons shall issue and actual service or service by publication shall be made upon all persons interested in or affected by said original judgment or final entry in the manner provided by law for the commencement of civil actions, provided the parties may waive the issuing or service of summons and enter their appearance to such application; and upon the hearing of such application without further pleadings, if the court finds that such record has been lost or destroyed and that it is enabled by the evidence produced to find the substance or effect thereof material to the preservation of the rights of the parties thereto, it shall make an order allowing a record, which record shall recite the substance and effect of said lost or destroyed record or part thereof, and the same shall thereupon be recorded in said court, and shall have the same effect as the original record would have if the same had not been lost or destroyed, so far as it concerns the rights of the parties so making the application, or persons or parties so served with summons, or entering their appearance, or persons claiming under them by a title acquired subsequently to the filing of the application.

§7783. Evidence Admissable on Trial. §4. Upon the hearing of the application provided in section three the court may admit in evidence oral testimony and any complete or partial abstract of such record, docket entries or indexes, and any other written evidence of the contents or effect of such records and published reports concerning such actions or proceedings, when the court is of opinion that such abstracts, writings and publications were fairly and honestly made before the loss of such records occurred.

§7784. Appeal Extended by Loss of Record. §5. Whenever a lost or destroyed judgment or order is one to which either party has a right to a proceeding in error or of appeal, the time intervening between the filing of the application mentioned in section three, and the final order of the court thereon shall be excluded in computing the time within which such proceeding or appeal may be taken as provided by law.

§7785. Costs. §6. The costs to be taxed, upon an application to restore a lost or destroyed record, shall be the same as are provided for like service in civil actions and may be adjudged against either or any party to such proceeding or application or may in the discretion of the court be apportioned between such parties.

§7786. Restoration of Probate Records. §7. In case of the loss or destruction by fire or otherwise of the records or any part thereof, of any probate court or superior court having probate jurisdiction, the judge of any such court may proceed upon its own motion or upon application in writing of any party in interest to restore the records, papers and proceedings of either of said courts relating to the estates of deceased persons, including recorded wills, wills probated or filed for probate in such courts, all marriage records and all other records and proceedings, and for the purpose of restoring said records wills, papers or proceedings, or any part thereof, may cause citations or other process to be issued to any and all parties to be designated by him, and may compel the attendance in court of any and all witnesses whose testimony may be necessary to the establishment of any such record or part thereof, and the production of any and all written or documentary evidence which may be by him deemed necessary in determining the true import and effect of the original record, will, paper, or other document belonging to the files of said court; and may make such orders and decrees establishing such original record, will, paper, document or proceeding, or the substance thereof, as to him shall seem just and proper. The judge of the probate court may in vacation perform any of the duties imposed upon him by this section.

§7787. Costs. §8. The costs incurred in the probate and superior courts in proceedings under sections six and seven shall be paid by the party or parties interested in such proceedings or in whose behalf such proceedings are instituted.

§7789. Notice by Telegraph. §2353.—12. Whenever any notice information or intelligence, written, or otherwise is required to be given, the same may be given by telegraph: Provided, That the dispatch containing the same be delivered to the person entitled thereto, or to his agent or attorney. Notice by telegraph shall be deemed actual notice.

§7790. Instruments Sent by Telegraph. §2354.—13. Any power of attorney or other instrument in writing duly proved and acknowledged, and certified so as to be entitled to record, may, together with the certificate of its proof or acknowledgment, be sent by telegraph, and telegraphic copy of [or] duplicate thereof, shall prima facie, have the same force and effect, in all respects, and may be admitted to record and recorded in the same manner and with like effect as the original.

§7791. Negotiable Instruments by Telegraph. §2355.—14. Checks, due bills promissory notes, bills of exchange, and all orders or agreements for the payment or delivery of money, or other thing of value may be made or drawn by telegraph, and when so made or drawn, shall have the same force and effect to charge the maker, drawer, indorser or acceptor thereof, and shall create the same rights and equities in favor of the payee, drawer, indorsee, acceptor holder or bearer thereof, and shall be entitled to the same days of grace as if duly made, or drawn and delivered in writing; but it shall not be lawful for any person other than the person or drawer thereof to cause any such instrument to be sent by telegraph, so as to charge any person thereby except as hereinafter in the next section otherwise provided. Whenever the genuineness or execution of any such instrument be received by telegraph shall be denied on oath, by or on behalf of the person sought to be charged thereby, it shall be incumbent upon the party claiming under or alleging the same, to prove the existence and execution of the original writing from which the telegraph copy or duplicate was transmitted. The original message shall in all cases be preserved in the telegraph office from which the same is sent.

§7792. Certifications by Telegraph. §2356.—15. Except as hereinbefore otherwise provided, any instrument in writing, duly certified under his hand and official seal, by a notary public, commissioner of deeds, or clerk of a court of record, to be genuine, within the person[al] knowledge of such officer, may together with such certificate, be sent by telegraph and the telegraphic copy thereof shall, prima facie only have the same force effect and validity, in all respects whatsoever as the original, and the burden of proof shall rest with the party denying the genuineness, or due execution, of the original.

§7793. Criminal Warrants by Telegraph. §2357.—16. Whenever any person or persons shall have been indicted or accused on oath of any public offense, or thereof convicted, and a warrant of arrest shall have been issued, by a magistrate issuing such warrant, or any judge of the supreme court, or of any superior court, may endorse thereon an order signed by him and authorizing the service thereof by telegraph, and thereupon such warrant and order may be sent by telegraph to any marshal, sheriff, constable or policeman, and on the receipt of the telegraphic copy thereof by any such officer, he shall have the same authority, and be under the same obligations to arrest, take into custody and detain the said person or persons, as if the said original warrant of arrest with the proper direction for the service thereof, duly endorsed thereon, had been placed in his hands, and the said telegraphic copy shall be entitled to full faith and credit and have the same force and effect in all courts and places as the original; but prior to indictment and conviction, no such order shall be made by any officer unless in his judgment there is probable cause to believe the said accused persons or persons, guilty of the offense charged: Provided, The making of such order by any officer aforesaid, shall be prima facie evidence of the regularity thereof, and of all proceedings prior thereto. The original warrant and order or a copy thereof, certified by the officer making the order shall be preserved in the telegraphic office, from which the same is sent, and in telegraphing the same, the original or the said certified copy may be used.

§7794. Civil Writs by Telegraph. §2358.—17. Any writ or order in any civil suit, or proceeding, and all the papers requiring service, may be transmitted by telegraph for service in any place, and the telegraphic copy of such writ, or order or paper so transmitted, may be served or executed by the officer or person to whom it is sent for that purpose, and returned by him if any return be requisite, in the same manner, and with the same force and effect, in all respects, as the original thereof might be, if delivered to him, and the officer or person serving or executing the same, shall have the same authority and be subject to the same liabilities as if the said copy were the original. The original, when a writ of order, shall also be filed in the court, from which it was issued and a certified copy thereof shall be preserved in the telegraph office from which it was sent; in sending it, either the original or certified copy may be used by the operator for that purpose.

§7795. How Seal and Revenue Stamp Designated. §2359.—18. Whenever any document to be sent by telegraph bears a seal, either private or official, it shall not be necessary for the operator in sending the same, to telegraph a description of the seal, or any words or device thereon, but the same may be expressed in the telegraphic copy by the letters "L. S.," or by the word "seal," and whenever any document bears a revenue stamp, it shall be sufficient to express the same in the telegraphic copy, by the word "stamp," without any other or further description thereof.

§7796. How Messages to Be Dispatched. §2361.—20. It shall be the duty of any telegraph company doing business in the state, to transmit all dispatches in the order in which they are received, under the penalty of one hundred dollars, to be recovered with costs of suit, by the person or persons whose dispatch is postponed out of its order: Provided, That communications to and from public officers, on official business, may have precedence over all other communications: And provided also, That intelligence of general and public interest may be transmitted for publication out of its order.

§7797. "Telegraph Copy" and "Telegraphic Duplicate" Defined. §2362.—21. The term "telegraphic copy" or "telegraph duplicate" whenever used in this act shall be construed to mean, any copy of a message made or prepared for delivery at the office to which said message may have been sent by telegraph.

EVIDENCE—WITNESSES.

Telegraph, witnesses subpoenaed by §7794.

§7798. Attendance if Within Twenty Miles or County—Justices. §393. No person shall be obliged to attend as a witness before any court of record, judge, justice of the peace, commissioner, referee, or other officer, in any civil action or proceeding out of the county in which he resides, unless his residence be within twenty miles of such court, judge, justice of the peace, commissioner, referee, or other officer; and no person shall be obliged to attend as a witness in any civil action or proceeding in a justice's court, unless his residence be within twenty miles of such court, whether within the county or not. Nor shall any person be compelled to attend as a witness in any civil action or proceeding, unless the fees be paid or tendered to him, which are allowed by law, for one day's attendance as a witness and for traveling to and returning from the place where he is required to attend, Provided, Such fees be demanded by him at the time of service of the subpoena. L. '91 33.

Witness 20 miles away in another county not in contempt for failing to appear, State v. Court, 67 W. 370.

Witness from another county can not be held in contempt until it is shown he is within twenty miles, State ex rel. Timm v. Trounce 5 W. 804.

Production of books, etc., by the parties

It is proper to instruct jury evidence is what it is claimed to be on refusal of other party to produce it, Thomas v. Fos 51 W. 250.

This section not limited by other sections not as broad—books of corporation not trade secrets, In re Bolster 59 W. 655.

§7799. Subpoena Duces Tecum. §394.—394. The subpoena may require not only the personal attendance of the person to whom it is directed, at a particular time and place, to testify as a witness, but may also require him to bring with him any books, documents or things under his control; but no public officer or person having the possession or control of public records or papers, which by law are required to be kept in any particular office or place, shall be compelled to produce the same in any court.

Contempt proceedings for failure to produce books must show power to comply, State v. Allen, 14 W. 684.

Failure to produce documents gives presumption that they are what adverse party claims them to be, Thomas v. Fos, 51 W. 250.

§7800. Issuance of Subpoena. §395. The subpoena shall be issued as follows:

I. To require attendance before a court of record or at the trial of an issue therein, such subpoena may be issued in the name of the State of Washington and be under the seal of the court before which the attendance is required or in which the issue is pending, Provided That such subpoena may be issued with like effect by the attorney of record of the party to the action in whose behalf the witness is required to appear and the form of such subpoena in each case may be the same as when issued by the court except that it shall only be subscribed by the signature of such attorney.

2. To require attendance out of such court before a judge, justice of the peace, commissioner, referee or other officer authorized to administer oaths or to take testimony in any matter under the laws of this state, it shall be issued by such judge, justice of the peace, commissioner, referee or other officer before whom the attendance is required.

3. To require attendance before a commissioner appointed to take testimony by a court of any other state, territory or county it may be issued by any judge or justice of the peace in places within their respective jurisdiction. L. '95 189.

§7801. Service and Proof of Service. §396.—396. Such subpoena may be served by any suitable person over eighteen years of age, by exhibiting and reading it to the witness, or by giving him a copy thereof, or by leaving such copy at the place of his abode. When service is made by any other person than an officer authorized to serve process, proof of service shall be made by affidavit.

Service on nonresident in this state cannot be enforced by mandamus, State ex rel. Hopkins v. Kennan 33 W. 247.

§7802. Person in Court Required to Testify. §397.—397. A person present in court, or before a judicial officer, may be required to testify in the same manner as if he were in attendance upon a subpoena issued by such court or officer.

§7803. Damages for Failure to Attend as Witness. §398.—398. If any person duly served with a subpoena and obliged to attend as a witness, shall fail to do so, without any reasonable excuse, he shall be liable to the aggrieved party for all damages occasioned by such failure, to be recovered in a civil action.

§7804. Contempt for Failure to Attend—Fine. §399.—399. Such failure to attend as required by the subpoena, shall also be considered a contempt, and upon due proof, the witness may be punished, by a fine not exceeding fifty dollars, and stand committed until said fine and costs are paid, or until discharged by due course of law.

§7805. Attachment of the Person. §400.—400. The court, judge, justice of the peace or other officer, in such case, may issue an attachment to bring such witness before them to answer for contempt, and also testify as witness in the cause in which he was subpoenaed.

§7806. Arrest and Costs. §400a. Such attachment may be directed to the sheriff or any constable of any county in which the witness may be found, and shall be executed in the same manner as a warrant; and the fees of the officer for issuing and serving the same shall be paid by the person against whom the same was issued, unless he shows reasonable cause, to the satisfaction of the justice, for his omission to attend; in which case the party requiring such attachment shall pay all such costs.

§7807. Witness in Prison. §401.—401. If the witness be a prisoner confined in a jail or prison within this state, an order for his examination in prison, upon deposition, or for his temporary removal and production before a court or officer, for the purpose of being orally examined, may be issued.

§7808. Witness in Prison—Affidavit and Order. §402.—402. Such order can only be made upon affidavit, showing the nature of the action or proceeding, the testimony expected from the witness, and its materiality.

Appellant cannot claim errors assigned by respondent, Tacoma v. Tacoma L. & W. Co. 16 W. 288.

Error may be predicated on decree alone where there are no findings, Goetzinger v. Rosenfeld 16 W. 392.

Findings not excepted to nor other findings presented they will not be reviewed, Forrest v. Gilchrist 14 W. 4.

Trial court will not take judicial notice of record of another cause between the same parties nor will Supreme Court consider such record certified up, Plumley v. Simpson 31 W. 147.

Exception to findings necessary to secure review of affidavits, Carstens v. Leidigh Etc. Lumber Co. 18 W. 450.

§7811. Manner of Taking Exceptions. §3. Exceptions to the report of a referee or commissioner, or to findings of fact or conclusions of law in a report or decision of a referee or commissioner or in a decision of a court or judge upon a cause or part of a cause, either legal or equitable, tried without a jury, may be taken by any party, either by stating to the judge, referee or commissioner, when the report or decision is signed, that such party excepts to the same, specifying the part or parts excepted to (whereupon the judge, referee or commissioner shall note the exceptions in the margin or at the foot of the report or decision); or by filing like written exceptions within five days after the filing of the report or decision, or, where the report or decision is signed subsequently to the hearing and in the absence of the party excepting, within five days after the service on such party of a copy of such report or decision or of written notice of the filing thereof.

Time runs from signing, Rugger v. Hammond 95 W. 85.

Motion for new trial does not extend time for exceptions—exceptions filed too late court will consider only exclusion of offered evidence and refusal to make proposed findings not contradictory to those made—findings and evidence must both be excepted to, Kitsap County Bank v. United States F. & G. Co. 90 W. 12.

No exceptions, demurrer to complaint and motion for non-suit heard on appeal on the whole record, Meeker v. Waddle 83 W. 628.

Exceptions to findings not necessary if appellant rests case upon them, Katterhagen v. Meister 75 W. 112.

Exceptions to findings must be filed in five days from actual notice, shown by motion for new trial, Friar v. Caswell 79 W. 470.

Exceptions must refer definitely to instructions, Harris v. Bremerton 85 W. 64.

Trial court may grant new trial for erroneous instructions not excepted to, Moore v. Marsh 59 W. 151.

Clerk's journal entry sufficient to show exception, Gottstein v. Simmons 59 W. 178.

Time of taking five days after notice of filing findings, etc., Lindsay v. Scott 56 W. 206.

Exception to order denying motion for new trial is not exception to finding of fact, Fender v. McDonald 54 W. 130.

Motion to set aside findings shows notice—exceptions after 5 days stricken, Cornthwaite v. Barrington Transp. Co. 55 W. 389.

Exceptions to findings made more than five days after filing but within five days after notice are good, Mann v. Provident Life etc. Co. 42 W. 581.

Findings signed in the presence of the party notice is presumed and the evidence will not be reviewed, Reilley v. Anderson 32 W. 58.

Evidence taken in contest before civil service commission and reviewed by superior court is sufficient bill of exceptions, Corbett v. Civil Serv. Comm. 33 W. 190.

Written exceptions to findings are good, though findings and judgment were O.K.'d, Humphries v. Sorenson 33 W. 563.

Objection improperly sustained is cured by allowing question repeated in different form, State v. Patchen 37 W. 24.

Exception must be taken to findings after alteration by the court, Shaw v. Benesh 37 W. 457.

General exception to all findings is not good unless all findings erroneous, Lilly v. Eklund 37 W. 532.

General assignment of error to order overruling demurrer to answer held sufficient, Phelps v. Tacoma 15 W. 366.

When some of the findings are correct a general exception is insufficient, Hannegan v. Roth 12 W. 65.

Failure to take proper exception is not ground for striking statement of facts on appeal, id.

General exception to findings is insufficient, Cook v. Tibbals 12 W. 207.

Exception to judgment of dismissal reciting that the allegations of the complaint had not been sustained is sufficient, McAllister v. McAllister 28 W. 613.

Exceptions are to be taken within five days after service or knowledge of the filing of decision, Fisher v. Kirschberg 17 W. 290.

Appellant must take notice of the action of the court and take exceptions, Irwin v. Olympia Water Works 12 W. 112.

Exception not taken within five days are insufficient, National Bank of Commerce v. Seattle Pickle Etc. Works 15 W. 126.

An exception to findings of fact by number is sufficient, Young v. Borzone 26 W. 4.

Exception to findings by number is sufficient and the use of the word "objection" instead of "exception" is immaterial—where exceptions were made and taken by a stenographer and were not noted on the decision nunc pro tunc order may be entered of their notation, Ranahan v. Gibbons 23 W. 255.

Findings made on one day and exceptions noted the day following are sufficient, Burroughs v. Kinsley 27 W. 694.

General exception to findings is ineffective, Payette v. Willis 23 W. 299, Ballard v. Keane 13 W. 201.

Allowance of motion to strike exception in absence of showing of fraud in its insertion is unwarranted, Anderson v. N. P. Ry. Co. 19 W. 340.

Decree may be presented and signed without notice, Brooks v. James 16 W. 336.

Exceptions taken to findings nearly a year after filing and three months after notice of appeal are ineffective, Ballard v. First Nat. Bank 13 W. 670.

If party gives written notice of filing of findings five day period for exceptions runs from such notice though other party present in court, Davies v. Cheadle 31 W. 168.

Statement in record that party was present cannot be contradicted by affidavit Davies v. Cheadle 31 W. 168.

General exception to conclusion of law sufficient to raise question whether judgment is authorized by facts not disputed, Woodhurst v. Cramer 29 W. 40.

Insufficiency of exceptions to findings because conclusions may be erroneous, will not entitle respondent to affirmance Robins v. Paulson 30 W. 459.

§7812. Exceptions to Charge to Jury. §4. Exceptions to a charge to a jury, or to a refusal to give as a part of such charge instructions requested in writing, may be taken by any party by stating to the court, after the jury shall have retired to consider of their verdict, and, if practicable, before the verdict has been returned, that such party excepts to the same, specifying, by numbers of paragraphs or otherwise the parts of the charge excepted to, and the requested instructions the refusal to give which is excepted to; whereupon the judge shall note the exceptions in the minutes of the trial, or cause the stenographer (if one is in attendance) so to note the same.

Exceptions to instructions any time before new trial, §8504.

Method of taking exceptions to instructions not changed by §8504 as amended, Coffey v. Seattle Electric Co. 59 W. 686.

One exception insufficient, Carroll v. Washington W. P. Co. 56 W. 467.

Reasons for exceptions need not be given, Harkins v. Seattle Elec. Co. 53 W. 184.

All instructions must be included to review any, State v. Rourk 44 W. 464.

Exceptions must be made to instructions, Hawkins v. Casey 38 W. 625.

Exception to "each and every" statement in instructions to jury is sufficient, Maling v. Crumney 5 W. 222.

A general exception to instructions regarding four distinct elements of damage is insufficient, McDonald v. Great Northern Ry. Co. 15 W. 244.

The grounds of objection to an instruction need not be stated in the exception, Sexton v. School District 9 W. 5.

Exception to instructions by number is sufficient, Bell v. Washington Cedar Shingle Co. 8 W. 27.

Exceptions to instructions must not cover valid parts, Rush v. Spokane Falls & N. Ry. 23 W. 501.

Instructions must be excepted to, Reiner v. Crawford 23 W. 669.

Exceptions to instructions must be made in criminal case, State v. Anderson 20 W. 193.

Other grounds of exception than those claimed cannot be made in Supreme Court, Edmunds v. Black 15 W. 73.

§7813. Exceptions to Evidence. §5. Exceptions to any ruling upon an objection to the admission of evidence, offered in the course of a trial or hearing, need not be formally taken, but the question put or other offer of evidence, together with the objection thereto and the ruling thereon, shall be entered by the court, judge, referee or commissioner (or by the stenographer if one is in attendance) in the minutes of the trial or hearing, and such entry shall import an exception by the party against whom the ruling was made.

§7814. Exceptions Not Otherwise Provided For. §6. Exceptions to any ruling or decision made in the course of a trial or hearing, or in the progress of a cause, except those to which it is provided in this act that no exception need be taken and those to which some other mode of exception is in this act prescribed, may be taken by any party by stating to the court, judge, referee or commissioner making the ruling or decision, when the same is made, that such party excepts to the same; whereupon such court, judge, referee or commissioner shall note the exception in the minutes of the trial, hearing or cause, or shall cause the stenographer (if one is in attendance) so to note the same.

§7815. Errors Considered on Appeal. §7. Alleged error in any order, ruling or decision to which it is provided in this act that no exception need be taken, or in any report, finding of fact, conclusion of law, charge, refusal to charge or other ruling or decision which shall have been excepted to by any party as prescribed in this act, shall be reviewed by the supreme court, upon an appeal taken by the party against whom any such ruling or decision was made, or in which he has joined, from any other appealable order or from the final judgment in the cause, where such error, if found to exist, would materially affect the correctness of the judgment or order appealed from; Provided, The ruling or decision, the alleged error in which is sought to be so reviewed, together with the exception thereto if any, was a matter of record in the cause in the first instance, or before the hearing of the appeal has been brought into the record in the manner prescribed in this act. And any such alleged error shall also be considered in the court wherein or by a judge whereof the same was committed, upon the hearing and decision of a motion for a new trial, a motion for judgment notwithstanding a verdict, or a motion to set aside a referee's report or decision, made by a party against whom the ruling or decision to be reviewed was made, whether the alleged erroneous ruling or decision is a part of the record or not, where the alleged error, if found to exist, would materially affect the decision of the motion. But no exception to any appealable order, or to any final judgment, shall be necessary or proper in order to secure a review of such order or judgment upon direct appeal therefrom.

§7820. Judge May Certify Though Term Has Expired—Death of Judge, Successor Shall Certify. §12. If the judge before whom the cause was pending or tried shall from any cause have ceased to be such judge, he shall, notwithstanding, settle and certify, as the late judge, any bill of exceptions or statement of facts that it would be proper for him to settle and certify.

if he were still such judge, and such acts on his part shall have the same effect as if he were still in office; and he may be compelled by mandate so to do, as if still in office. If such judge shall die or remove from the state, while in office or afterwards, within the time within which a bill of exceptions or statement of facts, in a cause that was pending or tried before him, might be settled and certified under the provisions of this act, and before having certified such bill or statement, such bill or statement may be settled by stipulation of the parties, with the same effect as if duly settled and certified by such judge while still in office. But if the parties cannot agree, and if such judge, when removed from the state, does not attend within the state and settle and certify a bill of exceptions or statement of facts in case one has been duly proposed, his successor in office shall settle and certify such bill or statement, in the manner in this act provided, and in so doing he shall be guided, so far as practicable, by the minutes taken by his predecessor in office, or by the stenographer if one was in attendance on the court or judge, and may, in order to determine any disputed matter not sufficiently appearing upon such minutes, examine under oath the attorneys in the cause who were present at the trial or hearing, or any of them.

§7828. Execution to Any County in the State. §2. That the party in whose favor judgment has been rendered, entered or given in any court of record in this state for the recovery of money or against the property of a judgment debtor may have execution issued thereon for the collection or enforcement of such judgment to the sheriff of any county in this state, provided that when a judgment requires the delivery of real or personal property execution shall be issued to the sheriff of the county where the property or some part thereof is situated.

§7829. Enforcement of Executions. §326.—326. When a judgment requires the payment of money, or the delivery of real or personal property, the same may be enforced in those respects by execution, as provided in this act. When it requires the performance of any other act a certified copy of the judgment may be served on the party against whom it is given or the person or officer who is required thereby, or by law, to obey the same, and a writ shall be issued commanding him to obey or enforce the same. If he refuses, he may be punished by the court as for a contempt.

Enforcement of injunction, §8061. Contempts generally, §7442.

§7830. Four Kinds of Executions. §327.—327. There shall be four kinds of execution; one against the property of the judgment debtor, another against his person the third for the delivery of the possession of real or personal property, or such delivery with damages for withholding the same, and the fourth commanding the enforcement of obedience to any special order of the court. And in all cases there shall be an order to collect the costs.

§7831. Contents of Writ. §328.—328. The writ of execution shall be issued in the name of the State of Washington, sealed with the seal of the court, and subscribed by the clerk, and shall be directed to the sheriff of the county in which the property is situated, or coroner, when the sheriff is a party, or interested, and intelligibly refer to the judgment, stating the court, the district or county where judgment was rendered, the names of the parties, the amount of the judgment, if it be for money, and the amount actually due thereon; and shall require substantially as follows:

1. If it be against the property of the judgment debtor it shall require the sheriff to satisfy the judgment, with interest, out of the personal property of the debtor, and if sufficient personal property cannot be found, out of his real property, upon which the judgment is a lien.

2. If it be against real or personal property in the hands of personal representatives, heirs, devisees, legatees, tenants of real property or trustees: it shall require the sheriff to satisfy the judgment, with interest, out of such property.

3. If it be against the person of the judgment debtor, it shall require the sheriff to arrest such debtor, and commit him to the jail of the county, until he shall pay the judgment, with interest, or be discharged according to law.

4. If it be for the delivery of the possession of real or personal property, it shall require the sheriff to deliver the possession of the same, particularly describing it, to the party entitled thereto, and may, at the same time, require the sheriff to satisfy any charges, damages, or rents and profits recovered by the same judgment, out of the personal property of the party against whom it was rendered, and the value of the property for which the judgment was recovered, shall be specified therein. If a delivery thereof cannot be had, and if sufficient personal property cannot be found, then out of his real property. When it is to enforce obedience to any special order, it shall particularly command what is required to be done, or to be omitted. When the nature of the case shall require it, the execution may embrace one or more of the requirements above mentioned. And in all cases, the execution shall require the collection of all interest costs, and increased costs thereon.

§7832. Receipt and Return by Sheriff—Clerk's Duty to Pay Over Money.

§330.—330. The sheriff shall indorse upon a writ or execution, the time when he received the same, and such execution shall be returnable within sixty days after its date, to the clerk who issued the same. And no sheriff shall retain any moneys, collected on execution, more than twenty days, before paying the same to the clerk of the court who issues the writ, under penalty of twenty per cent. on the amount collected, to be paid by the sheriff, the one-half to the party to whom the judgment is payable, and the other half to the county commissioners of the county wherein the action was brought, for the use of the school fund of said county. And the clerk shall, immediately after the receipt of any moneys collected on any judgment, notify the party to whom the same is payable, and pay over the amount to the said party on demand. On failure to so notify and pay over (without reasonable cause shown for delay), the clerk shall forfeit and pay the same penalty, to the same parties, as is above prescribed for the sheriff.

§7847. Trial and Judgment—Costs. §354.—354. If the claimant makes good his title to the property, the bond shall be canceled; if to a portion thereof a like proportion of the bond shall be canceled; but if he shall not maintain his title, judgment shall be rendered against him and his sureties for the value of the property, or for such less amount as shall not exceed the amount due on the original execution or attachment. When the judgment is in favor of the sheriff for the entire property, the claimant shall pay the costs; when the claimant recovers all the property, judgment shall be given in favor of the claimant for costs; when the claimant recovers a portion of the property only, the costs shall be apportioned. When the plaintiff prevails, the costs may be taxed against the defendant, who was plaintiff in the execution or attachment, or the court may, if it shall be of opinion that the sheriff attached or levied upon said property, without the exercise of due caution, adjudge him to pay the costs or any portion thereof.

§7850. Proceeds of Sale of Homestead Is Exempt. §346.—346. In case of the sale of said homestead, any subsequent homestead acquired by the proceeds thereof, shall also be exempt from attachment and execution, nor shall any judgment or other claim against the owner of such homestead, be a lien against the same in the hands of a bona fide purchaser for a valuable consideration.

Proceeds of sale exempt, §7879.

§7851. Exemption of Personal Property Generally. §347. The following property shall be exempt from execution and attachment except as hereinafter specially provided:

First—All wearing apparel of every person and family.

Second—All private libraries, not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500) in value, and all family pictures and keepsakes.

Third—To each householder one bed and bedding, and one additional bed and bedding for each additional member of the family; and other household goods and utensils and furniture not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) coin in value. The other household goods and utensils and furniture specified above, shall on the demand of the officer having the execution or attachment in hand, be selected by the husband if present, if not present they shall be selected by his wife, and in case neither husband or wife nor other person entitled to the exemption by having the description of a householder shall be present to make the selection, then the sheriff shall make a selection of the household goods, utensils and furniture equal in value to said five hundred dollars ($500) and shall return the same as exempt by inventory, and such selection by the sheriff or other person described above shall be prima facie evidence: First. That such household goods, utensils and furniture are exempt from execution and attachment. Secondly. That the value of the property so selected is not over five hundred dollars ($500).

Fourthly—To each householder two cows with their calves, five swine, two stands of bees, thirty-six domestic fowls, and provisions and fuel for the comfortable maintenance of such householder and family for six months, also feed for such animals for six months: Provided, That in case such householder shall not possess or shall not desire to retain the animals named above, he may select from his property and retain other property, not to exceed two hundred and fifty dollars ($250) coin in value. The selection in the proviso mentioned, shall be made in the manner, and by the person and at the time mentioned in subdivision 3, and said selection shall have the same effect as selections made under subdivision 2 of this section.

Fifthly—To a farmer one span of horses or mules with harness, or two yoke of oxen, with yokes and chains and one wagon; also farming utensils actually used about the farm, not exceeding in value five hundred ($500) dollars in coin; also one hundred and fifty bushels of wheat one hundred and fifty bushels of oats or barley, fifty bushels of potatoes, ten bushels of corn, ten bushels of peas, and ten bushels of onions for seeding purposes.

Sixthly—To a mechanic, the tools and instruments used to carry on his trade for the support of himself and family, also material used in his trade not exceeding in value five hundred dollars in coin.

Seventhly—To a physician, his library, not to exceed in value five hundred dollars in coin; also one horse with harness and buggy, the instruments used in his practice, and medicines not exceeding in value two hundred dollars in coin.

Eighthly—To attorneys, clergymen, and other professional men, their libraries not exceeding one thousand dollars in coin value, also office furniture, fuel and stationery not exceeding in value two hundred dollars in coin.

Ninthly—All firearms kept for the use of any person or family.

Tenthly—To any person a canoe, skiff or small boat, with its oars, sails and rigging, not exceeding in value two hundred and fifty dollars.

Eleventhly—To a person engaged in lightering for his support or that of his family, one or more lighters, barges or scows, and a small boat with oars, sails and rigging not exceeding in the aggregate two hundred and fifty dollars in coin value.

Twelfthly—To a teamster or drayman engaged in that business for the support of himself or his family, his team, consisting of one span of horses or mules, or two yoke of oxen, or a horse and mule with harness, yokes, one wagon, truck, cart or dray.

Thirteenthly—To a person engaged in the business of logging, for his support or that of his family, three yoke of work cattle and their yokes; and axes, chains, implements for the business and camp equipments, not exceeding three hundred dollars coin in value.

Fourteenthly—A sufficient quantity of hay, grain or feed to keep the animals mentioned in the several subdivisions of this chapter, for six weeks. But no property shall be exempt from an execution issued upon a judgment for the price thereof, or any part of the price thereof, or for any tax levied thereon. Each person shall be entitled to select the property to which he is entitled under the several subdivisions of this act. L. '86 96.

Residence on homestead may be abandoned without losing right, Byam v. Albright 94 W. 108. Widow ignorant of her rights does not abandon homestead by giving quit claim deed and re-purchasing and complying with the law—residence established—appraisal Removal from homestead is not abandonment, Wentworth v. McDonald 78 W. 546. Smith v. Ferry 43 W. 460.

§7867. Abandonment to Be Filed. §8. A declaration of abandonment is effectual only from the time it is filed in the office in which the homestead was recorded.

§7868. Appraisement. §9. When the execution for the enforcement of a judgment obtained in a case not within the classes enumerated in section five is levied upon the homestead, the judgment creditor may apply to the superior court of the county in which the homestead is situated for the appointment of persons to appraise the value thereof.

No appraisement necessary if no homestead in existence, Scott v. Guiberson, 71 or 72 W. Conveyance not fraud on judgment creditor not diligent in subjecting excess to judgment, Melkle v. Cloquet 44 W. 513.

§7869. — Petition for. §10. The application must be made upon verified petition, showing:

1. The fact that an execution has been levied upon the homestead;
2. The name of the claimant;
3. That the value of the homestead exceeds the amount of the homestead exemption.

Section constitutional, Brace & Hergert Mill Co. v. Burbank 87 W. 356.

§7870. — Petition to Be Filed. §11. The petition must be filed with the clerk of the superior court.

7871. Service of Petition. §12. A copy of the petition with a notice of the time and place of hearing, must be served upon the claimant, at least ten days before the hearing.

§7872. Appraisers. §13. At the hearing the judge may, upon the proof of the service of a copy of the petition and notice, and of the facts stated in the petition, appoint three disinterested resident freeholders of the county to appraise the value of the homestead.

§7873. Oath. §14. The persons appointed, before entering upon the performance of their duties, must take an oath to faithfully perform the same.

§7874. View. §15. They must view the premises and appraise the value thereof and if the appraised value exceeds the homestead exemption, they must determine whether the land claimed can be divided without material injury.

§7875. Report. §16. Within fifteen days after their appointment they must make to the court a report in writing which report must show the appraised value and their determination upon the matter of a division of the land claimed.

§7876. Order of Court. §17. If, from the report, it appears to the court that the land claimed can be divided without material injury the court must, by an order, direct the appraisers to set off to the claimant so much of the land including the residence, as will amount in value to the homestead exemption, and the execution may be enforced against the remainder of the land.

§7877. Sale. §18. If, from the report, it appears to the court that the land claimed exceeds in value the amount of the homestead exemption and that it cannot be divided, the court must make an order directing its sale under the execution.

§7878. — Bid. §19. At such sale no bid must be received unless it exceeds the amount of the homestead exemption.

§7879. — Proceeds. §20. If the sale is made, the proceeds thereof, to the amount of the homestead exemption, must be paid to the claimant, and the balance applied to the satisfaction of the execution.

§7880. — Proceeds Exempt. §21. The money paid to the claimant is entitled, to the same protection against legal process and the voluntary disposition of the husband, which the law gives to the homestead.

§7881. Appraisers' Fees. §22. The compensation of the appraisers, shall be two dollars per day each.

§7882. Costs. §23. The execution creditor must pay the costs of these proceedings in the first instance; but in the case provided for in sections seventeen and eighteen the amount so paid must be added as costs on execution, and collected accordingly.

§7883. Value of Homestead. §24. Homesteads may be selected and claimed in lands and tenements with the improvements thereon, not exceeding in value the sum of two thousand dollars. The premises thus included in the homestead must be actually intended and used for a home for the claimants, and shall not be devoted exclusively to any other purposes.

§7884. "Head of the Family" Defined. §25. The phrase "head of the family," as used in this act, includes within its meaning:

1. The husband, or wife when the claimant is a married person;
2. Every person who has residing on the premises with him or her and under his or her care and maintenance, either:
  1. His or her minor child, or the minor child of his or her deceased wife or husband;
  2. A minor brother or sister, or the minor child of a deceased brother or sister;
  3. A father, mother, grandmother or grandfather;
  4. The father, mother, grandfather or grandmother of deceased husband or wife.
  5. An unmarried sister, or any other of the relatives mentioned in this section who has attained the age of majority, and are unable to take care of or support themselves.

§7885. If Husband or Wife Insane—Order to Dispose of Homestead.

§26. In case of a homestead, if either the husband or wife, shall become hopelessly insane, upon application of the husband or wife, not insane, to the superior court of the county in which the homestead is situated, and upon due proof of such insanity, the court may make an order permitting the husband or wife not insane, to sell and convey, or mortgage, such homestead.

Mortgage of homestead prior to this act void when wife insane, Curry v. Wilson 45 W. 19.

§7886. Notice—Service—Prosecuting Attorney's Duties. §27. Notice of the application for such order shall be given by publication of the same, in a newspaper published in the county in which such homestead is situated, if there be a newspaper published therein, once each week for three successive weeks, prior to the hearing of such application, and a copy of such notice shall be served upon the nearest male relative of such insane husband or wife, resident in this state, at least three weeks prior to such application and in case there be no such male relative known to the applicant a copy of such notice shall be served upon the prosecuting attorney of the county in which such homestead is situated; and it is hereby made the duty of such prosecuting attorney, upon being served with a copy of such notice, to appear in court and see that such application is made in good faith, and that the proceedings thereon are fairly conducted.

§7887. Petition for Order. §28. Thirty days before the hearing of any application under the provisions of this act, the applicant shall present and file in the court in which such application is to be heard a petition for the order mentioned subscribed and sworn to by the applicant, setting forth the name and age of the insane husband or wife; a description of the premises constituting the homestead; the value of the same; the county in which it is situated; and such facts in addition to that of the insanity of the husband or wife relating to the circumstances and necessities of the applicant and his or her family as he or she may rely upon in support of the petition.

§7888. Effect of Order. §29. If the court shall make the order provided for in the twenty-sixth section of this act, the same shall be entered upon the minutes of the court, and thereafter any sale, conveyance [or] mortgage made in pursuance of such order shall be as valid and effectual as if the property affected thereby was the absolute property of the person making such sale, conveyance, or mortgage, in fee simple.

§7889. Declaration of Homestead. §30. In order to select a homestead the husband or other head of a family, or in case the husband has not made such selection, the wife, must execute and acknowledge, in the same manner as a grant of real property is acknowledged, a declaration of homestead, and file the same for record.

Personal property held only when actually Writs and levies §7827.

§7893. Levy on Property. §355.—355. When the writ of execution is against the property of the judgment debtor, it shall be executed by the sheriff as follows.

1. If property has been attached, he shall endorse on the execution, and pay to the clerk forthwith the amount, of the proceeds of sales of perishable property or debts due the defendant, received by him, sufficient to satisfy the judgment.

2. If the judgment is not then satisfied, and property has been attached and remains in his custody, he shall sell the same, or sufficient thereof to satisfy the judgment.

3. If then any portion of the judgment remains unsatisfied, or if no property has been attached or the same has been discharged, he shall levy on the property of the judgment debtor, sufficient to satisfy the judgment.

4. Property shall be levied on in like manner and with like effect as similar property is attached.

5. Until a levy, personal property shall not be affected by the execution. When property has been sold or debts received by the sheriff on execution, he shall pay the proceeds thereof, or sufficient to satisfy the judgment, as commanded in the writ.

6. When property has been attached and it is probable that such property will not be sufficient to satisfy the judgment, the execution may be levied on other property of the judgment debtor without delay. If after satisfying the judgment, any property or the proceeds thereof, remain in the custody of the sheriff, he shall deliver the same to the judgment debtor.

§7894. Sheriff May Permit Debtor to Retain Personal Property—Bond—Liability of Sheriff. §358.—358. When the sheriff shall levy upon personal property, by virtue of an execution, he may permit the judgment debtor to retain the same, or any part thereof, in his possession until the day of sale, upon the defendant executing a written bond to the sheriff, with sufficient surety, in double the value of such property, to the effect that it shall be delivered to the sheriff at the time and place of sale, and for non-delivery thereof an action may be maintained upon such bond by the sheriff or the plaintiff in the execution: but the sheriff shall not thereby be discharged from his liability to the plaintiff for such property.

§7895. Postponement of Sale. §361.—361. If at the time appointed for the sale, the sheriff should be prevented from attending at the place appointed, or being present should deem it for the advantage of all concerned to postpone the sale for want of purchasers, or other sufficient cause, he may postpone the sale not exceeding one week next after the day appointed, and so from time to time for the like cause, giving notice of every adjournment, by public proclamation made at the same time, and by posting written notices of such adjournment, under the notice of sale originally posted by him. The sheriff for like causes may also adjourn the sale from time to time, not exceeding thirty days beyond the day at which the writ is made returnable, with the consent of the plaintiff endorsed upon the writ.

§7897. Crying Sale—Sale of Land by Parcels. §363.—363. The form and manner of sale of real estate by execution shall be as follows: The sheriff shall proclaim aloud at the place of sale, in the hearing of all the bystanders: "I am about to sell the following tracts of real estate (here reading the description,) upon the following execution: (here reading the execution). He shall also state the amount which he is required to make upon the execution, which shall include damages, interest and costs up to the day of sale, and increased costs. He shall then offer the land for sale, the lots and parcels separately or together as he shall deem most advantageous. All land except town lots shall be sold by the acre.

§7898. Measuring Parcel. §364.—364. When the land is sold by the acre and any less number of acres than the whole tract or parcel is sold, it shall be measured off to the purchaser in a square form, from the northeast corner of the tract or parcel, unless some person having an interest in the land shall, at the sale, or prior thereto and before the bidding is made, request that the land sold, shall be taken from some other part, or in some other form; in such case, if such request is reasonable, the officer making the sale shall sell accordingly.

§7899. Amount Stated, More or Less. §365.—365. When an entire tract or parcel of land is sold by the acre, it shall not be measured, but shall be deemed and taken to contain the number of acres named in the description, and be paid for accordingly; and when the number of acres is not contained in the description, the officer shall declare according to his judgment, how many acres are contained therein, which shall be deemed and taken to be the true number of acres.

§7900. Striking Sale and Payment of Money—Confirmation of Supreme Court Sale. §366.—366. The officer shall strike off the land to the highest bidder, who shall forthwith pay the money bid to the officer, who shall return the money with his execution and his doings thereon, to the clerk of the court, from which the execution issued, according to the order thereof: Provided, however, That when final judgment shall have been entered in the supreme court, and the execution upon which sale has been made, issued from said court, the proceedings on execution and return shall be docketed for confirmation in the superior court in which the action was originally commenced, and like proceedings shall be had as though said execution had issued from the said superior court.

§7901. Purchaser Evicted May Recover of Plaintiff. §368.—368. If the purchaser of real property sold on execution, or his successor in interest, be evicted therefrom in consequence of the reversal of the judgment, he may recover the price paid with interest and the costs and disbursements of the suit by which he was evicted, from the plaintiff in the writ of execution.

§7902. Contribution on Execution by Joint Obligors and Sureties. §369.—369. When property liable to an execution against several persons is sold thereon, and more than a due proportion of the judgment is levied upon the property of one of them, or one of them pays without a sale more than his proportion, he may compel contributions from the others; and when a judgment is against several, and is upon an obligation or contract of one of them as security for another, and the surety pays the amount or any part thereof, either by sale of his property or before sale, he may compel repayment from the principal. In such case the person so paying or contributing, shall be entitled to the benefit of the judgment to enforce contribution or repayment, if within thirty days after his payment, he file with the clerk of the court where the judgment was rendered, notice of his payment and claim to contribution or repayment. Upon filing such notice the clerk shall make an entry thereof in the margin of the docket where the judgment is entered.

§7904. Deficiency Judgments by Agreement—Waiver of Mortgage Security. §2. When there is an agreement of the judgment debtor for the payment of any sum of money secured by a mortgage or other lien, and a deficiency judgment is consented to in said agreement, the court may direct in the decree that the balance due and costs which may remain unsatisfied after the sale of the property shall be satisfied from any property of the judgment debtor, and if any part of the judgment, interest and costs remains unsatisfied, the sheriff shall forthwith proceed to levy upon any property of the judgment debtor not exempt from execution, and all subsequent proceedings under said execution shall conform to the provisions of this act. The judgment creditor may also obtain from the clerk of the court execution on executions in the ordinary form for such deficiency: Provided, That in case of mortgage foreclosure where the mortgage contains a stipulation that no deficiency judgment shall be taken against the mortgagor, but that the mortgagee shall look to the mortgaged premises for satisfaction of his claim, no deficiency judgment shall be allowed. The commencement of an action for the recovery of a debt secured by mortgage not asking a foreclosure of the mortgage and brought before a foreclosure of the mortgage and sale thereunder, shall be, and be deemed to be, a waiver of the mortgage security; and this provision may not be waived or avoided by agreement contained in the mortgage or otherwise.

1. In case of personal property, by posting written or printed notice of the time and place of sale in three (3) public places in the county where the sale is to take place, for a period of not less than ten (10) days prior to the day of sale.

2. In case of real property, by posting a similar notice, particularly describing the property for a period of not less than four (4) weeks prior to the day of sale, in three (3) public places in the county, one of which shall be at the court house door, where the property is to be sold, and publishing a copy thereof once a week, consecutively for the same period, in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county.

3. All notices of sales of property on execution or order of sale required by law to be published in any newspaper shall be so published in a newspaper of the county which shall be selected by the sheriff, and if there is no newspaper published in the county, then such notice shall be published in the newspaper published in this State nearest to the place of sale: Provided, That if the person at whose instance the execution or order of sale is issued, or his attorney, shall present to the sheriff a receipt of the publisher of any newspaper showing full payment for the publication, then the notice shall be published in that newspaper: And provided, further, That the charge for any such publication shall not exceed seventy-five cents per square for first insertion, and thirty-seven and one-half cents per square for each subsequent insertion. §7908. Confirmation or Resale. §6. Upon the return of any sale of real estate as aforesaid, the clerk shall enter the cause, on which the execution or order of sale issued, by its title, on the motion docket, and mark opposite the same: "Sale of land for confirmation," and the following proceedings shall be had:

1. The plaintiff at any time after ten days from the filing of such return shall be entitled, on motion therefor, to have an order confirming the sale, unless the judgment debtor, or in case of his death, his representative, shall file with the clerk within ten days after the filing of such return, his objections thereto.

2. If such objections be filed, the court shall, notwithstanding, allow the order confirming the sale, unless on the hearing of the motion, it shall satisfactorily appear that there were substantial irregularities in the proceedings concerning the sale, to the probable loss or injury of the party objecting. In the latter case, the court shall disallow the motion and direct that the property be resold, in whole or in part, as the case may be, as upon an execution received of that date.

3. Upon the return of the execution, the sheriff shall pay the proceeds of sale to the clerk, who shall then apply the same, or so much thereof as may be necessary, in satisfaction of the judgment. If an order of resale be afterwards made, and the property sell for a greater amount to any person other than the former purchaser, the clerk shall first repay to such purchaser the amount of his bid out of the proceeds of the latter sale.

4. Upon a resale, the bid of the purchaser at the former sale shall be deemed to be renewed and continue in force, and no bid shall be taken, except for a greater amount. An order confirming a sale shall be a conclusive determination of the regularity of the proceedings concerning such sale as to all persons in any other action, suit or proceeding whatever

5. If, after the satisfaction of the judgment, there be any proceeds of the sale remaining, the clerk shall pay such proceeds to the judgment debtor, or his representative, as the case may be, at any time before the order is made upon the motion to confirm the sale: Provided, Such party file with the clerk a waiver of all objections made or to be made to the proceedings concerning the sale; but if the sale be confirmed, such proceeds shall be paid to said party of course; otherwise they shall remain in the custody of the clerk until the sale of the property has been disposed of §7909. Who May Redeem. §7. Property sold subject to redemption, as above provided, or any part thereof separately sold, may be redeemed by the following persons, or their successors in interest:

1. The judgment debtor, or his successor in interest, in the whole or any part of the property separately sold.

2. A creditor having a lien by judgment, decree or mortgage, on any portion of the property, or any portion of any part thereof, separately sold, subsequent in time, to that on which the property was sold. The persons mentioned in sub-division two of this section are termed redemptioners.

Judgment creditor could not redeem prior to Laws '97 p 75 § 15, Geddis v. Packwood 30 W. 270.

§7910. One Year for Redemption—Terms. §8. The judgment debtor or his successor in interest, or any redemptioner, may redeem the property at any time within one year after the sale, on paying the amount of the bid with interest thereon at the rate of eight per cent. per annum to the time of redemption, together with the amount of any assessment or taxes which the purchaser or his successor in interest may have paid thereon after purchase, and like interest on such amount; and if the purchaser be also a creditor having a lien, by judgment, decree or mortgage, prior to that of the redemptioner, other than the judgment under which such purchase was made, the amount of such lien with interest.

Under act '73 redemption applied only to execution and not mortgage sales, Parker v. Dacres 2 W. T. 439; but could impose such a condition, id.

§7911. Successive Redemptions in Sixty Days—Original Judgment Not a Lien—Notice of Taxes. §9. If property be so redeemed by a redemptioner, another redemptioner may, within sixty days after the last redemption, again redeem it from the last redemptioner by paying the sum paid on such last redemption with interest at the rate of eight per cent. per annum, and the amount of any taxes or assessment which the last redemptioner may have paid thereon after the redemption by him, with like interest on such amount, and in addition thereto by paying the amount of any liens, by judgment, decree or mortgage, held by said last redemptioner prior to his own, with interest; but the judgment under which the property was sold need not be so paid as a lien. The property may be again, and as often as a redemptioner is so disposed, redeemed from any previous redemptioner within sixty days after the last redemption, on paying the sum paid on the last previous redemption with interest thereon at the rate of eight per cent. per annum, and the amount of any assessments or taxes which the last previous redemptioner paid after the redemption by him, with like interest thereon, and the amount of any liens by judgment, decree or mortgage, other than the judgment under which the property was sold, held by the last redemptioner, previous to his own, with interest. If the purchaser or redemptioner shall pay any taxes or assessments, or have or acquire any such lien as herein mentioned, he must file a statement thereof with the auditor of the county where said property is situate before the property shall have been redeemed from him, otherwise the property may be redeemed without paying such tax, assessment or lien. Such statement shall be recorded by such Auditor.

§7912. Certificates of Redemption—Deed After Time Has Expired.

§10. If no redemption be made within one year after the sale, the purchaser or his assignee is entitled to a conveyance; or, if so redeemed, whenever sixty (60) days have elapsed, and no other redemption has been made, or notice given operating to extend period of redemption and the time for redemption has expired, the last redemptioner or his assignee is entitled to a sheriff's deed; but in all cases the judgment debtor shall have the entire period of one year from the date of the sale to redeem the property. If the judgment debtor redeem, he must make the same payments as are required to effect a redemption by the redemptioner. If the judgment debtor redeem, the effect of the sale is terminated and he is restored to his estate. A certificate of redemption must be filed and recorded in the office of the auditor of the county in which the property is situated, and the auditor must note the record thereof in the margin of the record of the certificate of sale.

§7913. Two or More Redemptions at Same Time—Order of Court.

§11. When two or more persons apply to the sheriff to redeem at the same time, he shall allow the person having the prior lien to redeem first, and so on. The sheriff shall immediately pay the money over to the person from whom the property is redeemed, if he attend at the redemption; or if not, at any time thereafter when demanded. When a sheriff shall wrongfully refuse to allow any person to redeem, his right to redeem shall not be prejudiced thereby, and the sheriff may be required, by order of the court, to allow such redemption.

§7914. Redemptioner's Notice and Proof. §12. The mode of redeeming shall be as provided in this section. The person seeking to redeem shall give the sheriff at least five days' written notice of his intention to apply to the sheriff for that purpose. It shall be the duty of the sheriff to notify the purchaser or redemptioner, as the case may be, or his attorney of the receipt of such notice, if such person be within such county. At the time and place specified in such notice the person seeking to redeem may do so by paying to the sheriff the sum required. The sheriff shall give the person redeeming a certificate stating therein the sum paid on redemption, from whom redeemed, the date thereof and a description of the property redeemed. A person seeking to redeem shall submit to the sheriff the evidence of his right thereto, as follows:

1. If he be a lien creditor, a copy of the docket of the judgment or decree under which he claims the right to redeem, certified by the clerk of the court where such judgment or decree is docketed; or if he seeks to redeem upon mortgage, the certificate of the record thereof; also an affidavit, verified by himself, or agent, showing the amount then actually due thereon.

2. A copy of any assignment necessary to establish his claim, verified by the affidavit of himself or agent, showing the amount then actually due on the judgment, decree or mortgage.

3. If the redemptioner or purchaser has a lien prior to that of the lien creditor seeking to redeem, such redemptioner or purchaser shall submit to the sheriff the evidence thereof, and the amount due thereon, or the same may be disregarded.

§7915. Possession, Accounting and Action for Rents and Profits—Farm Property. §13. The purchaser, from the time of the sale until the redemption, and the redemptioner from the time of his redemption until another redemption except as hereinafter provided is entitled to receive, from the tenant in possession, the rents of the property sold, or the value of the use and occupation thereof. But when any rents or profits have been received by such person or persons thus entitled thereto, from the property thus sold, preceding the redemption thereof from him, the amount of such rents and profits, over and above the expenses paid for operating, caring for, protecting and insuring the property, shall be a credit upon the redemption money to be paid; and if the redemptioner, or other person entitled to make such redemption, before the expiration of the time allowed for such redemption, files with the sheriff a demand in writing for a written and verified statement of the amounts of such rents and profits thus received, and expenses paid and incurred, the period for redemption is extended five (5) days after such sworn statement is given by such person thus receiving such rents and profits, or by his agent, to the person making such demand, or to the sheriff. It shall be the duty of the sheriff to serve a copy of such demand upon the person receiving such rents and profits, his agent, or his attorney, if such service can be made in the county where the property is situate. If such person shall, for a period of ten days after such demand has been given to the sheriff, fail or refuse to give such statement, such redemptioner or other person entitled to redeem from such sale, making such demand, may bring an action within sixty days after making such demand, but not later, in any court of competent jurisdiction, to compel an accounting and disclosure of such rents, profits and expenses, and until fifteen days from and after the final determination of such action the right of redemption is extended to such redemptioner, or other person making such demand who shall be entitled to redeem. If a sworn statement is given by the purchaser, or other person receiving such rents and profits, and such redemptioner or other person entitled to redeem, who makes such demand, desires to contest the correctness of the same, he must first redeem in accordance with such sworn statement, and if he desires to bring an action for an accounting thereafter he may do so within thirty days after such redemption, but not later: Provided That if such property be farming or agricultural property and be in possession of any purchaser or any redemptioner and is redeemed after the first day of April and before the first day of December and the purchaser or his tenant has performed any work in preparing such property for crops, or planted crops, he shall be entitled to reimbursement for such work and labor or the right to retain possession of such property until the first day of December following, and the redemptioner shall be entitled to collect the reasonable rental value thereof during such farming year, unless such reasonable rental shall have been collected by such purchaser and accounted for to the redemptioner.

§7916. Waste Defined and Its Restraint. §14. Until the expiration of the time allowed for redemption the court may restrain the commission of waste on the property. But it is not waste for the person in possession of the property at the time of the sale or entitled to possession afterwards during the period allowed for redemption to continue to use it in the same manner in which it was previously used, or to use it in the ordinary course of husbandry, or to make the necessary repairs of buildings thereon, or to use wood or timber on the property therefor; or for the repairs of fences, or for fuel in his family, while he occupies the property.

§7917. When Purchaser Not to Have Possession—Accounting. §15. The purchaser from the day of sale until a resale or redemption, and the redemptioner from the day of his redemption until another redemption shall be entitled to the possession of the property purchased or redeemed, unless the same be in the possession of a tenant holding under an unexpired lease, and in such case shall be entitled to receive from such tenant the rents or the value of the use and occupation thereof during the period of redemption. Provided That when a mortgage contains a stipulation that in case of foreclosure the mortgagor may remain in possession of the mortgaged premises after sale and until the period of redemption has expired the court shall make its decree to that effect and the mortgagor have such right. Provided further That as to any land so sold which is at the time of the sale used for farming purposes, or which is a part of a farm used at the time of sale for farming purposes the judgment debtor shall be entitled to retain possession thereof during the period of redemption and the purchaser or his successor in interest shall if the judgment debtor do not redeem have a lien upon the crops raised or harvested thereon during the period of such possession for interest on the purchase price at the rate of six per cent. per annum during the period of possession and for any taxes with interest, And provided further That in case of any homestead occupied for that purpose at the time of sale, the judgment debtor shall have the right to retain possession thereof during the period of redemption without accounting for issues or value of occupation.

§7918. Sheriff's Deed When—Successor May Make. §16. In all cases where real estate has been, or may hereafter be sold in pursuance of law by virtue of an execution or other process, issued upon an ordinary money judgment, or by virtue of execution, or other process issued upon a decree for the foreclosure of a mortgage or other lien it shall be the duty of the sheriff or other officer making such sale to execute and deliver to the purchaser, or other person entitled to the same a deed of conveyance of the real estate so sold immediately after the time for redemption from such sale has expired: Provided, Such sale has been duly confirmed by order of the court. In case the term of office of the sheriff or other officer making such sale shall have expired before a sufficient deed has been executed, then the successor in office of such sheriff shall, within the time specified in this act, execute and deliver to the purchaser or other person entitled to the same a deed of the premises so sold, and such deeds shall be as valid and effectual to convey to the grantee the lands or premises so sold, as if the deed had been made by the sheriff or other officer who made the sale.

That this act shall not be construed to affect the equities of third parties in the premises.

EXECUTIONS—STAY.

§7921. Stay in Supreme and Superior Courts. §335.—335. Stay of execution shall be allowed on judgments rendered in the supreme court and superior court as follows:

In the supreme court;

1. On all sums under five hundred dollars, thirty days.
2. On all sums over five and under fifteen hundred dollars, sixty days.
3. On all sums over fifteen hundred dollars, ninety days.

On judgments rendered in the superior court:

1. On all sums under three hundred dollars, two months.
2. On all sums over three hundred and under one thousand dollars, five months.
3. On all sums over one thousand dollars, six months.

§7930. Answer of Third Party—Referee. §4. An order requiring a person to attend and be examined, made pursuant to any provision of this article, must require him so to attend and be examined, either before the judge to whom the order is returnable or before a referee designated therein. Where the examination is taken before a referee, he must certify to the judge to whom the order is returnable, all of the evidence and other proceedings taken before him.

§7931. Manner of Answer. §5. Upon an examination made under this act, the answer of the party or witness examined must be under oath. A corporation must attend by and answer under the oath of an officer thereof, and the judge may, in his discretion, specify the officer. Either party may be examined as a witness in his own behalf, and may produce and examine other witnesses as upon the trial of an action. The judge or referee may adjourn any proceedings under this act from time to time, as he thinks proper.

§7932. Referee's Oath. §6. Unless the parties expressly waive the referee's oath, a referee appointed as prescribed in this act must, before entering upon an examination or taking testimony, subscribe and take an oath that he will faithfully and fairly discharge his duty upon the reference, and make a just and true report, according to the best of his understanding. The oath must be returned to the judge with the report of the testimony.

§7933. Third Party May Pay—Bar. §7. At any time after the commencement of a special proceeding authorized by this act, and before the appointment of a receiver therein or the extension of a receivership thereto, the judge by whom the order or warrant was granted, or to whom it is made returnable, may in his discretion, upon proof by affidavit to his satisfaction that a person or corporation is indebteded to the judgment debtor, and upon such notice given to such person or corporation as he deems just, or without notice, make an order permitting the person or corporation to pay the sheriff designated in the order a sum on account of the alleged indebtedness not exceeding the sum which will satisfy the execution. A payment thus made is to the extent thereof a discharge of the indebtedness, except as against a transferee from the judgment debtor in good faith, and for a valuable consideration, of whose rights the person or corporation had actual or constructive notice when the payment was made.

§7934. Third Party and Debtor Ordered to Give Up Property. §8. Where it appears from the examination or testimony taken in the special proceedings authorized by this act, that the judgment debtor has in his possession or under his control money or other personal property belonging to him, or that one or more articles of personal property capable of manual delivery, his right to the possession whereof is not substantially disputed, are in the possession or under the control of another person, the judge by whom the order or warrant was granted, or to whom it is returnable, may in his discretion, and upon such notice given to such persons as he deems just, or without notice, make an order directing the judgment debtor, or other person, immediately to pay the money or deliver the articles of personal property to a sheriff designated in the order, unless a receiver has been appointed or a receivership has been extended to the special proceedings, and in that case to the receiver.

Includes real property—wife's separate withheld through error as to exemption property set apart, Smith v. Weed 75 W. reversed, Flood v. Libby 38 W. 366.

ings does not bar right, Field v. Greiner, property on which he has lien until lien satisfied, Coombs v. Davis 2 W. 466.

Garnishee not required to turn over

§7935. Sheriff's Liability Same as in Executions. §9. If the sheriff to whom money is paid, or other property is delivered, pursuant to an order made as prescribed in the last section of this act, does not then hold an execution upon the judgment against the property of the judgment debtor, he has the same rights and power, and is subject to the same duties and liabilities, with respect to the money or property, as if the money had been collected or the property had been levied upon by him by virtue of such an execution, except as provided in the next section.

§7936. Receiver. §10. After a receiver has been appointed or a receivership has been extended to the special proceedings, the judge must, by order, direct the sheriff to pay the money, or the proceeds of the property, deducting his fees, to the receiver; or if the case so requires, to deliver to the receiver the property in his hands. But if it appears to the satisfaction of the judge, that an order appointing a receiver or extending a receivership is not necessary, he may, by an order reciting that fact, direct the sheriff to apply the money so paid, or the proceeds of the property so delivered, upon an execution in favor of the judgment creditor issued either before or after the payment or delivery to the sheriff.

Notice of application, §7954; of discharge, Cited 75 W. 452.

§7937. Proceedings Discontinued or Judgment Paid, Property to Be Returned. §11. Where money is paid or property is delivered as prescribed in the last four sections and afterwards the special proceeding is discontinued or dismissed, or the judgment is satisfied, without resorting to the money or property; or a balance of the money or of the proceeds of the property or a part of the property remains in the sheriff's or receiver's hands after satisfying the judgment and the costs and expenses of the special proceeding; the judge must make an order directing the sheriff or receiver to pay the money or deliver the property so remaining in his hands to the debtor, or to such other person as appears to be entitled thereto upon payment of his fees and all other sums legally chargeable against the same.

§7938. Injunction—Bond. §12. The judge by whom the order or warrant was granted or to whom it is returnable may make an injunction order restraining any person or corporation whether a party or not a party to the special proceeding from making or suffering any transfer or other disposition of, or interference with the property of the judgment debtor, or the property or debt concerning which any person is required to attend and be examined until further direction in the premises. Such an injunction may be made simultaneously with the order or warrant by which the special proceeding is instituted, and upon the same papers or afterwards, upon an affidavit showing sufficient grounds therefor. The judge or court may as a condition of granting an application to vacate or modify the injunction order require the applicant to give security in such sum and in such manner as justice requires.

§7939. Service of Injunctions and Orders. §13. An injunction order or an order requiring a person to attend and be examined made as prescribed in this act must be served—

(1) By delivering to the person to be served a certified copy of the original order and a copy of the affidavit on which it was made.

(2) Service upon a corporation is sufficient if made upon an officer to whom a copy of a summons must be delivered where a summons is personally served upon a corporation unless the officer to be served is specially designated in the order, the order may be served by any person who can serve a summons in an action.

§7940. Debtor Shall Have Copies. §14. The sheriff, when he arrests a judgment debtor by virtue of a warrant issued as prescribed in this act, must deliver to him a copy of the warrant and of the affidavit upon which it was granted.

§7941. Creditor's Diligence—Other Creditors May Dismiss—Notice. §15. A special proceeding instituted as prescribed in this act may be discontinued at any time upon such terms as justice requires, by an order of the judge made upon the application of the judgment creditor. Where the judgment creditor unreasonably delays or neglects to proceed or where it appears that his judgment has been satisfied, his proceedings may be dismissed upon like terms by a like order made upon the application of the judgment debtor, or of plaintiff in a judgment creditor's action against the debtor, or, of a judgment creditor who has instituted either of the special proceeding[s] authorized by this act. Where an order, appointing a receiver or extending a receivership, has been made in the course of the special proceeding notice of the application for an order specified in this section must be given in such manner as the judge deems proper, to all persons interested in the receivership as far as they can conveniently be ascertained.

§7942. Costs if Property Found. §16. The judge may make an order allowing to the judgment creditor a fixed sum as costs, consisting of his witness fees and referee's fees and other disbursements, and of a sum in addition thereto not exceeding twenty-five dollars; and directing the payment thereof out of any money which has come or may come to the hands of the receiver or of the sheriff within a time specified in the order.

§7943. Costs if no Property Found. §17. Where the judgment debtor or other person against whom the special proceeding is instituted has been examined, and property applicable to the payment of the judgment has not been discovered, the judge may make an order allowing him a like sum as costs, and directing the payment thereof within a time specified in the order by the judgment creditor.

§7944. Contempt Against Any Order. §18. A person who refuses, or without sufficient excuse neglects to obey an order of a judge or referee made pursuant to any of the provisions of this act, and duly served upon him, or an oral direction given directly to him by a judge or referee in the course of the special proceeding, or to attend before a judge or referee according to the command of a subpoena duly served upon him, may be punished by the judge of the court out of which the execution issued, as for contempt.

§7945. Debtor Can Not Be Ordered Out of County. §19. A judgment debtor who resides or does business in the state, cannot be compelled to attend pursuant to an order made under the provisions of this act, at a place without the county where his residence or place of business is situated. Where the judgment debtor to be examined under this [act] is a corporation, the court may cause such corporation to appear and be examined by making like order or orders as are prescribed in this act, directed to any officer or officers thereof.

Answer of garnishee corporation, §7929.

§7946. Witnesses' Refusal to Give Incriminating Testimony. §20. A party or witness examined in a special proceeding authorized by this act, is not excused from answering a question on the ground that his examination will tend to convict him of a commission of a fraud, or to prove that he has been a party to or privy to or knowing of a conveyance, assignment, transfer or other disposition of property for any purpose; or that he or another person claims to be entitled as against the judgment creditor or a receiver appointed or to be appointed in the special proceeding, to hold property derived from or through the judgment debtor, or to be discharged from the payment of a debt which was due to the judgment debtor or to a person in his behalf. But an answer cannot be used as evidence against the person so answering in a criminal action or criminal proceeding.

§7947. Joint Property Liable Though Defendant Was Not Served With Summons. §21. When, in proceedings under this act, personal service of the summons in the action was not made on all of the defendants, a debt due to, or other personal property owned by, one or more of the defendants not summoned jointly with the defendants summoned, or with any of them, may be reached by proceedings under this act.

How persons jointly liable bound by judgment, §§8449, 8090.

Exemptions generally, §7851.

§7948. Continuance Before Another Judge. §22. A special proceeding under this act instituted before one judge, may be continued from time to time before another judge of the same court, with like effect as if it had been instituted or commenced before the judge who last heard the same.

§7949. Applies to Justices' Judgments. §23. This act shall apply to judgments recovered in justice court, upon which a transcript has been issued and filed with the clerk of the superior court.

§7950. Transcript and Proceedings in any County. §24. Special proceedings under this act may be instituted and prosecuted before the superior court of the county in which the judgment was entered or any judge thereof, or before the superior court of any county to the sheriff of which an execution has been issued or in which a transcript of said judgment has been filed in the office of the clerk of said court or before any judge thereof. L. '99 146.

§7951. Exemptions. §25. This act does not authorize the seizure of or other interference with any property which is expressly exempt by law from levy and sale by virtue of an execution, or any money, thing in action or other property held in trust for a judgment debtor where the trust has been created by or the fund so held in trust has proceeded from a person other than the judgment debtor; or the earnings of the judgment debtor for his personal services rendered within sixty days next before the institution of the special proceeding, where it is made to appear by his oath or otherwise that those earnings are necessary for the use of a family, wholly or partly supported by his labor. Exemption in garnishment, §8022.

§7952. Fees of Referee. §27. The fees of referees appointed in proceedings under this act shall be five dollars per day.

Reasons for taking presumed to exist until contrary shown, Heinzerling v. Agen 49 W. 647.

§7953. Receiver—When With or Without Notice. §28. At any time after making an order requiring the judgment debtor or any other person to attend and be examined, or the issuing of a warrant, as prescribed in this act, the judge to whom the order or warrant is returnable, or the court out of which the order was issued, may make an order appointing a receiver of the property of the judgment debtor. At least two days' notice of the application for the order appointing a receiver must be given personally to the judgment debtor, unless the judge or court is satisfied that he cannot, with reasonable diligence, be found within the state, in which case the order must recite that fact and may dispense with the notice, or may direct notice to be given in any manner which the judge thinks proper. But where the order to attend and be examined, or the warrant has been served upon the judgment debtor, a receiver may be appointed upon the return day thereof, or at the close of the examination, without further notice to him.

Court has broad discretion in appointment of receiver, Smith v. Weed 75 W. 452.

§7954. Trial Without Jury. §26. Proceedings under this act are special proceedings, and shall be heard by the judge or referee before whom the same are returnable without a jury.

§7955. Receiver—Notice to Other Supplementing Creditors. §29. The judge must ascertain, if practicable, by the oath of the judgment debtor or otherwise, whether any other special proceeding authorized by this act is pending against the judgment debtor, or if a receiver has been appointed or application has been made for the appointment of a receiver of the property of the judgment debtor in any other action by a judgment creditor. If either is pending, and a receiver has not been appointed therein, notice of the application for the appointment of a receiver, and of all of the subsequent proceedings respecting the receivership, must be given in such manner as the judge directs to the judgment creditor prosecuting it.

§7956. Receiver—Only One to Be Appointed. §30. Only one receiver of the property of the judgment debtor shall be appointed. Where a receiver thereof has already been appointed, the judge, instead of making the order prescribed in the last section must make an order extending the receivership to the special proceedings before him. Such an order gives to the judgment creditor the same rights as if a receiver was appointed upon his application, including the right to apply to the court to control, direct or remove the receiver or to subordinate the proceedings in or by which the receiver was appointed to those taken under his judgment.

§7957. Receiver.—Where Order Appointing to Be Filed. §31. An order appointing a receiver or extending a receivership must be filed in the office of the county clerk wherein the judgment roll in the action is filed; or if the special proceeding is founded upon an execution issued out of a court other than that in which the judgment was rendered, in the office of the clerk of the county wherein the transcript of the judgment is filed.

§7958. Receivership is Equitable Execution—Filing Order in Another County Holds Personalty Without Levy. §32. The property of the judgment debtor is vested in a receiver, who has duly qualified, from the time of filing the order appointing him or extending his receivership, as the case may be, subject to the following exceptions:

1. Real property is vested in the receiver, only from the time when the order, or a certified copy thereof, as the case may be, is filed with the auditor of the county where it is situated.

2. When the judgment debtor, at the time when the order is filed, resides in another county of the state, his personal property is vested in the receiver only from the time when a copy of the order, certified by the auditor in whose office it is recorded, is filed with the auditor of the county where he resides.

Cited 75 W. 452.

§7959. Receivers' Title Extends Back—Innocent Purchasers. §33. Where the receiver's title to personal property has become vested, as prescribed in the last section, it also extends back by relation, for the benefit of the judgment creditor, in whose behalf the special proceeding was instituted, as follows:

1. When an order requiring the judgment debtor to attend and be examined, or a warrant requiring the sheriff to arrest him and bring him before the judge, has been served, before the appointment of the receiver or the extension of the receivership, the receiver's title extends back so as to include the personal property of the judgment debtor at the time of the service of the order or warrant.

2. Where an order or warrant has not been served as specified in the foregoing subdivision, but an order has been made requiring a person to attend and be examined concerning property belonging or a debt due to the judgment debtor, the receiver's title extends to the personal property belonging to the judgment debtor, which was in the hands or under the control of the person or corporation thus required to attend, at the time of the service of the order, and to a debt then due to him from that person or corporation.

3. In every other case where notice of application for the appointment of a receiver was given to the judgment debtor, the receiver's title extends to the personal property of the judgment debtor at the time when the notice was served, either personally or by complying with the requirements of an order prescribing a substitute for personal service.

4. Where the case is within two or more of the foregoing subdivisions of this section, the rule most favorable to the judgment creditor must be adopted. But this section does not affect the title of a purchaser in good faith without notice, and for a valuable consideration; or the payment of a debt in good faith and without notice.

Personalty held by seizure, §§8121, 7839; but see §7958. 1

§7960. Receivers, Clerk Shall Keep Book of Orders Appointing—Certifications. §34. Each county clerk must keep in his office a book indexed to the names of the judgment debtors, styled "book of orders appointing receivers of judgment debtors." A county clerk, in whose office an order or a certified copy of an order is filed, as prescribed in this act must immediately note thereupon the time of filing it, and as soon as practicable must record it in the book so kept by him. He must also, upon request, furnish forthwith to any party or person interested one or more certified copies thereof. For each omission to comply with any provision of this section, a county clerk forfeits to the party aggrieved two hundred and fifty dollars, in addition to all damages sustained by reason of the omission.

EXECUTORS' ACTIONS.

§7961. Executor May Sue Executor. §718.—718. All other causes of action by one person against another, whether arising on contract or otherwise survive to the personal representatives of the former and against the personal representatives of the latter. Where the cause of action survives as herein provided, the executors or administrators may maintain an action at law thereon against the party against whom the cause of action accrued, or after his death against his personal representatives.

Death pending appeal does not abate action, Wright v. Nor. Pac. Ry., 45 W. 432.

§7962. Two or More Executors as One Party. §719.—719. In an ac-tion against several executors or administrators, they shall all be consid-ered as one person representing their testator or intestate, and judgment may be given and execution issued against all of them who are defendants in the action, although the notice be served only on part of them in the same manner and with like effect as if served on all, except as provided in the next section.

§7963. Complaint Must Allege Assets. §720.—720. When a judg-ment is given against an executor or administrator for want of answer, such judgment is not to be deemed evidence of assets in his hands, unless it appear that the complaint alleged assets and that the notice was served upon him.

§7964. Inventory Not Exclusive Evidence. §721.—721. In an action against executors and administrators, in which the fact of their having ad-ministered the estate of their testator or intestate, or any part thereof, is put in issue and the inventory of the property of the deceased returned by them is given in evidence, the same may be contradicted or avoided by evi-dence:

1. That any property has been omitted in such inventory or was not returned therein at its full value, or that since the return thereof such prop-erty has increased in value.

2. That such property has perished or been lost without the fault of such executors or administrators, or that is [it] has been fairly and duly sold by them at a less price than the value so returned, or that since the return of the inventory such property has deteriorated in value. In such action the defendants cannot be charged for any things in action specified in their inventory, unless it appear that they have been collected or with due diligence might have been.

§7965. Liability of Executor de son tort. §722.—722. No person is liable to an action as executor of his own wrong for having taken, received or interfered with the property of a deceased person, but is responsible to the executors or administrators of such deceased person for the value of all prop-erty so taken or received, and for all injury caused by his interference with the estate of the deceased.

Where husband's executors take possession of wife's estate left unadministered by the husband the administration is irregular but not void and they do not incur liability of executors de son tort. In Hill's Estate 6 W. 285.

§7966. Executor of Executor Has No Rights As Such. §723.—723. An executor of an executor has no authority as such to commence or maintain an action or proceeding relating to the estate of the testator of the first executor, or to take any charge or control thereof.

§7967. Certain Remedies Against Deceased Not Allowed Against Executors. §724.—724. In an action against an executor or administrator as such, the remedies of arrest and attachment shall not be allowed on account of the acts of his testator or intestate, but for his own acts as such executor or administrator, such remedies shall be allowed for the same causes in the manner and with like effect as in actions at law generally.

FORCIBLE ENTRY AND DETAINER.

Criminal code §8858.

Landlord and tenant §3553.

AN ACT defining forcible entry, forcible detainer and unlawful detainer of real property, and providing remedies therefor by summary proceedings. Approved March 7, 1891. Repeal of Laws '90 p 73, and all code provisions saving criminal laws, vested rights and proceedings. Laws '91 p 179.

FORMER LAWS, '89-90 p 73; '91 p 78.

§7968. Forcible Entry Defined. §1. Every person is guilty of a forcible entry who either—

1. By breaking open windows, doors or other parts of a house, or by fraud, intimidation or stealth, or by any kind of violence, or circumstance of terror enters upon or into any real property; or—

2. Who, after entering peaceably upon real property, turns out by force, threats or menacing conduct the party in actual possession.

Landlord and tenant, §3553.

Relation of landlord and tenant must exist to invoke action—tenancy by sufferance—title can not be tried, Meyer v. Berger 43 W. 368.

Title of plaintiff cannot be tried, Monroe v. Stayt 57 W. 592.

Wife occupying leased premises is estopped denying validity of lease, Monroe v. Stayt 57 W. 592.

Offsets, etc., lease void for fraud not defenses—surrender of premises to third party does not change action, Hutchinson v. Wilson 54 W. 410.

The party in possession must have verdict regardless of title, Fowler v. Obnick 45 W. 44.

This act is due process of law and constitutional, State ex rel. German etc. Soc. v. Prather 19 W. 336, Morris v. Healy Lumber Co. 33 W. 451.

This act applies to prior contracts though penalties increased, Woodward v. Winehill 14 W. 394.

This is summary action and all the usual defenses in action are not allowed, Phillips v. Port Townsend Lodge 8 W. 529; Owen v. Stanton 25 W. 112; Carmack v. Drum 27 W. 382. Two actions may be had on same contract and one will not abate the other, Carmack v. Drum, id.

Surrender of lease not required to be in writing and such surrender may be made to the reversioner or his agent, Hart v. Pratt 19 W. 560.

Lessor may maintain action though receiver in mortgage foreclosure against the lessee has been appointed and he is a party, Woodward v. Winehill 14 W. 394.

Notice to receiver is not necessary if lessee was notified before receiver appointed, id.

Succeeding lessee may maintain action, Harris v. Halverson 23 W. 779.

§7969. Forcible Detainer Defined. §2. Every person is guilty of a forcible detainer who either—

1. By force, or by menaces and threats of violence, unlawfully holds and keeps the possession of any real property, whether the same was acquired peaceably or otherwise; or—

2. Who in the night time or during the absence of the occupant of any real property, enters thereon, and who, after demand made for the surrender thereof, refuses for the period of three days to surrender the same to such former occupant. The occupant of real property within the meaning of this subdivision, is one who, for the five days next preceding such unlawful entry, was in the peaceable and undisturbed possession of such real property.

Entry by stealth and forcible detainer of U. S. lands in peaceable possession of another gives no right, Denee v. Ankeny 246 U. S. 208.

Lessor reserving rights held guilty of forcible entry and detainer, Hayes v. Osborn 96 W. 343.

Right as homesteader is not defense, Ridpath v. Denee 85 W. 322.

Complaint held sufficient—facts to be found, Gore v. Altice 33 W. 335.

§7970. Unlawful Detainer Defined. §3. A tenant of real property for a term less than life is guilty of unlawful detainer either (1) when he holds over or continues in possession, in person or by subtenant, of the property or any part thereof after the expiration of the term for which it is let to him. In all cases where real property is leased for a specified term or period by express or implied contract, whether written or by parole, the tenancy shall be terminated without notice at the expiration of such specified term or period; (2) when he having leased real property for an indefinite time, with monthly or other periodic rent reserved, continues in possession thereof, in person or by subtenant, after the end of any such month or period, in cases where the landlord, more than twenty days prior to the end of such month or period, shall have served notice (in manner in this act provided) requiring him to quit the premises at the expiration of such month or period. (3) When he continues in possession in person or by subtenant after a default in the payment of any rent, and after notice in writing requiring in the alternative the payment of the rent or the surrender of the detained premises, served (in manner hereafter in this act provided) in behalf of the person entitled to the rent upon the person owning the same, shall have remained uncomplied with for the period of three days after service thereof. Such notice may be served at any time after the rent becomes due; or (4) when he continues in possession in person or by subtenant after a neglect or failure to keep or perform any other condition or covenant of the lease or agreement under which the property is held, including any covenant not to assign or sub-let, than one for the payment of rent, and after notice in writing requiring .....in the alternative the performance of such condition or covenant or the surrender of the property, served (in the manner provided in this act) upon him, and if there be a sub-tenant in actual possession of the premises, also upon such sub-tenant, shall remain uncomplied with for ten days after service thereof. Within ten days after the service of such notice the tenant, or any sub-tenant in actual occupation of the premises, or any mortgagee of the term, or other person interested in its continuance, may perform such condition or covenant and thereby save the lease from such forfeiture; or (5) when he commits or permits waste upon the demised premises, or when he sets up or carries on therein or thereon any unlawful business, or when he erects, suffers, permits or maintains on or about said premises any nuisance, and remains in possession after service (in manner in this act provided) of three days notice to quit upon him. (6) Any person who shall, without the permission of the owner and without having any color of title thereto, enter upon the land of another, and who shall fail or refuse to remove therefrom after three days notice, in writing, to be served in the manner provided in this act. L. '05 173.

Demand and notice to quit not dispensed with by clause in lease providing for termination of lease at lessor's option, Jeffries v. Spencer 86 W. 133.

Twenty day notice required, Corner Market Co. v. Gillman 77 W. 625.

Failure to pay taxes is unlawful detainer, Olson Land Co. v. Alki Park Co., 63 W. 521.

Clause 2 has no application to clause 3—signature to notice in firm name, Bowman v. Harrison 59 W. 56.

Lessee maintained a nuisance held that landlord properly terminated lease and brought action, Redpath v. Spokane Stamp Works 48 W. 329; injunction against lessor is error, id 370.

Tenant may plead agreement of landlord to repair and payment of rent less repairs, Tipton v. Roberts 48 W. 391.

Action against original lessee for default of rent by his subtenant—sub'etting not assignment—taxes, Agen v. Nelson 51 W. 431.

"Owner" means person entitled to possession, Stahl Brg Co. v. Van Buren 45 W. 451.

L. '05 173 different than original act—election of remedy—ejectment as former remedy—plaintiff's showing, Columbia etc. Co. v. Moss 44 W. 590.

Notice terminating tenancy at end of month served 20 days prior thereto sufficient—tender of rent, Newman v. Worthen 57 W. 467.

Service by mail begins when notice is received, Smith v. Seattle Camp W. O. W. 57 W. 556.

Validity of sublease—evidence—owner's recognition—remedy, Teater v. King 35 W. 138.

Lease of farm with numerous conditions—notice to quit for default—nonpayment of rent—waste, Byrkett v. Gardner 35 W. 668.

Title decreed to plaintiff after tenant had entered by authority of another, held plaintiff entitled to rent—continuing rent recovered by supplemental complaint, State v. Pittinger 37 W. 384.

Notice not necessary where lease is for definite term—condemnation proceedings instituted do not justify holding over, Morris v. Healy Lumber Co. 33 W. 451.

Continuance after term expires is unlawful detainer—notice not necessary, Stanford Land Co. v. Steidle 28 W. 72.

Notice must be given to tenant though he disputes landlord's title, Lowman v.

West 8 W. 355.

Either landlord or second lessee may maintain action, Capital Br'g Co. v. Crosbie 22 W. 269; Schreiner v. Stanton 26 W. 563.

Acceptance of rent may not be ratification of lease, Ovens v. Stanton 25 W. 112.

Assignment of parol lease for indefinite time with consent of lessor that assignee could take as long as rent was paid and straight house kept creates tenancy from month to month, Schreiner v. Stanton 26 W. 563.

Twenty day notice sufficient, McGinnis v. Genss 25 W. 490; Ferguson v. Hoshi, id 664; Yesler Estate v. Orth 24 W. 483.

Notice signed by one of several executors is sufficient, Gilmore v. Baker & Co. 12 W. 468.

§7971. Holding Over Continues Tenancy of Agricultural Lands. §4. In all cases of tenancy upon agricultural lands, where the tenant has held over and retained possession for more than sixty days after the expiration of his term without any demand or notice to quit by his landlord, or the successor in estate of his landlord, if any there be, he shall be deemed to be holding by permission of his landlord, or the successor in estate of his landlord, if any there be, and shall be entitled to hold under the terms of the lease for another full year, and shall not be guilty of an unlawful detainer during said year, and such holding over for the period aforesaid shall be taken and construed as a consent on the part of a tenant to hold for another year.

Oral notice prevents renewal of agricultural lease by holding over, Smetzer v. Webb 101 W. 568.

Holding over agricultural lands for 60 days continues tenancy, Spreitzer v. Miller 98 W. 601.

Tenant under void lease holds over and is entitled to crops though he has sought to compel conveyance, Snyder v. Harding 38 W. 666.

This section construed with the preceding one makes tenant holding over guilty of unlawful detainer for sixty days, after which time he will be entitled to hold over as provided by this section—notice, Mounts v. Goranson 29 W. 262

§7972. Manner of Service—Proof. §5. Any notice provided for in this act shall be served either (1) by delivering a copy personally to the person entitled thereto; or (2) if he be absent from the premises unlawfully held, by leaving there a copy, with some person of suitable age and discretion, and sending a copy through the mail addressed to the person entitled thereto at his place of residence; or (3) if the person to be notified be a tenant, or an unlawful holder of premises, and his place of residence is not known, or if a person of suitable age and discretion there cannot be found then by affixing a copy of the notice in a conspicuous place on the premises unlawfully held, and also delivering a copy to a person there residing, if such a person can be found, and also sending a copy through the mail addressed to the tenant, or unlawful occupant, at the place where the premises unlawfully held are situated. Service upon a sub-tenant may be made in the same manner: Provided, That in cases where the tenant or unlawful occupant, shall be conducting a hotel, inn, lodging house, boarding house, or shall be renting rooms while still retaining control of the premises as a whole, that the guests, lodgers, boarders or persons renting such rooms shall not be considered as sub-tenants within the meaning of this act, but all such persons may be served by affixing a copy of the notice to be served in two conspicuous places upon the premises unlawfully held; and such persons shall not be necessary parties defendant in an action to recover possession of said premises. Service of any notice provided for in this act may be had upon a corporation by delivering a copy thereof to any officer, agent or person having charge of the business of such corporation, at the premises unlawfully held, and in case no such officer, agent or person can be found upon such premises, then service may be had by affixing a copy of such notice in a conspicuous place upon said premises and by sending a copy through the mail addressed to such corporation at the place where said premises are situated. Proof of any service under this section may be made by the affidavit of the person making the same in like manner and with like effect as the proof of service of summons in civil actions. When a copy of notice is sent though the mail, as provided in this section, service shall be deemed complete when such copy is deposited in the United States mail in the county in which the property is situated properly addressed with postage prepaid: Provided, however, That when service is made by mail one additional day shall be allowed before the commencement of an action based upon such notice. L. '11 95; '05 173.

§7973. Venue of Action. §6. The superior court of the county in which the property or some part of it is situated, shall have jurisdiction of proceedings under this act.

§7974. Party Defendant Is Person in Possession—Action Shall Not Fail. §7. No person other than the tenant of the premises and sub-tenant, if there be one, in the actual occupation of the premises when the complaint is filed, need be made parties defendant in any proceeding under this act, nor shall any proceeding abate, nor the plaintiff be non-suited, for the non-rejoinder of any person who might have been made party defendant; but when it appears that any of the parties served with process, or appearing in the proceeding, are guilty of the offense charged, judgment must be rendered against him. In case a person has become a sub-tenant of the premises in controversy after the service of any notice in this act provided for, the fact that such notice was not served on such sub-tenant, shall constitute no defense to the action. All persons who enter the premises under the tenant, after the commencement of the action hereunder, shall be bound by the judgment, the same as if they had been made parties to the action.

§7975. Contents of Complaint—Summons—Publication. §8. The plaintiff, in his complaint, which shall be in writing, must set forth the facts on which he seeks to recover, and describe the premises with reasonable certainty, and may set forth therein any circumstances of fraud, force or violence, which may have accompanied the said forcible entry or forcible or unlawful detainer, and claim damages therefor, or compensation for the occupation of the premises or both; in case the unlawful detainer charged be after default in the payment of rent, the complaint must state the amount of such rent. Upon filing the complaint a summons must be issued thereon as in other cases, returnable at a day designated therein, which shall not be less than six or more than twelve days from its date, except in cases where the publication of summons is necessary, in which case the court or judge thereof may order that the summons be made returnable at such time as may be deemed proper, and the summons shall specify the return day so fixed.

§7976. Contents of Summons—Publication—Alias Summons. §9. The summons must state the names of the parties to the proceeding, the court in which the same is brought, the nature of the action in concise terms, and the relief sought, and also the return day; and must notify the defendant to appear and answer within the time designated or that the relief sought will be taken against him. The summons must be directed to the defendant, and, in case of summons by publication, be served at least five days before the return day designated therein. The summons must be served and returned in the same manner as summons in other actions is served and returned. Upon the return of any summons issued under this act, when the same has not for any reason been served, or has not been served in time, the plaintiff may have a new summons issued the same as if no previous summons had been issued.

Summons not stating nature of action —cannot be cured, Big Bend Land Co. v. Huston 98 W. 640.
nor relief demanded nor return day is void

§7977. Writ of Restitution—Bond. §10. The plaintiff, at the time of commencing an action of forcible entry, or forcible detainer or unlawful detainer, or at any time afterwards, may apply to the judge of the court in which the action is pending, for a writ of restitution restoring to the plaintiff the property in the complaint described, and the judge shall order a writ of restitution to issue. The writ shall be issued by the clerk of the superior court in which the action is pending, and be returnable in twenty days after its date, but before any writ shall issue prior to judgment, the plaintiff shall execute to the defendant and file in court a bond in such a sum as the court or judge shall order, with two or more sureties, to be approved by the clerk, conditioned that the plaintiff will prosecute his action without delay and will pay all costs that may be adjudged to the defendant, and all damages which he may sustain by reason of the writ of restitution having been issued should the same be wrongfully sued out.

§7978. Service of Writ—Counter Bond. §11. The Sheriff shall, upon receiving the writ of restitution, forthwith serve a copy thereof upon the defendant, his agent or attorney, or a person in possession of the premises, and shall not execute the same for three days thereafter, within which time the defendant, or those in possession of the premises, may execute to the plaintiff a bond to be filed with and approved by the clerk of the court in such sum as may be fixed by the judge, with two or more sureties to be approved by the clerk of said court, conditioned that they will pay to the plaintiff such sum as the plaintiff may recover for the use and occupation of the said premises, or any rent found due, together with all damages the plaintiff may sustain by reason of the defendant occupying or keeping possession of said premises, and also all the costs of the action. The plaintiff, his agent or attorneys, shall have notice of the time and place where the court or judge thereof shall fix the amount of the defendant's bond, and shall have notice and a reasonable opportunity to examine into the qualification and sufficiency of the sureties upon said bond before said bond shall be approved by the clerk. The writ may be served by the sheriff, in the event he shall be unable to find the defendant, an agent or attorney, or a person in possession of the demised premises, by affixing a copy of said writ in a conspicuous place upon the demised premises. Counter restitution bond is not superseded by stay bond on appeal—amendment of complaint or giving of second bond will not release sureties, Lowman v. West 18 W. 233.

§7979. Bond, Change of—Additional Bond. §12. The plaintiff or defendant at any time, upon two days' notice to the adverse party, may apply to the court or any judge thereof for an order raising or lowering the amount of any bond in this act provided for. Either party may, upon like notice, apply to the court or any judge thereof for an order requiring additional or other surety or sureties upon any such bond. Upon the hearing or any application made under the provisions of this section evidence may be given. The judge after hearing any such application shall make such an order as shall be just in the premises. The bondsmen may be required to be present at such hearing if so required in the notice thereof, and shall answer under oath all questions that may be asked them touching their qualifications as bondsmen, and in the event the bondsmen shall fail or refuse to appear at such hearing and so answer such questions the bond shall be stricken. In the event the court shall order a new or additional bond to be furnished by defendant, and the same shall not be given within twenty-four hours, the court shall order the sheriff to forthwith execute the writ. In the event the defendant shall file a second or additional bond and it shall also be found insufficient after hearing, as above provided, the right to retain the premises by bond shall be lost and the sheriff shall forthwith put the plaintiff in possession of the premises. L. '05 173.

§7981. Appearance of Defendant. §14. On or before the day fixed for his appearance, the defendant may appear and answer or demur.

Defendant cannot counterclaim damages for loss of business, etc., in unlawful detainer, Ralph v. Lomer 3 W. 401; Phillips v. Port Townsend Lodge, 8 W. 529. Plea of tender of rent due insufficient unless it alleges offer to pay interest on rent in arrears, etc., Ralph v. Lomer, 3 W. 401. Nor ask reformation of lease to express §7982. Cases to Have Precedence. §15. Whenever an issue of fact is presented by the pleadings, it must be tried by a jury, unless such a jury be waived as in other cases. The jury shall be formed in the same manner as other trial juries in the court in which the action is pending; and in all cases actions under this act shall take precedence of all other civil actions.

§7983. Plaintiff's Showing on Trial. §16. On the trial of any proceeding for any forcible entry or forcible detainer, the plaintiff shall only be required to show, in addition to a forcible entry complained of, that he was peaceably in the actual possession at the time of the forcible entry, or, in addition to a forcible detainer complained of, that he was entitled to the possession at the time of the forcible detainer.

Title to property cannot be tried, Meyer v. Beyer, 43 W. 368.

§7984. Amendments Without Costs—No Continuance. §17. When, upon the trial of any proceeding under this act, it appears from the evidence that the defendant has been guilty of either a forcible entry or a forcible or unlawful detainer, in respect of the premises described in the complaint and other than the offense charged in the complaint, the judge must order that such complaint be forthwith amended to conform to such proofs; such amendment must be made without any imposition of terms. No continuance shall be permitted on account of such amendment unless the defendant shows to the satisfaction of the court good cause therefor.

§7985. Judgment for Restitution, Rent and Damages—Relief from Forfeiture. §18. If, upon the trial the verdict of the jury, or, if the case be tried without a jury, the finding of the court be in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant, judgment shall be entered for the restitution of the premises; and if the proceeding be for unlawful detainer after neglect or failure to perform any condition or covenant of a lease or agreement under which the property is held, or after default in the payment of rent, the judgment shall also declare the forfeiture of the lease, agreement or tenancy. The jury, or the court, if the proceeding, be tried without a jury, shall also assess the damages occasioned to the plaintiff by any forcible entry, or by any forcible or unlawful detainer alleged in the complaint and proved on the trial, and, if the alleged unlawful detainer be after default in the payment of rent, find the amount of any rent due, and the judgment shall be rendered against the defendant guilty of the forcible entry, forcible detainer or unlawful detainer for twice the amount of damages thus assessed and of the rent, if any found due. When the proceeding is for an unlawful detainer after default in the payment of rent, and the lease or agreement under which the rent is payable, has not by its terms expired, execution upon the judgment shall not be issued until the expiration of five days after the entry of the judgment, within which time, the tenant or any sub-tenant, or any mortgagee of the term or other party interested in its continuance, may pay into court for the landlord the amount of the judgment and costs, and thereupon the judgment shall be satisfied and the tenant restored to his estate; but if payment, as herein provided, be not made within five days, the judgment may be enforced for its full amount and for the possession of the premises. In all other cases the judgment may be enforced immediately. If writ of restitution shall have been executed prior to judgment, no further writ or execution for the premises shall be required.

§7986. Amendments Before Final Judgment. §19. Amendments may be allowed by the court at any time before final judgment, upon such terms as to the court may appear just, in the same cases and manner and to the same extent as in civil actions.

§7987. Civil Practice Applies—Appeals. §20. Except as otherwise provided in this act, the provisions of the laws of this state with reference to practice in civil actions are applicable to, and constitute the rules of practice in the proceedings mentioned in this act; and the provisions of such laws relative to new trials and appeals, except so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of this act, shall be held to apply to the proceedings mentioned in this act.

§7988. Relief of Tenant or Interested Party from Forfeiture. §21. The court may relieve a tenant against a forfeiture of a lease, and restore him to his former estate, as in other cases provided by law, where application for such relief is made within thirty days after the forfeiture is declared by the judgment of the court, as provided in this act. The application may be made by a tenant or sub-tenant, or a mortgagee of the term, or any person interested in the continuance of the term. It must be made upon petition, setting forth the facts upon which the relief is sought, and be verified by the applicant. Notice of the application, with a copy of the petition, must be served on the plaintiff in the judgment who may appear and contest the application. In no case shall the application be granted except on condition that full payment of rent due, or full performance of conditions of covenants stipulated, so far as the same is practicable be first made.

§7989. Appeal—Stay Bond. §22. If either party feels aggrieved by the judgment, he may appeal to the supreme court, as in other civil actions: Provided, That if the defendant appealing desires a stay of proceedings pending such appeal, he shall execute and file a bond, with two or more sufficient sureties, to be approved by the judge, conditioned to abide the order of the court on such appeal, and to pay all rents and other damages justly accruing to the plaintiff during the pendency of the appeal.

§8002. Issuance and Contents of Writ—Docket. §4. When the foregoing requisites have been complied with, the clerk shall docket the case in the name of the plaintiff as plaintiff and of the garnishee as defendant, and shall immediately issue a writ of garnishment directed to the garnishee, commanding him to appear before the court from which it is issued within twenty days after the service of the writ upon him, if the same be served upon him within the county in which the same is issued, or within thirty days if served in any other county in this state, and to answer on oath what, if anything, he is indebted to the defendant and was when such writ was served, and what personal property or effects, if any, of the defendant he has in his possession or under his control, or had when such writ was served.

Plaintiff not required to pay docket fee, where garnishee pays over money after he has answered, Ward v. Ward 14 W. 640.

Kelly v. Ryan 8 W. 536.

Failure to docket case is no defense

§8003. Affidavit and Answer in Garnishment of Corporate Stock. §5.

Where it appears from the plaintiff's affidavit that the garnishee is an incorporated or joint stock company, in which the defendant is the owner of shares, or is interested therein, the writ of garnishment shall further require the garnishee to answer upon oath what number of shares, if any, the defendant owns in such company, or owned when such writ was served.

Creditor of corporation may garnishee stockholder receiving wrongful dividend, Smith v. Gruber Lum. Co. 81 W. 111.

STATE OF WASHINGTON:

To A B, greeting:

Whereas, in the superior court of the State of Washington, in and for ..... county, in a certain cause wherein C D is plaintiff and E F is defendant, the plaintiff claiming an indebtedness against the said E F of ..... dollars, besides interest and cost of suit, has applied for a writ of garnishment against you.

Now, therefore, you are hereby commanded to be and appear before the said court within twenty days after the service upon you of this writ, if served within ..... county and within thirty days after the service of this writ upon you, if served in any other county of this state, then and there to answer upon oath what, if anything, you are indebted to the said E F, and were when this writ was served upon you, and what effects, if any of the said E F you have in your possession or under your control and had when this writ was served (and if the garnishee be an incorporated or joint stock company, in which the defendant is alleged to be the owner of shares or interested therein, then the writ shall proceed: and further to answer what number of shares, if any, the said E F owns in such company and owned when this writ was served upon you).

§8005. Issuance of Writ. §7. The writ of garnishment shall be dated and tested [attested] in like manner as the writ of attachment and the name and office address of the plaintiff's attorney shall be indorsed thereon or in case the plaintiff has no attorney, then the name and address of the plaintiff shall be indorsed thereon and delivered by the clerk who issues it to the plaintiff or his attorney. L. '03 91.

§8006. Service of Writ. §8. The writ of garnishment may be served by the sheriff or any constable of the county in which the garnishee lives or it may be served by any citizen of the State of Washington over the age of twenty-one years and not a party to the action in which it is issued in the same manner as a summons in an action is served. And in case such writ is served by an officer, such officer shall make his return thereon showing the time, place and manner of service and noting thereon his fees for making such service and shall sign his name to such return. In case such service is made by any person other than an officer, such person shall attach to the original writ, his affidavit showing his qualifications to make such service and the time, place and manner of making service but no fee shall be allowed for the service of such writ unless the same is served by an officer. benefit of creditors, held he could not hold goods in charge of assignee, McAvoy v. Jennings 39 W. 109.

§8010. Discharge of Garnishee. §11. Should it appear from the answer of the garnishee that he is not indebted to the defendant, and was not so indebted when the writ of garnishment was served on him, and that he has not in his possession or under his control any personal property or effects of the defendant, and had not when the writ was served, and when the garnishee is an incorporated or joint stock company, in which the defendant is alleged to be the owner of shares of stock or interested therein, if it shall further appear from such answer that the defendant is not, and was not when the writ was served, the owner of any of such shares or interested in such company, and should the answer of the garnishee not be controverted, as hereinafter provided, and within the time hereinafter provided, the court shall enter judgment discharging the garnishee.

§8011. Judgment by Default Against Garnishee. §12. Should the garnishee fail to make answer to the writ within the time prescribed therein, it shall be lawful for the court, and on or after the time to answer such writ has expired, to render judgment by default against such garnishee for the full amount claimed by plaintiff against the defendant, or in case plaintiff has a judgment against defendant, for the full amount of such judgment with all accruing interest and costs.

§8012. Garnishee Must Pay If Debt Is Due—Judgment Against Garnishee. §13. Should it appear from the answer of the garnishee or should it be otherwise made to appear, as hereinafter provided, that the garnishee is indebted to the defendant in any amount, or was so indebted when the writ of garnishment was served, the court shall render judgment for the plaintiff against such garnishee for the amount so admitted or found to be due to the defendant from the garnishee, unless such amount shall exceed the amount of plaintiff's claim or demand against the defendant, with interest and costs, in which case it shall be for the amount of such claim or demand, interest and costs: Provided, however, If it shall appear from the answer of the garnishee and the same is not controverted, or if it shall appear upon the trial, hereinafter provided for, that the garnishee is indebted to the principal defendant in any sum, but that such indebtedness is not matured, and is not due and payable, the court shall make an order requiring the garnishee to pay such sum into court when the same becomes due, the date when such payment is to be made to be specified in said order, and in default thereof that judgment shall be entered against the garnishee for the amount of such indebtedness so admitted or found due. In case the garnishee shall pay said sum at the time specified in said order, said payment shall operate as a discharge, otherwise judgment shall be entered against him for the amount of such indebtedness, which judgment shall have the same force and effect, and be enforced in like manner as other judgments provided for in this act: Provided further, That if judgment shall be rendered in favor of the principal defendant or if any judgment rendered against him be satisfied prior to the date of payment specified in said order, the garnishee shall not be required to make the payment hereinbefore provided for nor shall any judgment in such case be entered against him.

Where garnishee has given checks to cover future deliveries from time to time, he is not liable in garnishment nor is he bound to stop payment on the checks, Larsen v. Allen L. S. S. Co., 45 W. 406.

§8013. Execution on Judgment Against Garnishee—Application of Proceeds. §14. Execution may be issued on the judgment against the garnishee herein provided for, in like manner as upon any other judgment. The amount made upon any such execution shall be paid by the officer executing the same to the clerk of the superior court from which such execution was issued; and in cases where judgment has been rendered against the defendant, the amount made on the execution shall be applied to the satisfaction of the judgment, interest and costs, against the defendant. In case judgment has not been rendered against the defendant at the time execution issued against the garnishee is returned, any amount made on said execution shall be paid to the clerk of the court from which such execution issued, who shall retain the same until judgment be rendered in the action between the plaintiff and defendant. In case judgment be rendered therein in favor of the plaintiff, the amount made on the execution against the garnishee shall be applied to the satisfaction of such judgment and the surplus, if any there be, shall be paid to the defendant. In case judgment be rendered in such action in favor of the defendant, the amount made on said execution against the garnishee shall be paid to the defendant.

Judgment against garnishee and payment into court, plaintiff entitled to fund State ex rel. Tatum v. Fitzhenry 48 W. 130.

§8014. Delivery of Property by Garnishee and Disposition of the Same—Sale of Property. §15. Should it appear from the garnishee's answer, or otherwise, that the garnishee has in his possession or under his control, or had when the writ was served, any personal property or effects of the defendant liable to execution, the court shall render a decree requiring the garnishee to deliver up to the sheriff, on demand, such personal property or effects or so much of them as may be necessary to satisfy the plaintiff's claim. In cases where a judgment has been rendered in favor of the plaintiff against the defendant, such personal property or effects may be sold in like manner as any other property is sold upon an execution issued on said judgment. In cases where judgment has not been rendered in the principal action, the sheriff shall retain said personal property or effects in his possession until the rendition of judgment therein, and in case judgment is rendered in said principal action in favor of the plaintiff, said goods or effects, or sufficient of them to satisfy such judgment, may be sold in like manner as other property is sold on execution, by virtue of an execution issuing on said judgment. In case judgment shall be rendered in said action against the plaintiff and in favor of the defendant, such effects and personal property shall be, by the sheriff, returned to the defendant: Provided, however, That in cases where such effects or personal property are of a perishable nature, or the interests of the parties will be subserved by making a sale thereof before judgment, the court may order a sale thereof by the sheriff, in like manner as sales upon execution are made, and the proceeds of a sale shall be paid to the clerk of the superior court, and like disposition shall be made of such proceeds at the termination of the action, as would have been made of such personal property or effects under the provisions of this section, in case such sale had not been made.

§8015. Contempt Against Garnishee. §16. Should the garnishee, adjudged to have effects or personal property of the defendant in his possession or under his control as provided in the preceding article, fail or refuse to deliver them to the sheriff on such demand, the officer shall immediately make return of such failure or refusal, whereupon, on motion of the plaintiff the garnishee shall be cited to show cause why he should not be attached for contempt of court for such failure or refusal, and should the garnishee fail to show some good and sufficient excuse for such failure and refusal, he shall be fined for such contempt and imprisoned until he shall deliver such personal property or effects.

§8016. Sales of Corporate Stock. §17. Where the garnishee is an incorporated or joint stock company, and it appears by the answer or otherwise that the defendant is, or was when the writ of garnishment was served, the owner of any shares of stock in such company or any interest therein, the court shall render a decree ordering the sale under execution in favor of the plaintiff against the defendant, of such shares or interest of the defendant in such company, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy such execution.

Pledged corporate stock may be garnished and sold to the extent of the debtor's interest therein—claim of lien to defeat garnishment rejected, Hardin v. White Swan Mining Etc. Co. 26 W. 583.

§8017. Manner of Sale of Corporate Stock—Transfer. §18. The sale so ordered shall be conducted in all respects as other sales of personal property under execution, and the sheriff making such sale shall execute a transfer of such shares or interest to the purchaser, with a brief recital of the judgment of the court under which the same was sold.

§8018. Effect of Sale—Corporation Shall Make Transfer. §19. Such sale shall be valid and effectual to pass to the purchaser all the right, title and interest which the defendant had in such shares of stock, or in such company, and the proper officers of such company shall enter such sale and transfer on the books of the company in the same manner as if the sale had been made by the defendant himself.

§8019. Plaintiff's Reply to Garnishee. §20. If the plaintiff should not be satisfied with the answer of the garnishee, he may controvert the same by affidavit in writing, signed by him, stating that he has good reason to believe and does believe that the answer of the garnishee is incorrect, stating in what particulars he believes the same is incorrect.

Garnishment must be prosecuted with diligence Wooding v. Puget Sound Nat. Bank 11 W. 727. Under former law appearance of garnishee was not adverse proceeding, Coombs v. Davis 2 W. T. 466.

§8022. Current Wages—Exempt. §23. Current wages or salary to the amount of one hundred dollars ($100.00) for personal services rendered by any person having a family dependent upon him for support, shall be exempt from garnishment, and where it appears upon the trial, or by answer of the garnishee, when not controverted as hereinafter provided, that the garnishee is indebted to the defendant for such current wages or salary for an amount not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100.00), the garnishee shall be discharged as to such indebtedness: Provided, That if the garnishment be founded upon a debt for actual necessities furnished to the defendant or his family or his dependents, no exemption shall be allowed in excess of ten dollars ($10.00) out of each week's wages or salary, whether said wages or salary are paid, or to be paid, weekly, bi-weekly, monthly, or at other intervals, and whether there be due the defendant wages for one week or a longer period: Provided, however, That said exemption shall in no event be allowed out of wages or salary for a longer period than four (4) consecutive weeks: And provided, further, That no money due or earned as wages or salary shall be exempt from garnishment in lieu of any other property. The provisions of this section shall apply to actions in the superior court or before justices of the peace, and shall govern exemptions of wages or salary to the exclusion of all other statutes or parts of statutes. §8031. Writ Directed to Person Restraining. §669.—669. The writ shall be directed to the officer or party having the person under restraint, commanding him to have such person before the court or judge at such time and place as the court or judge shall direct, to do and receive what shall be ordered concerning him, and have then and there the writ.

§8032. Service by Clerk on Sheriff. §670.—670. If the writ be directed to the sheriff, it shall be delivered by the clerk to him without delay.

§8033. All Other Services by Sheriff. §671.—671. If the writ be directed to any other person, it shall be delivered to the sheriff and shall be by him served by delivering the same to such person without delay.

§8034. Service by Leaving or Posting Writ. §672.—672. If the person to whom such writ is directed, cannot be found, or shall refuse admittance to the sheriff, the same may be served by leaving it at the residence of the person to whom it is directed, or by posting the same on some conspicuous place, either of his dwelling house or where the party is confined or under restraint.

§8035. Immediate Return Shall Be Made. §673.—673. The sheriff or other person to whom the writ is directed shall make immediate return thereof, and if he refuse after due service to make return, the court shall enforce obedience by attachment.

§8036. Restraining Person Must Make Verified Return. §674.—674. The return must be signed and verified by the person making it, who shall state:

1. The authority or cause of the restraint of the party in his custody.
2. If the authority shall be in writing, he shall return a copy and produce the original on the hearing.

3. If he has had the party in his custody or under his restraint, and has transferred him to another, he shall state to whom, the time, place and cause of the transfer. He shall produce the party at the hearing unless prevented by sickness or infirmity, which must be shown in the return.

§8037. Trial on Return. §675.—675. The court or judge, if satisfied of the truth of the allegation of sickness or infirmity, may proceed to decide on the return, or the hearing may be adjourned until the party can be produced, or for other good cause. The plaintiff may except to the sufficiency of, or controvert the return or any part thereof, or allege any new matter in evidence. The new matter shall be verified except in cases of commitment on a criminal charge. The return and pleadings may be amended without causing a delay.

§8038. Summary Trial. §676.—676. The court or judge shall thereupon proceed in a summary way to hear and determine the cause, and if no legal cause be shown for the restraint or for the continuation thereof shall discharge the party.

Cannot be superseded on appeal, State ex McGhee v. Court 99 W. 619.

§8039. Valid Causes of Detention. §677. No court or judge shall inquire into the legality of any judgment or process whereby the party is in custody, or discharge him when the term of commitment has not expired, in either of the cases following:

§8085. Judgment Roll. §3. Immediately after entering the judgment, the clerk shall attach the following papers in the case, which shall constitute the judgment roll:

1. If the complaint has not been answered by any defendant, and no pleading has been filed by an intervenor, he shall attach together in the order of their filing, issuing, and entry, the complaint, summons, and proof of service, and a copy of the entry of judgment.

2. In all other cases he shall attach together in like manner the summons and proof of service, the pleadings, bill of exceptions, all orders relating to change of parties, together with a copy of the entry of judgment, and all other journal entries or orders in any way involving the merits and necessarily affecting the judgment.

§8086. Indorsements on Judgment Roll. §4. In all cases, the clerk shall attach upon the outside of the judgment roll a blank sheet of paper, upon which he shall indorse the name of the court, the title of the action, for whom judgment was given, and the amount or nature thereof, and the date of its entry.

§8087. Execution Docket. §307.—307. Every clerk shall keep in his office a well-bound book, to be called the execution docket, which shall be a public record, and open during the usual business hours, to all persons desirous of inspecting it.

§8088. Contents of Execution Docket. §310.—310. He shall leave space on the same page, if practicable, with each case, in which he shall enter, in the order in which they occur, all the proceedings subsequent to the judgment in said case, until its final satisfaction, including the time when and to what county the execution is issued, and when returned, and the return or substance thereof. When the execution is levied on personal property, which is returned unsold, the entry shall be; "Levied (noting the date) on property not sold." When any sheriff shall furnish the clerk with a copy of any levy upon real estate on any judgment, the minutes of which are entered in his execution docket, the entry, shall be; "Levied upon real estate," noting the date and shall refer to the page upon the book of levies where the same is entered, as is hereinafter provided. When any execution issued to any other county is returned, levied upon real estate in such county, the entry in the docket shall be: "Levied on real estate of _____ in _____ county," noting the date, county, and defendant whose estate is levied upon, and when the money is made, or any part thereof, the amount and time when made shall be entered; also when a writ of error has been taken, or the judgment is appealed, modified, discharged or in any manner satisfied, the facts in respect thereto shall be entered. The parties interested may also assign or discharge such judgment on such execution docket. When the judgment is fully satisfied in any way, the clerk shall write the word "satisfied," in large letters across the face of the entry of such judgment.

§8089. Book of Levies. §313.—313. The clerk shall also keep in his office a well bound book, to be called a book of levies, which shall be a public record and open during the usual business hours to all persons desirous of inspecting the same, in which he shall enter all levies upon real estate in his county, when delivered to him by the sheriff, as provided by law. An alphabetical index shall be prefixed to the book of levies, containing the names of all persons upon whose real estate such levies have been made, and when such levies are discharged in any manner, an entry thereof shall be made in the margin of the book of levies where the levy is recorded.

§8090. Defendant Not Served May Be Made Liable. §314.—314. When a judgment is recovered against one or more of several persons jointly indebted upon an obligation, by proceeding as provided in section sixtv-eight of this act, [§8449] such defendants who were not originally served with the summons, and did not appear to the action, may be summoned to show cause why they should not be bound by the judgment, in the same manner as though they had been originally served with the summons.

Defendant jointly liable but not included in judgment cannot be summoned on judgment, Nolan v. McNamee 82 W. 585.

§8091. How Defendant Not Served to Be Summoned. §315.—315. The summons, as provided in the last section, must describe the judgment, and require the person summoned to show cause why he should not be bound by it, and must be served in the same manner, and returnable within the same time, as the original summons. It is not necessary to file a new complaint.

§8092. Affidavit of Amount Due. §316.—316. The summons must be accompanied by an affidavit of the plaintiff, his agent, representative or attorney, that the judgment or some part thereof, remains unsatisfied and must specify the amount due thereon.

§8093. Answer of Defendant. §317.—317. Upon the service of such summons and affidavit the defendant may answer, within the time specified therein, denying the judgment, or setting up any defense which may have arisen subsequently to the taking of the judgment, or he may deny his liability on the obligation upon which the judgment was rendered; except a discharge from such liability by the statute limitations.

Cited 82 W. 585.

§8093a. Pleadings. §318.—318. If the defendant in his answer, deny the judgment, or set up any defense which may have arisen subsequently, the summons with the affidavit annexed and the answer, constitute the written allegations in the case; if he deny his liability on the obligation upon which the judgment was rendered, a copy of the original complaint and judgment, the summons with the affidavit annexed, and the answer, constitute such written allegations.

§8093b. Trial and Judgment. §319.—319. The issue formed may be tried as in other cases, but, when the defendant denies in his answer, any liability on the obligation upon which the judgment was rendered, if a verdict be found against him, it must not exceed the amount remaining unsatisfied on such original judgment, with interest thereon.

AN ACT relating to the rendition of judgments against sureties on cost bonds filed in any court. Approved March 17, 1909. L. '09 p 633.

§8093c. Entry Against Surety. §1. Whenever any bond or undertaking for the payment of any costs to any party shall be filed in any action or other legal proceeding in any court in this state and judgment should be rendered for any such costs against the principal on any such bonds or against the party primarily liable therefor in whose behalf any such bond or undertaking has been filed, such judgment for costs shall be rendered against the principal on such bond or the party primarily liable therefor and at the same time also against his surety or sureties on any or all such bonds or undertakings filed in any such action or other legal proceeding.

Surety on cost bond must be served with notice of appeal, Shippen v. Shippen 91 W 610.

JUDGMENTS—COMMISSIONERS TO CONVEY REALTY.

§8094. When Commissioner May Be Appointed. §528.—528. The several superior courts may, whenever it is necessary, appoint a commissioner to convey real estate:

1. When by a judgment in an action a party is ordered to convey real property to another, or any interest therein.

2. When real property, or any interest therein, has been sold under a special order of the court and the purchase money paid therefor.

§8095. Requisites of Deed. §529.—529. The deed of the commissioner shall so refer to the judgment authorizing the conveyance, that the same may be readily found, but need not recite the record in the case generally.

§8096. Effect of Judgment—Deed. §530.—530. A conveyance made in pursuance of a judgment shall pass to the grantee the title of the parties ordered to convey the land.

§8097. Effect of Sale—Deed. §531.—531. A conveyance made in pursuance of a sale ordered by the court, shall pass to the grantee the title of all the parties to the action or proceeding.

§8098. Court Must Approve Deed. §532.—532. A conveyance by a commissioner shall not pass any right until it has been examined and approved by the court, which approval shall be endorsed on the conveyance and recorded with it.

§8099. Parties' Names Must Appear. §533.—533. It shall be sufficient for the conveyance to be signed by the commissioner only, without affixing the name of the parties whose title is conveyed, but the names of the parties shall be recited in the body of the conveyance.

§8100. Deed Shall Be Recorded. §534.—534. The conveyance shall be recorded in the office in which by law it should have been recorded had it been made by the parties whose title is conveyed by it.

§8101. Specific Performance by the Party. §535.—535. In case of a judgment to compel a party to execute a conveyance of real estate the court may enforce the judgment by attachment or sequestration, or appoint a commissioner to make the conveyance.

JUDGMENTS—CONFESSION OF.

§8102. Defendant May Confess Judgment. §291.—291. On the confession of the defendant, with the assent of the plaintiff or his attorney, judgment may be given against the defendant in any action before or after answer, for any amount or relief not exceeding or different from that demanded in the complaint.

§8104. Confession by One of Several Defendants. §293.—293. When the action is upon a contract, and against one or more defendants jointly liable, judgment may be given on the confession of one or more defendants against all the defendants thus jointly liable, whether such defendants have been served or not, to be enforced only against their joint property, and against the joint and separate property of the defendant making the confession.

§8105. Confession to be in Writing and Acknowledged. §294.—294. The confession and assent thereto shall be in writing and subscribed by the parties making the same, and acknowledged by each before some officer authorized to take acknowledgments of deeds.

§8106. Confession on Contingent Liability or Debt to Become Due. §295.—295. A judgment by confession may be entered without action, either for money due or to become due, or to secure any person against contingent liability on behalf of the defendant, or both, in the manner prescribed by this chapter.

§8107. Contents of Statement for Confession. §296.—296. A statement in writing shall be made, signed by the defendant and verified by his oath, to the following effect:

1. It shall authorize the entry of judgment for a specified sum.
2. If it be for money due or to become due, it shall state concisely the facts out of which the indebtedness arose, and shall show that the sum confessed to be due, is justly due or to become due.
3. If it be for the purpose of securing the plaintiff against a contingent liability, it shall state concisely the facts constituting the liability, and show that the sum confessed therefor does not exceed the same.

Where debtor employs his own attorney to sue him for creditor the judgment is by confession and must conform to statute—consideration for note must be stated, Puget Sound Nat. Bank v. Levy 10 W. 499. Bona fides will not excuse compliance with the statute, id.

§8108. Judgment to Be Entered and Execution Issue. §297.—297. The statement must be presented to the superior court [or] a judge thereof, and if the same be found sufficient, the court or judge, shall endorse thereon an order that judgment be entered by the clerk, whereupon it may be filed in the office of the clerk, who shall enter a judgment for the amount confessed, with costs. Execution may be issued and enforced thereon in the same manner as upon judgments in other cases.

JUDGMENTS—BY DEFAULT.

Forcible entry and detainer, default in Rule of superior courts §8431c. §7980.

§8109. How Judgment by Default Taken. §289.—289. Judgment may be had if the defendant fail to answer to the complaint as follows:

1. In any action arising on contract for the recovery of money only, the plaintiff may file with the clerk proof of personal service of the summons and complaint, on one or more of the defendants. The court shall thereupon enter judgment for the amount claimed, against the defendant or defendants, or against one or more of the several defendants in the cases provided for in section 68 [§8449]. Where the defendant, by his answer, in any such action, shall not deny the plaintiff's claim, but shall set up a counter claim amounting to less than the plaintiff's claim, judgment may be had by the plaintiff for the excess of said claim over the said counter claim.

2. In other actions the plaintiff may, upon the like proof, apply to the court, after the expiration of the time for answering, for the relief demanded in the complaint. If the taking of an account, or of the proof of any fact be necessary, to enable the court to give judgment, or to carry the judgment into effect, the court may take the account or hear the proof, or may, in its discretion, order a reference for that purpose. Where the action is for the recovery of damages, in whole or in part, the court may order the damages to be assessed by a jury; or if to determine the amount of damages, the examination of a long account be necessary, by a reference, as above provided. If the defendant give notice of appearance in the action, before the expiration of the time for answering, he shall be entitled to five days' notice of the time and place of application to the court, for the relief demanded in the complaint.

3. In action where the service of the summons was by publication, the plaintiff, upon the expiration of the time for answering may, upon proof of service by publication, apply for judgment and the court must thereupon require proof of the demand mentioned in the complaint, and must require the plaintiff or his agent to be examined on oath, respecting any payments that have been made to the plaintiff, or to any one for his use on account of such demand, and may render judgment for the amount which he is entitled to recover, or for such other relief as he may be entitled to.

JUDGMENTS—REVIVAL OF.

§8125. When Judgments May Be Revived—Procedure. §323.—323. If any judgment shall remain unsatisfied in whole or in part, at the end of five years after the date of its rendition, the lien thereof may be revived and continued as in this section provided:

1. The judgment creditor, his assignee, or the party to whom said judgment is due and payable, shall file a motion with the clerk of the court where judgment is entered, to revive and continue the lien of the same, with leave to issue an execution. The motion shall state the names of the parties to the judgment, the date of its entry, the amount claimed to be due thereon, or the particular property of which the possession was thereby adjudged to such party remaining undelivered. The motion shall be subscribed and verified in the same manner as an original complaint.

2. At anytime after filing such motion, the party may cause notice to be served on the judgment debtor in like manner and with like effect as a summons; said notice shall be attached to a copy of said motion, by the clerk of the court, and be served by the sheriff or other officer as an original summons. It shall cite the judgment debtor to appear, and show cause why the said motion should not be allowed. The time in which the judgment debtor shall be required to appear, shall be the same as is prescribed for answer to a complaint, and the law applicable to service of a summons, shall apply to the service of such notice. In case the judgment debtor be dead, the notice may be served upon his legal representatives.

3. The judgment debtor, or in case of his death, his representatives, may file an answer or demurrer to such motion within the time allowed by law to answer a complaint, alleging any defense to such motion which may exist. If no answer be filed within the time prescribed, the motion shall be allowed as of course. The moving party may demur or reply to the answer. The pleadings shall be subscribed and verified, and the proceedings concluded as in original actions.

4. The word representatives in this section shall be deemed to include any or all of the persons in whose possession property of the judgment debtor may be which is liable to be taken and sold or delivered in satisfaction of the execution, and not otherwise.

5. The order shall specify the amount due upon such unsatisfied judgment for which execution is to issue, or the particular property, possession of which is to be delivered; it shall be entered in the journal and docketed as a judgment, and a final record shall be made of the proceedings in the same manner as a judgment.

Limitation of six years, §8164.

If contract prior to act limiting judgment to six years above section in force, Kelleher v. Wells 87 W. 323.

Revival may be had by direct action at law, Meikle v. Cloquet 44 W. 513.

Execution sale after lien expired is void though the execution issued prior to its expiration, Packwood v. Briggs 25 W. 530.

Motion to revive is not commencement of an action, Burns v. Connor 1 W. 6.

§8126. Proof for Revival—No Revival After Six Years. §324. Such motion shall not be granted unless it be established by oath of the party, or other satisfactory proof, that the judgment, or some part thereof, remains unsatisfied. The order of the court granting such leave shall operate as a revival of the judgment for the amount found due at the time of such revival, and the same shall be and continue a lien upon real estate of the judgment debtor for a period of five years from and after the date of such order, in like manner with the original judgment: Provided. That a transcript thereof shall, within twenty days, be filed in the office of the county auditor of the county where the lands lie of such judgment debtor, or said lien shall be suspended till such transcript be filed. Revived judgments shall bear the same interest and be in all respects similar to original judgments, as to lien and enforcement of collection: Provided, however, That no judgment shall be revived or continued unless proceedings for such revival or continuance shall be commenced within six years after the date of its rendition: Provided, further, That this act shall not apply to any judgment now in existence, until one year from the time this act takes effect. L. '91 165.

For the purposes of revival time runs judgment, and nuc pro tunc order of the court can not affect the case, Barthrop v. Tucker 29 W. 666.

§8139. Injunction. §443.—443. The party seeking to vacate or modify a judgment or order, may obtain an injunction suspending proceedings on the whole or part thereof, which injunction may be granted by the court or the judge, upon its being rendered probable, by affidavit or petition sworn to, or by exhibition of the record, that the party is entitled to have such judgment or order vacated or modified.

JURIES.

Coroner's jury and inquest §1738.

Exemptions of employers of militiamen Grand jury, procedure §9232.
§3765-142. Trial by jury §8488.

AN ACT in relation to juries. Approved February 25, 1891. Laws '91 p 86.

FORMER LAWS, '54 p 431; '61-2 p 33; '62-3 p 399; '77 p 233; C81 §§2078-85, and '83 p 33, '87-8 pp 115 117.

§8140. Jury Defined. §1. A jury is a body of men temporarily selected from the qualified inhabitants of a particular district, and invested with power, 1. To present or indict a person for a public offense; or 2. To try a question of fact.

§8141. Three Kinds of Juries. §2. There shall be three kinds of juries:
1. A grand jury; 2. A petit jury; 3. A jury of inquest.

§8142. Grand Jury. §3. A grand jury is a body of men not less than twelve nor more than seventeen in number impaneled and sworn to inquire of public offenses committed or triable within the county.

§8143. Petit Jury. §4. A petit jury is a body of men, twelve in number in the superior court, and six in number in courts of justices of the peace; drawn in the superior court by lot from the jurors in attendance upon the court at a particular session, and sworn to try and determine a question of fact; but in a justice's court the jury is drawn according to the mode specially provided for such court.

§8144. Jury of Inquest. §5. A jury of inquest is a body of men, six in number, summoned from the qualified inhabitants of a particular district, before the coroner, or other ministerial officer, to inquire of particular facts.

§8145. Exemptions—Excuses. §7. Civil officers of the United States, civil and judicial officers of the state, attorneys at law, ministers of the gospel or priests, school teachers, practicing physicians, locomotive engineers, active members of the fire department of any city or village, all persons who have served twice as a juror within two years, and all persons over sixty years of age, shall not be compelled to serve as jurors, and in preparing jury lists, the county commissioners shall omit the names of such persons; but no act of a grand or petit jury shall be invalid by reason of such person or persons aforesaid, qualified in other respects, serving thereon; nor shall any disqualification of any member of a grand or petit jury affect the indictment or verdict, unless, the juror for that specific cause was challenged or excepted to before the finding of the indictment or rendition of the verdict, and the challenge or exception overruled, and error specifically assigned upon the overruling of such challenge or exception. A person may be excused from acting as a juror when, for any reason, his interests or those of the public will be materially injured by his attendance; or when his own health, or the death or illness of a member of his family, requires his absence; but no person shall be excused on account of the causes in this section mentioned, unless it appear that after he was summoned he could not, by reasonable precaution, have provided against them.

§8146. Telegraph Employees Exempt from Militia and Jury Duty
§2351—10. All operators, clerks and persons in the employ of any telegraph company, whilst employed in the offices of said company or along the route of its telegraph line, shall be exempt from militia duty and from serving on juries, and from any fine or penalty for the neglect thereof.

§8147. Open Venire When Panel Set Aside. §8. If for any cause the court shall see fit to set aside the venire for grand or petit jurors, returned as above provided, an open venire may thereupon issue to the sheriff, who shall thereupon complete the panel by such open venire as speedily as possible.

§8148. Open Venire to Fill Jury. §9. If for any cause a sufficient number of grand or petit jurors are not returned by the sheriff in the manner first herein contemplated, or if a sufficient number of grand or petit jurors are not in attendance, the court may order the panel filled by summoning a sufficient number by an open venire issued and directed to the sheriff.

Accused has no right in number of jurors to fill incomplete panel, State v. Croney 31 W. 122.

§8149. Duty of Sheriff. §10. When a venire is delivered to the sheriff, he shall without delay proceed to summon the jurors as therein directed, and shall immediately thereafter make and file in the court a return of his doings thereon.

§8150. Limit of Service. §11. No person shall be summoned as a petit juror in any superior court upon an open venire more than once in one year; and it shall be sufficient cause of challenge to any juror called to be sworn in any cause that he has been summoned upon an open venire and attended said court as a juror at any session of said court held within one year prior to the time of such challenge; or that he has been summoned from the bystanders or body of the county, and has served as juror in any cause upon such summons, within one year prior to the time of such challenge.

§8152. Persons Exempt. §2. Officers of the United States and of the state, attorneys at law, school teachers, practising physicians, licensed embalmers, active members of the fire and police departments of any municipality, women, and all persons over sixty years of age, shall not be compelled to serve as jurors; and in preparing jury lists, the names of such persons, other than women and persons over sixty years of age, shall, if it be known that they are entitled to be excused from jury service, be omitted from the jury list; Provided, however, That the right of any such person to be excused from jury service shall not be cause for challenge as to his competency if he desires to serve. Provided further: That any woman desiring to be excused from jury service may claim exemption by signing a written or printed notice thereof and returning same to the sheriff before the date for appearance, and if exemption is claimed by reason of sex, no fee shall be allowed for her appearance. And it shall be the duty of the person serving any summons for jury service to inform the person served of this provision.

§8153. Jury List. §3. Upon the taking effect of this act, the judge or judges of the superior court of each county in this state shall divide the county into not less than three nor more than six jury districts.

§8153. Jury Lists. §3. Upon the taking effect of this act, the judge or judges of the superior court of each county in this state shall divide the county into not less than three nor more than six jury districts, following the lines of voting precincts and arranging the districts in such manner that the population in each district shall be as nearly equal as may be, and the fixing of the boundaries of the district shall be evidenced by an order made by the court and entered upon its records. The County Assessor in each county in the state shall prepare annually a list of all persons qualified and subject to serve as a juror, giving the name, age, sex, whether naturalized or native born citizen, occupation, judicial district and post-office address of such persons and file a copy thereof with the County Clerk on or before the first day of June of each year. Any female who upon being listed by the County Assessor shall claim her exemption to serve as a juror, shall not be listed by the said County Clerk in the preparation of the list of jurors. During the month of July of each

A selection of 960 out of 5000 persons is not subject to objection by challenge to the panel, State v. Vance 29 W. 435.

§8154. Jury Terms—Drawing. §4. Jury terms shall commence on the first Monday of each month, and shall end on the Saturday preceding the first Monday of each month, unless the day of commencing or ending said term be changed by order of the judge or judges of the superior court; but it shall not be necessary to call a jury for any term in any county unless the judge or judges of the superior court of that county shall consider that there is sufficient business to be submitted to a jury to require that one be called. When the judge or judges of the superior court of any county shall deem that the public business requires a jury term to be held, he or they shall require the county clerk to draw a jury to serve for the ensuing term, and the county clerk, on the second Saturday of the calendar month preceding the month on which the jury is to be called to serve, shall be blindfolded, and in the presence of the judge or judges or of a court commissioner of the superior court, shall draw from the jury boxes such number of names as the judge or judges may have ordered to be summoned as jurors for the ensuing term. The names shall be drawn in equal numbers from each jury box, and before the drawing is made the boxes shall be shaken up so that the slips bearing the names thereon may be thoroughly mixed, and the drawing of the slips shall depend purely upon chance.

§8155. Grand Jury. §5. Whenever the judge or judges of the superior court of any county in the state shall desire to summon a grand jury, the names of persons to serve as grand jurors shall be drawn from the jury list, as hereinbefore provided; Provided, however, That the names of the persons who shall serve as grand jurors shall not be stricken from the jury list, and such service shall not excuse them from service upon petit juries, as though they had not been summoned upon the grand jury.

§8156. Talesmen—Open Venire. §6. If for any reason the jurors drawn for service upon a petit jury for any term shall not be sufficient to dispose of the pending jury business, or where no jury is in regular attendance and the business of the court may require the attendance of a jury before a regular term, the judge or judges of the superior court may draw from the jury list such additional names as they may consider necessary, and the persons whose names are so drawn shall thereupon be summoned to serve as jurors forthwith. The judge or judges drawing such additional names, may, in his or their discretion, order and direct that, of such additional jurors, only those living nearest to the county seat or most conveniently reached and found shall be at first summoned by the sheriff, and at any time when a sufficiency of such persons has been summoned and produced in court, such judge or judges may, in his or their discretion, order and direct the sheriff not to summon the remainder of the additional jurors so drawn. By stipulation or agreement made in open court as a part of the record, the parties to any action may agree that an open venire may be issued to make up a jury in that action, and upon order of the court approving such stipulation and directing the number of jurors to be drawn, the clerk shall issue an open venire, and the sheriff shall fill the same by summoning from the bystanders, or elsewhere, a sufficient number of persons to fill the open venire.

§8157. Jurors May Be Excused. §7. A person summoned as a juror may be excused from acting as such on account of any of the reasons stated in section 2 hereof; when his own health requires, on account of death in his family, or of illness in his family of such character that he is required to be in attendance thereupon, or when his business interests would be seriously prejudiced by such service. No person, however, shall be excused from service as a juror on account of business reasons unless his service is such as would lead to the waste or destruction of his property; and unless it shall appear that after having been summoned as a juror he had made every reasonable effort to permit of his serving as a juror without causing waste or destruction of his property. When excused for any of the foregoing reasons, or for any reason deemed sufficient by the court, the name of the juror so excused shall remain upon the jury list from which jurors are drawn, and his name returned to the jury box from which it was drawn. Any person applying to be excused from jury service for any of the causes herein specified, may be placed upon oath or affirmation to testify truly in all respects as to the cause for such excuse, and that he will answer truly any question put to him by the judge with respect thereto.

§8158. Jurors Kept Together, When. §8. In no action or proceeding whatever, except felony cases shall the jury sworn to try the issue therein be kept together and in the custody of the officers of the court, save during the actual progress of the trial, until the case shall have been finally submitted to them for their decision. Whenever the jury are kept together in the custody of the officers when the trial is not in progress, they shall be supplied with meals at regular hours, and with comfortable sleeping and toilet accommodations.

§8159. Validity of Drawing. §2. The failure on the part of any officer to perform the duties required within the time or other irregularity in said drawing shall in no way invalidate the selecting, summoning or drawing of said jurors.

Information will not invalidate list, State v. Boklen 14 W. 403.

LIMITATION OF ACTIONS.

§8160. Bar of the Statute Interposed By Answer or Demurrer. §25. Actions can only be commenced within the periods herein prescribed after the cause of action shall have accrued, except when in special cases a different limitation is prescribed by statute; but the objection that the action was not commenced within the time limited can only be taken by answer or demurrer.

gage, Hanna v. Kasson 26 W. 568

Mortgagee may proceed on note alone, Frank v. Pickle 2 W. T. 55.

§8207.

Execution for Installments. §615.—615. Whenever a complaint is filed for the foreclosure of a mortgage upon which there shall be due any interest or installment of the principal, and there are other installments not due, if the defendant pay into the court the principal and interest due, with costs, at any time before the final judgment, proceedings thereon shall be stayed, subject to be enforced upon a subsequent default in the payment of any installment of the principal or interest thereafter becoming due. In the final judgment, the court shall direct at what time and upon what default any subsequent execution shall issue.

New summons not necessary for subsequent installments—paying any installment does not defeat foreclosure—attorney fee—insurance, Strandell v. Strand 82 W. 59.

Payment of installments due while others remain but are not yet due, proceedings will be stayed but not dismissed, American L. & G. Co. v. Union Depot Co. 80 Fed. Rep. 36.

§8208. Sale in Parcels to Pay Installments. §616.—616. In such cases, after final judgment, the court shall ascertain whether the property can be sold in parcels, and if it can be done without injury to the interests of the parties, the court shall direct so much only of the premises to be sold as will be sufficient to pay the amount then due on the mortgage with costs, and the judgment shall remain and be enforced upon any subsequent default, unless the amount due, shall be paid before execution of the judgment is perfected.

§8209. Sale of All—Application of Proceeds. §617.—617. If the mortgaged premises cannot be sold in parcels, the court shall order the whole to be sold, and the proceeds of the sale shall be applied first to the payment of the principal due, interest and costs, and then to the residue secured by the mortgage and not due; and if the residue do not bear interest, a deduction shall be made therefrom by discounting the legal interest; and in all cases where the proceeds of the sale shall be more than sufficient to pay the amount due and costs, the surplus shall be paid to the mortgage debtor, his heirs and assigns.

Proceeds to be applied to installments due and if more sold to installments not due, Naden v. Christopher, 62 W. 413.

§8210. Provisions Apply to Chattel Mortgages. §618.—618. The provisions herein contained, so far as the same shall be applicable, shall govern in actions for the foreclosure of chattel mortgages or bills of sale creating liens on personal property.

§8211. Deficiency Judgment—Order of Sale and Execution. §619.—619. The mortgagee or holder of the lien may proceed upon his mortgage or lien, if there be a separate obligation in writing to pay the same, secured by said mortgage or lien, he may bring suit upon such separate promise. When he proceeds on the mortgage, if there be a specific agreement therein contained for the payment of a certain sum, or there is a separate obligation for the said sum in addition to a decree of sale of mortgaged property, judgment shall be rendered for the amount due upon said mortgage or other instrument, the payment of which is thereby secured. The decree shall direct the sale of the mortgaged property and if the proceeds of said sale be insufficient under the execution, the sheriff is authorized to levy upon and sell other property of the mortgage debtor, not exempt from execution, for the sum remaining unsatisfied.

§8217. Bond by Plaintiff—Arrest and Bail. §2. Upon such affidavit and complaint being filed, the clerk shall issue an order of arrest and bail, directed to the sheriff, which shall be issued, served, and returned in all respects as such orders in other cases; before such order shall issue, the plaintiff shall file in the office of the clerk a bond, with sufficient surety, to be approved by the clerk, conditioned that the plaintiff will pay the defendant such damages and costs as he shall wrongfully sustain by reason of the action, which sureties shall justify as bail upon an arrest.

§8218. Defendant's Bond—Commitment. §638. The sheriff shall require the defendant to enter into a bond, with sufficient surety, personally to appear within the time allowed by law for answering the complaint, and to abide the order of the court; and in default thereof the defendant shall be committed to prison until discharged in due course of law; such special bail shall be liable for the principal, and shall have a right to arrest and deliver him up, as in other cases, and the defendant may give other bail. L. '91 81.

§8219. Security for Contract and Release of Defendant. §639.—639. Instead of giving special bail, as above provided, the defendant shall be entitled to his discharge from custody if he will secure the performance of the contract to the satisfaction of the plaintiff.

§8220. Sureties and Joint Obligors May Have Writ. §640.—640. This proceeding may be had in favor of any surety or other person jointly bound with the defendant. It may also be prosecuted by the person in whose favor the contract exists, against any one or more of the persons bound thereby, upon filing such affidavit, when the co-contractors are non-residents or probably insolvent; or at the request of any of them when they are residents and solvent.

§8221. Habeas Corpus as in Arrest and Bail. §641.—641. The defendant may have the same remedy by writ of habeas corpus as in other cases of arrest and bail.

§8233. Warrant May Issue Within Six Months. §607.—607. If the order be made, the clerk shall thereafter at any time within six months, when requested by the plaintiff issue such warrant directed to the sheriff, requiring him forthwith to abate the nuisance at the expense of the defendant, and return the warrant as soon thereafter as may be, with his proceedings endorsed thereon. The expenses of abating the nuisance may be levied by the sheriff on the property of the defendant and in this respect the warrant is to be deemed an execution against property.

§8234. Stay Bond—Warrant Reissued When. §608.—608. At any time before the order is made or the warrant issues, the defendant may, on motion to the court or judge thereof, have an order to stay the issue of such warrant, for such period as may be necessary, not exceeding six months, to allow the defendant to abate the nuisance himself upon his giving bond to the plaintiff in a sufficient amount, with one or more sureties to the satisfaction of the court or judge thereof, that he will abate it within the time and in the manner specified in such order. The sureties shall justify as bail upon arrest. If the defendant fails to abate such nuisance within the time specified, the warrant for the abatement of the nuisance may issue as if the same had not been stayed.

AN ACT relating to houses or places of lewdness, assignation and prostitution, to declare the same to be nuisances, to enjoin the person or persons who conduct or maintain the same, and the owner or agent of any building or property used for such purposes, and to assess a tax against the person or persons maintaining said nuisance and against the building or property and owner and agent thereof. Approved March 19, 1913. Laws '13, ch. 127.

§8235. House, Etc., of Prostitution a Nuisance. §1. Whoever shall erect, establish, maintain, continue, use, own or lease any building or place used for the purpose of lewdness, assignation or prostitution is guilty of a nuisance, and the building or place, or the ground itself, in or upon which lewdness, assignation or prostitution is conducted, permitted or carried on, continued or exists, and the furniture, fixtures, musical instruments, and contents are also declared a nuisance, and shall be enjoined and abated as hereinafter provided.

Affirmed, State ex rel. Lundin v. Campbell 95 W. 701.

§8236. Action—Injunction—Notice. §2. Whenever a nuisance exists, as defined in this act, the prosecuting attorney or any citizen of the county may maintain an action in equity in the name of the State of Washington upon the relation of such prosecuting attorney or citizen, to perpetually enjoin said nuisance, the person or persons conducting or maintaining the same, and the owner or the agent of the building or ground upon which said nuisance exists. In such action, the court or judge may upon the presentation of a petition therefor alleging that the nuisance complained of exists, allow a temporary injunction if it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the court or judge that such nuisance exists. At least three days' notice in writing shall be given the defendant of the hearing of the application. Any violation of the provisions of injunction herein provided shall be a contempt as hereinafter provided.

Lundin v. Humphrey 94 W. 599.

Temporary cessation of unlawful practices will not defeat action, State ex rel.

Title of complaint defective cured by recitals, State v. Knutson 81 W. 47.

§8237. Evidence—Dismissal—Continuance—Costs. §3. In such action evidence of the general reputation of the place shall be admissible for the purpose of proving the existence of said nuisance. If the complaint is filed by a citizen, it shall not be dismissed except upon a sworn statement made by the complainant and his attorney, setting forth the reasons why the action should be dismissed, and the dismissal approved by the prosecuting attorney in writing or in open court. If the court is of the opinion that the action ought not to be dismissed, he may direct the prosecuting attorney to prosecute such action to judgment, and if the action is continued more than once, upon the application of either party, any citizen of the county or the prosecuting attorney may be substituted for the complaining party and prosecute said action to judgment. If the action is brought by a citizen and the court finds there was no reasonable ground or cause for said action, the costs may be taxed to such citizen who originally brought such action.

§8238. Contempt—Punishment. §4. In case of the violation of any injunction granted under the provisions of this act, the court or judge may summarily try and punish the offender. The proceedings shall be commenced by filing with the clerk of the court an information under oath, setting out the alleged facts constituting such violation, upon which the court or judge shall cause an attachment to issue, under which the defendant shall be arrested. The trial may be had upon affidavit, or either party may demand the production and oral examination of the witnesses. A party found guilty of contempt under the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not less than two hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than three nor more than six months, or by both fine and imprisonment.

§8239. Abatement—Costs. §5. If the existence of the nuisance be established in an action as provided in this act, or in a criminal proceeding, an order of abatement shall be entered as a part of the judgment in the case, which order shall direct the removal from the building or place of all fixtures, furniture, musical instruments or movable property used in conducting the nuisance, and may direct the sale thereof in the manner provided for the sale of chattels under execution and effectual closing of the building or place against its use for any purpose, and so keeping it closed for a period not exceeding six months. If any person shall break and enter or use a building or place so directed to be closed, he shall be punished as for contempt as provided in the preceding section. For removing and selling all movable property, the officer shall be entitled to charge and receive the same fees as he would for levying upon and selling like property on execution, and for closing the premises and keeping them closed, a reasonable sum shall be allowed by the court.

Conditional sales valid in abatement levies, Simon Plano Co. v. Fairfield 103 W. 206.

§8240. Proceeds of Property Sold, Disposed of. §6. The proceeds of the sale of the personal property, as provided in the preceding section, shall be applied in payment of the costs of the action and abatement, and the balance, if any, shall be paid to the person owning such property prior to said sale.

§8241. Suspension of Judgment—Lien. §7. If the owner appears and pays all costs of the proceedings, and files a bond with sureties to be approved by the clerk in the full value of the property, to be ascertained by the court conditioned that he will immediately abate said nuisance and prevent the same from being established or kept therein within a period of one year thereafter, the court or judge may, if satisfied of his good faith order the premises closed under the order of abatement to be delivered to said owner, and said order of abatement cancelled so far as same may relate to said property, and if the proceeding be an action in equity and said bond be given and costs therein paid before judgment and order of abatement, the action shall be thereby abated as to said building only. The release of the property under the provisions of this action shall not release it from any judgment, lien, penalty or liability to which it may be subject by law.

§8242. Fine of Property, Tax to Pay. §8. Whenever a permanent injunction issues against any person for maintaining a nuisance as herein defined, or against any owner or agent of the building kept or used for the purposes prohibited by this act, there shall be assessed against said building and the ground upon which the same is located and against the person or persons maintaining said nuisance, and the owner or agent of said premises, a tax of three hundred dollars. The assessment of said tax shall be made by the county assessor of the county in which the nuisance exists and shall be made within three months from the date of the granting of the permanent injunction. In case the assessor fails or neglects to make said assessment the same shall be made by the sheriff of the county, and a return of said assessment shall be made to the county treasurer. Said tax may be enforced and collected in the manner prescribed for the collection of taxes under the general revenue laws and shall be a perpetual lien upon the real property, and personal property not already sold as provided by this act, used for the purpose of maintaining said nuisance, and the payment of said tax shall not relieve the person or building from any penalties provided by law, and when collected shall go into the county general fund.

§8244. Injured Party May Bring Action. §653.—653. When a public officer by official misconduct or neglect of duty, shall forfeit his official bond or render his sureties therein liable upon such bond, any person injured by such misconduct or neglect or who is by law entitled to the benefit of the security may maintain an action at law thereon in his own name against the officer and his sureties to recover the amount to which he may by reason thereof be entitled.

Judgment against sheriff for wrongful levy not conclusive against sureties, Larson v. Deering 97 W. 616.

§8245. Leave of Court to Sue. §654.—654. Before an action can be commenced by a plaintiff, other than the state, or the municipal or public corporation named in the bond, leave shall be obtained of the court or judge thereof where the action is triable. Such leave shall be granted upon the production of a certified copy of the bond and an affidavit of the plaintiff, or some person in his behalf, showing the delinquency. But if the matter set forth in his affidavit be such that, if true, the party applying would clearly not be entitled to recover in the action, the leave shall not be granted. If it does not appear from the complaint that the leave herein provided for has been granted, the defendant, on motion, shall be entitled to judgment of non-suit; if it does, the defendant may controvert the allegation, and if the issue be found in his favor, judgment shall be given accordingly.

§8247. Recovery Against Sureties Limited to Penalty. §656.—656. In an action upon an official bond, if judgments have been recovered against the surety therein other than by confession, equal in the aggregate to the penalty or any part thereof of such bond, and if such recovery be established on the trial, judgment shall not be given against such surety for an amount exceeding such penalty, or such portion thereof as is not already recovered against him.

§8248. Recovery of Fines and Forfeitures. §657.—657. Fines and forfeitures may be recovered by an action at law in the name of the officer or person to whom they are by law given, or in the name of the officer or person who by law is authorized to prosecute for them.

§8249. Maximum Penalty Prescribed, Judgment for Any Amount. §658.—658. When an action shall be commenced for a penalty, which by law is not to exceed a certain amount, the action may be commenced for that amount, and if judgment be given for the plaintiff, it may be for such amount or less, in the discretion of the court, in proportion to the offense.

§8250. Judgment for Penalty by Collusion Is Not Bar. §659.—659. A recovery of a judgment for a penalty or forfeiture by collusion between the plaintiff and defendant, with intent to save the defendant wholly or partially from the consequences contemplated by law, in case when the penalty or forfeiture is given wholly or partly to the person who prosecutes, shall not bar the recovery of the same by another person.

§8251. Unappropriated Fines Go to School Fund—Venue. §660.—660. Fines and forfeitures not specially granted or otherwise appropriated by law, when recovered, shall be paid into the school fund of the proper county. Whenever by the provisions of law any property real or personal shall be forfeited to the state or to any officer for its use, the action for the recovery of such property may be commenced in any county where the defendant may be found or where such property may be.

§8281. Service on Parties By Intervenor—No Delay. §24.—24. When leave is given to intervene, a copy of the intervenor's complaint shall be served upon the parties to the action or proceedings who have not appeared, or publication of a notice of the intervention containing a brief statement of the nature of the intervenor's demand shall be made in all cases where there are absent or non-resident defendants. The notice shall be published in the same manner and for the same length of time as prescribed in this act for publication of summons. And the complaint shall also be served upon the attorneys of the parties who have appeared, who may answer or demur to it as if it were an original complaint. The court shall determine upon the rights of the intervenor at the same time the action is decided, and if the claim of the party intervening is not sustained, he shall pay all costs incurred by the intervention: Provided, That no intervention shall be cause for delay in the trial of an action between the original parties thereto beyond the term to which the action is brought.

Interpleader will not lie when party had given bond in claim for property and judgment had been given against him on bond, Carstens v. Gustin 19 W. 403.

This act and §8277 empowers the court to determine any controversy and give judgment between the parties, Seattle v. Turner 29 W. 515.

Garnishee may maintain interpleader—equitable proceeding, Smith v. Dement Bros. Co. 100 W. 139.

§8283. Disclaimer and Non-Liability for Costs—Procedure. §2. In all actions commenced under the preceding section, the plaintiff may disclaim any interest in the money, property or indebtedness, and deposit with the clerk of the court the full amount of such money or indebtedness, or other property, and he shall not be liable for any costs accruing in said action. And the clerks of the various courts shall receive and file such complaint, and all other officers shall execute the necessary processes to carry out the purposes of this act, free from all charge to said plaintiff; and the court, in its discretion, shall determine the liability for costs of the action.

§8284. Real Parties at Interest to Appear—Procedure. §3. Either of the defendants may set up or show any claim or lien he may have to such property, money or indebtedness, or any part thereof, and the superior right, title or lien, whether legal or equitable, shall prevail. The court, or judge thereof, may make all necessary orders during the pendency of said action, for the preservation and protection of the rights, interests or liens of the several parties.

PARTITION.

§8285. Partition of Real Property. §552.—552. When several persons hold, and are in possession, of real property, as tenants in common, in which one or more of them, have an estate of inheritance, or for life, or years, an action may be maintained by one or more of such persons, for a partition thereof according to the respective rights of the persons interested therein, and for sale of such property, or a part of it, if it appear that a partition cannot be made without great prejudice to the owners.

Presumption that property may be equitably divided—"great prejudice" applied, Williamson Investment Co. v. Williamson 96 W. 529.

Survivorship in joint tenancy abolished, §3426.

Estate for life or years remainder in fee cannot be partitioned, Easley v. Easley 78 W. 505.

Partition may be had by persons having title whatever the interest, title not required to be tried in separate action, Hill v. Young 7 W. 33; Kromer v. Friday 10 W. 639.

Party must establish right to conveyance before he can ask partition, Chapman v. Allen 11 W. 627.

Partition by probate court held void, but good as an act of the parties, Brazes v.

Schofield 2 W. T. 109.

Voluntary partition inter partes is void when one of the deeds invalid—decree in partition not adversary is not conclusive on parties as against claimants who were not parties, Pacific Bank v. Hannah (C. C. A.) 90 Fed. Rep. 72.

Where joint owners contemplated property would be sold shortly and it was not, partition may be had, Griggs v. Gower, 29 W. 86.

Partition barred in ten years, Hyde v. Britton, 41 W. 277; see Graves v. Graves, 48 W. 664.

Cotenant who, under impression of full ownership, makes improvements, entitled in partition to part containing improvements, Leake v. Hayes, 13 W. 213.

§8286. Complaint. §553.—553. The interest of all persons in the property, shall be set forth in the complaint specifically and particularly as far as known to the plaintiff, and if one or more of the parties, or the share or quantity of interest of any of the parties be unknown to the plaintiff, or be uncertain or contingent, or the ownership of the inheritance depend upon an executory devise, or the remainder be a contingent remainder, so that such parties cannot be named, that fact shall be set forth in the complaint.

Plaintiff must show title, Chapman v. Allen 11 W. 627. Substantial compliance sufficient, Kromer v. Friday, 10 W. 621.

§8287. Lienors May Be Made Parties. §554.—554. The plaintiff may, at his option, make creditors having a lien upon the property or any portion thereof, other than by a judgment or decree, defendants in the suit. When the lien is upon an undivided interest or estate of any of the parties, such lien, if a partition be made, is thenceforth a lien only on the share assigned to such party; but such share shall be first charged with its just proportion of the costs of the partition, in preference to such lien.

Liens are adjusted upon voluntary partition by the parties, Port v. Parfit 4 W. 369.

§8288. Notice to Known and Unknown Parties. §555.—555. The notice shall be directed by name to all the tenants in common, who are known, and in the same manner to all lien creditors who are made parties to the suit, and generally to all persons unknown, having or claiming an interest or estate in the property.

§8289. Publication to Unknown Parties. §556.—556. If a party, having a share or interest in, or lien upon the property, be unknown, or either of the known parties reside out of the State or cannot be found therein, and such fact be made to appear by affidavit, the notice may be served by publication, as in ordinary cases. When service is made by publication, the notice must contain a brief description of the property which is the subject of the suit.

Service by publication, §8441.

§8290. What Answer Shall Set Out. §557.—557. The defendant shall set forth in his answer, the nature, and extent of his interest in the property, and if he be a lien creditor, how such lien was created, the amount of the debt secured thereby and remaining due, and whether such debt is secured in any other way, and if so, the nature of such other security.

Defendant in possession having entered profits, Lake v. Hayes 13 W. 213; Blackwell on unproductive estate may set up entire well v. McLean 9 W. 301. May have credit title and get partition, have accounting for money paid at request of plaintiff to for taxes and betterments though made by defend title, Blackwell v. McLean 9 W. husband and not be liable for rents and 301.

§8291. Rights to Be Tried Before Partition or Sale. §558.—558. The rights of the several parties, plaintiffs as well as defendants, may be put in issue, tried and determined in such suit, and where a defendant fails to answer, or where a sale of the property is necessary, the title shall be ascertained by proof to the satisfaction of the court, before the decree for partition or sale is given.

Title may be quieted and partition granted in the same action, Crowley v. Byrne, 71 W. 444. v. Friday 10 W. 639. Court has power to try title—title of ancestor in heirs' name shown, Womach v. Sandygren 96 W. 12.

§8292. Sale—Referees—Unknown Owners. §559.—559. If it be alleged in the complaint and established by evidence, or if it appear by the evidence without such allegation in the complaint, to the satisfaction of the court, that the property or any part of it, is so situated that partition cannot be made without great prejudice to the owners, the court may order a sale thereof, and for that purpose may appoint one or more referees. Otherwise, upon the requisite proofs being made, it shall decree a partition according to the respective rights of the parties as ascertained by the court, and appoint three referees, therefor, and shall designate the portion to remain undivided for the owners whose interests remain unknown or are not ascertained.

Decree designating "referee" as "trustee" held good, Blackwell v. McLean 9 W. 301. Sale may be had though necessity has not been alleged, Hill v. Young 7 W. 33.

§8293. Allotment in Kind—Report of Referees. §560.—560. In making the partition, the referees shall divide the property, and allot the several portions thereof to the respective parties, quality and quantity relatively considered, according to the respective rights of the parties as determined by the court, designating the several portions by proper landmarks, and may employ a surveyor with the necessary assistants to aid them therein. The referees shall make a report of their proceedings, specifying therein the manner of executing their trust, describing the property divided and the shares allotted to each party, with a particular description of each share.

§8294. Confirmation of Report. §561.—561. The court may confirm or set aside the report in whole or in part, and if necessary appoint new referees. Upon the report being confirmed a decree shall be entered that such partition be effectual forever, which decree shall be binding and conclusive:

1. On all parties named therein, and their legal representatives who have at the time any interest in the property divided, or any part thereof as owners in fee, or as tenants for life or for years, or as entitled to the reversion, remainder or inheritance of such property or any part thereof, after the termination of a particular estate therein, or who by any contingency may be entitled to a beneficial interest in the property, or who have an interest in any undivided share thereof, as tenants for years or for life.

2. On all persons interested in the property to whom notice shall have been given by publication.

3. On all other persons claiming from or through such parties or persons or either of them.

Court may set aside report of referees and re-allot, Hamlin v. Hamlin 90 W. 467.

§8295. When Tenants and Third Parties Not Affected. §562.—562. Such decree and partition shall not affect any tenants, for years or for life, of the whole of the property which is the subject of partition, nor shall such decree and partition preclude any persons except such as are specified in the last section, from claiming title to the property in question, or from controverting the title of the parties between whom the partition shall have been made.

§8296. Costs. §563.—563. The expenses of the referees, including those of a surveyor and his assistants, when employed, shall be ascertained and allowed by the court, and the amount thereof, together with the fees allowed by law to the referees, shall be paid by the plaintiff and may be allowed as costs.

§8297. Allotment of Part—Sale of Part. §564.—564. If the referees report to the court that the property, of which partition shall have been decreed, or any separate portion thereof is so situated, that a partition thereof cannot be made without great prejudice to the owners, and the court is satisfied that such report is correct, it may thereupon by an order direct the referees to sell the property or separate portion thereof.

§8298. Sale of Part, Tenant's Interest Partitioned. §565.—565. When a part of the property only is ordered to be sold, if there be an estate for life or years in an undivided share of the property, the whole of such estate may be set off in any part of the property not ordered sold.

§8299. Parties to Be Brought In. §566.—566. Before making an order of sale, if lien creditors, other than those by judgment or decree, have not been made parties, the court, on motion of either party, shall order the plaintiff to file a supplemental complaint, making such creditors defendants.

§8300. Liens on Record to Be Brought In. §567.—567. If an order of sale be made before the distribution of the proceeds thereof, the plaintiff shall produce to the court the certificate of the auditor of the county where the property is situated, showing the liens remaining unsatisfied, if any, by judgment or decree, upon the property or any portion thereof, and unless he do so the court shall order a reference to ascertain them.

§8301. Referee to Make Findings as to Liens. §568.—568. If it appear by such certificate or reference, in case the certificate is not produced, that any such liens exist, the court shall appoint a referee to ascertain what amount remains due thereon or secured thereby respectively, and the order of priority in which they are entitled to be paid out of the property.

§8302. Notice to Lienors. §569.—569. The plaintiff must cause a notice to be served at least twenty days before the time for appearance on each person having such lien by judgment or decree, to appear before the referee at a specified time and place, to make proof by his own affidavit or otherwise, of the true amount due or to become due, contingently or absolutely on his judgment or decree.

§8303. Report of Referee. §570.—570. The referee shall receive the evidence and report the names of the creditors whose liens are established, the amounts due thereon, or secured thereby, and their priority respectively, and whether contingent or absolute. He shall attach to his report the proof of service of the notices and the evidence before him.

§8304. Exceptions to Referee's Report—Publication to Non-Resident Lienors. §571.—571. The report of the referee may be excepted to by either party to the suit, or to the proceedings before the referee, in like manner and with like effect as in ordinary cases. If a lien creditor be absent from the State, or his residence therein be unknown, and that fact appear by affidavit, the court, or judge thereof, may by order direct that service of the notice may be made upon his agent or attorney of record or by publication thereof, for such time and in such manner as the order may prescribe.

§8305. Confirmation of Report. §572.—572. If the report of the referee be confirmed, the order of confirmation is binding and conclusive upon all parties to the suit, and upon the lien creditors who have been duly served with the notice to appear before the referee, as provided in section 569.

§8305a. Application of Encumbered Property. §573.—573. The proceeds of the sale of the encumbered property shall be distributed by the decree of the court, as follows:

1. To pay its just proportion of the general costs of the suit.
2. To pay the costs of the reference.
3. To satisfy the several liens in their order of priority, by payment of the sums due, and to become due, according to the decree.
4. The residue among the owners of the property sold, according to their respective shares.

§8306. Marshaling Securities. §574.—574. Whenever any party to the suit, who holds a lien upon the property or any part thereof, has other securities for the payment of the amount of such lien, the court may in its discretion, order such sureties to be exhausted before a distribution of the proceeds of sale, or may order a just deduction to be made from the amount of the lien on the property on account thereof.

§8307. Trial Shall Not Delay Parties Not Affected. §575.—575. The proceedings to ascertain the amount of the liens, and to determine their priority as above provided, or those hereinafter authorized to determine the rights of parties to funds paid into court, shall not delay the sale, nor affect any other party, whose rights are not involved in such proceedings.

§8308. How Proceeds to Be Disposed of. §576.—576. The proceeds of sale, and the securities taken by the referees, or any part thereof, shall be distributed by them to the persons entitled thereto, whenever the court so directs. But if no such direction be given, all such proceeds and securities shall be paid into court, or deposited as directed by the court.

§8309. Individual Rights to Be Determined. §577.—577. When the proceeds of sale of any shares, or parcel, belonging to persons who are parties to the suit and who are known, are paid into court, the suit may be continued as between such parties, for the determination of their respective claims thereto, which shall be ascertained and adjudged by the court. Further testimony may be taken in court, or by a referee at the discretion of the court, and the court may, if necessary, require such parties to present the facts or law in controversy, by pleadings as in an original suit.

§8310. Sales as on Execution. §578.—578. All sales of real property, made by the referees shall be made by public auction, to the highest bidder, in the manner required for the sale of real property on execution. The notice shall state the terms of sale, and if the property, or any part of it is to be sold, subject to a prior estate, charge or lien, that shall be stated in the notice.

§8311. Sale on Credit for Unknown Owners. §579.—579. The court shall, in the order of sale, direct the terms of credit which may be allowed for the purchase money of any portion of the premises, of which it may direct a sale on credit; and for that portion of which the purchase money is required by the provisions hereinafter contained, to be invested for the benefit of unknown owners, infants or parties out of the state.

§8312. Securities and How Taken. §580.—580. The referees may take separate mortgages, and other securities for the whole, or convenient portions of the purchase money, of such parts of the property as are directed by the court to be sold on credit, in the name of the clerk of the court, and his successors in office; and for the shares of any known owner of full age, in the name of such owner.

§8313. Tenant's Interest May Be Sold. §581.—581. When the estate of any tenant for life or years, in any undivided part of the property in question, shall have been admitted by the parties, or ascertained by the court to be existing at the time of the order of sale, and the person entitled to such estate shall have been made a party to the suit, such estate may be first set off out of any part of the property, and a sale made of such parcel, subject to the prior unsold estate of such tenant therein; but, if in the judgment of the court, a due regard to the interest of all the parties require that such estate be also sold, the sale may be so ordered.

§8314. Acceptance of Proceeds by Tenant. §582.—582. Any person entitled to an estate for life or years in any undivided part of the property, whose estate shall have been sold, shall be entitled to receive such sum in gross as may be deemed a reasonable satisfaction for such estate, and which the person so entitled shall consent to accept instead thereof, by an instrument duly acknowledged and filed with the clerk.

§8315. When Tenant's Proceeds to Be Deposited in Court. §583.—583. If such consent be not given, as provided in the last section, before the report of sale, the court shall ascertain and determine what proportion of the proceeds of the sale, after deducting expenses, will be a just and reasonable sum to be invested for the benefit of the person entitled to such estate for life or years, and shall order the same to be deposited in court for that purpose.

§8316. Court Shall Protect Unknown Owners. §584.—584. If the persons entitled to such estate, for life or years, be unknown, the court shall provide for the protection of their rights in the same manner, as far as may be, as if they were known and had appeared.

§8317. Valuation of Vested or Contingent Interest—Investment of Proceeds. §585.—585. In all cases of sales in partition, when it appears that a married woman has an inchoate right of dower in any of the property sold, or that any person has a vested or contingent future right or estate therein, the court shall ascertain and settle the proportionate value of such inchoate contingent or vested right or estate, and shall direct such proportion of the proceeds of sale to be invested, secured or paid over in such manner as to protect the rights and interests of the parties.

§8318. Sales—Terms to Be Made Known—Sale by Parcels. §586.—586. In all cases of sales of property the terms shall be made known at the time, and if the premises consist of distinct farms or lots, they shall be sold separately or otherwise, if the court so directs.

§8319. Sales—Who Shall Not Purchase. §587.—587. Neither of the referees, nor any person for the benefit of either of them, shall be interested in any purchase, nor shall the guardian of an infant party be interested in the purchase of any real property being the subject of the suit, except for the benefit of the infant. All sales contrary to the provisions of this section, shall be void.

§8320. Referees' Report of Sale. §588.—588. After completing the sale, the referees shall report the same to the court, with a description of the different parcels of land sold to each purchaser, the name of the purchaser, the price paid or secured, the terms and conditions of the sale, and the securities, if any taken. The report shall be filed with the clerk.

§8321. Confirmation—Deeds. §589.—589. The report of sale may be excepted to in writing by any party entitled to a share of the proceeds. If the sale be confirmed, the order of confirmation shall direct the referees to execute conveyances and take securities pursuant to such sale.

§8322. Encumbrancers Credit if Purchaser. §590.—590. When a party entitled to a share of the property, or an encumbrancer entitled to have his lien paid out of the sale, becomes a purchaser, the referees may take his receipt for so much of the proceeds of the sale as belonging to him.

§8323. Investment of Funds Not Claimed. §591.—591. When there are proceeds of sale belonging to an unknown owner, or to a person without the state, who has no legal representative within it, or when there are proceeds arising from the sale of an estate subject to the prior estate of a tenant for life or years, which are paid into the court or otherwise deposited by order of the court, the same shall be invested in securities on interest for the benefit of the persons entitled thereto.

§8324. Investments in Name of Clerk of Court. §592.—592. When the security for the proceeds of sale is taken, or when an investment of any such proceeds is made, it shall be done, except as herein otherwise provided, in the name of the clerk of the court and his successors in office, who shall hold the same for the use and benefit of the parties interested, subject to the order of the court.

§8325. Securities May Be Allotted. §593.—593. When security is taken by the referees on a sale, and the parties interested in such security by an instrument in writing under their hands, delivered to the referees, agree upon the shares and proportions to which they are respectively entitled, or when shares and proportions have been previously adjudged by the court, such securities shall be taken in the names of and payable to the parties respectively entitled thereto, and shall be delivered to such parties upon their receipt therefor. Such agreement and receipt shall be returned and filed with the clerk.

§8326. Clerk's Record of Investments. §594.—594. The clerk in whose name a security is taken, or by whom an investment is made, and his successors in office shall receive the interest and principal as it becomes due, and apply and invest the same as the court may direct, and shall file in his office all securities taken and keep an account in a book provided and kept for that purpose in the clerk's office, free from [for] inspection by all persons, of investments and moneys received by him, thereon, and the disposition thereof.

§8327. Owelty of Partition. §595.—595. When it appears that partition cannot be made equal between the parties according to their respective rights, without prejudice to the rights and interests of some of them, the court may adjudge compensation to be made by one party to another on account of the inequality of partition; but such compensation shall not be required to be made to others by owners unknown, nor by infants, unless in case of an infant it appear that he has personal property sufficient for that purpose, and that his interest will be promoted thereby.

§8328. Infant's Share to Be Paid to Guardian. §506.—506. When the share of an infant is sold, the proceeds of the sale may be paid by the referees making the sale, to his general guardian, or the special guardian appointed for him in the suit, upon giving the security required by law, or directed by order of the court.

§8329. Share of Insane to Be Paid to Guardian—Bond. §597.—597. The guardian who may be entitled to the custody and management of the estate of an insane person, or other person adjudged incapable of conducting his own affairs, whose interest in real property shall have been sold, may receive in behalf of such person his share of the proceeds of such real property from the referees, on executing a bond with sufficient sureties, approved by the judge of the court, conditioned that he will faithfully discharge the trust reposed in him, and will render a true and just account to the person entitled, or to his legal representative.

§8330. Guardians May Agree to Partition Without Suit. §598.—598. The general guardian of an infant, and the guardian entitled to the custody and management of the estate of an insane person, or other person adjudged incapable of conducting his own affairs, who is interested in real estate held in common or in any other manner, so as to authorize his being made a party to an action for the partition thereof, may consent to a partition without suit and agree upon the share to be set off to such infant or other person entitled, and may execute a release in his behalf to the owners of the shares or parts to which they may respectively be entitled, and upon an order of the court.

Guardians may make admissions fully in the absence of fraud or collusion, contrary to asserted rights and bind heirs Kromer v. Friday 10 W. 621.

§8331. Costs. §599.—599. The costs of partition, including fees of referees and other disbursements, shall be paid by the parties respectively entitled to share in the lands divided, in proportion to their respective interests therein, and may be included and specified in the decree. In that case there shall be a lien on the several shares, and the decree may be enforced by execution against the parties separately. When, however, a litigation arises between some of the parties only, the court may require the expense of such litigation to be paid by the parties thereto, or any of them.

Only statutory attorneys' fees can be taxed as costs, Legg v. Legg 34 W. 132.

Facts actually or presumably within the personal knowledge of the pleader cannot be denied for want of knowledge, Olympia v. Turpin, 70 W. 581.

Denials.

General denial alleging specific amount good—negative pregnant, Peters v. McPherson, 62 W. 496.

Defendants "say that they deny each and every allegation" without motion to make the denial more specific is good, Town of Denver v. Spokane Falls 7 W. 226.

A general denial does not admit corporate existence of the plaintiff, id.

An answer that "does not deny or admit" is insufficient—where an answer denies conclusions but not the facts it is insufficient—if complaint shows statute of limitations has run, an answer setting up the statute does not set up new matter; Lake v. Steinbach 5 W. 659.

Answer that defendant "has no knowledge or information to form a belief" is a sufficient denial, Colby v. Spokane 12 W.

Non-joinder not appearing on face of complaint and not pleaded in abatement is waived, First Natl. Bank v. Hamor (C. C. A.) 49 Fed. Rep. 45.

Answer defective but tenders issue on a material matter, error to give plaintiff judgment on pleadings, Rourke v. Miller 3 W. 73.

— As to Particular Allegations.

In an action for damages on a joint claim any defendant may plead the claim of all in defense and obtain judgment, if any, for balance, Brodeck v. Farnum 11 W. 565.

Denial, on information and belief, as to filing of lien notice in auditor's office insufficient, Sumpter v. Burnham 51 W. 599.

Denial of allegation of no adequate remedy at law tenders no issue of fact, Abbott v. Gaches 20 W. 517.

Denial of equities entitling plaintiff to receiver must be full and responsive, Cameron v. Groveland Imp. Co. 20 W. 169; Roberts v. Center 26 W. 435; Sherman v. Sweeney 29 W. 321.

Denial of a contract not aided by setting up another version of the contract, Puget Sd. I. Co. Worthington 2 W. T. 472; Trumbull v. Jackman 9 W. 524; Peterson v. Seattle Trac. Co. 23 W. 615.

Affirmative defenses that are mere denials add nothing to general denial, Johnston v. McCart 24 W. 19; Adams v. Casey 39 W. 37.

Where plaintiff alleges property is separate, answer alleging it is community requires no reply, Dueber v. Wolfe 47 W. 634.

Insufficient plea of confession and avoidance amounts to mere denial, Roberts v. Center 26 W. 435.

In unlawful detainer, allegation of different lease adds nothing to general denial, Ryan v. Lambert 49 W. 649.

— Negative Pregnant.

Denial in manner and form admits allegation, Seattle v. Buzby 2 W. T. 25.

Plea of statute of limitations held a negative pregnant, Gammon v. Dyke 2 W. T. 266; denial of exact amount of complaint is negative pregnant, Dillon v. Spokane 3 W. T. 498; negative pregnant, see Columbia Nat. Bank v. Western I. & S. Co. 14 W. 162; Cole v. Noerdlinger 22 W. 51; O'Brien v. Seattle Ice. Co. 43 W. 217.

Answer "that whether said warrant came into the hands of plaintiff as alleged, this defendant has no knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief, and he therefore denies the same" good, Nat. Bank v. Meerwaldt 8 W. 630.

Denial that $50 is a reasonable attorney's fee admits that any sum less is reasonable, Proulx v. S. & P. M. Co. 6 W. 478.

Traverse of affidavit in attachment that defendant "is about to assign, secrete and dispose of his property with intent to hinder and delay creditors" is negative pregnant and raises no issue, Hansen v. Doherty 1 W. 461.

— In Particular Cases.

If mortgagee and constable convert chattels they cannot plead foreclosure as another action pending in action for conversion, Pickle v. Smalley 21 W. 473.

In action on a contract against a corporation, an insufficient denial admits authority of agent of corporation, Frost v. Ainslie L. Co. 3 W. 241.

In action on foreign judgment, denial that court had jurisdiction and that cause of action never existed insufficient, Ritchie v. Carpenter 2 W. 512; Aultman v. Mills 9 W. 68.
